IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Judgment Given Yesterday in the Ontario Appeal—Who is Entitled to the Money for Sheik's Island?

Ottawa, May 18.—(Special)—The following judgments were given to-day by the Supreme Court in Ontario appeals:

Cowan v. Allen; appeal allowed with costs.

Rennie v. Block; appeal allowed with costs and reference to be made as to accounts, etc.

Robertson v. Junkin; appeal dismissed with costs.

Carroll v. the Provincial Natural Gas and Fuel Co.; appeal dismissed with costs.

The Queen v. Moss (exchequer); appeal dismissed with costs.

Murray v. the Queen (exchequer); appeal allowed with costs.

Argument was heard in Dufresne v. Government, involving the validity of the Northwest ordinance, providing for separate estates of married women in the territories.

The case of Sheels v. Tait (exchequer appeal) was next heard. This case arose out of the expropriation by the Dominion Government of Sheik's Island, the contest being as to who is entitled to the money paid for lands, appellants and respondents being both defendants in the suit. Sheik's Island was leased by Indian tribes in 1796 to David Sheik, under whom both parties claim, appellant by possession, and respondent by purchase at sheriff's sale. The Exchequer Court held that appellant was bound to prove his own title and that he had failed to do so. Appellant claims that having had possession for over 40 years the onus was not on him. Argument was not concluded. Moss, Q.C., and Cline for appellants; Hogg, Q.C., and Ferguson, for respondents.

TRADE WITH TRINIDAD.

Commercial Agent Tripp Suggests That Canada Should Make a Display of Her Commodities Next Year.

Ottawa, May 18.—(Special)—The Department of Trade and Commerce has received from Edgar Tripp, commercial agent at Trinidad, a report, in which he gives the trade returns of that colony for the year 1895. From these it appears that the imports from Canada show an increase of $34,590, having been $537,265, against $322,675 in 1894; whereas, the imports from the United States show a decrease of about $15,000. Mr. Tripp deplores the fact that Canadian butter and cheese are not imported in larger quantities. When asked if he could suggest the cause for the paucity of our trade with Trinidad in these commodities, the Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce replied that he believed the reason to be that Canadian dairy products were of too high a quality to be sold at prices to suit the West Indian markets, and it was not advisable, he thought, that Canadian dairymen should commence the manufacture of an inferior article for this express trade. Incidentally, Agent Tripp informs the department "that as Feb. 11, 1897, will be the 100th anniversary of the capture of Trinidad by Sir Ralph Abercrombie, since when it has been a British colony, it is proposed to celebrate the occasion in a fitting manner with an international exhibition and otherwise," and he suggests it would be a first rate opportunity for Canada to make known to consumers of that colony the quality of her manufactures and products.

Elections June 23rd.

OUR LEADERS:—LAURIER AND MOWAT.
OUR CANDIDATES; FOR

West Peterborough.....RICHARD HALL
East Peterborough.....JOHN LANG
Nominations.....Tuesday, June 16.
Polling.....Tuesday, June 23.

"One of these leaders (Mr. Laurier), at his peril, displays a moral heroism and revives the country's hope; the other (Sir Charles Tupper), tossing honour to the winds, violates the privacy of privileged correspondence and mutilates the message."—REV. DR. CARMAN, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada.

MR. LAURIER REPLIES

To Sir Charles Tupper's Montreal Speeches.

DENOUNCES THE LANGUAGE USED

Mr. Lount Accepts the Liberal Nomination in Centre Toronto—Speech by Sir Oliver Mowat—Opposition to Mr. Coatsworth in East Toronto.

Montreal, May 18.—Mr. Laurier, leader of the Liberal party, made an important speech to-night at West Mount, in the County of Hochelaga, in which he replied to Sir Charles Tupper's recent speeches in Montreal. He accused the Premier of attempting to discredit him at Winnipeg on account of being a French-Canadian and Roman Catholic. Mr. Laurier, in reply, said: "I denounce such language. I denouuce it above all to you, my fellow-countrymen, of British origin. If I am the leader of the Liberal party, and if I am to be Premier of Canada, let me tell you I never sought the position. I served under Mr. Mackenzie, I served under Mr. Blake, and I would be proud to serve under him again. When Mr. Blake retired, my colleagues were kind enough to place the mantle on my shoulders. I fought against it as long as I could. If my own wishes had been listened to another man would have been leader of the party. There were public reasons why I should not accept. I knew, for instance, that the Tupperites would appeal to the prejudices of the people against a French Roman Catholic Premier. But when my colleagues insisted, from that hour I determined that I would give my life to the task, and never rest until I had done the best I could for the party. (Applause.) But glad I am now that the leader chosen was a Frenchman and a Roman Catholic, because it has given the opportunity to the people to trample under foot prejudices of race and religion. Here am I, a French-Canadian and a Roman Catholic, and proud of my origin. But while I freely now acknowledge that I am proud of my origin and love the church in which I was born, I have determined that neither race or creed will ever influence me; but that the only thing that will ever influence me would be the good of Canada. When Sir Charles Tupper dares to say that I should not be entrusted with power because I am French and Catholic, I hurl back the words in his face, as his greatest condemnation. It is not to my countrymen of French origin that I appeal, but it is to you, my fellow-countrymen of British origin, because you belong to the race that has always been the champion of liberty. (Applause.)

IN TORONTO.

Mr. John Ross Robertson Nominated to Oppose Mr. Coatsworth.

Toronto, May 19.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of electors took place in the Pavilion last night to bring out an anti-Remedial candidate in opposition to Mr. Coatsworth. Mr. John Hewitt was in the chair, and Rev. Dr. Milligan, Messrs. N. Clarke Wallace, Stapleton Caldecott, E. E. Sheppard, John McMillan, Thomas Crawford, M.L.A., and others addressed the meeting.

Resolutions opposing Remedial Legislation were passed, and Mr. John Ross Robertson, proprietor of The Telegram, was unanimously chosen as the anti-Remedial candidate.

Messrs. E. F. Clarke and E. B. Osler, the Conservative candidates for West Toronto, addressed the Young Conservatives last night. Both declared against coercion, but supported the Government on all other points.

Mr. Lount Nominated.

The Liberal Convention for Centre Toronto was held in Temperance Hall last night and Mr. William Lount, Q.C., was chosen to oppose Mr. Cockburn.

Mr Lount, on accepting the nomination, said he could not express the gratitude he felt at the manner in which he was greeted. "If I was doubtful," said he, "as to what might be the outcome on the 23rd of June, I can now put away all fear and accept with all my heart the nomination so heartily tendered me." He paid a glowing tribute to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat, and said he felt safe in following such leaders. He said his position on the trade question was in favor of a proper taxation for the requirements of government.

Messrs. Peter Ryan and Joseph Tait also spoke, but the effort most looked forward to was a speech by Sir Oliver Mowat. Sir Oliver was received with loud cheering, and after, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" had been sung, he said: "I do not intend to make a speech, for I will have other opportunities. I am glad to congratulate you upon the candidate you have chosen—a very able man, a politician and one who has proved himself all his life to be faithful to the Liberal party. As he has been faithful in the past, so you may rely upon it that he will be faithful in the future. I thank you for the expressions of good will I have received to-night, which indicates your approval of my joining Mr. Laurier. (Cheers.) It has been said I have made a mistake in this—(cries of No, no, you never do,")—but I hope the result may show that I may be of some use in Dominion matters, as you seem to think I have been in provincial. I have had communications from every part of the Dominion and from every part of the province, and I am satisfied that if the electors are left to themselves there will be an enormous majority.

"Our enemies claimed they were the loyal party and we were disloyal, but they cannot claim that cry any longer, for there is as much loyalty in the Liberal party as there is in the Conservative party, and a good many Liberals think there is a good deal more. I won't contradict them. More than that, the N.P. cry is failing too. More than half the capital now engaged in manufactories is owned by Liberals, more than half their employes are Liberals and they are going to support Liberal candidates. They have not the faith in the N.P. they used to have. The National Policy I say, has ceased to be a cry on which we can be beaten by our opponents. And then there are the scandals which have come to light ever since Mr. Mackenzie's time, and before his time. If the Liberal party had been guilty of one-twentieth of what the Conservative party has, been we would have been defeated long ago.

"The great majority of the people are satisfied we have got a bad Government, and a Government with a bad policy. Then it will be our part to see that that opinion obtains electoral expression on June 23, and if energy and hard work can do it, it is for us to see that energy and hard work are not withheld. You have been showing a great deal of enthusiasm in regard to political matters and politicians. I would just say I am satisfied, from what I have seen and heard, that the best advice I can give at any meetings I may attend will be that they show by their conduct the same enthusiasm as is shown by the electors of Centre Toronto."

IN SELF-DEFENCE.

Paul Pons Shot and Killed His Brutal Brother-in-Law, Jean Baptiste Rousseau, at Montreal.

Montreal, May 18.—Jean Baptiste Rousseau was shot and killed this morning by his brother-in-law, Paul Pons, at 195 St. Dominique-street, the residence of the latter.

Rousseau, it appears, had for a long time abused his wife, Pon's sister-in-law, so that finally at the advice of her relatives she had decided to leave him and had gone to live with Pons, who was married to her sister.

This morning the difficulty between Rousseau and his wife was to have been settled by the Recorder; and the latter, having given a decision against Rousseau, Rousseau became mad with rage and kept on abusing his wife and his brother-in-law all the way to Pons' residence. He was there refused admittance, and tried to break in the door by the aid of large stones.

To prevent scandal Mrs. Pons decided to let him in. As soon as he entered he swore to kill all present, and made a rush for Pons, forcing him into the bed-room and throwing him on the bed, where he began to beat him most cruelly with a cane. Pons pulled out a revolver which he carried and emptied its five chambers into his brother-in-law's body.

Rousseau's wife and a little servant girl were present, but had not time to interfere. Rousseau was taken to the hospital and died immediately. Pons has been arrested.

Rousseau is a Belgian and Pons an old country Frenchman.

YANKEE FISH POACHERS.

Their Latest Game is to Remove Floats and Buoys From Their Nets. The Cruisers at Work.

Ottawa, May 18.—(Special)—The Department of Marine and Fisheries has been warned that extensive illegal fishing is being carried on in Lake Erie. The offenders are Americans, who find fishing pretty poor on their own side of the lake. They are accordingly resorting to practices that, in their own parlance, are probably designated as "smart." In order to escape detection, they remove floats and buoys from their nets when setting them in Canadian waters. The nets are thus sunk below the surface, which renders their detention impossible by the Dominion cruisers. In taking up the nets the poachers, knowing the localities by certain marks ashore, hook the head ropes with grappling irons. It is the intention of the Department to authorize the use of similar appliances on board the cruisers and by this means it is hoped to abate the nuisance of illegal fishing by American boats. It will be slow work, however, so that the skippers of the cruisers Dolphin and Petrel expect to be kept at it constantly during the season.

DEAD NUMBER 250.

It is Now Agreed That Three Distinct Tornadoes Were in Operation in Sherman, Texas, and Vicinity.

Dehison, Texas, May 18.—The number of dead in Sherman is 100 and the number of wounded 150. The loss of property is placed at $175,000.

The number of dead in this and adjoining counties is 250.

The entire loss of property, estimated in Texas and Indian Territory, is $1,700,000.

It is now agreed that there were three well-developed tornadoes, entirely distinct in operation. It was a nest of tornadoes. The tornado that devasted Grayson County and Sherman commenced in Denton County.

Dead bodies are still being found in out of the way places. The body of an infant was found to-day in the top of a hickory tree, impaled on a limb that had passed entirely through the body. The relief fund for Sherman has already reached $25,000.

TUESDAY, MAY 19, 1896.

AN OVERLOOKED DANGER.

Man was made endowed with reason and no man should surrender the use of his reasoning powers and blindly accept the dictation of a party "boss." We know that there are many Conservatives to whom no appeal founded on reason need be addressed; they are purblind partisans. But there are thousands of members of the Conservative party, who have too much independence to shrink at the crack of the party whip. And these men who have faithfully followed their party honestly, believing in its principles, are finding that it is not true to those principles. They see after a trial of eighteen years that the policy of the Government they have supported has not brought the prosperity this country should enjoy. They see that the administration of our public affairs has been marked by incapacity, extravagance, corrupt dealing, and criminal waste of our funds and injury to the public interests and are prepared to consider a change. But many profess to be deterred from assisting in this change by fear that a change in our fiscal policy will not be in the interest of the country. But they may set their minds at rest; for Mr. Laurier, if successful, will not, nor will those who act with him, think of violent and radical tariff uprooting. Sir John Thompson admitted that the tariff had "mouldering branches" that should be "lopped away." Liberal tariff reform will be conducted with a due regard to all the interests concerned. Inequality will be equalized, injustice made right, by a tariff that will be just to all, and be, so far and as possible, a help, or at least less of a hindrance, to the manufacturer and benefit the employer; that will take into account the rights of labour and agriculture, and prevent the continuation of the working man and the farmer, as hewers of wood and drawers of water to privileged classes.

But there is something besides the trade issue, and purity and efficiency of administration, that enters as an element into the national problem. A good cause may be advanced, or sought to be advanced, by evil and ill-judged means. For the past five years the Dominion Government has dodged the Manitoba school matter, in the endeavour to make party capital out of a question whose settlement should be far above the plane of party interests or manipulation. Apart from the merits of the question, the manner in which the Government approached and have stayed with the question, has been unnecessarily irritating and provocative of friction. Force has taken the place of reason, and passion has been brought into play, where pacific means should have been employed. The course the Government has taken, and is taking, does not make it possible to hope for a permanent settlement, which is what all should seek, on the basis of justice to all concerned. The Montreal Herald in dealing with this question, draws a powerful picture of what the course of the Government is leading up to, that their mode of settlement will not be a satisfactory settlement to either party, but that it will be the sowing of dragons' teeth to reap a crop of sectional enmities and religious conflicts. The Herald says:—

"Nor will the question be removed from Parliament if it (the Remedial Bill, in its present form) should pass, as so many people affect to believe That would mean the opening of the second stage of the struggle, the preaching of a Protestant crusade through the length and breadth of Canada, the appeals to prejudice and passions, which if aroused will run their course untempered by cooler considerations; and the inevitable political cleavage of our people, not into Liberal and Conservative parties, but into Protestant and Catholic camps. The possibilities of such a crusade are of the gravest; they may involve (we speak in all seriousness) the breaking up of Confederation and the shedding of blood.

In such a cataclysm what would become of the material interests which some well meaning people think they can conserve by voting for the Tupper programme? They would suffer ten fold as much as they could from any possible combination of untoward commercial conditions. Nothing is so destructive to a country as sectarian conflicts, for it is of their very nature to be carried on by extremists; the man of moderate mind, who ordinarily controls governments, is swept aside and there is war to the death between irreconcilable factions. Imagine a condition of affairs in Canada that would leave us no choice between Mr. Angers on the one hand, and Mr. McCarthy on the other. Capital would fly from such a land as from a pestilence; commercial values would shrink; immigration would cease; progress would stop its wheels; the national sentiment, which has been slowly developing for thirty years, would be trampled out, and for fifteen or twenty years to come everything would stand still or retrograde, while Catholics and Protestants were tearing one another's throats in insensate fury. This is no impossible picture. It is one that may be justified by the facts within the next three years if the people of Canada are mad enough to make Mr. Angers and his Castor colleagues the dominating factors in the Government of this country. We urge every man who has interests in Canada; who loves his country; who desires to see the various races living in peace and quietness, to think that phase of the question over seriously, so that if in that partizan madness which strikes down all the reasonable considerations which should govern the actions of men, he votes for Ultramontanism in our national administration, he will do so in full knowledge of the fact that he may thereby, to the extent of his own ability, be tearing down the pillars on which rests his country's stability. This country wants peace, so that it may deal with great material problems awaiting solution. The Tupper-Castor wing of the Conservative party offer it tumult and war; so does the McCarthyite-Wallace wing of the Conservative party. Laurier and Mowat alone point the way to peace and honour.

BLUNDER BUNGLE AND BOODLE.

The Conservative politicians, who have made a fine thing out of power for the past eighteen years, boast that the Conservative party is the only party possessing the instinct of Government. What success have they met? As administrators they make a sorry show. There has been bungling in every department at Ottawa. Look at the way the big contracts have been managed. The estimated cost of the Little Rapid Locks was $45,000; there was expended on the work $255,000. The Galops Rapids work was to cost $312,000; the actual expenditure was $629,630. The St. Charles Branch Railway was to cost $566,600; the amount spent was fully $1,732,226. The estimated cost of the Langevin block was $540,000; the amount expended was $772,000, with an outstanding claim of $295,600. The Curran bridge was to cost $223,000; the amount spent was $405,000, and an outstanding claim of $79,000. Hardly a single public work has been performed during the past eighteen years that has not cost many thousand dollars more than it should have done, the extra cost going into the contractor's pockets and coming out as bribery funds. Besides these there are the Quebec harbour frauds, the Levis dock steal, the Esquimalt dry dock job and many small ones. No wonder the national debt keeps on piling up when the men in office do the country's business in such an unbusiness way.

Fair play to all, whether farmer or manufacturer, or merchant, skilled mechanic or labourer, is the motto of the Liberal party of Canada.

We can hardly call the present Government party "hide"-bound Tories. Hides are free under the tariff. Of course this is in the interest of the farmers who have hides to sell. According to their own reasoning, the high taxation party make Canada a "slaughter market" for what the farmer have hides to sell. And they will tell the farmer in grim jocularity that hides are the product of slaughter, and should not object to be slaughtered themselves. But the farmer gets it where the bullock gets the knife—in the neck.

The Toronto World, which swallows Sir Charles Tupper's high taxation policy with one side of the throat, and closes the other side to coercion, says:—"The National Policy does not attempt absurdities nor impossibilities. It has never been the policy of the Conservative Government to impose heavy duties on articles that cannot be produced in this country." What about rice? We can't grow rice in this country, and yet the N. P. taxes rice, an article that can't be produced in the country, to the tune of 60 or 70 per cent. While this enormous tax is levied on an article of every-day consumption, especially in the homes of people of limited means, only one dollar out of every five collected from the people goes into the public treasury—the rest goes into the pocket of the combine. The people pay $200,000 a year on the 25,000,000 pounds of rice imported, and all for the sake of giving a score or so of men employment in the single rice cleaning mill that has the monopoly.

We are indebted to the Toronto World, N.P. and Tory, for the following evidence of help given the workingman in getting employment: "The City Engineer's Department is besieged every day with men seeking work, some of whom become abusive when they are not given it. Deputy Engineer Rust stated Saturday that the department is doing all it can to furnish employment, but there is very little civic work going on, outside the Island waterworks and the Rosedale ravine drive. All the men applying for work are sent to the foremen, who put their names upon the list and they receive work as their turn comes." And this is said of a policy that promised to give abundant employment at high wages to all classes of workingmen. We sometimes get ocular demonstrations of the hard times in Toronto. Yesterday in the west end of the town a respectable looking man, a moulder, called with evident reluctance, at a house for something to eat. He said he was a moulder; he could get no work in Toronto where he said the times were terribly dull, and was on tramp for Smith's Falls, where he hoped for a chance to work. The N.P. was to seek the workingman and thrust "jobs" upon him, now he seeks work and findeth none. The high taxation policy has had eighteen years to develop its beneficent effects and the above quotation from the World is a practical confession of its failure.

THE BEST OPINIONS!

Scientific Men Say Diamond Dyes Are the Best.

The best analytical chemists in the world affirm without hesitation that Diamond Dyes are the purest and best dyestuffs for home dyeing. All the colours are fast to light and washing, and will colour more goods, package for package, than any other dye in the world.

As there are many imitations of the popular Diamond Dyes, ladies should beware of dealers who attempt to recommend the worthless goods. It should be remembered that the imitation dyes are made up of poisonous and dangerous adulterations, and the hands are often ruined by their use. Diamond Dyes are so easy to use that even a child can work with them successfully. See that you get the "Diamond," and refuse all others.

FIGHTING FOR HIS LIFE.

Durrant, the Murderer of Miss Lamont, May Not Hang Until Next Spring.

San Francisco, May 18.—A bill of exceptions in the Durrant case has been filed in the Supreme Court. According to a statement made by District Attorney Barnes yesterday Durrant cannot possibly be executed before November or December even should the prosecution win every point on appeal, and it will probably be next year before the execution occurs.

How the Kidneys Talk.

They have a Language of their own.

Kindeys can't talk, but if you don't treat them rightly you will hear from them. They have a language of their own, and this is how they speak to you; You stoop or strain, ride too far, walk too much, work too hard and rest too little; then your back aches, and your head aches, and you ache all over.

Oh! you say, it's because I'm tired out. Now, this isn't true. It's because your kidneys are tired.

They can only do just so much and the lifting, stooping, straining or exciting has retarded their action.

The heart has pumped the blood into them faster than they could filter it. The filter is overtaxed and becomes clogged. They cry for assistance in the many symptoms that follow.

There is dull headache, backache, pains in various parts of the body, scalding of the urine, high colored urine, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the legs and all the other conditions that go with kidney disorders.

Why do the kidneys thus tell you their troubles in language so plain as to be unmistakable?

So that you may be warned in time. Will you heed the warnings?

If so, you will use Doan's Kidney Pills. Nothing starts the kidneys working so quickly. Remember "Doan's." It is the original kidney pill, the most reliable kidney pill, and the pill you can place full confidence in to cure you. For sale by

RUSHING FAST

To Untimely Graves!

SAFETY AND SECURITY FOR YOUNG AND OLD.

Paine's Celery Compound The Only Cure for Kidney Troubles.

GET THE KIND THAT RENEWS HEALTH AND LIFE.

Be Not Allow Your Dealer to Offer You a Substitute for Paine's Celery Compound.

Are you one of the unfortunates nearing the end of life, when you should be strong and vigorous? If the grave is opening for you, the fault is your own. Your symptoms plainly indicate that terrible and deadly kidney disease is making rapid headway. Neglect these symptoms for a few short weeks or months, and your condition will be one of great peril.

Think for a moment! You have pain in the small of your back, often acute and severe; a disordered condition of the urine, sometimes pale in colour; often it is brick-coloured, and settles with mucus. You have also a feeling of lassitude and weakness, and you are unable to get through with your every-day work, be it mental or physical. All these varied symptoms cause a serious derangement of other important organs.

Years of experience and severe testing have fully demonstrated the truth so firmly established, that Paine's Celery Compound is the only cure for kidney disease—the only medicine that can save victims of the trouble from untimely graves.

If you value health and life, do not allow any dishonest dealer to sell you what he calls something just as good, in place of Paine's Celery Compound. No other medicine in the world can give such guarantee of perfect cure as Paine's Celery Compound, and no other can show such a vast array of honest testimonials.

Mr. H. Ball, of Chatham, Ont., writes as follows:

"I was so seriously ill I was obliged to take to my bed, where I laid for four months. The doctors here and in Toronto said my trouble was Addison's disease of the kidneys, and told me I would never walk again. In November of the same year I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After having used a number of bottles I was enabled to attend to business, and felt like a new man. Before using the Compound I was very much reduced in flesh; to-day I weigh over 200 pounds. I can affirm with confidence and honesty that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life."

Death Was Awfully Sudden.

Brantford, May 18.—Walter Worrell of 128 Chatham-street was up town on Saturday evening and returned home about 7 o'clock. Immediately he entered his own dwelling he fell over and died instantly without uttering a word. Death supposed to be caused by heart failure.

A Blaze at Floradale.

Elmira, May 18.—A fire started this afternoon in Eby's saw and planing mill, Floradale, destroying the mill, as well as a large quantity of lumber in the yard. The fire rapidly spread to adjoining buildings and there was great danger of the whole village being destroyed. Elmira was telephoned for assistance, and as quickly as possible the fire engine and about 50 men responded to the call, and rendered great service in preventing the fire from spreading to other buildings. Actual loss not yet known.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, May 11th.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley of this city by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langely, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

SIX FIREMEN KILLED.

A Fatal Blaze at Washington Last Night—Men Buried in the Ruins—Loss $200,000.

Washington, May 18.—Fire swept away a whole block of commercial buildings opposite the Smithsonian Institution soon after 8 o'clock this evening. The lives of at least four firemen were crushed out by falling walls. The loss will exceed $200,000. The buildings covered the block adjoining the centre market and constituted practically the entire commission and wholesale produce business of Washington.

Later information is to the effect that Firemen Giles and Griffin are dead, and that Fireman Mulhall, McElroy, Keppler and Kenendy are dangerously, and, perhaps, fatally injured. Four others are known to be in the ruins, and several others are missing, and search is being made.

A MILLION PER ANNUM.

Does the Canadian Pacific Receive From Keewatin for Freight Alone.

Montreal, May 18.—(Special)—The statement which has created the most surprise here and which was the most favorably commented on by those who heard Sir Charles Tupper's speech, was that regarding the development of the West. The Premier stated and defied refutation that at Keewatin alone, where the Lake of the Woods Milling Company is located, the Canadian Pacific Railway received for freight one million dollars per annum.

Hon. W. B. Ives told your correspondent to-day that they would carry eight of the nine seats in the eastern townships.

TEN LIVES IN PERIL.

Capsize of a Fishing Smack in Hamilton Bay on Sunday.

Hamilton, May 18.—(Special)—Ten young men were almost drowned in the bay yesterday afternoon while out in a fishing smack. It was one of the roughest days of the season, the white capped waves dashing over the piers and rising to great heights. The party consisted of George Cross, Ed Roach, Robert Earl, Robert Dillon, S. Duffy, Ed. Kavanaugh, George McQueen, G. Gardiner and two others, whose names could not be ascertained, and they were about a mile and a half from Dynes' when their boat capsized. David McGillivray and Richard Hutchinson set out in a row boat to rescue the party and were followed by Chief Hazel and Fred Depew, who rowed to the scene and brought the young men ashore. A few minutes longer and the men in the water would have given up, as the waves were dashing over their heads.

WOODYARD GOES UP FOR TRIAL.

He Was Committed by Four August Justices of the Peace at Thornbury.

Thornbury, May 18.—Frank Woodyard of Gibraltar was tried here to-day before Justices of the Peace Webb and Raymond of Thornbury and Sing of Meaford, and Cruikshanks of Heathcote, for feloniously wounding by stabbing David Richmond. Woodyard was committed to Owen Sound to await his trial. County Crown Attorney McKay appeared for Richmond and Mr. Birnie of Collingwood for the prisoner. Both parties are well known and much interest was taken in the case, a large crowd coming into town to hear the evidence.

BURIAL OF THE SUICIDE.

Three Thousand Persons at the Grave of of F. L. Gray in Johannesburg.

Johannesburg, May 18.—The funeral of F. L. Gray, one of the recently sentenced members of the Reform Committeee, who became insane and committed suicide in jail at Pretoria, a few days ago, took place here yesterday and was largely attended, some 9000 persons being present at the graveside. Barney Barnato, the "Kaffir King," occupied the first carriage in the procession to the cemetery.

Sleeplessness, Mental and Physical Fatigue

Go hand in hand. The waste of the body that ought to be restored by rest and sleep suffers increasing diminution; then loss of strength and vigor of body and mind follows. It is in this class of diseases that the marvellous properties of Maltine with Coca Wine are most markedly exhibited. It penetrates to the very source of vital action, inasmuch as the nerve centres are impressed by its medicinal power and the digestive functions stimulated to increased and more efficient action. This imparts to the whole system the much needed impetus, the nerves are soothed from a state of irritability to one of repose—sleep, with all its beneficent influences, comes back to lend its aid to the process of restoration. Digestion keeps pace with the improvement of appetite, and in a short time the nervous, miserable sufferer regains his old-time vigor and the capability to enjoy life and all it affords. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

Their Silver Wedding.

The Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise have just celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, and however the Marquis may be looked down upon by his royal relatives in his country his pedigree is considered superior to that of the Hanoverians. A traveler who told one of the Duke of Argyll's tenants that the Duke's son was to marry a Princess, was met with the astonishing reply of: "Ech, sir, but it's a proud woman your Queen will be, the day when her daughter marries the son of MacCallum Moore!"

To be Fined $125,000 Each.

New York, May 17.—The Journal's despatch from Pretoria says: The four Reform leaders of Johannesburg will be fined $125,000 each and be sentenced to ten years' banishment, and the remaining 60 will be fined $7500 each and given some term of banishment, but the Executive Council is inclined to make the period one year in the case of the latter.

Fleeing From Cholera.

Alexandria, Egypt, May 17.—Seventy-three new cases of cholera and 20 deaths from the disease were reported here yesterday. For the week there were 216 cases and 141 deaths. Every steamer leaving the port is packed with people fleeing from the scourge.

Cairo, May 17.—Eleven fresh cases of cholera were discovered here yesterday. The deaths numbered nine.

LOCAL LEGAL.

Cowan vs. Allen — Supreme Court of Canada.

This was an action for the construction of the will of the late James Cowan of the township of Clarke, who died on the 13th day of August, 1886, leaving surviving him a widow some daughters, and three sons, Alexander, Samuel and George. The testator, James Cowan, by his will devised to Alexander 100 acres, to Samuel 50 acres, and to Albert 50 acres of land, all in the township of Clarke, and imposed upon Alexander a charge in favour of his mother of $100.00 a year during her life time, and also a charge of $1000.00 a piece in favour of his brothers Samuel and Albert, and added at the end of his will the following paragraph which created all the difficulty:—"I will and bequeath that should any of my three sons die without lawful issue and leave a widow, she shall have the sum of fifty dollars per annum out of his estate so long as she remains unmarried, and the balance of the estate shall revert to his brothers with the said fifty dollars on her marriage."

Alex. Cowan died on the 30th day of January, 1891, without issue, and leaving a widow, Jeane Cowan. The two sons, Samuel and Albert, claimed under the last paragraph of the will the 100 acres devised to Alexander. The creditors of Alexander's estate, through his administrator, Mr. W. F. Allen, claimed that Alexander was absolute owner of his 100 acres, and that the last clause of the will did not take effect. The case came on before the Local Master at Cobourg, J. H. Dumble, Esq., for decision, and he held that Alexander Cowan's administrator, Mr. W. F. Allen, was the absolute owner in fee simple of the lands for the reason that the last clause of the will was void because it purported to disendow Alexander's widow, Mrs. Jeane Cowan. Samuel and Albert thereupon appealed from this decision to Mr. Justice Robertson, who did not adopt this view, but held that the last clause under the will was repugnant and void. Samuel and Albert again appealed to the Court of Appeal for Ontario, and their appeal was again dismissed with costs for the reason, not that the last paragraph of the will was void for repugnancy, but because the testator intended it to take effect only during the life time of the testator, James Cowan, inasmuch as it would be unreasonable to suppose that the testator could have meant Alexander, after paying $1,000 to each of his brothers, should be liable to lose the money he had paid them and his 100 acres beside; however, Chief Justice Haggarty and Mr. Justice Osler dissented from this view and considered in the events that had happened that Samuel and Albert were entitled to the 100 acres, and that Alexander's widow was entitled to her annuity and dower in the lands as well. Samuel and Albert again appealed from this decision to the Supreme Court of Canada who yesterday unanimously give judgment in their favour with full costs in all the courts, holding that under the last clause of the will they are absolutely entitled to the lands, subject to the right of the widow of Alexander to claim $50 per annum during her widowhood, and her dower beside. Had Alexander Cowan paid his brothers $1,000.00 apiece his estate would have had a lien upon the 100 acres for the money and would have been entitled to recover the same from Samuel and Albert.

This case has been before four different courts since January, 1892, and no two courts have given the will the same construction.

THE EAST RIDING ELECTION CONTEST.

MR. JOHN LANG'S OPENING MEETING.

A Most Successful Gathering—A Large Attendance—Addresses by Mr. Lang and Mr. Burnham — Messrs. Stone and Stratton Also Address the Electors.

Mr. John Lang, the Liberal candidate in East Peterborough, opened the campaign last night by a rousing meeting at Stewart's school house, River Road, Otonabee. There was an exceptionally large attendance of electors and they were decidedly in Mr. Lang's favour.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Geo. Stewart.

The speaking was opened by Mr. Lang, the Liberal candidate, who, in an address of an hour's length, dealt with the principal topics that are engaging the attention of the electorate at the present time. He pointed out the condition of the agricultural community and the attempt of the Dominion government to improve their condition, while they were restricted to a free trade market for the sale of their products, and were compelled to buy their necessities in a protected market. He stated that he had been offered the Patron nomination and afterwards the Liberal nomination, and had practically accepted both, the platforms being practically identical on all main points. He was in favour, as all patriotic Canadians were, of British connection. He was therefore opposed to a tariff which taxed British goods at 22 per cent., while it only taxed American goods 12½ per cent. He dwelt on the patriotic character of the present leader of the Liberal party and cited instances in which the party, which is always boasting of its loyalty, had shown the most practical disloyalty. He also dwelt on the enormous increase of the national debt, which was largely brought about by incompetent administration, which never saw the end of an expenditure till the cost of a work was doubled and in some cases trebled through careless drawing up of specifications and incompetent supervision, and he cited specific instances where the country had suffered great loss from such a state of affairs. Reference was made to the unnecessary increase of the public expenditure, he condemned the abuses of the superannuation system, and the importation of Australian mutton to compete with Canadian mutton, and the dropping in the markets. He condemned a policy that permitted the formation of rings and combines. He advocated reform of the Senate by making it elective instead of being appointive; we were supposed to have representative government in this country, but we could not have it when men rejected by the people were put into the Senate and given more power than they had in the House of Commons. He condemned the costly and inoperative Franchise Act, and the gerrymander. Coming to the Manitoba school question, he said that he had always voted for provincial rights, and had received no small share of blame for his vote in connection with the Jesuits Estates Act question. This Act was passed by Quebec province, and the House had been asked to disallow the Act. He had voted against disallowance because that Act was one that the Province of Quebec, according to the constitution, had a right, if it choose, to pass. He was opposed to the Dominion Government coercing Manitoba, and believed that if, as the Manitoba Government asked, a commission had been appointed, the matter, instead of being played for political capital, would have been settled and disposed of with a due regard to the rights of both parties. As it is, the question is being used for party purposes, with the result that the peace of the community was being imperilled. He hoped that Mr. Laurier would be returned, so that the matter could be investigated and a settlement arrived at that would be satisfactory to both the religious minority and majority of Manitoba. Mr. Lang concluded an able address by asking the support of the electors. He felt that a farmer could represent a farmers' riding at least as intelligently and honestly as any lawyer. If the electors selected him he would use his best judgment and best efforts to worthily and faithfully represent and promote the interests of the Riding of East Peterborough and the country at large.

Mr. John Burnham, the Conservative candidate, who was present by invitation, next addressed the meeting. He explained his position on the National Policy and the school question by stating that he was a stronger protectionist than ever, and still in favour of the coercion of Manitoba. He honestly believed that the National Policy was the best thing for the country, and if elected he would stand up for the National Policy, which he contended was building up the manufacturing interests of the country and making a home market for the farmers. He dealt with some of the subjects referred to by Mr. Lang and justified the increase of the public debt which was represented by public works. He defended the Government jobs and showed from his point of view that nothing had been done wrong by the Conservative party. He asked the support of the electors in this contest; if his policy and his past course were right, let them vote for him; if not let them vote for Mr. Lang.

Mr. Stone and Mr. Stratton also addressed the meeting, dealing with the condition of the country, the moneys that were being expended and had been squandered and generally showed that by their course and their record the government had forfeited public confidence and were unworthy to be entrusted with the management of the affairs of the country.

A most successful meeting was closed with cheers for the Queen, the leaders and the candidates.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

BASEBALL.

The town club has not as yet secured grounds upon which to practice and unless the management hustle themselves the players will probably do as they did last year, viz., start a club on their own account. Such an event would not be in the interests of the game, as the gentlemen connected with the reorganization of the club are those under whose patronage the game would flourish in Peterborough. Riverside Park could easily be secured and put in good shape. Good dressing rooms were erected last year. The Electric Works team and the Printers might be willing to assist in defraying the cost of rental.

Now that Mr. Bert Dolan has returned home the Printers are willing to challenge any of the baseball teams in town — Auburn or the Edisons preferred.

LACROSSE.

The Peterborough Juniors received a challenge to go to Orillia and play the second Orillia's on the Queen's Birthday, but there was too much going on in town, so the boys decided to stay at home. They have, however, invited the Young Orillias to come to Peterborough and open the season on either June first or second.

RINGING OF CHURCH BELLS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Through tradition we have a very interesting history of bells and bell ringing. In the casting of them in olden times, it was usual for rich and poor to contribute gold and silver coins, as well as trinkets, which were thrown into the fusing metal, so as to ensure a good tone. The old custom of "consecration and baptism" is still in vogue. The sound of a baptised bell was said to frighten away the devil. Unbaptised bells were said to be very unruly.

Bells were rung for various purposes. Sometimes to keep off the devil and evil spirits. In some countries church bells were rung during violent thunder storms, to ward off the lightning The Indian medicine man was not without his bells and rattles, as a safeguard against the influences of evil spirits.

In olden times people had not clocks, watches nor public clocks, hence the custom of churches ringing bells to remind the parishioners of time to attend places of worship.

To myself, and I have no doubt it is the case with every person, it is very pleasing on a peaceful, quiet Sabbath to hear the deep, sonorous tone of a good bell tolling out the time of day. "With deep affection and fond recollection" every person remembers the ringing of bells heard "in days of childhood."

I think no person would object to the ringing of a good toned bell, if rung in a proper, reasonable way and at seasonable times. They should not be allowed to become a public nuisance.

A large percentage of the people of the town, who work hard all week and are of necessity up late on Saturday nights, want to sleep and even go without the morning meal to obtain it, are aroused out of their slumber by the ringing of a harsh, jangling bell—a bell which seems to ring out the words louder, louder, louder.

Again, take the case of a person who is sick unto death. The doctor orders perfect quiet, and sleep being a necessity. Suddenly the harsh discordant bell over his head commences to ring at a furious rate. Imagine the exasperating effect.

As a matter of fact church bells are not necessary in the present age, and it is just a question if they should not be disallowed.

In this town, I will venture to say, that every man carries a watch, that there is a clock in every house. We have two town clocks to remind us hourly of the fleetness of time. We have also the incessant ringing, and at unseasonable times, of the harsh jangling bell of St. John's church. It is so bad and noisy that one might be inclined to say that some of Judas Iscariot's thirty pieces had got into it. It is simply maddening to think that about five hundred people should inflict such a nuisance on ten thousand. I believe that the Sabbath should be made quiet, peaceful and a day of rest. The whistling of railway trains is quite bad enough.

HER SERVICES WERE APPRECIATED.

Miss Esther Blewett Presented with a Lady's Companion and Music Rack

Miss Esther Blewett, of North Smith, who has for some time presided most acceptably at the organ of the Presbyterian church of that township, will hereafter reside in town, and on the occasion of resigning her post, was, on Saturday last, presented with a most handsome music-rack and lady's companion, by Mrs. Greer and Mrs. Sanderson, on behalf of the congregation.

The address was as follows:

Miss Esther Blewett,

DEAR FRIEND—We, the members and adherents of the North Smith Presbyterian church, take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your services as organist in church and Sabbath School for the past few years. You have performed your duties in a quiet and faithful way, and we as a congregation, feel that we owe you a debt of gratitude for the help and assistance you have given us in the work of our church. We ask you to accept this small gift as an evidence of our esteem and regard for you personally, and for the work you have done for the Master, and our sincere hope and prayer is, that you may be long spared to engage in active Christian work on behalf of our common Master, Jesus Christ our Lord.

Signed on behalf of the Session,
A. C. REEVES,
Signed on behalf of the Board of Management.
JOHN MORRISON.
Signed on behalf of the Sabbath School,
MARIA GREER.

Miss Blewett replied as follows:—

My dear friends and fellow labourers of North Smith Presbyterian church: It is with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow that I receive from you this beautiful gift. To tell you that I have been taken by surprise little expresses my feelings for you as a congregation. Having kindly visited me before on such occasions as this, I did feel fully repaid for the work I was doing. Let me assure you it was indeed a pleasure for me to work among you. While I was your organist you have stood by me as I feel no other pastor or congregation could do, my slightest wishes never being expressed but you were always ready and willing to fulfil them. And now, though I shall be separated from you for a time, do not think that I shall forget or grow careless concerning you. Never shall I handle the lady's companion or use the music holder without thinking of my friends of North Smith and their many kindnesses to me. My prayer is that those who have taken up the work that I have laid down will be faithful, remembering it is for our Master they are working, and that you as a choir and congregation will work together as one, each one willing to do the humblest part, remembering that "He that is faithful in that which is least is also faithful in much." Now let me thank you all for this beautiful present and your many kindnesses to me. It is a pleasure to know that my slight services have been so appreciated.

EAST RIDING LIBERAL CANDIDATE.

Mr. John Lang, the Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, opened the active platform work of the campaign by holding a most successful meeting at Stewart's school house last night. Mr. Lang's address was an evidence of his appreciation of the needs of the country for honest government and for a change in its system of taxation, which will lessen the burden on all classes of citizens, while equalizing the burden by fair distribution of taxation. As a successful practical farmer he will, it stands to reason, make a better representative of a strictly rural constituency, such as East Peterborough is, than even a lawyer, whose knowledge of agriculture and its needs is confined to a vague knowledge of theory; and the electors will vote accordingly. Mr. Lang is making a strong run and if the enthusiastic and successful opening meeting of the campaign is any indication of his success, he will be returned with a handsome majority. His platform is sound on all the questions at issue and the electors will not be slow to renew the confidence they reposed in him in 1887.

TO-MORROW'S CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

To-morrow the Conservatives of West Peterborough will make another effort to nominate a candidate. This time greater pains have been taken and regularly accredited delegates have been appointed. Who the candidate chosen will be is, of course, on our part speculation, and if street rumour is reliable in this instance, it is pretty certain that Mr. James Kendry will be the candidate and according to the same authority, he will, if the nomination is made unanimous, accept the candidature; although Mr. Stevenson's friends will not give up without a fight, as shown by efforts to pack the convention in his favour. In case a candidate is chosen there will doubtless be a great flourish of trumpets, and our Conservative friends will put on a great spurt to make up for the ground lost by the internal dissensions of the past three weeks. Liberals are advised to be also on the alert, remembering that elections with the best of causes are only won by hard work. Let all Liberals enter heartily into the work, see that every vote is properly looked after and all West Peterborough shall be able to join the rest of the Dominion on June 23rd in celebrating the triumph of Liberal principles and the success of the popular demand for honest and efficient government.

A prominent Conservative predicts a cold day with frost on June 23rd. Our good Tory friends should be ordering their overcoats.

ENSIGN BURROWS.

Ensign Burrows, formerly Lieutenant of Peterborough corps, who now has charge of the junior work of the East Ontario Province, will conduct one weeks special services here in the Salvation Army Barracks. Programme as follows:

To-night (Tuesday), public welcome service, 8 p.m.

Wednesday, May 20th, private soldiers meeting, 8 p.m.

Thursday, 3 p.m., special parents meeting, and at 8 p.m. grand impressive illustrated service, entitled "Katie's White Robes." Most beautiful paintings 6x4 will illustrate this stirring narrative.

Friday, May 22nd, at 6.45 p.m., an address to young men and women. 8 p.m., holiness meeting.

Saturday, 3 p.m. great children's service. 8 p.m. public salvation meeting and reception to Lt. Southall.

The Ensign will organize a Bible class on Sunday morning at 10 a.m., in connection with the Salvation Army company meetings. He will be here one week only.

—Fishing poles of all kinds, fishing tackle, tennis balls and tennis racquets, lacrosses and baseball goods, cheapest place in town, at Salisbury's Bookstore. d

—Some of the sheet iron of the Meldrum & McAllister mill was carried a distance of four miles before falling, on Thursday last, and was picked up in farm yards fully that distance away.

—The time for open-air concerts in the parks will soon be here. What with three bands under engagement to furnish music the citizens will be supplied with a plethora of melody this summer.

—Remember the attractive sale of household furniture on Wednesday, 20th of May (to-morrow), the property of Mr. R. B. McKee, corner of Charlotte and Rubidge streets, commencing at one o'clock sharp.

—A Lindsay man has fallen heir to a fortune, the interest of which it is said, will amount to $40,000 a year. The Warder says his name is not given, as the lucky man would have more friends than he would find convenient.

—The business of the "baggage smasher" will soon be gone—at least on the Grand Trunk. The new manager has issued instructions to baggage men that greater care has to be exercised in the handling of trunks, etc., or dismissal will follow the offence.

—After all its blowing about its enterprise, Hamilton won't have any bands playing its parks. Peterborough's half dozen or more parks will be made musical by three bands this summer. We let our bandsmen do the blowing for us.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

IT has been held that consumption is hereditary, and the fact that one person of a family had died with consumption was considered a sure sign that others of that family could not escape it. This is partly true and partly untrue. A man with weak lungs is likely to transmit that weakness to his children. But there is no reason in the world why the weakness should be allowed to develop. There is no reason why the lungs should remain weak. Weak lungs predispose a child to consumption. They provide a place for germs to settle. That is all that is necessary. Once let the germs of disease gain a foot-hold, and they increase with a deadly rapidity. Pretty soon the blood is full of them, and so loses its healthfulness and its strength-giving qualities. If the weakness is in some other organ, the disease will show itself in that organ. The germs will get into the blood, just the same, and the body will begin to lose strength. We speak particularly of consumption because it is most common—because it causes more than one-sixth of all deaths in the world.

If there is a weak and crumbly spot in the foundation of a house, the owner clears out the decaying material, supplants it with new, strong stuff. That's all there is to do. That's all that's necessary.

That is exactly the thing to do with the lungs. Keep them full of rich, red, wholesome blood, and the weakness will disappear. Decaying tissues will be thrown off, and new material will be added until the lungs are well and perfectly strong again. This is the thing that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does. This is what makes it cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption where it is taken according to directions. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be in the body. It exterminates them completely and forces them out of the system. It supplies the blood with rich, life-giving properties. It makes the appetite good, digestion perfect. It supplies the needed nutriment to all the tissues and makes sound, healthy flesh.

There are some interesting facts about it told in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's great work, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." This book of 1008 pages will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo N Y

DIED OF HYDROPHOBIA.

John Edwards, a Machinist, Succumbs in Awful Convulsions to the Bite of a Bird Dog.

Summit, N.J., May 17.—John P. Edwards, a machinist, died here this morning, after a few days illness, of hydrophobia. His sufferings and convulsions for 36 hours before the end came were heartrending, although toward the last he was relieved somewhat by the application of the Pasteur cure by Dr. Gibier of the Pasteur Institute, New York. This treatment was administered too late to save the man's life, but it reduced considerably the violence of the convulsions which from time to time overcame the patient. Edwards was bitten on March 29 by a pet bird dog.

"LIMITED PRICES" UNLAWFUL.

U. S. Supreme Court Judgment Against Combinations to Govern Prices.

New York, May 16.—A judgment just handed down by Judge Truax of the Supreme Court is of interest and importance to many trade associations. The John D. Park & Sons Co. sued the National Wholesale Druggists' Association, and applied for an injunction, which the judge granted, restraining the association from combining against the plaintiff company, because the latter was not a member of the organization, and would not sign an agreement to maintain prices. Much attention has been attracted by the decision, as the principle on which the injunction was granted, applies, it is argued, to all branches of business, in which the "limited price" system is in operation.

TO CROWN THE YOUNG TSAR.

Moscow is a Mass of Color—The Khan Arrives to Pay His Respects.

Moscow, May 17.—The day has been a beautiful one, and an endless procession has been passing through the streets since early morning. The city is a mass of color. Among the visitors are hundreds of peasants dressed in village costumes carrying staves in their hands and bundles on their backs. Many of them have walked great distances. They wander aimlessly about the streets, apparently stupefied by the unwonted sights. At night they sleep before the Shrines.

Yesterday there arrived the Khivan embassy with the Khan and his two sons at their head. The Khan's suite was a numerous one. The Emir of Bokhara, with a large following, arrived on Wednesday last. These rulers are quartered at hotels, and are devoting most of their time to exploring Moscow.

Prince Henry of Prussia, who represents Emperor William, the Grand Duke of Hesse and Prince Ferdinand of Roumania, accompanied by their suites, arrived to-day.

ELECTION CAMPAIGN.

A Reverend Candidate on the Situation.

PROBLEM FOR THE TORONTO WORLD

Thrown Overboard in Ottawa—Another Kicker—Prospects in East Lambton—Opposes Coercion But Supports Coercionists—General Notes of Interest to Politicians.

The Toronto World, whose publisher is a pronounced Conservative and protectionist, though an anti-Remedialist, claims that there are thirty-four anti-Remedial Conservatives in the field. There were said to be forty such in the last Parliament, but what became of them when the vote was taken? Will The World tell us how many of them were bought over by promises of office? There were only sixteen who were found true to their professions. Where were the twenty-four? And if so many sold themselves at the close of a Parliament, how many will do so at the beginning of one? The only safe course for those who are opposed to coercing Manitoba is to support the Liberal candidates.

A CLERICAL POLITICIAN.

Rev. G. R. Maxwell is an independent candidate for the new constituency of Burrard, B.C., which includes the city of Vancouver. He opened the campaign on May 5. After some remarks of a personal character to himself, he proceeded: The idea is abroad that the politics of our country is a dirty business, that it is a sort of swamp, full of pestilential miasma, and that a good man endangers both his health and his reputation to go near. Now, if such were true, do you not see that both those who have made the Government of our country such a disreputable business and those who keep it disreputable are guilty of a serious crime? If the best men of our country can't touch politics without hurting themselves, then so much the worse for the country. Under the present paternal Government of this Dominion they saw the people's rights given to monopolists. They saw Canada bound in the hands of monopolists. They saw a new kind of slavery. When the interests of the few were allowed to take precedence over those of the many, just so long as the Government decided not to legislate in the interests of the people of Canada as a whole, it lay in them to see that the Government was opposed and the interests of all conserved. They must have legislation for the people, not for the few. The Government had got the idea that the party was the country. He believed in party to some extent, but never before principles. Honesty must be the base of all dealings, as they must remember that the people put their money into the hands of the Government to spend wisely and well. If he was enabled to go to Ottawa his feet would be on solid ground as far as Manitoba's rights were concerned That was a live issue yet. If he was returned there would be no more uncompromising man in what he held is an outrage on our sister province One plank he would oppose, the importation of Chinese slaves. (Applause.) If returned, in regard to schools, he would go hobus bobus for secular education. He would try and bind the ties with the Mother Country more closely, ties which never should have been broken. He would support preferential trade. He said, he thought, sounded the bugle that the war and begun, and he asked them to fight hand in hand and shoulder to shoulder. If they did this, on the 23rd of June he would not be last or even least. He relied on their efforts to place him at the top of the poll, and be the first member for the Burrard district. (Continued applause.)

As an expression of independent thought in British Columbia, Mr. Maxwell's remarks will be of interest.

SIR JAMES GRANT'S OVERTHROW

Sir James Grant does not feel any too pleasant over having been dropped by the Conservatives in Ottawa. Sir James has a high opinion of his own qualifications as a member of Parliament, and why he should be sacrificed is what he would like to know. Mr. Robillard, the other ex-member, was also thrown overboard, his name not having been even mentioned at the convention. Hiram Robinson and Alderman Champagne are the nominees. The latter is an employe of the Postoffice Department.

ANOTHER KICKER.

M. W. Pruyn, ex-M.P. for Lennox, and a most pronounced supporter of the Tory Government, when in the House, has become a kicker. He has asked Mr. McCarthy to visit the county and there is a prospect that Mr. Wilson will, besides the Liberal, have to face a candidate from his own side.

EAST LAMBTON.

The Liberal prospects were never brighter in East Lambton than in the present campaign. Many Conservatives are cutting loose from their old party and are casting in their lot with the tariff reform side. Mr. Fraser, the Liberal candidate, who is interested in the oil trade, is certain to win.

NOTES.

A. W. Ross, ex-M.P., who now represents a life insurance company in Toronto, has announced that he will be a candidate in Selkirk, Manitoba, the constituency which he has represented for several Parliaments.

The Winnipeg Free Press has come out flat footed against coercion, and declares that Manitoba will not submit to outside dictation. It continues, nevertheless, to support Hon. Hugh John Macdonald, a member of the Government which is pledged to the passage of the Remedial Bill. It opposes coercion, but supports the coercionists. Rather a peculiar position to assume.

H. H. Cook, the Liberal candidate in East Simcoe, opened the campaign in Orillia yesterday Mr. Cook is one of the old war horses of Mr. Mackenzie's time and will redeem his old constituency.

D. B. Meigs is again the Liberal candidate for Missisquoi, Que. A better choice could not have been made.

The National Council of the Women of Canada to Help Factory Hands—Where Doctors are Needed.

Montreal, May 17.—(Special)—The National Council of the Women of Canada closed its sittings here yesterday. Amongst the prominent people present were Lady Aberdeen, Lady Thompson, Mrs. J. W. Longley, wife of the Attorney-General of Nova Scotia; Lady Lacoste and Mrs. Drummond.

One important resolution adopted was the following: "That the N.C.W.C., believing that the true wealth of the community lies in the welfare, in mind and body, of its workers, condemns the present excessive daily hours of labor in factories; and again affirms its intention to work for their reduction."

The question of medical treatment in the remote districts of the Northwest was also discussed, and brought out some harrowing instances of that lack of treatment complained of. One delegate reported that a young farmer had to go 30 miles for a doctor, and when the medical man arrived both mother and babe were dead.

STRAIGHT AS AN ARROW

B.B.B.

TO THE MARK.

In all diseases that affect humanity there is some weak link in the chain of health, some spot that is the seat of the trouble. It may be the liver, it may be the stomach; perhaps it is the bowels or the kidneys; most likely it is the blood. Burdock Blood Bitters goes straight to that spot, strengthens the weak link in the chain, removes the cause of the disease, and restores health, because it acts with cleansing force and curative power upon the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

With good red blood health is assured, without it disease is certain to come and Burdock is the only remedy that will positively remove all blood poisons. In ulcers, abscesses, scrofula, scrofulous swellings, skin diseases, blotches, old sores, etc., B.B.B. should be applied externally, as well as taken internally according to directions.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Faliure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Rider Avenue, New York City.

THE DISCOVERY OF QUININE.

Production of the Present Day and Methods of Use.

In a company of prominent physicians each was asked to write the six remedies that he would take on board ship for a voyage round the world, if his life were to depend on the number who should return alive, says The New York Independent. The first entry was "opium," unanimously indorsed. At the second entry the vote was a tie between "mercury" and "quinine," and now that bicloride of mercury has been found to be the most efficient of microbe killers, probably that would have second place unanimously, and the third would be unhesitatingly given to the various extracts of the bark of the several varieties of the cinchona, of which the most familiar is quinine, a name derived from that used by the Peruvian Indians, who call the trees kina. The old-fashioned method of administration was by macerating the "quills" of bark in wine, and the great tonic in the early part of this century was "bark and wine," and as in these later days it has been demonstrated to be directly fatal to the bacillus malaria, we can easily understand what a boon it was to the "settlers" in the undrained and "fever-and-ague" regions of this country when new. At last, by the advance of chemical skill, the secret of extracting its alkaloids was found, and of these no less than thirteen are known and used, and some of them produce a valuable medicine, at a less cost than quinine itself.

In 1854 the Dutch Government undertook to raise the trees in the Island of Java, and now they have most prosperous plantations, but the most extensive and successful of what may be called intelligently conducted plantations are to be found on the slopes of the Himalayas and in British Burmah. In South America the bark is obtained by first stripping the trunk, then felling the tree, but under English botanists in India a way is found of partially stripping the trunk and then surrounding it with moss, causing fresh bark to be produced. The botanists have even found a way of making the bark fuller of the desirable alkaloids.

The Making of Tacks.

"Where do the pins go to?" is a common saying, but when one takes a few notes of the tack industry the question, "Where do all the tacks go to?" seems to be the next thing in order.

The first tacks were made by hand. The operator used a vise and dies. A bit of metal was held by a clamp, and the bead was made by striking a blow with a hammer. Later on machinery began to be used, and now metal is fed into an enormous apparatus that will cut out nearly 300 tacks a minute. The processes are extremely interesting, and a tack factory has many visitors. The machinery is automatic; narrow strips of metal are fed in and slipped off; the heads are made by pressure, and it literally rains tacks into large boxes placed underneath to receive them. They are then poured into a rattler, which is a rapidly revolving cylinder, through which a jet of air is forced under high pressure. This removes all of the dust and loose particles. Black lead is sometimes put in to give them a polish, and then they pass on to the sifter, which sorts them and takes out the imperfect tacks, leaving the good ones to be passed on and dropped into a box, from which they are taken to be packed by quick-fingered girls. A good workwoman can pack 1600 pounds of tacks in a day. When one realizes that many of these machines are going, and that the tacks at this rate are being sent out to market, the wonder grows where all the tacks go to.—New York Ledger.

Personally Responsible.

The harvest may seem a long way off, but it will most assuredly come, with its burning realities and tremendous consequences. There has always been seed-time and harvest, summer and winter, since the world began. So is it in human life. As summer follows spring, and autumn follows summer, and dreary winter comes at last, even so will it be with all who neglected God's overtures of mercy in Christ. With them the harvest will soon be past and the summer ended, and their condition will be eternally hopeless. "He that observeth the wind shall not sow, and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap." Every man is personally responsible for his sowing and reaping.

Some Figures.

The exodus from Egypt, according to reliable chronology, took place 440 years after the migration of Abraham. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

FOXES THAT PLAY 'POSSUM.

An Ottawa Man's Experience With One of the Cunning Kid.

Foxes have a number of wiles by which they fool hunters, and none is so surprising to the hunter as that of 'possum playing. Norman Lett of Ottawa tells how he went fox hunting near there one day last winter. He took his stand on a runway with a friend, and pretty soon along came the fox, going at full tilt. At the discharge of the gun the fox made a complete somersault, and lay stretched out on the ground as still as a dead mouse. When the three dogs got in close, up it got and made off on three legs. That made it look as if the fox had been stunned by the shot discharge, especially as he limped.

The dogs overtook him, and as one grabbed him, the fox became as limp as wet paper. Lett tied the animal's hind legs together and hung the body over his shoulder. While his comrade and he were walking along, together, the fox suddenly sank its teeth into the man's back where he could get the biggest mouthful. The result was painful and startling to the man.

The English foxes are good 'possum players, according to the stories of a Brooklyn Scotchman, who tells how he and a friend saw a dog catch, fight and apparently kill a fox. The two men went over, picked up the animal, and, while one man grasped the fore paws, the other took hold of the rear ones, and so they walked along, swinging the body between them, with the dog close behind. Pretty soon one of the men noticed that the fox's head was swinging more than was natural, so he watched it. Sure enough, every time the fox would swing forward the head would come up and the eye would open just a little to see the faces of the men. The man told the other in an ordinary tone of voice what he had seen, and they kept a tight hold on the paws.

They carried the animal to a barn opened the door and gave the fox a throw that made him go paws over back through the air. The fox landed on his paws and made a dive the other way, but found himself in a cage.

The fox whipped two young dogs that were put in to maul him, but was killed at last by a mongrel setter.—New York Sun.

THE COMING COMET!

It is Expected to Strike and Smash the Earth.

That is if its Tail Doesn't Swing it Around in Another Direction—Not Due for Some Time Yet.

There is, according to the authorities, a comet coming straight for the earth. It is coming at the rate of several thousand miles an hour, and when it reaches here there will be more or less trouble, and something will have to break. The astronomers in question think the earth will get a trifle the worst of it and are accordingly feeling anxious. It is due here unless somebody turns a switch, and sidetracks it, in less than nine hundred years, so no wonder the discoverers of that comet are anxious. But more things than a comet are due to arrive here before long. With the hot weather will come sickness and death. Spring, deadly spring, will reap its fearful harvest. There will come

Malaria,
Typhoid,
Diphtheria,
Bilious Complaints.
Blood Troubles,
Blotches and Boils.
Pimples and Eruptions,
Ague and Chills,
Rheumatism.

And hundreds of other complaints common to the season. There will be many a gap left at the table. Many a little coffin will be carried to its last resting place; many a home will be filled with sadness.

Take no chances. Prepare for spring. If you or your children are not strong and healthy get strong and healthy. If you are not well get well. If you are well keep well.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is what you want. It is the greatest blood purifier and spring tonic of the age. There is nothing like it on the market. Don't confound it with other weak imitations. It is easily the leading blood medicine of the day, as the splendid testimonials published elsewhere show. Try it.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is unlike most patent medicines. It does not profess to cure every disease under the sun. But it will cure all those that have the same common origin in disorders of the blood, liver, stomach and nervous centers.

More about Scott's Sarsaparilla tomorrow.

SPORTING NEWS.

Dictator Does Some Fast Work at the Woodbine—Toronto Ball Tossers Win.

The same old cry that has been raised by the trainers at Woodbine Park for years past regarding the harrowing of the track, was repeated yesterday, and there is considerable dissatisfaction expressed by the horsemen. The club might certainly exert themselves a little more in this respect and see that the track is properly kept in order. It is the owners that furnish the sport, and their interests should be looked after better. It must be admitted that no legitimate race track in America gets so little attention as Woodbine and horsemen receive so little consideration. The harrows were put on yesterday morning about 9 o'clock, just in the midst of the work, and it is a wonder that some of the horses didn't run into them. Many trainers waited with their horses until the harrow had made two turns of the track, when it was taken off, and then the horses were worked. The O.J.C. might make a slight effort to have the track harrowed every afternoon, now that race day is so close at hand.

The weather was a shade on the cool side yesterday morning, and with the exception of some of the poorer class of horses, none were "let down," though some good work was put under their belts. Undoubtedly one of the best-looking horses on the track is Mr. "Dave" Boyle's Havoc, which The World had the pleasure of seeing in his stall yesterday morning after he had accomplished a two-mile gallop, a mile and a half of which was run in 2.35, and not 2.40, as stated in several evening papers. Mr. Charles Boyle, who trains the son of Hinyar, said last night that in justice to himself and the public he wished the report of the horse's alleged work corrected. Mr. Boyle has certainly been unfortunate here this spring in having his horses credited with faster work than they have really done. Though to some there might be no apparent harm in such reports, yet it might influence a handicapper, and Mr. Boyle would be the sufferer. Lord Nelson, also in the Boyle stable, breezed a mile and a quarter in 2.10½. Maguire went the same distance in 2.25, and Florence Colville in 2.26.

In the Hendrie stable, Cardinal worked five furlongs in 1.06¾, Glen Gowrie a mile in 1.53, Royal Oak five-eighths at a two-minute clip, Lochluvar six furlongs in 1.27½.

Dymen's chestnut filly The Duchess covered a mile in 1.51, while Ben Pope sent Laurel and Royal George five furlongs in 1.10¾. The Duggan fillies Chickie and Minorca worked a mile and a quarter at a two-minute clip, and Strathol, the late Joe Martin's horse, who is under the care of Mike Gorman, breezed a mile in 1.55. "Rass" Burgess sent Thorncliffe a half in 54. John Nixon's jumper Lawyer was sent through the field, while Dan Gordon, the Ottawa Plater, was sent a mile and a quarter at a two-minute gait. Mr. Adam Beck's horses were all out, but only did slow work.

It was after 10 o'clock when the Seagram horses, nine in number, made their appearance, and the Laird of Waterloo was on hand to see them perform. Connoisseur, in company with Halding, breezed six furlongs in 1.24½, while Stonemason, Eulalon and Mussulman negotiated a mile well in hand in 1.49½. Millbrook was given slow work, and the trio, Bon Ino, Ferdinand and Abbottsford, reeled off a half in 50½, Bon Ino working out the five furlongs in 1.04¾.

About 1 o'clock Dan Curtin brought out Dictator, and sent him the Plate distance with over his weight up in 2.10½, the first mile being run in 1.51.

"Tody" King, who came all the way from Quebec with Prize, Campayne and Beverwyck, had to vacate his quarters at the track yesterday and move to Leaksville. The club, apparently, has a grudge against Canadians.

Charlie Phair's jumper, Bob Neely, arrived home from Windsor on Sunday night.

Owners should bear in mind that the entries for the Trial Purse, Woodbine Steeplechase, Green Hunters' Steeplechase, selling race (run May 25), Royal Canadian Steeplechase, Toronto Cup and Hunters' Flat race close at the secretary's office today at 1 p.m.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

It was a pitchers' battle yesterday, with honors nearly even. Dineen and Johnson allowed five and six hits, including a two-bagger each, and Horner was thrown out from right field after leading along the line. The visitors pulled themselves together and played a brilliant fielding game, as their three double plays partially attest. A base on balls, Delehanty's error and Flack's hit produced Scranton's only run. Delehanty got around in the second on his single, a stolen base and O'Brien's hit. He was out at the plate had not Rafferty dropped the ball. Freeman made a double in the seventh and scored when Hutchinson et Smith's grounder between his legs. Delehanty's single earned the run. Score:

Toronto ..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 *—2

Earned runs—Toronto 1. First base by errors—Scranton 2, Toronto 1. Left on bases—Scranton 7, Toronto 2. First base on balls—Off Dineen 3, off Johnson 2. Struck out—By Johnson 1. Two-base hits—Ward, Freeman. Sacrifice hits—Meaney, Rafferty. Stolen bases—Flack, Johnson, Lutenburg, Delehanty 2. Double plays—Smith to Padden to Lutenburg, Hutchinson to Ward to Horner, Hutchinson to Horner. Ward to Hutchinson. Umpire—Swartwood. Time of game—1.30. Attendance—500.

A NEW CRICKET RECORD.

Yorkshire cricketers established a world's record Friday, May 8, in the match with Warwickshire, when four men passed their century mark in one innings, and Peel had completed his second century. The score of 843 made by the Australians against Past and Present at Oxford and Cambridge University at Portsmouth, in 1893, was passed, thus making a fresh mark for a first-class match. The innings was closed for 887, with Peel not out, 210.

Sprinter C. Crew has entered for the American sweeps, open to the world, to be held probably in Pittsburg about the middle of August.

Belleville will erect a grand stand capable of seating 15,000 overlooking the course of the races, which will take place there in August. Mr. C. Dixon, the G.T.R. passenger agent, states that cheap rates from all over Canada to Belleville will be secured for the regatta.

The pain that sometimes strikes a man at the most inopportune moment is due to indigestion. It may come in the midst of a dinner and make the feast a mockery. It is a reminder that he may not eat what he chooses, nor when he chooses. He is a slave to the weakness of his stomach. A man's health and strength depend on his digestion. Remove the obstruction by taking Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a positive cure for constipation and its attendant ills—headaches, sour stomach, flatulence, dizziness, biliousness and "heartburn." The "Pellets" are very gentle in their action. They simply assist nature. They give no violent wrench to the system. They cause no pain, nor griping.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, and receive free a copy of Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

VENEZUELA COMING TO TIME.

The Little Republic Offers to Pay Great Britain the Indemnity Demanded.

Caracas, Venezuela, May 18.—The Venezuelan Government has agreed to pay the £1600 demanded by Great Britain for the Uruan incident (the arrest and imprisonment of a British police officer) on condition that it is considered simply an indemnity for personal damages and not as affecting the boundary dispute. The Venezuelan Government, however, has not consent to make a public apology to Great Britain as a prerequisite to the resumption of diplomatic relations, although it is understood that the United States, in carrying out its friendly purpose as an adviser of Venezuela, counseled that this condition should be complied with in accordance with the terms of the British demand.

The following extracts from The Mail, Sir Charles Tupper's chief organ, will be interesting at the present juncture, when that paper is posing as the champion of the minority in Manitoba. How can the utterances of such a paper carry any weight when it is found so completely facing both ways?

AGAINST SEPARATE SCHOOLS IN MANITOBA

Mail, 19th February, 1890: "The action of Manitoba, whose Legislature has voted for the abolition of the official use of French and is about to vote for the abolition of Separate schools, will probably come before the Parliament in some form or other before the session closes. * * * There is no doubt from the evidence collected by Dr. Bryce that the people did not ask for Separate schools and that no one had authority to ask for them in their name; in short that the Separate school clause in the Bill of Rights that was presented, and which Mgr. Taché regards in the light of a treaty, was surreptitiously inserted. Naturally the belief that a trick was played upon the young province helps to harden the hearts of the Manitobans of to-day against dualism in both its forms. Their main objection rests on higher grounds—that the system is useless and costly, and prevents the growth of that community of interest which is essential to strength and prosperity. This is the deliberate opinion of ninety-nine hundredths of the English-speaking population in Manitoba and the Territories; and Parliament should think twice before seeking to coerce them for the benefit of the half-breeds, or to speak more correctly, of the clergy and people of Quebec. A struggle between the settlers and Parliament over such a matter might do more in a single season to check immigration than the retention of French could accomplish in the way of promoting it in twenty. And in the end Parliament would have to surrender."

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS.

Mail, 20th February, 1890: "The settlers there have nothing to do with the compromises to which we in the older provinces have had to resort in order to keep our house from falling about our ears. It is nothing to them that two languages are authorized in Quebec, or that Separate schools exist in Ontario. They have gone into a virgin land to make the best they can of life as individuals, and to build up provinces, which may prove a source of strength or of weakness to the rest of the Dominion. Why should we compel them to share the curse which has blighted our own career? How can we expect them to be true to us when we are thus marring their work at the outset?"

"Yet it would be something new in modern colonial policy to find the central authority, at the instance of a reactionary church, fastening upon a virgin dependency institutions which it knew to be harmful. If such an outrage be attempted by the Canadian Parliament, the British portion of Canada will know how to avenge it."

CRIPPLING THE SEPARATE SCHOOLS

Mail, 6th April, 1827: "We propose to cripple, in the hope of ultimately destroying the Separate school system by the re-establishment of free competition between it and the Public schools for the attendance of the Roman Catholic child and by the entire secularization of Public school education. This is the only solution of the Separate school problem that we can conceive."

ANOTHER PROPHECY.

Mail, 4th March, 1892: "Should the Dominion Government undertake by advice to the province or by Federal legislation to institute a tax-supported Separate school system there will undoubtedly be trouble, for the Manitobans will not accept a policy they do not want. There is no precedent as yet for a Dominion law overruling provincial opinion with respect to education. The Government which establishes the precedent at the instigation of the church is not to be envied. It will set a province by the ears and earn for itself the distrust of the entire Dominion."

DOWNRIGHT TYRANNY.

Mail, 13th April, 1893: "If there is anything more fanatical or bigoted than an attempt to force upon an unwilling people a religious system in respect of education which is utterly distasteful and thoroughly unconstitutional, it would be interesting to have that instance of fanaticism and bigotry named. * * * To force this particular establishment (Separate schools) upon the new Territories is worse than fanatical; it is downright tyranny."

THE BISHOPS' MANDEMENT.

It is said the members of the Government are not satisfied with the Bishops' mandement. It does not go far enough to suit them. Its language as compared with that used by Bishop Cameron when he spoke of the opponents of Separate schools in Manitoba as "hell-inspired hypocrites" is mild. Sir Charles Tupper, who is using very violent language in the campaign, evidently does not think it strong eough. It is believed the Government would have been aided to a greater extent by the individual Bishops issuing mandements in their own dioceses. Outside the Province of Quebec the manifesto will do their cause more harm than good.

A CLERGYMAN CUTS LOOSE.

Rev. Robert Rayson, rector of All Saints' Church, Kingston, a pronounced Conservative, has cut loose from his old party, and in a well-expressed letter gives his reasons. Primarily his objection to his old allies is on account of their attitude on the Manitoba school question, but he is willing to trust the Liberal leaders to settle, not with that, but the out thmh settle, not only that, but the trade question, and to put an end to corruption.

DON'S REMARKS.

Don, the well-known writer in Saturday Night, has this to say: "We are doing nothing but talking race and religion. Let us settle it by giving French Canada the Premiership and retaining such religious liberty as we have left. If there is to be a compromise, why not on this basis? Laurier dare not be as indulgent to his race and creed as Bowell and Tupper have been, and it would doubtless be better for non-Catholics to have a patriotic 'Frenchman and a Catholic' than a recreant Orangeman or a millionaire braggart, who made his fortune while his country grew poor."

VERY WARM IN WINNIPEG.

The political contest in Winnipeg is growing very warm. Mr. Martin is rapidly gaining ground, and it will be surprising if he does not beat Hugh John by a very large majority; perhaps the latter will even lose his deposit. Two Presbyterian ministers, Rev. John and Joseph Hogg, the former at one time minister of Charles-street Church, Toronto, spoke out very decidedly against the misdeeds of which the present Government have been guilty, in their sermons on Sunday last. Their utterances are generally commended.

MR. LOUNT'S CANDIDATURE.

The nomination of William Lount, Q.C., by the Liberals in Centre Toronto, has stirred up great enthusiasm. Congratulations are pouring in on all sides, and there is a good prospect that the riding will be redeemed. Mr. Lount, when he sat in the Legislature, was a most useful member, and he would be a great acquisition to the new House of Commons.

ONTARIO'S GRAND OLD MAN.

The Liberal convention in Centre Toronto on Monday night was the first meeting of the campaign which Sir Oliver Mowat attended. There could be no mistaking the fact that his political friends heartily approved of his course in joining Mr. Laurier. The enthusiasm when he made his appearance was unbounded, and when he got up to speak, it was some time before he could make his voice heard. Ontario's Grand Old Man holds as warm a place as ever in the affections of the Liberal party, and his name will go far towards carrying the campaign to a successful issue.

TUPPER'S PROLIXITY OF PROMISES.

A bridge across the St. Lawrence at Quebec would be an expensive affair, but the Premier stopped long enough at the ancient capital on his way east to promise it if the people would only sell themselves for such a bribe. As Mr. Kerr said at the convention on Monday night to carry out the promises of public works already made by the Premier would cripple the country for a hundred years.

GENERAL NOTES.

Sir Charles Tupper is absolutely pledged to Remedial Legislation. He was asked in Montreal if it was his intention, in the event of his being returned to power, to carry through the bill. He said there was not the shadow of doubt that he would. Coercion is therefore the main plank of the Tory platform.

"As a prince of corruptionists this man is a marvel." Such is the comment on Sir Charles Tupper made by The Bobcaygeon Independent.

It is confidently predicted that Mr. Hutcheson, the English Liberal candidate, will head the poll in Ottawa, while Mr. Belcourt, the French Liberal, is likely to take second place.

Senator Perley was announced to hold a meeting in Pearson, a small place in the constituency of Brandon, on Tuesday, but a man sent out into the highways and hedges to compel them to come in, failed to gather enough people to make a decent meeting, and the Senator had to depart without speaking his little piece. He is an appointee of the present Government and a coercionist. The people in Manitoba want none of such.

"Of the system which Mr. Blake deplores, Sir Charles Tupper has notoriously been the chief agent; all that is worst in it and has tended most to debase the national character is familiarly connected with his name, which may be said to be a household word of corruption. Nor has he, like his late chief, succeeded in convincing the people that except when he is doing the dirty work of a political party his hands are clean; or that, if he governed the nation, its honour, while it might be in danger from such exposures as that of the Pacific Railway scandal, would be secure against a deeper stain. His name is at this moment unpleasantly connected with a suspicious commercial affair in England, and if the sentence of the arbitrators in the Onderdonk contract case next month should be against the Dominion, another sinister transaction will be recalled to mind. . . . It is too evident what sort of scene would be opened by his accession to power. He is the Prince of Political Cracksmen, no doubt, but we cannot afford to purchase ability even of so rare a kind at such a price as that of continued and increased demoralisation. . . . The appointment of such a man as the head of the State would be not merely the inauguration of violence and corruption unredeemed by any true wisdom of statesmanship; it would be the signal for a disruption of the community and for a moral civil war."—The Mail, June 9, 1891.

HONORS FOR CANADA

Chief Justice Meredith to be Made a Knight.

AND SIR DONALD SMITH K.C.M.G.

Lieut.-Governor Chapleau of Quebec to be Permitted to Write K.C.M.G. After His Autograph—Three New Peers to be Created on the Queen's Birthday.

London, May 19.—It is announced that the distribution of honors upon the occasion of the Queen's birthday, May 24, the following gentlement will be elevated to the peerage:

The Marquis of Granby, eldest son of the Duke of Rutland; Right Hon. Edward Heneage, formerly Liberal-Unionist member of Parliament for Great Grimsby, and Col. Edward Donald Malcolm of the British army, retired.

Upon the same occasion Chief Justice Meredith of Ontario will be created a knight.

The Hon. Henry S. Berkeley, Chief Justice of the Fiji Islands, and William John Anderson, Chief Justice of British Honduras, will also be knighted.

Henry Nevill Dering, Minister to Mexico, and Col. D. North, Assistant Adjutant-General in Canada, will be created Companions of the Order of the Bath.

Sir Donald Smith, Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain, will be made a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, and the Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, a Knight Commander of the same Order.

William Ralph Meredith, LL.D., was born in Westminster Township, Middlesex County, March 31, 1840. His father was for many years Clerk of the Division Court for Middlesex County. W. R. Meredith was educated at the Grammar School, London, and Toronto University. He was called to the bar in 1861, and soon established an important practice in London. In 1871 he was elected bencher of the Law Society. In 1876 he was created Q.C. He is a staunch Liberal-Conservative and led the Opposition in the Ontario House. In 1894 he was raised to the Chief Justiceship. In religion he is an Episcopalian. In 1862 Mr. Meredith married Miss Mary Holmes of London, Ont.

Sir Donald Smith, born at Morayshire, Scotland, in 1821, spent his early manhood in the service of the Hudson Bay Company, of which he later became chief commissioner. In 1870 he became a member of the Executive Council of the Northwest Territories, sat in the Manitoba Legislature from 1871 to 1874, and since 1871 he has been a member of the Dominion House of Commons. He has been a life-long Conservative. He is a director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and is also closely identified with other large mercantile enterprises. He has ever taken a deep interest in matters appertaining to education and art.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau was born in Terrebonne County, Quebec, in 1849, and was educated at St. Hyacinthe. As a mere youth he began the study of law in Montreal, and at the age of 19 took the hustings in a political campaign. When only 27 years old he was elected by acclamation to represent his native county in the Quebec Legislature, and from his first appearance in the House made a strong impression upon those who heard him speak. In 1873 he rose to be a member of the Provincial Executive, and became Solicitor-General of the province. Eight years later he was Premier of Quebec. In 1882 he resigned office and entered the Dominion Government as Secretary of State under Sir John A. Macdonald. He left Sir John Thompson's Government in 1892 to become Lieutenant-Governor of his native province. Mr. Chapleau speaks English fluently and is an orator in two languages.

AS MANY BILLS AS MEN.

Will the DeBarry Anti-Canadian Immigration Bill Pass Congress?

Washington, May 19.—After the morning hour in the House to-day the McCall Immigration Bill was called up under the special order adopted yesterday. Mr. Stone of Pennsylvania offered his bill as a substitute to the McCall bill. Mr. Corliss of Michigan offered his bill as an amendment to the substitute, and Mr. Mahany offered his bill as an amendment to the Corliss bill. The latter was ruled out on a point of order raised by Mr. Dingley. Mr. Mahany made a vigorous speech in opposition to the point of order, but the Speaker sustained it and ruled him out. Mr. Mahany hopes to secure time later on for consideration of his bill, which should be known as the DeBarry anti-Canadian bill.

Fire in the Adirondacks.

Watertown, N.Y. May 18.—Fire is raging in the Adirondacks near Fine, St. Lawrence County. The residence of George Titus and a lumber camp above Fine were destroyed. Every man who will work is being hired to fight the flames. The long drought has made the woods very dry, and fears are entertained for the hotels and cottages at Star Lake.

THE T. V. C. ROUTE TO POWER.

MR. SAM HUGHES, ex-M.P., is very confident that he will carry North Victoria at the pending election, but his confidence is not so great in the righteousness of his cause and the impeccability of the Government, but that he must resort to some statesmanlike expedient to "make assurance doubly sure." Mr. Hughes' record as a politician has not given him very strong claims to public confidence, but this much is said for him that he is able to "give a job to the poor man that wants work." This is the way Mr. Hughes "works the canal racket" in the interests of his candidature. He gives the "poor man that wants a job" a ticket like this, with the blanks filled in with the proper date and the "deserving" poor man's name that wants a job. This is a copy of the ticket :—

Lindsay.....1896.

Dear Mr. Deason,

The Bearer, Mr.....is desirous of obtaining employment on the Trent Canal Works. He is a deserving man. By giving him Work you will greatly oblige me.

Faithfully,

(Signed) SAM HUGHES.

To Mr. Deason, Contractor, Kirkfield.

Major Sam uses the Trent Valley Canal for bribery purposes with a little more delicacy than the Peterborough machine. The Fenelon Falls Gazette declares that the Trent Valley Canal is being used to "pacify disgruntled Tories and bribe impecunious Grits." The Gazette declares :

"An elector who will promise to vote for Sam Hughes (or perhaps for Dr. Vrooman) will get a ticket similar to the above, without which no man can obtain employment on the T.V.C. which is paid for by the people at large, without regard to their politics. The disgraceful coercion thus resorted to will not save Sam Hughes from defeat in the coming contest, for he is doomed beyond the shadow of a doubt, and it may not even decrease his minority, for though it may secure for him the votes of a few "deserving" men who are too hard up to be independent, it will in all probability prove the "last straw" that will turn against him in disgust many waverers who might otherwise have decided in his favour.

"Of course it doesn't matter to the contractor whether the work is done by Grits or Tories, white men or black, so long as he gets it done satisfactorily and at a low rate and as it is probable that that the Italians and, others whom he at first employed worked for less wages than free and independent electors are willing to accept, it is possible that he may have been offered inducements to discharge the unfortunate foreigners, as he is said to have done, in order to make room for Sam's pets."

The same thing is being worked from the Government office here in the matter of using the canal to give work to those only who will promise to vote the Conservative ticket. The retail department of the Government's bribery system is comparatively a modest thing but in a tight place, such as Conservative candidates find themselves in, "every little helps." Sir Charles Tupper does things on a more magnificent scale. He tries to bribe a Province by promising to build an impossible railway railway that will cost ten or twelve millions, while Sam Hughes performs the trick by recommending a "deserving" man, and by the way what do contractors (unless there is some agreement) care about "deserving" men as long as they do their work? The local machine gets in its work by extorting a pledge to vote for the Government.

Though these things may be spoken of flippantly, let an honest man sit down quietly and consider what it means and he will conclude, no matter to which party he belongs, that it is simply iniquitous and an outrage upon the first principles of representative government, the independence of the electorate.

THE ADVERSE OPINION OF FRIENDS.

At the meeting at Stewart's school house on Monday night, Mr. John Burnham indulged in the old time laudation of the National Policy. As to this policy, the president of the Young Men's Conservative Association of Toronto in 1892, Mr. Richard Armstrong, who received 575 votes to 291 against him, said in the course of his inaugural address on October 31st of that year :

"The question as to how thousands are leaving this country every week and going to the United States should engage our serious attention, and we should try and solve the question, for it is quite evident that the older heads are not going to us. I am informed by good authority that no fewer than four thousand persons have left this city during the past year. Left all that is near and dear and gone into foreign exile. In short, there is no getting over the fact that we are being annexed in job lots every week and there is not a voice raised against it."

At a meeting of the same association during the following month, Mr. J. H. McGee said : "the men who are spangled with knighthood sit talking of royalty in the midst of ruin and desolation. From our young men they must expect a new order of things."

The Industrial Brotherhood of Canada, some time ago arraigned the policy in the following terms :

"Fifteen years' experience of the protective trade policy has shown no improvement in the position of the farmer. Prices of nearly all farm products have shrunk, farms have depreciated in value until many are unsaleable and an enormous mortgage has been rolled upon them, in many cases beyond redemption. The Board of Trade of Winnipeg presented a memorial to Mr. Foster when he visited that place, in which they stated that the duties on goods coming into Canada should be reduced to the lowest point consistent with the revenue tariff. The council maintained that that increased importations at lower rates of duty would tend to increase rather than to diminish the revenue derived by the Dominion.

Many of the duties now in force are absolutely prohibitive and therefore no revenue now accrues to the Government. The council submitted that manufacturers of the many lines of staple goods in Canada have formed a combine and base their prices, not on the cost of manufacture plus a fair profit, but on the value which similar goods from abroad cost laid down in Canada duty paid. This being the case the consumers pay an excessive price for their goods and the Government does not secure a revenue, the manufacturer being the only gainer."

More evidence to the same effect from Conservative and other sources might be adduced, but it is already evident to persons who have studied statistics that the National Policy, to quote Mr. Blake, "has left us with a small population, a scanty immigration, and a Northwest empty still, with enormous additions to our public debt and yearly charge and an extravagant system of expenditure." Since these words were issued some years ago, the N. P. has not improved its pace ; in fact it is coming up the home stretch pretty well pumped out and with a Liberal policy of truly national character, forging ahead with an excellent chance of going under the wire well in advance.

ONE thing will be sure to grow in Canada under Sir Charles Tupper—the public debt.

WHILE the country has, under Conservative rule, developed deficits, it is remarkable that Sir Charles Tupper has worked up a tidy surplus.

HAS the National Policy made you rich ? The People—No.

Sir Charles Tupper—Yes, it has made me a millionaire.

SUGAR was dearer," says Dr. Montague, "when the Grits were in power than it is now." Yes, replies the Welland Tribune, and so were wheat, and horses, and land, and a good many other things the farmers are more interested in than in sugar.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER has odd ideas of what an honest man should be ashamed of. In Montreal he declared that he never was so ashamed of anything in his life as having helped to elect Mr. Dalton McCarthy for Cardwell. Though THE EXAMINER has no particular love for Dalton McCarthy, it feels that Sir Charles Tupper has done ten thousand things he should be infinitely more ashamed of than having stood political god-father to Mr. McCarthy. If Sir Charles Tupper's conscience is in the tough condition shown by the statement quoted, we may fear that if entrusted with power he will stick at nothing. He may take a course that will "smash confederation," and it will be a virtue compared with the one blunder of his life, patronizing Dalton McCarthy.

The pain that sometimes strikes a man at the most inopportune moment is due to indigestion. It may come in the midst of a dinner and make the feast a mockery. It is a reminder that he may not eat what he chooses, nor when he chooses. He is a slave to the weakness of his stomach. A man's health and strength depend on his digestion. Remove the obstruction by taking Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a positive cure for constipation and its attendant ills—headaches, sour stomach, flatulence, dizziness, billousness and "heartburn." The "Pellets" are very gentle in their action. They simply assist nature. They give no violent wrench to the system. They cause no pain, nor griping.

EAST CHANDOS.

From our own Correspondent.

Very dry weather that we are having now, and bush fires are the order of the day. They are doing considerable damage.

The Lasswade cheese factory has commenced operations, but the milk is not very plentiful.

Mr. Brown, Inspector of public schools, has been visiting the schools in this part of the country and reports fair progress.

Mr. Thos. Tanner is foreman for Baskins' drive on Loon Lake.

Mr. C. B. Hawley is running the mill for Mr. Baskins now.

Mr. Oliver Earnshaw is erecting a new house on the farm known as the Capt. Wood lot.

Mr. Matthew Woodbec lost a valuable cow this week.

Mr. C. S. Prouty, of Pleasant Bay, had a logging bee one day last week and had about two acres logged and well cleaned up. Mr. Prouty is crowding his four score years very close and has cut all his own wood during the past winter, besides the chores around the place and chopped the fallow besides. Few men of his age can come up to it.

Mr. H. Hubble was confined to the house for a few days last week, but is able to be out at present.

Mr. Thos. Lowery, a former cheesemaker, made a short visit as he was on his way back to Deer Lake factory, where he is engaged for the summer.

Mr. Thomas Stein is working the Shaw farm this summer. We wish him success.

On May 15th Mr. J. G. Hubble met with a very painful accident. As he was felling some small timber his axe glanced and entered his foot, nearly severing his big toe and made a bad wound in another. He will be confined to his house for a while.

Sleeplessness. Mental and Physical Fatigue

Go hand in hand. The waste of the body that ought to be restored by rest and sleep suffers increasing diminution ; then loss of strength and vigor of body and mind follows. It is in this class of diseases that the marvellous properties of Maltine with Coca Wine are most markedly exhibited. It penetrates to the very source of vital action, inasmuch as the nerve centres are impressed by its medicinal power and the digestive functions stimulated to increased and more efficient action. This imparts to the whole system the much needed impetus, the nerves are soothed from a state of irritability to one of repose—sleep, with all its beneficent influences, comes back to lend its aid to the process of restoration. Digestion keeps pace with the improvement of appetite, and in a short time the nervous, miserable sufferer regains his old-time vigor and the capability to enjoy life and all it affords. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

Sick headache and constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills. Easy to take, sure in effect.

FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Four Johannesburg Convicts Must Languish

UNLESS THE SENTENCE IS MODIFIED

No Decision Yet as to the Fate of the Other Prisoners—A Term of That Length in the Johannesburg Prison is Equivalent to Death.

London, May 19.—The Times will tomorrow publish a despatch from Pretoria saying that the Executive Council of the Transvaal has decided that Col. Frank W. Rhodes, brother of Cecil Rhodes, Lionel Phillips, George Farrar and John Hays Hammond, the leaders of the Johannesburg Reform Committee, who were sentenced to death for high treason against the Transvaal, but whose sentences were subsequently commuted, shall undergo 15 years' imprisonment. It is generally hoped that this sentence will be modified.

No decision has yet been reached in regard to the other prisoners. The despatch does not contain the word "imprisonment," but the Times assumes that the sentence does not mean banishment, because of the expression of hope that it will be mitigated. It says that the sentence is of such excessive rigor as to produce almost as painful an impression of surprise as did the sentence of death. It adds that 15 years in the Pretoria jail for middle aged men is almost equivalent to death. If the prisoners were banished there would be no reason to object, but the decision of the Council will tend to aggravate the difficulty. The situation is calculated to obstruct the appeasement of excited feelings. The Times adds that it cannot believe that it is the intention of President Kruger and the Council to persist in enforcing the decision unless they have reasons for pursuing a policy which does not make for peace.

MADE BOMBS FOR THE CZAR.

Nihilists are Still at Work in Russia—The Streets of Moscow Placarded suggesting Revolution.

Milan, May 19.—According to advices received by the Secolo from Moscow, the coronation festivities have caused renewed activity among the Nihilists, who for a long time past appeared to have abandoned their attempts upon the life of the ruler of Russia. The advices published by the paper are to the effect that the police of Moscow have discovered a place in the city that was used for the manufacture of bombs. It was located beneath the street through which the coronation procession will pass. It is added that placards have been posted about the streets calling upon the people to revolt against the Czar. Several workmen who were employed in the preparations making in the Kremlin for the coronation have been arrested, it being suspected that they are implicated in the conspiracy against the Czar.

The Young Czar's Coronation.

Moscow, May 19—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught arrived here from St. Petersburg to-day. The Duke will represent his mother, Queen Victoria, at the coronation ceremonies.

Admiral Selfridge, United States navy, whose flagship the United States cruiser Minneapolis, is lying in the Roads at Cronstadt also arrived to day.

TO ABOLISH THE LORDS.

Henry Labouchere and Other Radical Members of the Imperial House Have Just Issued a Manifesto.

London, May 19.—A manifesto signed by Henry Labouchere and 18 other Radical members of the House of Commons has been issued. It announces the formation in the House of an advanced Radical section, which will devote itself to promoting radicalism among the voters of the country, primarily centering its efforts on the abolition of the House of Lords and generally to make Parliament a democratic body.

OVERHANGS THE CITY.

Cholera Miasma Creates Grave Fears at Cairo, Egypt.

London, May 10.—The Standard will tomorrow publish a despatch from Cairo saying that a cholera miasma similar to that of 1883 overhangs the city. It is accompanied by a heavy, hot atmosphere. The virulent form of the disease has hardly ever been paralleled at such an early stage. The deaths are about 90 per cent. of the seizures. There were two cases and one death Tuesday among the troops at Tourah. This has caused much anxiety, inasmuch as there are 1200 convicts in prison at that place.

WEYLER HIT UNCLE SAM

When He Prohibited the Exportation of Tobacco from Cuba.

Jacksonville, May 19.—The order of Gen. Weyler prohibiting the exportation of tobacco from Cuba has caused consternation among the Cubans of Florida. The revenues of the United States Government will be cut down at least one million dollars from the port of Tampa alone during the next year if the orders are carried out by the Spanish authorities. Thousands of Cubans in Florida will be thrown out of employment if there is no Cuban tobacco to manufacture, and having nothing to do, those Cubans, it is said, will go over to Cuba to fight for the independence of their native land.

ABE LINCOLN'S SISTER OUT.

She Was in Charge of a Postoffice But Lost It.

Washington, May 19.—By the confirmation of Frank W. Joplin to be postmaster at Elizabethtown, Ky., the sister of the late President Abraham Lincoln retires from office. This woman, Emily T. Helm, had held the office for several years and when her successor was named her friends made an energetic fight in her behalf. They succeeded in holding the nomination in committee until yesterday, when confirmation was had without opposition. The place pays $1400.

PONS A FREE MAN.

He Killed His Brother-in-Law in Montreal, but the Deed was Justifiable, Says the Jury.

Montreal, Que., May 19.—Pons, the Frenchman who yesterday killed his brother-in-law, Rousseau, as the result of a family quarrel, was acquitted by the coroner's jury this afternoon, the jury holding that he had acted solely in self-defence. Pons was released from custody.

Out of Tooth Powder!

Then get the best. The best is Ivorine. Best because it whitens the teeth and does not destroy the enamel. Good as the best in fragrance and cleansing and polishing properties. Better than most, as it contains no acids to destroy. Better than all because pleasant, fragrant, cleansing and and whitening, all the good qualities combined. Ivorine for the teeth alone can claim the test.

CANADA'S COAST DEFENCES.

The Scheme Which is Said to Have Been Outlined for Presentation to the Canadian Government.

Halifax, May 19.—An evening paper says: "It is understood that the scheme of coast defence which is being prepared for submission to the Canadian Government estimates that three cruisers would be necessary on the Atlantic to cover the Gulf of St. Lawrence and coast waters of Nova Scotia and Bay of Fundy. These boats would require to be not less than 17 knot boats, armed with quick-firing guns and of light construction. The idea is that the United States is rapidly developing a strong navy on the Atlantic, with headquarters at New York, Boston and other ports, and is also subsidizing merchant steamers built under navy requirements of the United States. The case of the new Plant steamer LaDuchesse is quoted as an instance of this. The danger from such vessels is said to be one that must be guarded against by the construction of similar ships. A fast American cruiser running from Boston to St. John, Yarmouth, Halifax and Prince Edward Island, gets an intimate knowledge of the coast and would be in a position in time of trouble, one after another, to destroy every outport of Nova Scotia, or lay them under ransom. This is the situation which it is understood will be outlined in the coast defence scheme.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, Arkwright, Ont., says: I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed, and could neither sleep nor rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle, and after taking about the half of it I found myself recovering, and after continuing it for some time I recovered, but when the cold weather set in this winter I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared, and I consider that I am entirely cured.

Mrs. S., says:—"I had been suffering from rheumatic pain for months. Miller's Compound Iron Pills cured me." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill.

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

PRINCE MICHAEL'S FREEDOM.

The Notorious Flying Roller Will Soon be Out of Jackson Prison.

Jackson, Mich., May 19.—Detroit's famous Prince Michael has but a month more to serve in Jackson Prison. His five years' sentence, owing to good time allowances, being scheduled to expire June 19. He has been a model convict. The time allowances for good conduct are so very liberal that the "flying roller" will actually serve but four years and a day. He is in splendid physical condition and says he forgives all his enemies. He may not return to Detroit, he says, owing to the unfaithfulness of many of his people.

It is a fortunate day for a man when he first discovers the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood-purifier. With this medicine, he knows he has found a remedy upon which he may rely and that his life-long malady is at last conquered. Has cured others, will cure you.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY—HOW WE WILL SPEND IT.

The Programme Which has Been Prepared—A Large Crowd of Visitors Expected in Town.

The anniversary of the Queen's Birthday on May 25th, will be attended in Peterborough by a celebration of unusual attractiveness, and in consequence large crowds of visitors are expected to the town from the whole Midland District. Single fare excursions are being run in from all points and the villages in the vicinity will be vacated for the occasion. A big crowd is expected from Belleville. A rate of one dollar has been obtained for those accompanying the 15th Battalion on Sunday evening, and another big excursion leaves on Monday morning from that point.

The visiting Battalion is supposed to arrive here at about ten o'clock Saturday evening, but it will doubtless be considerably later before the train pulls in to the Grand Trunk station. The men march immediately to the grounds, where a lunch will be served to them before retiring.

On Sunday morning at half-past nine the Rangers will march down to the Agricultural grounds, where the visitors intend to camp, and the two Battalions will proceed to the Court House Park, where a drum head service will be conducted in the open air by Rev. W. F. McLean, the chaplain of the 15th. The men will then be dismissed in order that they may attend any church they wish.

In the afternoon the camp will doubtless be visited by hundreds of citizens. In the evening a sacred concert will be held in the Court House Park by the bands of the two Battalions.

On the Queen's Birthday a parade of the streets will take place at ten o'clock in morning by the volunteers and in all probability a feu du joie will be fired in front of the Court House. The men will then be dismissed and after having had their dinner, will probably attend the sports in the Driving Park, which begin at two o'clock in the afternoon.

In the evening the officers of the visiting Battalion will be royally banquetted at the Huffman House by the local officers. A grand concert, in which the two bands and the choirs of the town will participate, also takes place in the evening, being held in the Opera House.

The visiting corps return to Belleville at about half past ten Monday night.

During their stay in town the 15th Battalion will follow the course pursued by the Rangers when they are away on their trips and will arrange for their men to have their meals at the hotels.

A TRIP TO LAKEFEILD.

Three Parties of Wheelmen Ride out During the Afternoon to the Village.

A party of wheelmen rods to Lakefield, yesterday, by the new river road, constructed by the T.V.C. contractors. They found the riding very rough, having, in fact, to carry their wheels for about a quarter of a mile. The wish to witness the operations on the canal prompted the trip, as well as a desire to test the new road.

Another party rode up through Smith township and had a very pleasant spin, the road being in prime condition.

Both parties met at Lakefield and enjoyed an appetising meal at the Queen's Hotel, where Mr. "Bob" Munro looked after them with his well known hospitality.

After tea Mr. Harry Walters, one of Lindsay's ex-mayors, took the entire party down to the river to have a look at three scows which he is building for work on the canal. A capital job is being done on the scows, they being most solidly constructed of tamarac and oak. The iron work and machinery in connection with the scows was obtained from the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co.

Amongst those who took in the trip was Mr. and Mrs. Kells, on a tandem, and Messrs. R. Fair, E. H. D. Hall, A. H. Stratton, S. R. Armstrong, F. J. Taylor, Geo. A. Smith, D. Spence, F. S. Dobbin, D. Belleghem, W. J. Thompson, J. S. Knapman and Alf. Terrill.

WEST HASTINGS.

Mr. Harry Corby Consents to Carry the Conservative Banner.

Mr. Harry Corby, who represented West Hastings in the last and part of the previous parliament, and who retired from politics last fall, since his return from Europe has been so strongly urged to come to the rescue in West Hastings that this morning he consented to become a candidate and will likely receive the formal nomination. He will be opposed by Mr. Geo. Ritchie, a prominent merchant, who runs as an Independent Liberal. Major T. C. Lasier, who was to run as an Independent Conservative, is understood to have retired.

Veterans of '66.

As the Belleville Veterans of '66 are coming up to town on the Queen's Birthday it is proposed to organize the local vets, who saw service during the same year. The officers of the 57th would be pleased to meet the local veterans concerning the matter, on Thursday evening, at the Drill Shed.

New Regulations.

Hereafter medical health officers will be required to forward the names of those guilty of breaches of the law to the provincial authorities, who will prosecute. Hitherto the matter has been left in the hands of local officers and few convictions have resulted. The appointment of a division registrar is also to be made, who shall make returns of all births, marriages and deaths twice a year. Every physician is now required to report the death to the medical health officer of the town or district before giving a death certificate. The latter shall make investigations and report to the division registrar, who will in turn, without charge, issue a permit to bury the deceased. The law applies to all deaths and puts heavy penalties on any undertaker, pall bearer, clergyman or grave digger who permits a burial without a certificate from the division registrar. Any doctor found to have furnished a false report as to the causes of death is subject to a $50 fine and discipline by the medical council.

MR. JAMES KENDRY IS THE CANDIDATE

NOMINATED AT THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

An Amicable Settlement of the Family Feud—Mr. Kendry's the Only Name Submitted—Mr. Stevenson Retires—His Remarks—Mr. Kendry's Brief Address—He Accepts the Nomination.

The Conservatives of West Peterborough have at last succeeded in selecting a candidate, and Mr. James Kendry is the unanimous choice of the Conservatives assembled to-day. Since Mr. Stevenson's nomination, two weeks ago, it was evident that his nomination was not acceptable to a certain wing of the Conservative party, and means were in the meantime adopted to oust Mr. Stevenson and take the nomination from him. He was pacified by the promise that he would be provided for, and although a convention of duly elected delegates were called, this was somewhat of a mockery, for the situation had been all cut and dried, and Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Kendry came to an agreement as to fixing the candidature by which the presence of the delegates was rendered unnecessary. There was every evidence that Mr. Kendry's nomination had been decided upon before the meeting had been open ten minutes.

Mr. Moore occupied the chair and called for nominations.

Mr. Stevenson who, with others, occupied a seat on the platform of the Opera House, said that in conference with Mr. Kendry it had been arranged that he (Mr. Stevenson) should retire, and intimated that there was entire harmony between himself and Mr. Kendry, as Mr. Kendry endorsed all that he (Mr. Stevenson) had done at Ottawa. He referred to the absurdity of making any division in the Conservatives, they would have hard enough work to elect their man as it was. He hoped that there would be unanimity. He (Mr. Stevenson had carried the riding twice, and it would not be so much trouble to carry it again, (cheers.) There had been two thousand names added to the voters' lists since the last election, a great many of whom had come to town to work in factories. He had been to an Ottawa factory (founded on the ruins of a similar factory in Peterborough, by which Peterborough citizens lost $85,000) and had asked some of the sixteen or seventeen Peterborough workmen employed there if they would come to Peterborough to vote? "Yes," if we have to walk!" (cheers.) Mechanics take an active interest in politics they know that their bread and butter depends on protection. After a laudation of the N. P. and a reference to the splendid home market the N. P. had given the farmers, he prophesied an easy victory at the coming election, but they would have to work for it. Every man should put on his armour.

Mr. Stevenson then nominated Mr. James Kendry and said in doing so, he (Mr. Stevenson) made no sacrifices. He did not want the nomination. He had been in parliament ten years and found he couldn't please everybody—he couldn't get an office for everybody. He had tried to please everbody, but in spite of that he had found a good many of his former friends opposed to him—he didn't know why—and even some of these for whom had got appointments, were opposed to him. He had tried his best to please everybody. Now that he was out of the candidature he felt relieved, though his bearers might not believe it. He urged them not to expect too much from Mr. Kendry—he couldn't get offices for everybody. (Applause.) He asked them to work for Mr. Kendry, because he would support the best Government that ever sat at Ottawa. (Mild applause.) He (Mr. Stevenson) was leaving public life, perhaps forever. He had been in public life 44 years and had never been defeated, (cheers) He had advised his sons never to have anything to do with politics. Mr. Stevenson concluded his remarks by reminding the delegates, that be had by his retirement, saved them the trouble of casting a ballot, evidently proving that the whole affair had been cut and dried without the help of the delegates.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn seconded the nomination and said the Conservatives would have no trouble to carry the riding.

Mr. Moore, chairman, asked if there were any other nominations and as, of course, there were none, declared the nominations closed and Mr. Kendry was therefore the candidate.

Mr. Kendry on coming forward was received with cheers. He thanked the convention for the nomination, which he had not sought. He had understood that it was partly Mr. Stevenson's wish to retire and he did not wish to supplant him. The Conservative party had a good deal of work before it in this campaign. He wished Mr. Hall to be well treated during the campaign, as he wished it conducted in a harmonious manner even in their own party. We (the Conservatives) ought to carry the riding with the "works" we had—the Trent Valley Canal. He gave Mr. Stevenson credit for that. As far as appointments were concerned Mr. Stevenson had done his best, and it was not his fault that not more appointments had been made in Peterborough. In accepting the candidature Mr. Kendry said he needed the votes and sympathy of Conservatives. "We can carry the riding but we must work for it."

Mr. Kendry's nomination was made unanimous.

Our report closed as Mr. L. P. Kribbs, assistant organizer, was addressing the meeting.

PLANET AND STAR.

A Phenomenon Which Will Occur on May 22nd.

The occultation of a fixed star by a planet is a very rare phenomenon, there being not more than two or three observations of this kind recorded since the invention of the telescope. It may therefore be of interest to note that on May 22nd there will be an opportunity to observe the planet Jupiter passing directly over a small star in the constellation Cancer.

As the star is of the ninth magnitude it will be difficult to see it so close to the bright disc of the planet, but those possessing good telescopes may be fortunate enough to see what is of so rare an occurrence.

Jupiter, moving now to the east and south through the heavens, will be in contact with the star at precisely 10 hours 2 minutes p.m., the star being slightly north of the middle point of the planet's limb. The observer must not mistake any of the Satellites for the star; the former will be at that time two on one side and two on the other and brighter than the star. The occultation lasts for 1 hour 20 minutes. As Jupiter sets about midnight it will be difficult to note the reappearance of the star in the mists of the horizon.

Why Not

Avoid using cheap alum powders in cookery? It's poor economy, and, if the truth would out, is the direct cause of lots of ill health. Use only the absolutely pure, free from alum, not a whit of adulteration, made of pure cream of tartar and soda; never spoils a cake, a pie or a biscuit. All good cooks use it. All grocers sell it.

BATTALION NOTES.

A Large Number of Promotions—Orders of the Day.

The Rangers turned out strong last night, for Battalion Drill at Central Park. Major Edwards commanding, and several hours were put in most profitably. The boys are in fine fettle for the 24th, but some of those who should be present at these drills, have not as yet filed an appearance this year, and the Colonel proposes to look these men up. The wisest course for these delinquents to pursue is to take out their uniforms without waiting to be looked up. All volunteers are bound for three years by their oath. The following orders have been issued:

HEADQUARTERS,
Peterborough, May 16th, 1896.

Orders by Lt.-Col. R. W. Bell, commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, Peterborough Rangers:

I. The undermentioned men have passed the required examinations and are entitled to corporal's certificate. Out of a possible sixty the following marks were scored:—

Corp. P. Langford	45
Pte. G. Might	35
Pte. Freeborn	43
Corp. A. Gerson	45
Pte. Jordon	44
Pte. Ball	43

II. The commanding officer has been pleased to make the following promotions:—

A Company—To be corporals provisionally, Privates Frank Reynolds, Chas. Campbell, Edward Webster.

B Company—To be corporals, Ptes. G. Might and W. Langford; the rank of Corp. P. Langford is hereby confirmed.

C Company—To be sergeant, Corp. Ves. Lebar, vice Masheral resigned.

D Company—To be corporal, Ptes. Jordon and Bell.

E Company—To be Colour Sergeant, H. Hounsell, vice R. T. Marshall, promoted. To be sergeant, Corp. W. Murphy, vice H. Hounsell, promoted. To be sergeant, Corp. W. Roberts, vice Murphy, promoted. To be corporal, Pte. R. Anderson, vice Roberts, promoted. To be corporal provisionally, Ptes. Robert Pratt and John Walton.

F Company—To be sergeant, D. Connor, vice Bell, promoted.

III. Each captain will send to the officer commanding the names of men whose time has not expired and who are not attending drill.

IV. The Battalion will parade on Friday evening at 7.45 sharp, and every member is expected to be present.

V. The Battalion, with both bands, ambulance and pioneer corps, will parade at 9.45 Sunday morning to attend divine service with the 15th Battalion.

By order,

A HASTINGS SENSATION.

The Parents of an Abandoned Baby Have Been Found.

Hastings has been in a furore of excitement for the last week or so over the fact that an abandoned baby was found on a doorstep in the village. The mystery has at last been solved and the Star speaks as follows concerning it:—

"The infant left at Mr. Foshia's, some three weeks ago, turns out to have both a father and mother. The mother hails from Belmont, near Havelock, and the father a young man, a farmer, of Percy, near the village. Mrs. Foshia wrote to the hospital in Toronto, giving a description of the child, to know if any one had left there about that date. She got a reply, saying there had, a young woman, giving her name, with an infant four weeks old, left there on the 29th of April, on evening train, by C. P. R., to meet friends at Norwood. It was the following morning at 5 o'clock the child was found in the porch. It seems the father of the child met her at Hastings, assuring the mother that he had provided a good home for the child and paid for its keep. Not until Saturday night did the mother know where her child was, and then only found out by the father of the child, who, having learned there was likely to be trouble, went to her, and tried to frighten her into leaving the country, as the parties were going to have her arrested. On learning where the child was she came at once to see and claim it, but refused, through fear or promise of marriage, to reveal her seducer. It was Sunday night a friend told Mr. Foshia who the father was. Constable Hill and Mr. Foshia waited on his lordship Monday forenoon to set matters aright for his little game or would be fun. He dished up $75 for the child's three weeks' keep and Mr. and Mrs. Foshia took the child to its mother Monday afternoon. Both parents have sandy or light hair. We withhold the names out of respect of friends, though we consider the act perfectly brutish and think he deserves to be severely punished. We pity the poor deluded girl. We understand the young man was about to wed another, but he has made himself scarce."

MILLBROOK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Major Howden, of Port Hope, was in town last Saturday.

Messrs. J. C. Leach and A. Parkin wheeled to Peterborough on Sunday.

Mr. F. D. Craig, of Port Hope, was in town on Saturday.

Miss Pearl Burnham, who has been visiting friends in Peterborough, returned home on Saturday.

Miss Russland, of Cobourg, is visiting Mrs. Snelgrove.

Mr. Geo. Edmonds, of Port Hope, is visiting his brother, Mr. Robert Edmonds.

Mrs. Walter Gilliott left on Saturday for an extended visit to Rochester.

Mr. Geo. Brown, of Buffalo, is visiting his mother here.

Mr. L. F. Clarry was in Port Hope on Saturday on business.

The lacrosse club will hardly be organized this year, as many of last year's men have decided to retire and others are not now in town.

The prospects for the celebration here on the 24th are good and those who intend coming to Millbrook on that day can rely on having a good time.

A Court of A. O. U. W. was organized here on Friday night.

A grand political picnic will be held in Harper's grove about the first of June, at which Mr. D'Alton McCarthy will speak.

An interesting case was tried at the Division Court, here, last week, between the Merchants' Protective and Collecting Association, of Hamilton, and Nasmith Bros., merchants, of Manvers. It appears that in July, 1893, Nasmith Bros. became members of the Association, receiving its books, pamphlets and forms, the subscription fee being $10.00 for the first year and $7.50 for the second, on the condition that if they wished to drop out at the end of any year they could do so by returning the books. Nasmith Bros. sent two accounts to the Association for collection, both of which turned out to be uncollectable, whereupon they decided to drop out, but did not return the books. Five dollars of the first year's subscription had been paid, but they refused to pay the balance or any of the second or third years' subscription. The Association therefore brought action, when defendants set up misrepresentation and fraud on the part of the Association and counter claimed for $20.00 damages for breach of contract. The contract, however, fully appeared in the writings signed by the defendants, and the Judge found that there had been no honest effort on the defendants' part to carry out the terms of the contract, and accordingly gave judgment for the plaintiffs for the full amount claimed. A. A. Smith appeared for plaintiffs, and R. Ruddy for defendants.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

THE WHEEL.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner has been asked by R. J. Wilson, chairman of the District Racing Board committee, of Kingston, to act as official handicapper at the Bicycle races here on the Queen's Birthday.

Wheelmen are grumbling over the number of punctures caused by tacks picked up in the streets.

Mr. Payson Davidson is in town advertising the electric tires. Together with Prof. Corner and little Rastus, he will give a free entertainment in the Opera House to-night. The papers speak highly of the show which is given.

While at Millard's Hotel, Kansas City, recently, Count Turasaki, the private secretary of Field Marshall Yamagata, of Japan, was interviewed in regard to the Japanese selling bicycles for $12 or $15. Said he: "All of this talk that you hear about the Japanese selling bicycles at $12 or $15 each, or at any price at all, is a big mistake." "Why don't you know that in the first place we don't produce a bit of India rubber that you put on your wheels, and it would cost more for us to get it than in does in this country. And then all of our high grade steel has to be imported. There isn't a wheel made in our whole country, and all of the bicycles that we have come from London. I suppose the American wheels are just as good or better, but somehow the London merchants always get in to sell them the cheapest."

"I never saw any bicycles such as you use, the kind where both wheels are of the same size, until I came to this country last week."

Harley Davidson has gone from Fountain Ferry to Chester Park to train, and the boys at the Louisville track miss him. Davidson is the life of any party he may be in, full of fun and high spirits, and as original with his conceits as the painted clown we used to admire in boyhood at the country circus. He claims to be able to speak fourteen languages, all of which he has invented himself, and the choice examples of the German tongue which he sprung on the Teutonic help about Fountain Ferry were about as funny as any comedian could produce. Davidson has a Swedish dialect of his own invention that sounds very like the real article, and during his residence in Minneapolis it is said that the majority of the inhabitants of the Flour City took him to be of a kindred race with themselves.

A St. Louis bicycle house has originated a novel idea that should accrue largely to the benefit of its business. The city has recently placed a tax of $2 upon each and every wheel found within its limits, and now this enterprising firm offers to pay the tax on every wheel that it sells. A fine idea, forsooth, and one that without doubt the down-trodden wheelmen of St. Louis will heartily appreciate.

A handsome suit in brown and white was worn on Riverside Drive, New York, by a young woman of the brunette type. The skirt was very short and not divided. The jacket was turned back with broad lapels faced entirely in white. A white cloth vest, with dark brown braid trimming, was worn underneath the jacket. She wore a brown hat, Derby pattern and dark tan shoes laced to the knee, with cloth tops of the same material as the dress. She rode excellently and with a graceful carriage.

A number of white flannel bicycle dresses have been sold to women, but they will mostly be worn at summer resorts during the hot months. White flannel for road riding is striking and effective, but, of course will show dirt readily.

Look What We Are Doing!

Something Never Done Before.

GIVING BACK TWENTY CENTS ON EVERY DOLLAR.

D. O. LEGENDRE

Of the People's Dry Goods Store, will begin the GREATEST DISCOUNT SALE of the season, on THURSDAY, MAY 21ST. He is determined to convert his whole stock of New Goods into cash as quickly as possible, and to do so will hold such an attractive sale as must eclipse all others yet attempted. What we offer is, that—

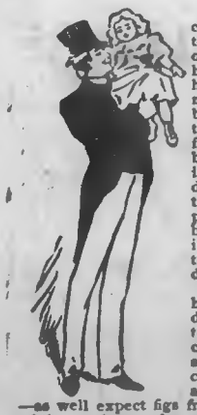
ON EVERY DOLLARS' WORTH OF GOODS BOUGHT A DISCOUNT OF ONE-FIFTH WILL BE ALLOWED IN CASH OR IN GOODS, EQUAL TO 20 CENTS OFF EVERY DOLLAR.

This is the Greatest inducement yet presented—the Best and Most Substantial offer to buyers of Dry Goods in Peterborough. LADIES:—We mean just what we say. When we tell you that WE WILL GIVE YOU BACK TWENTY CENTS ON EVERY DOLLARS' WORTH YOU BUY, YOU WILL GET IT—in Cash or in Goods—no matter if it is a big loss to us at present. We wish to particularly impress upon the public that goods that have been selling at Fifty Cents before this sale will be sold for Fifty Cents still. Prices will not be marked up to make up for the extraordinary discount we offer; they will remain at the same closely marked prices as before, and, in addition, WE WILL GIVE YOU BACK TWENTY CENTS IN CASH OR IN GOODS ON EVERY DOLLARS' WORTH PURCHASED DURING THIS GREAT SALE. This Discount will prevail in all our departments as follows:—

GENERAL DRY GOODS, SILKS AND DRESS MATERIALS, DRESS WAISTS AND CORSETS, RIBBONS AND LACES,	PARASOLS AND UMBRELLAS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, BED AND TABLE LINEN, UNDERWEAR,	SHIRTING, SHEETING, TOWELLING, FACTORY and BLEACHED COTTONS, LACE CURTAINS, SMALLWARES, &c., &c.

Every department is filled with Brand New Goods—and a large portion of the stock received since Spring. Bargains will prevail all through our store.

THE PEOPLE'S DRY GOODS STORE, 323 GEORGE STREET, OPPOSITE MARKET BUILDING.



Healthy, happy children make better men and women of us all. A man is hardly himself until he has the development that responsibility brings. After the child comes, the father and mother both plan and promise what shall be done with it. A little care and a little planning before birth is often more important than anything that can be done after.

On the mother's health and strength depend the life and the future of the children. A weak and sickly woman cannot bear strong and healthy children—as well expect figs from thistles. Most of the weakness of women is utterly inexcusable. Proper care and proper medicine will cure almost any disorder of the feminine organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been tested in thirty years of practice. It is healing, soothing, strengthening. It is perfectly natural in its operation and effect. By its use, thousands of weak women have been made strong and healthy—have been made the mothers of strong and healthy children. Taken during gestation, it makes childbirth easy and almost painless and insures the well being of both mother and child.

The following letter is only one of thousands of similar ones:

Mrs. FLORENCE WHITE, of Victor, W. Va., writes: "I commenced using the 'Favorite Prescription' when half through my period of pregnancy. I used four bottles and felt like another woman. My time of labor was easy and rapid. I have a dear, strong, healthy little boy baby."

Mrs. Florence White

Dr. Pierce's celebrated book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," will be sent free to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only. The book contains 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, and is of inestimable value to every woman. A veritable medical library, in one volume. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

WHIRLED TO DEATH.

A Terrible Affair at Tobey's Tannery at Collingwood Yesterday—Nearly Every Bone in McKinley's Body Broken.

Collingwood, May 19.—A terrible accident happened this morning at the tannery of Messrs. W. Tobey & Co., by which an employe, John McKinley, was instantly killed. No person saw the accident, but it is suposed he was oiling the line shaft of the bark mill when his clothes caught, and he was whirled to death. He was terribly mangled. His left arm was broken above the wrist and also above the elbow and his right arm was bruised. Both feet were torn off just above the ankles, and every rib on the left side was broken. The left side of his chest was smashed to a jelly. Dr. Peters was summoned, but the unfortunate man was beyond all aid. The deceased has been a resident of Collingwood for some time, and has borne an excellent character. He leaves a wife and family.

TORONTO MARKETS.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Investigation as to the Mortality Among Fish.

THE RAILWAY MEN ENTERTAINED

By the Governor-General and Countess of Aberdeen—Trouble in the Tory Camp—Mr. Ouimet Not Yet a Judge—Customs Fees for Officers.

Ottawa, May 18.—(Special)—The Minister of Marine has been asked by the authorities of Chatham to order an investigation into the causes of the mortality among the fish in the River Thames. The Local Board of Health blame the pollution by the mills up the stream. The Commissioner of Fisheries has had brought to his notice a number of similar cases in other localities, both in the great lakes and in Quebec waters, and thinks that the cause is not really chemical pollution of the water as generally supposed, but is due to the high temperature of the water and to the presence in it of minute organisms, which destroy the fish by choking their gills. The result of Prof. Prince's investigation will, however, be looked for with interest.

One thousand delegates to the Convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers were entertained at a garden party to-day by the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen. His Excellency made a speech, and there were refreshments in the evening.

Already there is trouble among the local Conservatives over the result of the convention, which last Friday night nominated Hiram Robinson and Napoleon Champagne. The friends of Honore Robillard, the late member, claim that Mr. Champagne's nomination was obtained by packing the convention, and they will hold a meeting to see what is to be done about it.

The Dominion Government has abandoned its appeal against the judgment of the Exchequer Court in favor of MacLean, Roger & Co. This firm were awarded $24,090 in their suit against the Government for having given to outside concerns large contracts, which should have gone to them as departmental printers.

Hon. J. A. Ouimet, ex-Minister of Public Works, appeared in the Supreme Court to-day as counsel in a Quebec case. He has evidently not yet received his appointment to a judgeship.

Chief Rose of Brockville, who was so badly wounded in the Lapointe shooting affray in that town last winter, is here. He is an applicant for the vacant position of Chief of the Ottawa Police.

It is learned that the complaint of vessel-owners on the upper St. Lawrence and the lakes of excessive charges by the customs officers for extra work, has been satisfactorily adjusted. Representation has been made to the Department here that in the United States no extra fees are allowed for overtime has, however, been disproved, upon investigation. It appears that not only are United States Customs officials allowed extra remuneration in such cases, but fees for over time are largely in excess of those allowed in Canada.

YESTERDAY'S DRAWING ROOM.

Miss Sanford of Hamilton Presented, Also the Young Duchess of Marlborough.

London, May 18.—The Princess of Wales held a drawing-room on behalf of the Queen at Buckingham Palace this afternoon. The Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Miss Vanderbilt of New York, was presented by her mother-in-law, the Marchioness of Blandford. The Duchess wore a magnificent train of white duchesse satin, embroidered with pearls, with a gold and silver design of true lovers knot bordered with foliage. Her bodice was of the same material and design as the train, trimmed with Brussels lace and fronted with a bouquet of tiny white rosebuds. The sleeves were of tulle and white satin. Her petticoat was composed of several flounces of exquisite Brussels lace, and her cap was of white satin. The Duchess wore a headdress and court plume with a veil and ornaments of lily of the valley from Blenheim Palace.

Among the debutants presented were Miss Sanford of Hamilton, Canada, who wore primrose satin.

Francis Joseph's Brother Dying.

Vienna, May 18.—Archduke Charles Louis, brother of Emperor Francis Joseph, is dying, and has received the last rites from the church. The Emperor and Empress and the members of the dying man's family are at his bedside. He is 63 years of age.

Pulmonary consumption, in its early stages, may be checked by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops the distressing cough, soothes irritation of the throat and lungs, and induces much-needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

A Queen's Hobby.

Queen Amelie of Portugal, to the great delight of the King and her court, has discontinued experimenting on them medically in order to thoroughly study the Roentgen light, and now Her Majesty spends her time in photographing King Carlos and their attendants, in order to discover what their skeletons are like. The Queen, as is well-known, has, during the last two years, devoted herself to the study of medicine, and has shown herself a very apt pupil; but, unfortunately, Her Majesty is too enthusiastic in the pursuit of medical science, and by her experiments has reduced some of her ladies in waiting almost to death's door. Now that the Queen has a new hobby the Portuguese court rejoices, especially the King, as the Queen was always insisting upon his trying new methods discovered by herself for reducing his growing corpulency. It is even said—perhaps maliciously—that, in consequence of the King's gratitude to Roentgen, the professor is to be invited to the court at Lisbon and will receive a high order for his discovery.

Ribbon Trimmings.

Narrow ribbon ruches are used quite extensively to trim dresses, parasols, capes, tea gowns, millinery, etc. Ribbon is likewise made up into narrow plaited frills to be used in like manner. These narrow decorations appear severally at the extreme edge of many gowns, and some of the new skirts have a vertical or otherwise circular trimming carried from the waist downward to the depth of half a yard or thereabouts.

Flamboyant Neckwear.

New neckwear is all on the flamboyant Elizabethan style, though as yet not so exaggerated. Some modish collars stand high around the throat in small lace-edged squares or vandykes of white lawn or chiffon—a pretty but perishable fashion for summer wear.

Struck with Lightning

BAD BLOOD.

Bad blood courses through the veins and arteries just the same as good blood does, but good blood carries with it health, while bad blood distributes diseases throughout the whole body.

Good blood means vigor. Bad blood sows the seed of scrofula, ulcers, abscesses, boils, blotches, skin diseases, and almost all the ills that flesh is heir to. To get health we must cure the bad blood, and

HOW THE SUN LIFE

FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

FAMILY MEDICINE

She Has Ever Known. Words of Praise from a New York Lady for

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. May Johnson, 368 Rider Avenue, New York City.

LAND AND INDUSTRY.

AN ACCOUNT OF HOW OUR FRIENDS, THE MORMONS, REGARD THESE.

Profit-Sharing in a Novel and Enticing Form—What Little Farms Have Done For the People Within the Past Forty Years—A Net Income for the Workers.

Colonel John A. Cockerill said in the Cosmopolitan Magazine last September that if he were asked to name the three greatest men America has produced, he should say George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Brigham Young.

From his arrival in Utah in 1847 to his death in 1876, Brigham Young was the supreme leader of the Mormon people. He and his first party of pioneers entered the valley of the Great Salt Lake in July, 1847. They found themselves in the heart of an arid desert, 1000 miles distant from any settlement to the east or west, and with no resources except labor and the earth.

Brigham Young began by saying that every family had a natural right to the absolute ownership of so much of that earth as would suffice for its support, and of not one acre more. He proclaimed that no one should own land for the mere purpose of holding it out of use for speculative purposes. He foresaw that land values would rise as settlement and improvement progressed, but he undertook to see that the value so created should be equitably distributed among the whole population. In this effort he was successful.

According to census of 1890, the average size of Utah farms is 27 acres, but this is necessarily based on a considerable number of large ranches as well as the 10,000 small farms of the Mormons.

They pay no tribute whatever to speculative holders. Practically none of these farms have ever been mortgaged, and they belong to the occupants.

Twenty acres in a favorable climate furnishes nearly every article on the best bill of fare, except coffee and tea. The home market which never fails is in the dining room. The first object of every man's labor is to provide shelter, raiment and three meals a day for his family. The second is to make decent provision for old age.

Young taught that, with crops insured by irrigation, men could make sure of them by the simple process of producing the things they consume.

The producer on his own little farm receives the full returns of his labor up to the point which he could reach by his individual effort, and he is able to participate in the efforts of others, for when a store or woolen mill or bank was to be started the subscription list was thrown open to everybody. As all worked for themselves and received the full fruits of their own labor, all were able to take a little stock in those things. Generally they paid cash or tithing house script, though sometimes in products, and most frequently in labor. Thus, step by step, capital was secured for enterprise after enterprise and the business represented not an individual proprietor, nor a syndicate composed of a few, but a multitude of shareholders.

The balance sheet of the Mormon people, published in 1895, accounted for the expenditure in the cost of living, in public and private improvements, in commercial and church enterprises, of the sum of $563,900,000, which equals an average gross annual production of $1,347.25 upon each of 10,000 little farms for forty consecutive years.

Deducting from the gross amount over $500 as the value of a prosperous living for a large family, leaves a net income of $482 to pass to the account of a competence and provision for old age. This net return is larger than the average total of the gross earnings of the highest skilled laborer in Massachusetts.

Partly as a consequence, and partly as a cause of prosperity, there are no saloons in Mormon towns.

The cities are similarly planned. For example, Salt Lake City, the capital of Zion, with its population of 60,000 was laid out in such a way as to secure a division of land values among all the inhabitants. In the center of the town the lots were one and one-quarter acres in size. The second tier was composed of five acre lots, the third of ten acre lots, the fourth of twenty acre lots.

It was designed that every man should be a land owner and no one a tenant, but that the amount of land assigned to each should vary with its value as determined by location, and also with the calling of its owner. The smaller lots were assigned to professional and business men. Mechanics and artisans took the five-acre lots, and possession of that amount of irrigated land made them quite secure in their living, even when their time was not employed at their trades. The ten and twenty-acre tracts were given to farmers in proportion to the size of their families. As the city grew, the rising land values were distributed among all the people.

Brigham Young quickly realized that irrigation implied very small farms; that small farms meant near neighbors, and that the advantages of neighborhood association might be still further enhanced by having the homes assembled in village centers.

The irrigation canals were built and controlled by the public, and no interest has ever been paid on water stocks and bonds, nor has there ever been a trace of that modern economic iniquity, the annual water monopoly rent. To monopolize water is as much of a crime, in an ethical sense, as it would be to monopolize air and sunshine.

Under the leadership of one of the favorite captains of Brigham Young, Mormons and Gentiles are just beginning the conquest of other desert lands, which have belonged for ages to the Utah Utes, in Eastern Utah. They have planned that the people shall obtain the land at Government price and the water at bare cost of providing it; that no one shall have more than a small farm; that all shall receive free of cost an acre lot in the village, and an equal interest in the speculative values to be created in a belt of five-acre lots around the town on which it is expected that population will expand in the future.

Brigham Young left a people of whom 90 per cent. are landowners in a day and generation when 90 per cent. of the people of New York are hopeless tenants. He left a people whose living is certain while the earth yields an increase. He left a people who are secure in the control of natural monopolies, and in their ownership as joint stockholders in their stores and factories and banks.

Zion's Co-operative Mercantile Institution transacts an annual business of between $4,000,000 and $6,000,000 and has enormous branches. All the larger factories and banks are organized on the relation of co-operation to the land question which has hardly been noticed by the many advocates of that economic feature.

But it seems that it would be wiser for the American people to study the valuable lessons to be learned from the Mormon industrial system than to assail these people for their former adherence to a domestic system.—Bolton Hall in Twentieth Century.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, May 11th.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley of this city by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langely, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

Baldness.

"To what do you attribute baldness?" she was asked.

"It is almost an unfailing sign of intellectual activity. Brain workers are most liable to it. People of the laboring classes who gain their bread with their hands are generally exempt from baldness until they have passed beyond the sixty-year mark. Just why this is so, why the workingman who takes no particular care of his head-thatch should be able to preserve it much longer than the man who spends much time in having it brushed and shampooed, is a mystery not yet explained. The mane of a thoroughbred horse even is thinner than that on the neck of his brother who drags a dray or a horse car. Another curious thing is that a strong growth of hair is generally indicative of longevity. Most centenarians have extraordinary heads of hair.—Indianapolis News.

His Practical Method.

"Do you ever cut things out of the newspaper when you don't want your wife to read them?"

"Oh, no; I always cut out something on another page, and it takes her so long to discover what it is that she never gets the rest of the paper read at all."—Chicago Record.

Flowers for London.

The Scilly Islands flower traffic, says the Westminster Gazette, has been on an unprecedented scale during the last few weeks. Since February 1 upwards of 40,000 packages of flowers have passed through Penzance, and on the 11th there was a consignment from Scilly of twenty-seven tons, being the largest ever sent from the islands. Prices, however, have been running very low.

Her Comb Blew Up.

An Alliance (O.) special in the Cleveland Leader runs: A peculiar and most distressing accident happened to Miss Maud Hoover, a pretty stenographer, last evening. A celluloid comb which bound her hair exploded while she was sitting in front of an open grate fire last evening, burning the greater part of her hair and badly blistering her scalp and face.

A CLOSE SHAVE

A TALK WITH THE MAN WHO EXPERIENCED IT.

People really do not know how often the angel of death hovers over them. Mr. R. P. Watkins, 173 Bay st., is a barber by trade, and gave our representative this short history of his escape from the disorder which was rapidly carrying him to his grave. Mr. Watkins is a skillful and experienced man, and is now enabled to exercise his skill from morning till night, where before he was unable to regularly follow his chosen calling. This is Mr. Watkins' story as related by himself.

"For over three years I have been troubled with what the doctors said was Bright's Disease, was getting rapidly worse, and could scarcely attend to my business. My ankles were swollen, the pain and heat in my back were almost unbearable, the urine was of a dark wine color, and it used to dribble away continually. I had to rise 9 or 10 times each night to void the urine, and consequently lost nearly all my sleep. The scalding heat and pain in passing the urine were painful and distressing beyond my feeble power to describe. People who did not know my trouble used to laugh at my frequent visits to the urinal. My hands and feet were always cold and clammy, and I suffered severely from palpitation, shortness of breath, and was, in fact, almost a total wreck. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from Messrs. E. Hooper & Co., and improved at once. I have used two boxes and feel like a new man; can now work right along and at 12 p. m. feel like working right ahead. Had I not got those pills I feel that I would not have been working to-day. My words only faintly express the dreadful condition I was in, and the wonderful cure made by Doan's Kidney Pills."

"WASHINGTON, '96.

On July 8th next, the annual International convention will be held at Washington. The special features of the convention should attract large numbers of young people. The committee who have in hand the arrangement promise that this will be the greatest convention yet held. Canadians are promised a very hearty welcome. The Union Jack will float along side the Stars and Stripes and God Save the Queen will be sung as heartily as the American National anthem. Dr. Clarke's chorus of 4,000 voices will be a revelation to those who have never attended a convention before. The special training given through the proposed evangelical work will prove beneficial and the one great aim of the convention, that to deepen the spiritual work of all the delegates who attend, should be an incentive for all Endeavourers who wish to reach the higher spiritual life to go there. The fare from this district will be about $13 and different routes may be selected. All tickets will be good going July 6th, 7th and 8th, returning July 15th, with extension of time until July 31st if desired. Now is the time for societies to arrange to send delegates. Special programmes of socials can be secured to raise funds to send at least one delegate. If the societies cannot see their way clear each district in the country should send a delegate. If four or five club together the expenses to each would be light. This county should send at least 10 delegates. What district is going to start the ball rolling?

THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE

met in the Y. M. C. A. parlour on Saturday morning last. Those present were: Rev. J. J. Liddy, President; Rev. W. C. Beer, Honorary President; Mrs. (Dr.) Harrison and Mr. Porter, of Keene; Mr. Fife, of Lang; Mr. Elliott, of Havelock; Miss Cromie, Salem; Mr. J. Beer, and T. H. Martin, town.

The work for the ensuing term was discussed. The plans arranged were as follows:—Special effort along missionary lines will be the main feature of the work. Committees were appointed to arrange for special rallies in the different districts. Teams will be appointed who will prepare and present the programmes in the different districts, the vice-presidents to arrange to have their districts represented at these rallies. In the meantime all the societies in the county will be requested to bring prominently before their members the importance of this great work. The county secretary will forward a circular to the secretary of each society, requesting that an effort be put forward to secure the amounts contributed by members of each society, whether through the church schemes or schemes adopted by the society, so that a more favourable report may be presented at the next annual gathering. The vice-presidents of each districts will also endeavour to organize societies wherever there is need of same. Mr. T. H. Martin was appointed delegate to represent the county union at Washington and report on the different districts. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY

This society held their monthly business meeting on Monday night, when reports of work done by the different committees during past term were presented. The reports were all bright, and in many ways the society has made progress during the past term. The officers and committees were arranged for the ensuing term. The following are the officers who will conduct the work of the society for the next six months:—

Hon.-President—Rev. Dr. Torrance
President—Miss McIntosh.
Vice-President—Mr. G. Hartman.
Sec. Treas—Mr. W. A. Beaton.
Corresponding Sec—Mr. James Connal.
Editor—Mr. Bert G. Garrans.

Missionary Committee—Mr. Jas Connal, Misses Etta Thompson, Florence Davidson, Martha Jordan, L. Best, H. Courtney and Mr. W. Lillico.
Good Citizenship Committee — Misses Pope, Mary Scott, Jennie Mahood, Temple, Lizzie Pollock, and Mr. Jas. Savigney.
Flower and Calling Committee—Misses M. Sharpe, Stevenson, Phemie Patterson, Maggie Jordan, Etta Montgomery and Ina Cummings, J. Johnson, Misses Battleby, B. Robson, Bella Davidson, Grace Holmes, Mary Holmes.
Good Literature Committee—Misses Carter, M. Pollock, M. Monorief, Dowling, L. Wallace, Mary Wallace, and B. McKnight.
Social Committee—Misses E. Davidson, Addie Scott, B. Thompson, Mabel Johnston, Katie Menzies, Effie Denoon, Sarah Thompson, Jennie Pollock, and Messrs. D. Jordan and Poste.
Lookout Committee—Mr. Burt G. Gerrans, and the Convenors of committees.

The first named on each committee will act as Convenor.

Committee on Junior work — T. H. Martin, Misses Dawson, M. Patterson, E. Hall, M. Coulter, E. Finnie, A. Cameron and Mr. R. Johnston.

Organists—Miss Mary Patterson and Miss Annie Cameron.

BETHEL—KEENE CIRCUIT.

May 6th, the first meeting of the new term, opened with a prayer meeting for special blessings on new officers, led by Miss E. J. Nelson. Miss Williams, of Villiers Society, spoke on the topic, bringing out many helpful thoughts as to how, why and where we should "Be of good cheer." Then followed the monthly consecration meeting—fifty members responding to the roll call. We can report one new active member.

May 13—The President opened a well attended meeting sharp on time. Then followed a short song service, which is always enjoyable and is a great help in our society.

Mr. M. Nelson led a special prayer service for sick members and for success in our work.

Rev. Mr. Liddy gave an interesting talk on "Systematic Giving," which will help us, as we intend adopting this plan of money raising.

After the meeting closed a committee was appointed to make preparations for laying the corner stone of our new church on May 29th.

CHARLOTTE STREET SOCIETY.

A union meeting of the Junior and Senior Societies was held on Monday last. It was previously announced that Rev. S. T. Bartlett, of Cobourg, would address the meeting. The Sunday School room was therefore well filled. The address was very practical. Mr. Bartlett used the following acrostic to illustrate his talk:—

Efficiency.	HOW
Love for Christ. Loyalty to League Principles. Labour for Prosperity.	TO GET
Consecrated Life. Consecrative in Doctrine, Careful in Committees.	AND Enterprise. Enthusiasm. Evangelization.	KEEP.

Many excellent points bearing on the society and its works were presented. During the meeting a number of the members of the Junior Society went through the graduation ceremony and became duly qualified members of the Senior Society. Mr. Tovey, president, received the new members on behalf of the society. In doing so he hoped that they would not only receive a blessing in the new society but would also prove efficient workers. The musical portion was supplied by the Juniors. The meeting of next week will be held on Wednesday evening instead of Monday, on account of the latter being a holiday. The Juniors will meet at 7 o'clock the same evening.

"You can understand if a company, so vitally interested in the Dominion as the C. P. R., were to say that a certain policy or certain government would be ruinous to the country, it could not fail to have a great effect on the minds of voters, but you say the company will not take that stand?"

"No. We certainly do not say anything pointing to one side or the other. In a word, we do not wish to take any part in the election whatever."

20 PERSONS BURIED

In the Ruins of a Buffalo Building.

TWO MEN AND ONE WOMAN DEAD

Eleven People Seriously Injured, Some of Them Fatally—The Walls Fell Without Warning—Searching for the Missing—An Inquest to be Held.

Buffalo, May 21.—A section of the Seneca-street front of Brown's building collapsed at 9.25 o'clock this morning, burying a score of people in the ruins.

George Metz, a barber, and Jennie Griffith, cashier in the barber shop, are dead, William P. Straub, a contractor, is known to be in the ruins. A dozen or more persons are seriously injured, and one will probably die.

Those at the hospitals are: Jacob Langdon, barber, scalp torn and body bruised; William Alexander, steam fitter, scalp wounds and body bruised; Jacob Rickman, barber, injured about the head and body; S. L. Hawke, carpenter, skull fractured, likely fatally hurt; J. Adams, mason, scalp wound and injured hip; Michael O'Brien, carpenter, wrenched back and scalp wounded; Joseph Bullard, plasterer, injured internally; Edward Murphy, plasterer, right arm injured; Fritz Formal, German laborer, badly bruised.

There was no warning of falling plaster or cracking timbers. The walls fell with a crash, taking down roof and ceiling with them. Iron columns were twisted as though they had been soft wires. Heavy wooden beams were torn to pieces like paper. Pillars of brick crumbled to pieces, not strong enough to resist the strength of the weight that had fallen upon them. Here and there could be seen people who had not been caught in the falling debris, rushing to places of safety. The outer wall fell into the street, burying those who had not had time to escape.

A cloud of dust arose from the debris, hiding the ruins from sight and covering the people in the street.

The fire department was called and with the police and workmen who came rushing to the fallen building, the work of rescue was begun. Some of the people who had been in the building were saved almost miraculously, having been penned in by the falling timbers and walls. They were taken out as speedily as possible and give nsurgical attention.

In Seinert's barber shop were nine barbers, the girl cashier and several customers. When the crash occurred all made a rush for the front door, but the falling bricks drove them to the rear, wher an alley leads to Washington-street. Those in front rushed into the alley to be met by the falling rear walls, under which Metz was buried and killed and Langdon and Rickman badly cut and bruised. The others crouched in the corner of the sop, until the aalanche ceased, when they made their way out. The cashier ad her desk in the front of the shop behing a wire cage. She was unable to get out of it in time to join the others, and perished beneath the fallen wall.

The experience of the occupants of No. 14 was some what similar to those in the barber shop, but all escaped without injury.

n Nos. 8 and 10 were probably 20 workmen, including steam fitters, iron workers, carpenters and plasterers, and it was here that the crash was greatest. Nearly all the men were caught by the falling walls and floors and buried in the ruins. The tenants on the upper floors had many narrow escapes, but so far as known all of them succeeded in making their escape.

At 10 o'clock the rescuers removed a heavy timber, and Robert Cassier, 18 years of age, brother of the contracting steam fitter, crawled out uninjured

Half an hour later the wreckers uncovered the foot of one man and then the arm of another. The faces of both were completely hidden by the great piles of brick, mortar and timber that lay heaped upon them. They were Edward Murphy and Joseph Bullard. They were dug out just before noon. The groans of the injured and imprisoned men, who could be heard here and there in the ruins, lent strength to the willing hands engaged in the work of rescue, and every little while another of the victims was dragged out and taken in an ambulance to one or other of te hospitals, until all who could be seen or heard were rescued.

Then the search for the missing began, and the ruins were worked over in the hope of finding the bodies of Contractor Straub and Jennie Griffith, who were known to be somewhere among the mass of wreckage. Straub was seen in the doorway of No. 10 just before the collapse, and the search for him was pursued in that vicinity, while that for the girl cashier was confined to the ruins of the barber shop. Shortly before 6 the body of Miss Griffith was found and removed to the Morgue, where Metz's had been taken earlier in the day. Straub's body has not yet been found.

The Comissioners of Public Works will make a thorough investigation of the accident. A permit was issued for the alterations on April 2, with the warning that the utmost care must be used, as the building was such an old structure.

The coroner summoned a jury and will begin his enquiry next Monday.

Another Body Found.

Buffalo, May 22.—At 12.45 o'clock this morning the body of a man, thought to be that of a laborer named Diegler, was found in the rear of the building. His face and body were badly crushed. This makes three known dead and Contractor Straub is still missing, undoubtedly in the ruins.

The Czar's Triumphal Entry Into Moscow.

IT WAS A BRILLIANT SPECTACLE

The Old City Thronged by People From All Parts of the Empire—English Burglars Sentenced to Death—The Sealing Regulations—Mrs. Dyer Indicted for Murder.

Moscow, May 21.—To-day took place the great triumphal entry of the Emperor and Empress into Moscow. In order to see the imposing spectacle, thousands of restless and anxious sightseers thronged the streets all night.

Every class of costume was visible among the crowds, and anyone skilled in the characteristics of Russian peasantry could have readily indicated from what part of the empire different groups of spectators had come.

No traffic was allowed on the line of the procession after 3 o'clock this morning, and at an early hour, troops were marched to thickly line both sides of the roadway over the entire route. By far the most picturesque effect was afforded by the groups of golden-robed priests, bearing sacred ikons, and surrounded by acolytes, with smoking censors, standing in front of their churches, waiting the coming of the Emperor, who was expected to stop at each group and venerate the relics; salutations of peace being given to him by the head priest of each party of ecclesiastics.

At 2.30 o'clock the canonn boomed, followed by eight other shots. This was the signal for every bell in Moscow to peal forth.

The Emperor had left the palace, and the procession had started. It was probably the most gorgeous scene that Moscow ever beheld.

Preceded by the Imperial Grand Marshal, Count Pahlen, and two squadrons of cuirassiers with eagle-crested helmets, the Emperor himself appeared dressed in full general's uniform of the Preobajensky regiment of Guards. The Emperor, who looked very well, constantly bowed his salutations to the cheering multitudes, who, upon the first sight of His Majesty, raised the shout peculiar to the Russians, which is a prolonged roar. This was taken up on all sides and swelled into a perfect hurricane of sound.

The Czar rode a pure white horse, and was immediately followed by various male members of the Russian Imperial family, foreign sovereigns, or their representatives, ministers of household, the Minister of War, and the generals and officer sof the suite, a gorgeous throng in glittering uniforms. Behind them came the generals and aides de camp of the Emperor and those attached to the suites of the foreign princes and representatives. Then came detachments of five regiments of the guards, two squadrons of cavalry, a squadron of Cuirassiers bearing lances, a squadron of Uhlans, and finally numerous mounted masters of ceremonies. The Emperor stopped at three points, which mark the three circles bounding the different quarters of Moscow. Here he received addresses from the nobles and deputations.

On arriving at the Iberian Chapel at the entrance of the Chinese Town, the Emperor alighted from his horse, and, with the Empress, ascended the steps to the shrine, where he was received by the priest of the chapel, with the cross and holy water. As the Emperor passed through the red square the choirs stationed in the tribunes along the Kremlin wall sang hymns of praise.

The appearance of the Czar was the signal for the firing of cannon, the ringing of bells and frantic cheers from the people.

Regulations for the British Columbian Seal Fisheries—Comfort for the Prisoners at Pretoria.

London, May 21.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. George Curzon, Under Foreign Secretary, said, in reply to a question by Mr. Henry Seton-Karr, Conservative, that the relations controlling the fur seal fishery in British Columbian waters were in some respects contrary to the recommendations of the recent Fisheries Commission, but steps were now being taken to inquire into the administration of the regulations.

Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, announced that the Colonial Office had received a telegram from President Kruger of the Transvaal Republic, stating that the jail regulations would be immediately modified, so as to increase the comfort of the Reform Committee prisoners.

NOT MEDICINE BUT POISON.

The Sad Mistake of a Daughter Which Killed Her Aged Mother.

Lindsay, May 21.—Mrs. Walker, aged 94, has lived with her son-in-law, Mr. Henly, where she has been tenderly cared for by her daughter for the last 25 years. This morning Mrs. Henly wished to give Mrs. Walker a dose of cascara, which medicine was in a flat vial beside another of the same shape and size containing carbolic acid, which had become a lark color and looked very much like the cascara. By a mistake a teaspoonful of carbolic acid was swallowed by the feeble old lady. The mistake was noticed at once and medical aid summoned, but all too late. She sank and died in an unconscious state about two hours after taking the dose.

A HISTORY.

Under the above heading the Montreal Witness prints the following article, which is so comprehensive and pat to the present situation and so well worthy of deliberate perusal, that no excuse is necessary for reproducing it:

Protection was adopted in the year 1878 by Sir John Macdonald. Sir John had not before that been a Protectionist. He was not then. He carefully explained that he was only introducing the principle for reciprocity's sake. That was the general attitude. Our merchants and manufacturers of those days almost invariably explained that they were not Protectionists, never had been, but that they were tired of this jug-handled free trade. The cry with which Sir John Macdonald went to the country was reciprocity of trade or reciprocity of tariff. If the United States would not give us reciprocity of trade then we must have a tariff to match theirs. The wonderful works this tariff was to accomplish, however, could not have been described with more fairy-like warmth of colour by the most convinced Protectionists. The story of Aladdin and the wonder-working lamp paled before the visions of the advocates of the American system for Canada. Foremost amongithe prophets, because least restrained by any consideration for the actual facts, was Dr. Tupper, whose wonder-working wand filled the Northwest in a few years with millions upon millions. We forget the exact figures, but they were generous in the extreme. It filled all our towns with forests of tall chimneys and the hum of industry. What a hum it was to be, to be sure! It found for the farmers a home market which was to make them all rich. How that home market was dilated on from Dan to Beersheba! The 'exodus' was to be stopped. Instead of Canadians going as soon as they were fledged to push their fortunes in the United States, Canada, with the same commercial methods as had brought prosperity to the United States, would rapidly attract back those who had gone and millions more besides. Could Dr. Tupper's cyclorama have been changed by any process of magic into actual material facts he might have used no other vowel but 'I' without making himself absurd. But it vanished like the vision conjured up by Prospero on the enchanted island, and has 'left not a rack behind.'

When these fascinating pictures were being drawn the 'Witness' protested in vain against their treacherous unsubstantiality. Canada would, it said, be by such a tariff wall shut up upon herself, and though the United States, with fifty-five millions of people enjoying absolute free trade among themselves, might prosper even under such limitations, Canada under similar or far less limitations would be stifled and strangled. It said protection would no doubt for a time be an advantage to existing manufactures, but that would only be temporary, as the moment any of them were seen to be profiting there would arise competitors to tear the advantage from them and overstock the market. The admission that the so-called 'National Policy' would give even a temporary stimulus was eagerly grasped by the party organs, which well knew that the multitude do not look a yard beyond their noses and would risk any remote interest for immediate prosperity. It all turned out as the Witness foresaw, except that the Witness admitted too much. There no doubt was an era of great money-making, but the tariff did not make it. It was made by a lengthened era of profligate borrowing and lavish spending in the country of borrowed money. Thus for a time the country, like an extravagant spendthrift living on borrowed means, lived in a fool's paradise of false prosperity; but there came an end to that business, and that is about where Canada has now got to. The tariff aided the carnival of money-spending by starting a great many people spending money on manufacturing facilities. That expenditure, added to the borrowing of the Government, set money flying for a time. The moment the manufacturers began to feel that the home market was thus more than provided for they began to plot combinations which would enable them to limit supply and keep up the price sufficiently above that at which the goods were made in Britain to pay them for the greater cost of manufacturing here. These schemes were not altogether successful, for even a monopoly has limitations in a small and glutted market. The tariff, while it burdened the consumer and led to government extravagance and very corrupt conditions, was a very limited success in benefiting manufactures. Manufactures that had prospered before it was introduced, instead of paying greater dividends later, paid less.

It may fairly be asked why it is that if the manufacturers are not the better of it they should be willing to support a discredited regime and swallow all sorts of villanous legislation rather than lose it. In the first place, it is not true that manufacturers are all supporting protection; many have never supported it; many who did support it are now working against it. As to those who still support it the explanation is not difficult. There is nothing so enervating and demoralising to industry as tariff coddling. The tariff has created a condition of things under which all the existing manufacturing businesses have grown up, and its abolition would create a new condition which would render much of their present business machinery unprofitable, so that industries which did not need protection at all when the protective system was introduced, now, after nearly twenty years of coddling, feel as if they would certainly die without it. So men connected with them are prepared to vote through any iniquity, and sometimes practically force their employees to do the same because they have been enfeebled by protection. What the tariff did was to create a tremendous voting force which is sold, body and soul to the party which favours protection. Even this solid manufacturing vote has, however, begun to waver, while those who are free to judge for themselves have in almost all cases given up their confidence in the National Policy as a method of making a country prosperous, and are going to vote for its modification. As one of these remarks: 'The Liberals are not going to lower the tariff below twenty-five per cent., and any industry that cannot after twenty years' nursing get along with that is not worth keeping up. So, though I never gave other than a Conservative vote before, I am going to vote Liberal this time.' And he is not one, but one legion.

WHAT's the use, asks the Hamilton Herald (Independent,) of the Conservative managers urging the rank and file to "fall in" when there are such fallings out?

MANY other independent Conservatives besides the Hamilton Herald are asking the question: "After all, what has Sir Charles Tupper ever done for his country beyond becoming a millionaire?"

THERE's a great deal of truth underlying this little innuendo of the Hamilton Herald:—Why can't the Reformers hire a few Ed. Farrars, Francis Wayland, Glens and Charles A. Danas to work for the Conservatives? It's a good thing to have such mascots.

"THE Liberal party, judging by its organs, has declared war to the knife with the Roman Catholics," says the Mail. The Liberal party has done nothing of the kind, retorts the Ottawa Free Press, and the charge comes with a very bad grace from a paper whose statements only recently were most grossly abusive of Catholic institutions. The Roman Catholics have not forgotten, and are not likely to forget, the attacks made upon them by the Mail. And the false statement also comes with an equally bad grace from a paper at present the organ of the leader of the Government, who at Winnipeg made a sneering reference to Mr. Laurier as a Frenchman and a Catholic.

THE patriotism of our good Conservative friends is really affecting. At a joint meeting of the two parties at L'Epiphanie, L'Assomption County, Mr. Jeanotte, Conservative, condemned the Liberals for "blocking the estimates" at the last session. By this means the county had been deprived of $4,000 for a post office for L'Assomption, (population 1,256), $30,000 for a bridge and large railway subsidies to be spent in the county. Where the shoe pinches, however, is that these sums were not available for influencing the votes of the people in favour of the Government. It was terribly unpatriotic of the disloyal Liberals to block the vote of the boodle fund. Now the Government has to depend on promises, but these are as but a broken reed, for the Government has deceived the people and the country, so ofter that Government promises are away below par. Even the late Archbishop Tache died lamenting the manner in which the Government had deceived him on the School question, and to such an extent that he had no further confidence in them.

Sleeplessness, Mental and Physical Fatigue

Go hand in hand. The waste of the body that ought to be restored by rest and sleep suffers increasing diminution; then loss of strength and vigor of body and mind follows. It is in this class of diseases that the marvellous properties of Maltine with Coca Wine are most markedly exhibited. It penetrates to the very source of vital action, inasmuch as the nerve centres are impressed by its medicinal power and the digestive functions stimulated to increased and more efficient action. This imparts to the whole system the much needed impetus, the nerves are soothed from a state of irritability to one of repose—sleep, with all its beneficent influences, comes back to lend its aid to the process of restoration. Digestion keeps pace with the improvement of appetite, and in a short time the nervous, miserable sufferer regains his old-time vigor and the capability to enjoy life and all it affords. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

CAMPAIGN MATTERS.

Bishop Lafleche Gives Orders to His Parishioners.

MUST VOTE FOR REMEDIALISTS.

A Prohibition Tram Brought Out in Hamilton—Talk of Withdrawing Mr. Coatsworth in East Toronto —Accessions to Liberal Ranks —General Notes of the Fray.

Montreal, May 21.—(Special)—Mgr. Lafleche, Bishop of Three Rivers, is after the Hon. Mr. Laurier. In a sermon preached in the Cathedral his lordship, referring to the Remedial Bill, said that the law is not perfect, no doubt, but it establishes a state of affairs which is bearable. Unfortunately it was made a political question. It is not a political question, but a religious question, which concerns the sacred rights of conscience. There are four kinds of schools—the Catholic school, where a full measure of religious education is given; the Protestant school, where more or less of it is given, according to the taste of parents; the atheistic school, where God is put out of doors, and the neutral school, which is neither Catholic, Protestant nor atheistic, where religion is altogether unknown and teachers are prohibited from teaching a word of it. This is the worst system of all, since it leads to indifference, which is the curse of the century.

Then the Monseigneur quoted from the Hon. Mr. Laurier's speech, introducing the six months' hoist, and said: "This is the most outspoken declaration of liberalism which has ever been made, to my knowledge, in a legislative assembly in this country. The man who speaks this language is a rationalistic Liberal. He formulates a doctrine which is entirely opposed to Catholic doctrine. It means that a Catholic is not required to be a Catholic in public life. This is a fundamental error which cannot but be fraught with deplorable consequences.

Then his lordship quoted the words of another French-Canadian Liberal member, whom he did not name, who said that Mgr. Langevin had the right of dealing with the religious aspect of the bill, but could not dictate his views of the bill to him from a national, political or constitutional standpoint. This language, his lordship equally condemned, holding that it is pure liberalism in a matter in which the hierarchy have a right to speak and in direct contradiction to the pastoral letters of the Bishop of Quebec of Sept. 22, 1895.

"It is my duty to give you a solemn warning," continued the bishop, "and I do not wish to fail in doing so, since on the fulfilment of this duty depends the salvation of my soul or death of the souls confided to my care. The principles involved by these two men are diametrically opposed to Catholic teaching. I speak here of doctrine and not of party."

His lordship, after stating that the assassination of President Carnot was the upshot of modern ideas in education, concluded as follows: "The first instructions which I have to point out to the Catholics of the diocese for the coming elections are to give their votes only in favor of candidates who will pledge themselves to vote in favor of a remedial law accepted by the bishops. Do not forget that this event will be of the greatest importance. My second instruction is to entreat you to lay aside all party feeling, no matter what it may be, and to judge men and events from the point of view of Catholic principles and Catholic teaching only. This you will do courageously, as Catholics, as Canadians and as citizens, and the good God will bless your efforts and will permit you to find here below a taste of the happiness which he reserves to His elect."

M'CARTHY AT OAKVILLE.

The Third Party Leader Asks the Electors to Pledge Their Candidates Against Remedial Legislation.

Oakville, May 21.—A well filled house (a goodly number of ladies being present) in Commins' Music Hall greeted the first appearance of D'Alton McCarthy, Q.C., this evening. The gathering was a representative one, all classes and denominations, and a great many farmers from the surrounding country being present. Mayor Young discharged the duties of the chair. J. M. Karr, A. M. Godfrey and George Hume, the third party candidate, made short addresses, but the orator of the evening was Mr. McCarthy. He spoke for over an hour, explaining his position in the past and his present reasons for taking the prominent part he is now engaged in to prevent Manitoba being coerced by any Government, and concluded with the hope that the electors would obtain a pledge from their candidates, whoever they might be, that they would not support Remedial legislation, no matter what Government was in power.

WILL MR. COATSWORTH DROP?

Story Abroad That Another Constituency is to be Provided for Him.

Toronto, May 22.

It is stated that since Mr. John Ross Robertson a nomination as the anti-Remedial Conservative candidate in the East, the Government has been considering the advisability of asking Mr. Emerson Coatsworth to withdraw from the contest It is, in fact, said that Hon. Dr. Montague's recent interview with Mr. Coatsworth at the Queen's had reference to this proposition. It is even reported that the Government has offered to find Mr. Coatsworth another constituency in which to stand.

Against this rumor, however, is the story that Mr. Foster will address a meeting in East Toronto in the interests of Mr. Emerson Coatsworth on Saturday evening.

HAMILTON PROHIBITIONISTS

Were Not Satisfied With Mr. Boville and Put Up a Second Candidate.

Hamilton, May 21.—(Special)—When R. G. Boville was mentioned as a probable candidate some time ago for the approaching election, the temperance people expected they would not have to place a second man in the field to run with W. W. Buchanan, but they miscalculated the situation. They interviewed the Conservative candidate this afternoon, and his replies to questions were unsatisfactory. He would not state his views, remarking that he would announce his views on this and other questions at the proper time and place.

At the Prohibition convention tonight Mr. Boville's position was defined and there was discomfiture that one of their prominent temperance workers had so suddenly grown chilly on the prohibition question.

The meeting consisted of half a dozen women and about two dozen men, but they warmed up and the Rev. J. Van Wyck and J. H. Land nominated Frederick W. Watkins, as the second Prohibition candidate. He accepted the nomination and the team will proceed at once on the campaign. Neither of their records are good from an election standpoint. Buchanan tried conclusions with Johnny Dickenson, M.L.A., in South Wentworth a few months ago and was buried, and Watkins was defeated in the first ward as an aldermanic candidate last January.

Mr. Laurier at Levis.

Quebec, Que., May 21.—The Levis public hall was crowded with an enthusiastic crowd to-night to hear the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier on the questions of the day. There were about 5000 present. Mr. Laurier accused Sir Charles Tupper and the Conservative press of raising national and religious prejudices against himself and his followers.

Independent Candidates in St. John.

St. John, N.B., May 21.—To-night the so-called Citizens' Committee met in private session and nominated two independent candidates to contest St. John—Ald. McRobbie, a leading Conservative, and D. J. McLaughlin, a leading Liberal. About $1000 has already been subscribed for these candidates.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

While they are coming over in shoals from Toryism to Liberalism, the Tories are so far able to announce only one convert, Mr. Carscallen of Hamilton. J. B. Turner, who opposed the Conservative whip at the last election, though he is claimed as a gain, never was a Liberal.

The old, old story that Yankee gold is being sent across to help the Liberals in their campaign, "hadn't nothin' in it," as the late lamented John Henry Pope would remark. It is a wicked lie got up to deceive the contractors and monopolists, who are expected to put up the necessary to help the Tupperian cause.

Hon. John F. Wood is doubtless sorry he spoke when he attacked Mr. McCarthy at Brockville the other day. There was a regular Waterloo when they came together subsequently at Frankville, and Mr. McCarthy was not the defeated general either. The Controller of Customs, who now wears a black eye, metaphorically speaking, is likely to let the ex-member for Simcoe alone in future.

Cheering news comes from Prince Edward Island. The little province generally sends six straight Liberals, but under Tory rule it has not progressed, and its representation has been cut down to five and it has been gerrymandered as well. But news comes that it will remain true to its traditions. Four supporters of Laurier, without fail, and probably five, will be sent.

Honest John McMillan has been again nominated in South Huron, and the farmers' interests will, as in the past, be well looked after by him. Of course there is no question as to his election, for the Liberal majority in his riding is numbered by hundreds.

If the predictions of George Taylor, the Tory whip, as to the result of the elections are no nearer the truth than his statements that the agitation against Remedial Legislation is rapidly dying out, his party are likely to find themselves badly in the minority on the night of the 23rd of June. George as a prophet is decidedly not in it.

Another stalwart Conservative has been given the grand bounce, Dr. Ferguson, the late member for North Leeds and Grenville, has been left out, and a young man named Lavell takes his place. F. T. Frost, the well-known Liberal manufacturer of Smith's Falls, and the hero of numerous political fights, is again the Liberal candidate. He should have no great difficulty in capturing the riding.

The Algoma election has been fixed for the 30th June, a week after the other elections take place.

"Has the National Policy made you rich?" can be answered emphatically in the affirmative by at least one man, and that is Sir Charles Tupper. The Hamilton Times makes this remark: "Tupper is a millionaire. He was not a millionaire in ante-N.P. days, but then Tupper has been following politics to some purpose. How many men who work, have made their millions under the N.P.?"

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

Sick headache and constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills. Easy to take, sure in effect.

Weak, Nervous Women.

One to whom a night's rest was unknown.

Strength and good health restored.

I was subject to frequent attacks of nervousness that seemed to sap all my vitality and left me in a state of weakness and misery. I could not relish food and such a thing as a good night's rest was unknown. Incapable of any exertion and with an ever present tired and despondent feeling. Medicines that I took did not do any good; it was a case of gradually becoming weaker and weaker. Hearing of Scott's Sarsaparilla and its success with similar cases to mine, I used it, and from the first few doses began to get better, appetite returned, got natural and refreshing sleep. I grew stronger, in fact life seemed to be fanned into activity.—Lottie Graham, 174 Crawford Street, Toronto.

For any weakness of the nerves, pale and sallow complexion, loss of appetite use the best blood and nerve remedy extant, Scott's Sarsaparilla. Insist on getting Scott's—imitations do not cure.

Wood's Phosphodine.—The Great English Remedy.

Before Taking.

Is the result of over 35 years treating thousands of cases with all known drugs, until at last we have discovered the true remedy and treatment—a combination that will effect a prompt and permanent cure in all stages of Sexual Debility, Abuse or Excesses, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Mental Worry, Excessive Use of Opium, Tobacco, or Alcoholic Stimulants, all of which soon lead to Insanity, Consumption and an early grave. Wood's Phosphodine has been used successfully by hundreds of cases that seemed almost hopeless—cases that had been treated by the most talented physicians—cases that were on the verge of despair and insanity—cases that were tottering over the grave—but with the continued and persevering use of Wood's Phosphodine, these cases that had been given up to die, were restored to manly vigor and health—Reader you need not despair—no matter who has given you up as incurable—the remedy is now within your reach, by its use you can be restored to a life of usefulness and happiness.

After Taking.

Price, one package, $1; six packages, $5; by mail free of postage.

One will please, six guaranteed to cure. Pamphlet free to any address.

HOW THE SUN LIFE FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,371 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

Manager for Central Ontario,

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

That

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become enervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired

Feel-

ing is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember that

The Rob Roy Sold.

The trim little steam yacht, Rob Roy, owned by Mr. R. M. Roy, has just been purchased by Mr. H. G. Buck, of Norwood, the price paid being understood to be $650.00. This morning Mr. Buck took a party of Norwood friends down the river to Hastings on a trip. The party was composed of Messrs. J. G. Keefer, C. W. Waters, W. S. Harrison, Wm. Carberry and others. The Rob Roy was one of the daintiest crafts in the inland waters and will be greatly missed from amongst the local fleet. They are few indeed, of the citizens who have not, through Mr. Roy's kindly generosity, enjoyed a trip on the trim little launch.

A Monstrosity.

This morning Dr. Thos. Johnston, V.S., encountered something unusual, and even unprecedented, in the annals of Canadian veterinary surgery. It was a hydrocephalous colt, the foal of a mare belonging to Mr. M. Mahony, of Mahony's Corners, Otonabee. The cranium of this colt measured 25 inches from the occipital crest to the nasal bones, and 14 inches from one eye socket to the other. The cranial cavity was almost wholly surrounded by bone. Hydrocephalous or water-head is due to dropsy of the brain, and specimens of it are exceedingly rare, in fact the Ontario Veterinary College has long been casting about for a specimen for their museum, which Dr. Johnston, who is very proud of his lusus naturæ, will be able to supply. The specimen is being studied with great interest by the local vets.

THAT QUINN-SHAUGHNESSY CAMPAIGN LAWSUIT.

A Political Dodge to Help the East Riding Conservative Candidate—A Shabby Means of Bolstering up a Failing Political Cause.

The Review, of Wednesday, prints the alleged particulars of a suit, the writ for which has been issued by Mr. John Burnham, Q.C., and Conservative candidate for East Peterborough, against Mr. Wm. Quinn, of Otonabee. Mr. Quinn, it will be remembered was the patron nominee at the last provincial election in East Peterborough. Mr. John Shaughnessy and Mr. Conroy, butcher, of Peterborough, claim that they advanced certain moneys—$25—and that they disbursed additional sums to the extent of $175 to promote the candidature of the defendant. But the latter retired from the contest, and the plaintiffs further claim that they consented to his retiring from the contest in consideration of being reimbursed in respect of moneys advanced, from moneys that Mr. Quinn was to receive from the Reform party and employment under the government, and they claim that under this alleged arrangement the defendant Quinn received certain lands and property from the Reform party.

In connection with this matter it is plain that it is one of those election dodges gotten up by Mr. Burnham to assist him in his losing fight in East Peterborough, with the object of trying to distract attention from Mr. Burnham's own record in the support of a Government party that has been guilty of all the sins in the political calendar. Any device or scheme that will call away attention from Mr. Burnham's record, would be a veritable godsend.

So far as the publication of the document is concerned, the Review has been guilty of a gross impropriety, and has rendered itself liable to Mr. Quinn for the circulation of statements that are untrue, as far as those statements are connected with the Reform party, and no one knows better than Mr. Burnham that, if the whole facts alleged were true, it would be impossible to recover anything for Mr. Shaughnessy, as the arrangement alleged to have been made was a corrupt one. One would think that to help the desperate fortunes of a political candidate, men would not allow their names to be lugged into public in connection with such a matter as the affair in question, which if the alleged facts were true is disgraceful and illegal. The suit in question is one of those things that will be street corner gossip for a few days and sink into oblivion after the election. But desperate diseases require desperate remedies and the East Riding Conservative candidate must be in a bad way when he has to resort to such a remedial measure.

SUIT FOR $10 000 DAMAGES.

Mr. Wm. Quinn Seeks This Sum From the Review, Times and Messrs. Shaughnessy and Conroy.

Mr. William Quinn has instructed his solicitor, Mr. E. B. Stone, to enter a suit for damages of $10,000 against the Peterborough Evening Review, the Daily Morning Times and Messrs. Shaughnessy and Conroy in respect of certain alleged libellous and false statements circulated in connection with a suit brought against Mr. Quinn.

BATTALION NOTES.

Preparations for the Entertainment of the Visitors on the 24th.

The Seargeant's Mess are making great preparations to entertain the visiting noncoms., and the buglers have fitted up the rooms of the Striker's Club, in which to entertain the Belleville Bugle Corps.

The local officers were down at the Agricultural grounds all morning assisting with their advice in the pitching of the tents, etc. Capt. Donald, Capt. Pope, Quartermaster Sgt. Wells and four men are up from Belleville engaged in this work.

The Belleville Intelligencer says: The "drum head" parade on Sunday at Peterborough will be addressed by the chaplains of the 57th and 15th—Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. M. W. Maclean.

The equipment of the Belleville bicycle corps in connection with the battalion, consists of neat serge tunics and special leggings, in addition to regulation pants and helmets. The corps promises to be one of the main features on the 25th. The suggestion that the Rangers attach a bicycle corps did not meet with the favour of the local officers for some reason.

Lessons in Art Embroidery.

Miss McGuire, of Toronto, will give free lessons in Art Embroidery at Miss Melville's, No. 424 George street, for two weeks, beginning June 1st. Ladies intending to show work at the exhibitions will find it to their advantage to take a few lessons.

Walking Sticks, Canes, Fans, Purses.

Between now and Saturday night the greatest bargains will be offered in walking sticks and swagger canes for the 24th. Prices will cut no figure, but you can cut one with one of our daisy sticks. A beautiful selection of sample fans and purses, elaborate, medium and plain, for every occasion, but all light and little in price, at the Peterborough Bookstore.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

A Spanking Turnout.

One of the finest looking delivery rigs in town was on the street yesterday for the time. Mr. Alex. Elliott, of the Palace Grocery, is the owner, who believes in good advertising and usually does it well, even to make use of his delivery wagons to produce something in the way of an advertising novelty. His horse, harness and waggon makes as slick a turn-out as one would wish to see for the purpose. The waggon is a special gear turned out by Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, and is built for durability, hard work and convenience. The sides of the waggon display two brass plates emblazoned with the name and address of the firm, supplied by Mr. Ingram, the engraver, town. The harness is an exhibition hand-made set of single heavy strong tugs, brass mounted, manufactured by Mr. Benj. Shortly. The occupant of the box needs no whip—blood and elbow grease does the work; and he challenges any man in his line to go over more road, with a bigger load, and deliver more parcels with the fewest mistakes or accidents in the shortest time.

Come and see the many special bargains at Grafton & Co's, on Friday and Saturday.

COMING TO THE RIGHT SIDE.

We have noted the numerous Conservatives, whose independence and love of principle and honest dealing has led them to seek refuge in the Liberal party to escape support of a party whose corrupt, extravagant and double dealing methods have rendered it impossible for self respecting Conservatives to continue to act with it. And the Liberal policy, platform and leader commend themselves so strongly to these gentlemen that they have decided to ally themselves with the party of progress and real reform. We have given the names of prominent Conservatives in other places. We shall now refer to a gentleman who has, till within a short time resided in town, and who is a Tory of the Tories, but he, is a man of principle he cannot stomach the platform and practices of the Conservatives and he expresses himself in the following words, an extract from a personal letter written in reply to a communication asking if he would come to Peterborough to vote for the Liberal candidate. Here is his reply as it refers to his political position. This gentleman says:—

"And what is most important you have really a good cause this time. I see the daily Star and the daily Witness, and so keep myself posted in all that is going on. I am out of all conceit with the present government and now that Mr. Mowat has joined hands with Mr. Laurier, I sincerely hope and pray that they may win the goal. With Mr. Mowat's co-operation we have the strongest assurance of sagacious and cautious legislation. I see that Sir Charles is very confident of winning, but if such be the result, I shall despair of my country. I shall certainly cast in my modest cross for the eloquent Frenchman. I hear that John Burnham is confident of his riding. I rather think he will have a rude awakening."

This gentleman, who evidently does his own thinking, knows very well what he is talking about, and if we were at liberty to use his name, our readers would fully agree with us in our estimate of the importance that should be attached to the change of front, which this gentleman's patriotism and conscience tell him it is his duty, at this crisis of our country's history to assume. No more practical and valuable condemnation of the position and policy of the present government or endorsation of the Liberal partyand leader, could be afforded in this part of Canada.

THE Mail, in report of the nomination proceedings on Wednesday, states that "Mr. Kendry accepted the nomination at a great personal sacrifice." This has been a campaign of "sacrifice" for the West Peterborough Conservatives. Mr. Stevenson was "sacrificed" to Mr. Kendry's ambition, and set aside like a worn out shoe; and now Mr. Kendry "sacrifices" his personal interests with a mighty good prospect of "sacrificing" his political interests and the government's hold on West Peterborough.

THE VETERANS WILL ORGANIZE.

The men who Went to the Front During the Fenian Raids.

The action of the Belleville Veterans of '66, effecting an organization, has been followed by the formation of a Veteran's Association in Peterborough, to be composed of all volunteers, resident in Peterborough and Ashburnham, who went to the front in 1866—1870.

At a meeting held last night, with Lt.-R. W. Bell in the chair and Mr. A. P. Poussette acting as secretary, the following gentlemen were present:—Messrs. J. Collins, John Irwin, W. H. Anthony, C. S. Dudman, Wm. Logan, H. I. Holmes and T. A. S. Hay. The question of permanently organizing was enthusiastically discussed, and a meeting will be held for that purpose on Saturday evening, when arrangements will also be made for the reception of the Belleville Veterans.

The following is a list of the old members of the Peterborough Rifle Co., who went to the front in 1866 and who still live in Peterborough:—Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, (Lieutenant), Sergt. Wm. Logan, Sergt. J. I. Davidson, Corpl. Erasmus Green, Buglar Ed. Green, Privates David Breeze, John Green, Peter Gifford, John Irwin, Geo. Kingdon, Geo. H. Mann, John B. McWilliams, Thos. Rutherford, John Sawers, Geo. Stenton, Robt. Thompson and H. Thompson.

No. 2 Co., Ashburnham—H. T. Strickland (Lieut.); J. Z. Rogers (Captain); Ensign, John Burnham; Sergts., Thos. Anthony and Geo. Brown; Private, J. C. Baker, Jas. Baxter, Thos. Brown, J. D. Collins, C. S. Dudman, Jessie Gray, John Haggart, John Law, John Mowry, M. McHugh, Geo. Stethem and Stewart Wright.

No. 2 Co., Peterborough—Sergt. W. J. Green; Corpl. Alex. Gillespie; Privates, Jas. Fox, J. L. Hughes, Gordon Wright and Thomas McKee.

The following are resident in Peterborough but were members of other corps: Wm. Manson, R. M. Roy, Geo. Rose, Peter Thompson, H. W. Watson and F. R. Yokome.

Queen's Birthday Concert.

Lovers of music, both instrumental and vocal, will be given an opportunity of enjoying a rare treat, on Monday evening, 25th inst, when a concert will be given in the Opera House, by the combined choirs of the town, assisted by the military bands of Belleville and Peterborough, and Mr. Thos. Dunn, the popular baritone. The programme will be one of the most attractive, presented to a Peterborough audience in years, and those who appreciate a "good thing," should make it a point to attend.

FRANK TULLY IN THE TOILS.

He is Charged With the Larceny of a Couple of Turkeys.

A warrant was issued for Frank Tully, ast January, in connection with the loss of a couple of turkeys belonging to Mr. J. J. Hartley.

The police thought they had sufficient evidence to convict Tully of the theft, but he got wind of the fact and decamped. He returned to town a few days ago and was promptly arrested on sight by the chief, last night. This morning he was before the magistrate, and the case was enlarged until to-morrow.

PERSONAL.

Miss Minnie Anderson and Miss Annie McGregor, of Marcellus, N.Y., are home enjoying some holidays.

Mr. Charlie Tucker is up from Montreal for a few days. His mother is very ill. Mr. John Tucker, also of Montreal, comes up to-morrow.

Mrs. F. C. Impson, of Rochester, N. Y., is in town on a visit, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Albert street.

Mr. T. E. E. Pearse, C. E., left last night on the 11.35 train for Sarana Lake, Adirondacks, New York State, to take charge of the construction of a system of water works.

Dr. and Mrs. Goldsmith and family have permanently taken up residence in Belleville. The Doctor is remaining in Peterborough until to-morrow to finally settle up his business affairs.

The announcement is made to-day that Messrs. Herb Bell, Perry G. Goldsmith and C. S. McKee have all successfully passed their examinations before the Medical Council, and are therefore licensed to practice in Canada. The passage of this examination is one which entitles our three young M.D's. to receive the heartiest congratulations.

Mr. F. J. Deane, travelling correspondent and special business agent of "The Province," a weekly paper published in Victoria, B. C., is in the town in the interests of that publication. Mr. Deane speaks strongly of the great possibilities of this western province, and although it is feeling the present depression with the other portions of the Dominion, states that there is every reason to hope for a great future for the west through the development of its mineral resources.

Why Not Avoid

Using cheap alum powders in cookery? It's poor economy, and, if the truth would out, is the direct cause of lots of ill health. Use only the absolutely pure, free from alum, not a whit of adulteration, made of Pure Cream of Tartar and Soda; never spoils a cake, a pie or a biscuit. All good cooks use it. All grocers sell it.

THE "INDEPENDENT" CAMPAIGN RALLY.

ADDRESSES BY MESSRS HUNTER AND NEWMAN.

The Former Delivers an Inflammatory Appeal—No Respect for Dignities—The Candidate's More Moderate Speech.

The mass meeting held last night in the interests of Mr. Robert C. Newman, the "Independent" candidate, was very largely attended. But the audience was of a mixed character, composed in about equal parts of Liberals, Conservatives and Independents. There were several ladies present, and the Opera House was profusely decorated with flags, and a large bouquet rested on the chairman's table.

Upon the platform were seated the speakers of the evening, Rev. Wm. Grant, Messrs. John Briggs, J. W. Vinette, Robt. Weir, J. H. Cobb, Jos. Jones, J. W. Green, Robt. Hetherington and J. A. Davidson, Smith.

The speech of Mr. Hunter, of Toronto, was rather of a fire-brand character; the speaker showed that he was no respecter of persons or dignities, and his language was not conspicuous for moderation of speech or sentiment.

Mr. Newman was more moderate in his remarks and seemed to aim to deal more in argument than invective. The applause was at times vigorous in spots. Altogether there was good order maintained.

Rev. Wm. Grant occupied the chair and stated that the meeting was called in the interests of the Independent candidate in West Peterborough and after a few remarks, he invited Mr. Hall and Mr. Kendry, or their representatives, if they were present to seats on the platform. There being no response, the chairman introduced of Toronto, who was warmly received. He began by saying that he had addressed an audience in the same hall and on practically the same subject, for the same need existed to meet a greater danger, that of clerical domination, than when he addressed them before. He scored the government for its perversion of the constitution to excuse the attempt to plant a hierarchy under Langevin to rule over Manitoba; a man who owed allegiance to the Pope of Rome, instead of to the only source of constitutional allegiance, Queen Victoria. (Cheers.) The Catholic school system had been given a trial in Manitoba and had proved a failure and in support of his statement, the speaker read an extract from the speech of Attorney-General Sifton, which painted these schools in very dark tints. These were, the speaker said, the schools which were being bolstered up by fraudulent appeals to the constitution, and for whose restoration the Remedial order was made. The speaker showed by read extracts that the minority in Manitoba did not want these schools restored. The old system of schools was a system of ecclesiastical larceny, by which the church benefitted. The speaker insisted that the anxiety of the government to restore separate schools was a mere matter of votes. If there were constitutional warrant for separate schools, then the Act of 1890 was ultra vires, and should have been disallowed. This talk of sacred constitutional rights was a sacred red herring, being drawn across the trail to draw away attention from the real object. The speaker, in dealing with the second advent of Sir Charles Tupper, whom we thought was politically dead and respectfully buried, referred to the government being "strengthened" by the broken down Cumberland war horse, scarred with the the scars of a score of battles and a score of scandals. He scored Sir Charles Tupper on the head of his windy promises and asserted that Tupper came to the country as a coercionist and he would be defeated on the—

MR. A. T. HUNTER,

A voice—Never!

Mr. Hunter—I give you a month and two days. (Great cheering.)

Continuing the speaker said that Tupper was carrying around with him the remedial bill, the stolen body of the posthumous child of a dead parliament. (Cheers.)

The resurrection of coercion was the revival of something that had been settled and declared unconstitutional over 270 years ago. The speaker referred in detail to instances of clerical interference in recent times which were an outrage on free institutions. He also said that Langevin (Archbishop, presumably) was to be admired for the superb insolence of his pretensions. (Cheers.)

Referring to the mandament the speaker said that if such a document were issued in Mexico or Papal Italy the promulgators would have been expelled from the one and the Vatican pulled down about the Pope's ears in the other. (Cheers.)

The speaker closed with a few words of commendation of the Independent candidate, whose name was received with hearty cheers. He was spoken of as a man who would honestly represent a constituency that had too long been represented by voting pegs (laughter) to hang a government upon. (Cheers.)

Mr. Robert Newman, the Independent candidate, was very heartily received upon being introduced by the chairman. Before beginning his address he took occasion to correct a report of his speech at Montgomery's School House in The EXAMINER of May 13th. The report stated in reference to Mr. Newman that

"He condemned Sir Charles Tupper's attack on Mr. Laurier, as a Frenchman and a Catholic It was unworthy of the leader of a party to refer to Mr. Laurier in the terms which Mr. Tupper had used at Winnipeg."

Mr. Newman stated that this was correct so far as it went but that he had added the phrase, "when he had so recently supported Sir John Thompson, who was not only a Roman Catholic but a member of the Order of Jesuits."

Mr. Newman then availed himself of the opportunity of refutiug reports to the effect that he had been brought here by either the Grits or Tories, and stated emphatically that be was in the field to stay and could not be bought off by either party. He had entered the contest and intended to sink or swim with the upholding of religious liberties.

He had heard objections raised to his candidature on the ground that he was not a resident of Peterborough. He considered that if be was a loyal Canadian subject that ought to be sufficient, and instanced the cases of Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Charles Tupper and others, as members of Parliament who did not reside in their constituencies.

Mr. Newman stated that he did not intend making a personal canvass of the electorate, but before the 23rd of June would address meetings in each polling sub division. Later on he would have the pleasure of introducing Mr. N. Clarke Wallace and Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, who were coming to Peterborough to speak for him.—(Loud cheers.)

The trade question, he considered, was altogether a secondary consideration in the present campaign. The issue at stake was whether Canada should be governed by the people or whether all this expense could be saved and the government carried on by the promulgators of the mandement.

The speaker then took occasion to give a personal sketch of the Quebec members of the present cabinet to their great disadvantage and stated that if he was returned he would unalterably oppose the policy of any party which was favourable to the passage of a remedial bill.

The country, he claimed, was going backward as the time which should have been donated to the consideration of the development of our resources was taken up by the introduction of a religious question which should never have been brought before parliament. If some of the money which was used to keep up the superannuation fund was spent in advertising the country, Canadian resources would be in a far more advanced stage of development.

In speaking of protection, Mr. Newman stated that it was needed and that Canada could not live without it, if she wished to open up industries. But one great thing had been lost sight of in the matter of protection and that was that the protection was not universal. The industries were protected but the workmen were not. (Hear! Hear!) Another thing to which the Government should give its attention to was the fact that Canadian workmen were shut out of the United States, yet many workmen from the U. S. were living in Canada and sending back the money they earned to their families in that country.

The Remedial Bill was then dealt with by the speaker, who stated that the Government had admitted that it was not obligatory on them to take action. There was a grievance, though, so they said, and this was why they were interfering. But there was always a minority grievance in the case of every law which was enacted. The next thing was to investigate the grievance and remedy it if possible. The remedy in this case had been found without an investigation, but it had been repudiated by the electorate of Manitoba, which province should have known better how to conduct its own affairs than Ottawa. The speaker believed in the secularization of schools and the elimination of all religious exercises.

The men who were now advocating the remedial bill were the same men who, but a short time ago, went through the country shouting to "abolish the Separate Schools in Ontario and give us William Ralph Meredith."

Mr. Newman then called upon Mr. Jas. Stevenson, ex-M.P., to explain how he could consistently vote to allow Quebec to settle the Jesuit Estates matter, and at another time make a stand against allowing Manitoba to settle her religious difficulty.

At some future meeting Mr. Newman stated that he intended proving that treason was promulgated in the Separate schools now existing in Canada.

On the Trent Valley Canal question the speaker stated that he believed Mr. Stevenson claimed to have secured the work, and as Mr. Stevenson was well along in years this might be the fact. (Laughter.) It had been used as a bribe to the electorate for many years, but if the estimates had been now passed the work would have to go on no matter which Government was in power.

Returning to the Remedial Bill, in conclusion, Mr. Newman stated that Grit and Tory alike were pledged, in Quebec, to secure the passage of the measure.

The meeting then broke up, with cheers for the speakers, the candidate and the Queen.

The beautiful manner in which the hall was decorated was the work of J. J. Turner & Sons.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The dropping of stones from the gravel carts has again spoiled George street for the wheelmen.

—Mr. Robinson has added a two horse park phaeton and a lady's phaeton to his livery establishment.

—The ballot box is now ready for those estimates of the majorities at H. LeBrun & Co's. City Clothing Store.

—The rain which fell last night was a heavy one while it lasted and has done a great deal of good throughout the district.

—The street railway will be open for traffic to the southern terminus to-morrow. It is expected that a fifteen minute service will be maintained.

—On May 22nd, one year ago to day, the thermometer registered as low as 23 degrees—eight degrees of frost with hail and snow flurries and the formation of ice of considerable thickness.

—Huckleberries promise to be a larger crop this year than for many years past, provided the plants are not affected by frost, which may come during the next week or ten days. There is now a profusion of bloom everywhere on the rocky plains where the fruit is usually found, and the berry is already forming. The earliest crop is generally picked about the first of July.

METHODIST DISTRICT MEETING.

It Commenced at Millbrook and Lasted for Two Days.

The annual district meeting of the Peterborough District of the Methodist Church convened at Millbrook, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, with Rev. W. R. Young in the chair.

The first day was taken up with the examination of ministerial character, and all the ministers of the district was found blameless in life and doctrine.

Rev. H. I. Lewis, B.A., was received as a probationer for the ministry.

The second day's business, when the laymen were present, was occupied in receiving the financial and the membership reports, all of which showed a very creditable and prosperous condition of affairs.

Rev. J. J. Rae was elected to the Stationing Committee; Rev. J. E. Robson and Mr. J. L. Hughes to the Sabbath Committee; Rev. Wm. Limbert and John Hull to the Epworth League Committee; Rev. W. C. Beer to the Sustentation Fund committee. The position of secretary was filled by Rev. L. Phelps, of Millbrook, who was assisted by Rev. G. R. Clare, of Bridgenorth.

The following delegates from Peterborough will attend conference at Trenton:—Messrs. D. W. Dumble, A. L. Davis, B. Shortly, J. L. Hughes and Dr. Fife. Mr. Wood goes from Ashburnham, and Mr. John Hull from Lakefield.

The meetings throughout were most harmonious.

These are Busy Days

AT ROBERT HALL'S RETIRING SALE.

There were a good many Ladies in and around Peterborough who did'nt think it necessary to come out the first two weeks of our Retiring Sale, but who now wished they had,—and are coming out now.

There are many others who have just awakened to the knowledge of what they have been missing by holding back, thinking there would be plenty time to get their share of the Bargains before the sale closed. These, too, have helped to make busy days for us this week.

Queen's Birthday Shopping.

An important message often comes by telegraph, but the most important message that ever was delivered to mankind has been given to them through the newspapers. It is given again in this article.

It is the information that 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption can be completely and permanently cured. There is no doubt about it. The statement is not made recklessly, but after the experience of thousands has made it an indisputable fact. Consumption is not a disease of the lungs. It is a disease of the blood, which in weak lunged people manifests itself by the formation of tubercles in the lungs and the wasting away of lung tissue. The cure for consumption is simple. It consists in the administration of a medicine that will assist the lungs in throwing off tuberculous matter, and that will cleanse the system so that this refuse matter will be replaced by strong, healthy tissues. That sounds like a very simple operation, and yet consumption baffled the combined medical skill of the whole world for hundreds of years. Consumption was considered incurable until the advent of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This great remedy is the most wonderful blood purifier and strengthener that the world has ever known. It is the result of years of study and experiment, by a scientific physician and has been tested in every way by him for over 30 years. It has an unbroken record of success. It cures a great variety of diseases, because almost all diseases have their origin and support in impurity and weakness of the blood. As long as a man's blood is rich and pure, he is in no danger from diseases. The blood is the medium through which food is carried from the digestive system to all of the tissues of the body. If it carries impure things, or an insufficient quantity of good things, trouble will ensue. There is nothing about that so very hard to understand. It is perfectly plain and natural and rational. The "Golden Medical Discovery" puts the digestive system in perfect order, purifies and enriches the blood and so puts the whole body into perfect tune.

ANOTHER FOR TORONTO.

Chapman's Wilkes-Barres Beaten by 5 Runs to 3—All the Scores.

Toronto, May 21.

The Torontos defeated Wilkes-Barre again yesterday, and played a pretty fielding game. Their batting was also very effective. McPartlin proved too much for the visitors, and only six hits were secured off him, while Luckey was touched up for 12, including a triple and a double. The sharp work of the Torontos and poor baserunning of Mr. Chapman's aggregation was instrumental in holding down the visitors' score. Their only run was secured in the second on two singles, a stolen base and Diggins' long drive to left field. Toronto started in in the first innings, when Padden reached first on McMahon's fumble, and scored on hits by Freeman and Lutenburg. They took the lead in third, when Padden hit for three bases and came home on Lutenburg's single. The fifth innings netted another run, McPartlin hitting out a double and scoring on Wright's fly to right and Bonner's fumble of Freeman's grounder. The last two runs were secured in the sixth, when Smith hit safe and was advanced on Earle's fumble of Delehanty's grounder, O'Brien's hit and Dowse's long fly to left field, bringing in the two men. Score :

HEROISM REWARDED.

Royal Canadian Humane Society Presents Medals to Constables Tinsley and Tidsberry For Their Recent Brave Feats.

The Royal Canadian Humane Association held its annual meeting last evening in the Art Gallery, King-street west. Never since the amalgamation, in 1892, of all the Canadian societies into the one bearing the above-mentioned name, has the enthusiasm in its work been as marked as it was last night.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting in Hamilton.

To James Tinsley, Brockville, who interposed between the murderer Lapointe and the citizens of that town, receiving thereby an almost fatal wound, Mr. A. Brown presented the Sanford gold medal for 1896.

To Constable James L. Tidsberry, for bravery in capturing the three desperadoes at Little York on May 3, 1896, was presented a silver medal.

To James Commiford, a silver medal was also presented for rescuing Ethel Bothroy of Toronto, August, 1895.

Leonard McCleary of Thorold received a bronze medal for saving the life of Frederick E. Forsythe from drowning in the Welland canal.

Maitland Ackroyd, Toronto, received a bronze medal for saving many lives.

Thomas McInerny and Thomas Casgrove received certificates on parchment at the hands of Rev. Father Ryan for prompt action in saving the life of Charles Campion in Toronto Bay, Nov. 30, 1895.

To Police Constable Wallace of Toronto, a certificate on parchment was presented by Chancellor Wallace for rescuing two children from being crushed by a trolley, Sept. 7, 1895.

For saving the life of Henry Wisman in Mill Creek, Galt, July 15, 1895, John Wilford, Galt, received a certificate.

A certificate was also given J. H. Fearnside and — Leonard for rescuing Harry Tansley in Hamilton Bay, Aug. 17, 1895.

The life-savers were all applauded, but the lion's share fell to the lot of the Brockville gold medallist, and the brave East Toronto Constable. Both made short modest speeches, the former claiming his heroism, as the public were pleased to call it, to be inherited from his father, who was present, and the latter, expressing his surprise at receiving so handsome an award and disclaiming any particular credit in the matter of ridding the community of three dangerous characters.

Pulmonary consumption, in its early stages, may be checked by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops the distressing cough, soothes irritation of the throat and lungs, and induces much-needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

TORTUES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, Arkwright, Ont., says : I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed, and could neither sleep nor rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle, and after taking about the half of it I found myself recovering, and after continuing it for some time I recovered, but when the cold weather set in this winter I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared, and I consider that I am entirely cured.

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

A SHIRT WAIST ERA.

THE COOL GARMENTS THAT WILL SOON BE THE VOGUE.

Two Beautiful Patterns Illustrated—One of Them Has Large Bishop Sleeves—Of the Other Full Directions for Making Are Given.

Direct descendant of the spencer body, the shirt waist has for six seasons or more made all womankind happy. Nothing so cool and neat for summer wear has been found since the spencer was laid on the grave of dead grandmothers, and it is really to this estimable old garment that we owe the later invention. Its great granddaughter, the shirt waist, was originally intended for plain uses, but some of the later ones are taking on such fine airs that shirt waist seems a misnomer.

In general outline, with the exception that bishop sleeves take the place of the old gigots, the new shirt bodices differ in no great degree from those of last season. They have the same pointed yokes at the back, and the fronts slightly gathered or laid in three narrow, pressed-down plaits each side of the button hem. The cuffs, however, are now of the same material as the waist, and the white turn-over collars are no longer sewed on. They are made detachable to admit of several changes, the waist outlasting, of course, the collar in freshness, and are worn with a narrow mannish bow tie.

With shirt waists strictly for morning use, those of percale, cambric, and chambrot, a stylish variation of the white collar is a stiff stock and little bow tie made of the waist material. This last detail, however, is not a frequent accompaniment to the ready made article, but is fashioned to order by the shirtmakers.

A parasol to match the wash waist, whatever its material, is also in high feather, and by skillful manipulation may be as easily laundered.

The cuffs of all of the sleeves are less deep than formerly, and are held together by link fastenings, and a trimmort in these are round pearl buttons to imitate those in front.

The prettiest shirt waist of the season, though, is the one made of some fragile textile. Batistes, dimities and lawns, striped, plain and figured all over, make some of the most useful of these, and a becoming point with many of them is to have the collar and cuffs in a solid color. For the smarter affairs white Swiss, figured, dotted, plain or ribbon-striped, is an effective and elegant material. Again the Swiss may be in large checks or small ones, or perhaps, be self-striped, with a dainty embroidery of dots or figures in colored silk between.

One of the novelty textures used for these dressy waists is a curious linen batiste, showing big rough figures, like Turkish toweling. The background of this is a pale mahogany-brown, in a web as thin as grenadine. The figures, huge leaves or strange flowers, are white and are raised up with all the thready loops of the familiar bath towel.

THE LATEST SHIRT WAIST.

Then it goes without saying that all the plain and fancy linens and batistes of the season are seen among the new shirt waists, and so elegant are some of these with their lace insertions and open work yokes and collars that they seem fine enough for almost any occasion.

Many of the Swiss waists have the necks finished with the usual stiff collar. But others and the colored novelty textures as well, will have ribbon stocks or else made ones of white, black or tinted satin, showing white satin pipings at the edges and the proper narrow tie.

If women cannot afford to have their shirt waists built at a fashionable haberdasher's they can be made at home after a good pattern. They should be made with but little fullness in the back, having only a few gathers at the waist line. Cut the yoke with a slight point. Gather the fullness of the front widths into the neck instead of into the shoulders. Do not spread the fullness along the belt, but leave at least two inches plain before reaching the under arm seam. The sleeves should be after the bishop model and gathered into a narrow cuff. Nothing looks cooler than a wash silk waist. They are made with more fullness, both in the front and in the back, with a box plait down the front to cover the buttons. The sleeves are full and set into a band cuff. The prettiest finish for the neck is the full wrinkled collar. Such a waist can also be worn with the linen collar and cuffs. Batiste waists are all the rage. Nothing makes a smarter tennis or outing costume than white cotton or linen duck. Naturally the linen lasts longer, and it does not shrink so much when laundered. The less expensive material, however, answers very well. The skirts are made very full at the bottom and gored well off at the waist and finished with a deep hem. The waists are made in a simple blouse effect, finished with a deep sailor collar. The collar is often made of striped duck in two tones—blue and white, red and white, or yellow and white. When the collar is of the same material it should be trimmed with several rows of narrow braid. White sailor hats with black bands are worn with these costumes.

The shirt waist of which the pattern is given herewith is made of the natural ecru grass linen, with a white piping at the edge of the collar, centre pleat, and cuffs, and white pearl buttons on the front. It has large bishop sleeves. Cut the front and the back on the double lengthing it to the full dimensions. Stitch a false box-pleat down the right front and hem the left, and make two tucks, bringing the points together. Join the fronts and back at the waist in the space marked off. Finish the neck with the band and collar. Cut the bishop sleeves of the size and shape indicated; the piece from which each is cut is a yard and a quarter wide and thirty inches long, folded lengthwise through the middle; the sleeve is seventeen inches long at the seam and twenty-seven on the fold; the wrist is gathered to a narrow cuff with round corners.

Another waist illustrated is of the thinner linen batiste and is trimmed with black lace; a band of lace insertion is on the centre pleat, which has a lace-edged frill on each side.

The pleated neck frill illustrated is made of linen lawn in white and several pale tints, and is accompanied by cuffs to match. Another collar is composed of standing leaf-shaped points, and it also has cuffs to match.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, May 11th.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley of this city by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langely, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

It Was All Right.

An old lawyer who occupies an office on Griswold-street found a new tenant alongside him the other day—a stranger who had come to Detroit as an agent. The lawyer entered, introduced himself, learned that the tenant had leased for a year, and then said:

"We shall see considerable of each other, being so close together, and I should like an understanding in advance. If a bill collector comes up and asks for you what shall I say?"

"None will come, as I shall pay cash for all I get."

"Good! That is also my way. Will you want to borrow any money?"

"No, sir."

"Nor I, either. Want any one to back a note for you?"

"No, sir."

"Splendid! Liable to ask me to sign a bond?"

"No, sir."

"Magnificent! One more question: You dont want me to answer your telephone?"

"No, sir."

"Shake! We shall be the best of friends, and I hope you will stay for five years!"—M. Quad.

ELECTRICITY

Its marvellous advances.

An interview with a prominent electrician and inventor.

Mr. D. C. L. Ferguson, of the Eclipse Electric and Manufacturing Co'y, 211 Church st., Toronto, consented to be interviewed by our representative the other day. Mr. Ferguson said: "To see me now you would not fancy that I had undergone severe hardships and battled with disease, yet such is the case, and were it not for the events I am about to relate I would not now be able to prosecute further scientific researches.

"I have been troubled with my kidneys and liver for the past 10 years. During the last 4 years I have been growing worse rapidly, until I was almost unable to work. I have been treated by doctors and taken a large variety of medicine without benefit. I had constant pain across my back, at times almost unbearable, especially at night. My urine was wine color as if mixed with blood, and with much sediment, burning sensation when venting. I felt tired and dragged, and it was with the utmost effort I was able to work at all. Seeing the Doan Kidney Pill Co. advertisement, I thought I would try one box of their pills on the principle that it would do no harm to try again, so I got one from W. S. Robinson, Druggist, 532 Yonge st. I have not quite finished that first box, but am happy to say it has proved the best experiment of my life. I improved from the start and there has been a rapid improvement daily, until I am to-day a well man. Pain all gone. Urine natural in color, no sediment. I am stronger, and able to work as well as ever I did. I cannot be too thankful for the result of my trial of Doan's Kidney Pills. I would be glad to tell anyone who suffers as I have done, how I was before, and how I am after taking Doan's Kidney Pills, if they will call at my place."

VOLUNTEER VERSE.

The Muse Militant—Wise and Otherwise.

In view of the approaching military display in Peterborough on the Queen's Birthday, the following sketch by Lieut.-Col. Ponton, of the 15th Battalion, concerning well known military odes, is peculiarly appropriate and will be perused with interest. The Colonel opens as follows:—

"Everyone knows the inspiring influence of martial music and of the poetry of battle, of rhythmic feet, of loyal lines and words in war time and patriotic verse and speech even in peace time. The spirit of poetry never faileth. From Dibdin downward the songs of the sea have been abundant, and the army too has voiced its aspirations and chronicled its deeds in verse of marching cadence. But there is also room for humour in men of war, and the heat of India cannot dry up the fountain, as we know from Kipling's "Soldiers Three." But how few of us know more than a couple of consecutive lines of either the heroic or the light-veined poetry. The Echo has gathered some forty popular songs—an excellent idea—and I hope another issue will embalm some more songs more songs of the camp and bivouac (as well as of the boudoir, the bowery and the ball-room). Germany is not playing in our yard just now, but we can well understand the enthusiasm for "Fatherland" when "Die Wacht am Rhein—fest steht und treu" is sung. France is not exactly a hereditary friend of Britain, but even a Briton can respond to the stirring strains (if not to the ideas) of the "Marseillaise" and of "Partant pour la Syrie." What a grand experience it must have been to witness and feel such emotions as those of vast audiences in Britain lately, when, throbbing with the great pulse of the nation, the nation's songs were sung as never before. How we here respond to the grand old song:—

And long may the brave old banner wave on high
O'er mountain, river and sea,
As a beacon to friends and a terror to foes
Of our country so happy and free;
And if there's a despot that dares to defy
The glorious colours that ever shall fly,
He'll see that an Englishman knows how to die
For the Union Jack of Old England.

The flag that lights the sailor on his way,
The flag that fills our foes with dismay,
The flag that always carries the day,
The Union Jack of Old England.

Another song which, though some of the verses are devoid of literary polish, always reaches the heart and requires no invitation to join in the chorus, is the Maple Leaf.

In days of yore from Britain's shore,
Wolfe, the dauntless hero, came,
And planted firm Britannia's flag
On Canada's fair domain.
Here may it wave, our boast, our pride,
And joined in love together
The Thistle, Shamrock, Rose entwine
The Maple Leaf forever!

The Old Brigade, too, never fails to stir the memories and the pulses of the "Merry and True."

Then steadily shoulder to shoulder;
Steadily, blade to blade,
Ready and strong, marching along,
Like the boys of the Old Brigade!

Tommy Atkins is deservedly a most popular song, but the words I find are little known. That the sentiment as well as the tune is excellent, will appear from the following verses, which can be put in the front rank:

In war-time then it's Tommy to the front,
Or we ship him off in "Troopers" to the scene.
We sit at home while Tommy bears the blunt,
A-fighting for his country and his Queen.
And whether he's in Canada's fair land,
Or pouring out his blood in the Soudan,
To keep our flag a flying he's a doing and a dying;
Ev'ry inch of him a soldier and a man!

So Tommy, dear, we'll back you against the world
For fighting or for funning or for work,
Wherever Britain's banner is unfurled
To do your best and never, never shirk.
We keep the warmest corner in our hearts
For you, my lad, wherever you may be.
By the Union Jack above you, but we're proud of you and love you,
God keep you, Tommy, still by land and sea!

Rudyard Kipling thus quaintly expresses the fact that all round the world each day the martial bugle and drum of Britain sound reveille and tattoo in presence of the ensign that may have been tattered by the battle and the breeze, yet ever floats proudly:

Take hold of the wings of the morning
And flop round the world till you're dead.
You can ne'er get away from the tune that they play
To that bloomin' old rag overhead!

The origin of the word "jingo" is to be traced to the following chorus, written towards the close of the Russo-Turkish war in Lord Beaconfield's day. Perhaps had the balance of power not been so much insisted upon the Armenians would not have been massacred; but there does not seem to be much choice between Turkey and Charlotte Russe (in a national sense); neither is either worthy of a protective alliance:

"We don't want to fight, but, by jingo, if we do,
We've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too.
We've fought the Bear before, and while we're Britons true
The Russians shall not have Constantinople!"

The late Captain Irving, Adjutant of the 10th Grenadiers, wrote some excellent verse as "Maxwell Drew." I am not sure that "A Militiaman's Lament" recently published and satirizing the neglect of the Volunteers, was written by him, but it is very good as a parody on one of Kipling's pieces, even though it may suggest a mercenary spirit and remind one of the man of whom it was said, "And but for these vile guns he would himself have been a soldier!"

"And do I get some pay for this?" said Filer-on-Parade.
"If you're in luck, if you're in luck," the Colour-Sergeant said.
"I 'ear we're goin' by this 'year," said Filer-on Parade.
"Then you get your contry's gratitood" the Colour-Sergeant said.
"But sight drafts drawn on gratitood will hardly go at par.
And the Minister in Ottawa 'e dunno where 'e are.
For Canadian Tommy Atkinses declare from near and far,
They're goin' to quit the service in the mornin'."

The following lines which savour both of Attic salt and sea salt, are written from memory only, but are so appropriate to present international complications that the reader will perhaps excuse the fragmentary character of the reproduction of verses which were very popular especially in Navy circles when his late Teutonic Majesty was threatening to wipe the "tight little island set in the silver sea," off the map of the world.

"I was chewing of a quid as I ordernally did
On Sunday, for I think it sort of right,
When our gunner, Ben's his name, did quite suddenly exclaim,
And his exclamation was 'blow me tight!'
"Come listen to me, mates, this here Lloyd paper states
That we're going to fight them German foringeers."
Thereupon we tars, in spite of its being Sunday night,
Stood up and gave three hearty British cheers.
Well, we sailed away to meet this blooming German fleet.
Concerning which there'd been no end of jaw,
For in six short weeks they'd planned,
And built and launched and manned
The finest fleet a nation ever saw!

We steadied and took aim, then the word to fire came,
And a volley down the line of battle roared,
But they answered not, not a solitary shot,
As their ensign fluttered down beside the board.
Then our gunner up and spoke "Dern me if any smoke
Is coming from their chimney pots," says he.
All there gunners, all their stokers,
Lay as flat as kitchen pokers,
All a groaning from the bottom of their soul;
For all the precious crew, accustomed to the blue,
Were invalided when the ships began to roll,
Then Bismark we copied hanging pallid o'er the side
And Von Moltke sitting down beside a bowl.

So thus the battle ended, and the broken peace was mended,
And William when he ceases not to be,
Will die a sadder and a wiser, and more circumspect young Kaiser,
And a member of the Peace Societee!"

And so all's well that ends well, and this letter will have a peaceful ending. All soldiers in the battle of life realize the irony of "Peace, peace, when there is no peace," and all know the horrors of war as well as the honour of it

"Ay me! what perils do environ
The man that meddles with cold iron," wrote Hudibras ages ago. In the Canadian Mute (a model of typographica excellence and admirable composition) published at our Institute here, a Belleville poet thus ably answers an invitation from fellow professors in the States to come over and join or they will come over and take.

"Come on, our brother Johnston, with your hundred thousand men,
We'll meet them front to front and send them spinning back again.
We have wide and boundless prairies, and rich soil, as well they know,
And we'll give them all a welcome here above it or below.
They think that all the earth beside must yield to your big nation,
But that vain thought will never reach ma-te-ri-al-i-za-tion.
No, no, our brother Johnston, let's put war-like talk aside,
And strive to solve the problem how in peace we may abide;
And the solving will be easy when our angry thoughts subside,
And when the Anglo-Saxon race in bonds of love is tied,
Then here's our hand our brother still; let's shake and make amends;
Or if you like lip reading best, let's kiss (but for goodness' sake don't say a word about it to your patriotic American ladies, or they'll take our scalp) and be good friends."

"Blessed are the peace-makers," saith the nation militant, as well as the church militant. And what is writ is writ, would it be worthier.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion, because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

MONTREAL FEELING

Over the Sermon Preached by Bishop Lafleche.

HON. GEORGE W. ROSS AT LINDSAY

Able Support Rendered to Mr. McHugh, the Liberal Candidate—The Minister of Education Deals With the Tariff and School Questions—Other Campaign News.

Montreal, May 22.—The sole topic in political circles for the past two days has been the extraordinary sermon of Bishop Lafleche attacking the Liberal party and declaring that no one can vote for Mr. Laurier or any of his followers without committing grievous sin. It was expected that the Bishop would follow his usual course and take an active part in the election, but the violence of this attack was a surprise. How far he will be obeyed remains to be seen. His obstinacy in the matter of the construction of a church at Maskinonge a few years ago led to 40 of the people becoming Baptists. It was on account of the part he took in elections twenty years ago that the Holy See sent a delegate here to investigate. The result was that very positive orders came from Rome that Bishops and prelates were not to mix in politics. It was in consequence of the visit of Mgr. Conroy that the court of Rome ordered the division of the diocese into two parts, one being made the Bishopric of Nicolet, and this was regarded as the censure of the Vatican upon Mgr. Lafleche. It is to be feared that the cures of this diocese at least will disobey the orders of Rome and follow the example of their Bishop. A strong effort is being made to induce the Bishop of Sherbrooke to take a similar stand, as the following despatch from that town to an evening paper shows: "Hon. Mr. Desjardins was here yesterday closeted for some time at the Bishop's palace, and in the evening spoke at a meeting mostly of French-speaking electors in the Conservative organization's private hall. They are especially jubilant at the prospect that a position strongly favorable to their cause may be taken by some of the Catholic clergy here consequent upon the diplomatic visit of the Minister of Public Works."

MR. ROSS AT LINDSAY.

The Able Ontario Minister Speaks to a Great Crowd.

Lindsay, May 22.—As fine an audience as ever assembled in Lindsay, filled the opera house to-night and listened to an able enunciation of Liberal principles by Hon. George W. Ross. There was every possible manifestation of enthusiasm, both in regard to the Liberal cause so forcibly presented and to its worthy representative in South Victoria, Mr. George McHugh. Next to the powerful speech of the Minister of Education the feature of the evening was the exposure and condemnation of the method of canvass pursued by the Conservatives in South Victoria. Mr. McHugh, who is one of the most highly-respected men in this part of the country, happens to be a Roman Catholic, and this fact is ebeing employed as an argument why he should not be sent to Parliament.

The chairman, Mr. F. C. Taylor, a prominent Liberal and an estimable citizen, in his introductory remarks, paid a warm tribute to the speaker of the evening, who, he said, was no stranger to the people of Lindsay. The incidental mention of the name of Sir Oliver Mowat evoked the heartiest applause. Mr. Taylor congratulated the electors of South Victoria on having in Mr. McHugh and Dr. Vrooman two candidates of stainless character, but on public grounds he appealed to them to send Mr. McHugh, who would truly represent the views of his constituents.

Mr. Thomas, one of the veteran Liberals of South Victoria, and Mr. Ray, spoke briefly, after which Mr. McHugh discussed the issues of the day. He announced himself to be in sympathy with the Liberal policy regarding the Manitoba school question.

Mr. Ross was received with the greatest possible cordiality and his address was listened to with the closest attention. Frequent bursts of enthusiasm, especially when the name of the brilliant leader of the Liberal party was mentioned, punctuated the eloquent periods of the Minister of Education. Mr. Ross set out by commending the noble and self-reliant utterances of Mr. McHugh. He said that as a Protestant he was sorry that Mr. McHugh had been obliged to offer the defence he had been called upon to make. It should not be so, because it was not Protestantism as he understood it. True Protestantism was broader than the circumstances to which he had referred indicated. He had never believed any Liberal would say that Sir John Thompson should not be Premier of Canada because of his religion. What Canada wanted was capacity and loyalty to the country, and there should be no question of religion at all in it. The Minister then proceeded to examine the trade policies of the two parties and to expose the utter failure of the National Policy to implement the promises of its authors. The question was asked, how would the Government find a revenue to carry on the business of the country? The Conservatives said that the revenue must be found by a protective tariff; the Liberal party said that the revenue must be found by a revenue tariff. Commenting upon the scare cry of the Conservatives that a change of Government would result disastrously to Canadian industries, he asked if it was to be supposed that the Liberals, when they came into power, would destroy the industries in which their own capital was so extensively invested? The Liberal party would make no violent change in the tariff, but would follow the example of British statesmen in dealing with vested interests. The Liberal party purposed to abolish all duties on raw materials as far as the necessities of the revenue would permit. It was not possible at this time for Canada to have a free trade tariff. No man need try to get up a scare among the workingmen of Lindsay that the Liberal party would abolish all the duties. It could not abolish all of them; no matter what Government was in power there must be a high tariff, but there must be such a readjustment as would give the manufacturers free raw material, as would produce a revenue and as would lay the burden not upon the masses but upon the rich. Neither a protective nor a revenue tariff would give the farmer better prices for his grain. The prices under ordinary circumstances were regulated at Liverpool and in the markets of the world. But a revenue tariff would relieve the farmer of the high duties which were imposed for the purpose of feeding the combines and putting up artificially the price of the goods he bought.

Turning to the Manitoba school question he deplored the harsh and coercive policy pursued by Sir Charles Tupper. He reminded the audience that had they turned to the Book of Genesis they would have found an ancient precedent for conciliatory measures. The herdsmen of Lot and the herdsmen of Abraham had a dispute, when Abraham said: "Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee and between my herdsmen and thy herdsmen for we are brethren." If the man at the head of affairs in the Dominion of Canada were a man of Mr. Laurier's type and Sir Oliver Mowat's calibre he would have said to Mr. Greenway: "Let there be no strife between me and thee, between thy Protestant citizens and my Roman Catholic citizens, for we are brethren." That was the patriotic thing to say. So long as Sir Oliver Mowat was associated with Hr Laurier in the settlement of inter-provincial and other questions, no Roman Catholic or Protestant need be afraid that justice would not be done. He expressed the hope that in this riding the electors would not look upon this as a religious, but as a political question. Mr. Ross regretted that Sir Charles Tupper should have made the appeal contained in his remark about Mr. Laurier's nationality and faith.

Mr. Ross next dealt with the question of the expenditure and showed with what a prodigal hand the Government had wasted the money of the people. A tremendous cheer followed the conclusion of Mr. Ross' eloquent peroration.

FURNITURE MEN

Have Confidence in Mr. Laurier's Ideas of Justice and Fair Play.

The furniture manufacturers have issued an important manifesto in the form of an open letter to Mr. Laurier in which they endorse his trade policy. They say:

"Speaking for ourselves as manufacturers in one of the leading industries of Canada, we take this opportunity of assuring you that we believe you are so imbued with the spirit of justice and fair play that manufacturers in any branch of industry need have no fear that they will be treated unfairly in any readjustment of the tariff which may be made by any Government of which your are the head.

"We realize that the necessity for a large revenue to meet our heavy annual obligations demands such a rate of taxation as must afford to manufacturers a very reasonable protection for an indefinite time."

They proceed to point out some of the country's needs, which they believe Mr. Laurier is prepared to carry out:

(1) A more rigid and economical administration of public affairs.

(2) An honest Administration, guarding the public funds, and rendering impossible the scandals which have disgraced Canadian politics in recent years.

(3) An active immigration policy for the peopling of our great Northwest and the consequent extension of the home market for our manufacturers.

(4) The development of our mineral resources.

(5) A policy that will weld together rather than sow the seeds of dissension among the different creeds and nationalities that compose our population.

These are a few matters which suggest themselves to our minds, and it is because we have the highest regard for you as a statesman and an honorable politician that we feel that under your guidance the affairs of our country would be carried on in the best interests of the whole Dominion.

The manifesto is signed by the most prominent furniture manufacturers in Ontario.

MORE CONVERTS.

Mr. J. A. Chipman of Halifax has addressed a letter to The Ottawa Citizen, in which he details at length and in an able way why he has left the Conservative party. When men such as he cut loose from their old party there must be strong and convincing reasons, and Mr. Chipman ably sets them forth so far as relates to his own case. Mr. Forhan, another prominent business man of Halifax, has also joined the Liberals.

Mr. Laurier's meeting at Levis was a grand triumph, and it looks as if that town, with its Conservative majority of 500, has been completely won over. The county in which it is situated always sends a Liberal. Dr. Guay was the late member.

TESLA HAS TRIUMPHED.

His Light is Perfected The Human Heart Photographed Accurately—Lung Defects Discovered

New York, May 21.—Nikola Tesla has solved the problem which he set before himself many years ago, and which may revolutionize the system of electric lighting. It is, electrical experts say, the nearest perfect adaptation of the great force of nature to the use of man.

In Mr. Tesla's laboratory, in Houston-street, is a bulb not more than three inches in length, which, when the current turns into it becomes a ball of light. The heat is almost imperceptible. With it a very large room is so lighted that it is possible to read in any corner. Yet this is done without the attachments necessary in existing lights.

The rays are so strong that the sharpest photographs may be taken by them. No new dynamo is required to produce the current. The bulb is attached to a wire connected with the street current. There is no danger of harmful shock in its use.

Mr. Tesla has been working for many years on his theory of the necessity and the practicability of the conservation of electrical energy. The present incandescent light gives only three per cent. of illuminating power. The other ninety-seven per cent. is wasted in heat.

The bulb which he has perfected gives ten per cent. of light and loses ninety per cent. of energy. Mr. Tesla declares that he will, with the aid of a few more expriments, be able to produce forty per cent. of light, so that the waste will be reduced to only sixty per cent., or thirty-seven per cent. less than at present.

The principal of light is vibration. The illumination is secured by means of what Mr. Tesla terms a vibrating needle within a vacuum. The needle vibrates so rapidly that the figures per second sound imaginary, but it is this intensity of energy which gives the light its brilliancy and its apparent steadiness. The lights do not have to be renewed.

Friends who recently visited Mr. Tesla saw him photographed by means of his light. The exposure was but two seconds in the light of a single vacuum tube or bulb, without electrodes, having a volume of about ninety cubic inches. The light given was approximately 250 candle power. The photograph was as sharp in outlines as though it were taken in full sunlight.

Mr. Tesla has recently obtained many photographs in his study of the Roentgen ray. He has photographed the heart of one of his assistants so accurately as to note its expansions and its contractions, and he has also been able to locate defects in the lungs of several persons, the presence of tubercles being very evident.

The announcement of Mr. Tesla's discoveries created a genuine sensation at the Electrical Show last night and was the topic of conversation among the experts in the application of power.

WAS ROBERTS MURDERED?

The General Superintendent of a Pennsylvania Coal Company Dies From His Injuries.

Hazleton, Pa., May 22.—Griffiths Roberts, general superintendent of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Co., in this district, was found last night with his skull fractured near the Lehigh shops. He formerly worked for the company in a similar capacity in the Wilkesbarre district and was well-known. His skull was fractured evidently by a blunt instrument and he died this morning without recovering consciousness. His friends believe he was murdered. He was a member of several secret societies and was quite wealthy.

THE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATURE.

The Conservative party of West Peterborough saw fit to withdraw their first nomination of Mr. James Stevenson, the unanimous choice of the party and a member who, according to nomination speeches, had served the riding faithfully and had done nothing to forfeit the confidence of his party. After two weeks manipulation Mr. Stevenson is set aside and Mr. Kendry is brought out as a candidate in his stead, Mr. Stevenson being thus quietly pushed to the wall after having received the unanimous nomination. The local Conservative organ may see in this arrangement evidences of the beautiful harmony that exists in the party here, but the independent members of the party, who do not take their politics from the Review, are inclined to take a different view, and to furnish pretty practical evidence that the peace that was patched up at last Wednesday's convention is, after all, only skin deep. The electors who have always been in sympathy with Mr. Stevenson, feel that his being thrust aside for a gentleman, who, in the matter of service, has nothing like an equal claim upon the support of the party, is an act of ingratitude that it would be unmanly not to resent; they have reason to feel that Mr. Stevenson has been cast aside by the ringleaders on account of his being unacceptable to another wing of the party, and Mr. Stevenson being, by all odds, the stronger candidate of the two, there must have been some ulterior reason why he was set aside after having received the unanimous nomination; and why intrigue and "whips" were brought into play to oust one of the most active and energetic party workers the Conservatives of this riding ever had. The circumstances show that the spirit of the Conservative party, in setting aside a faithful worker when his usefulness for party purposes is considered to be gone, rises to the surface and brings the worst elements into play. Poor old Sir Mackenzie Bowell was knifed by his cabinet colleagues, who were sworn to be loyal to him; and his case is paralelled in West Peterborough. Mr. Stevenson has been knifed by his friends and set aside for reasons which the public can themselves supply.

With regard to Mr. Kendry's nomination, it seems to be perfectly unanimous on the surface, and the fact that Mr. Stevenson was persuaded to take his medicine with so good a grace, is to the credit of the skill of the wirepullers; yet while both he and Sir Mackenzie Bowell have obeyed the order to stand aside, they still have in their hearts a bitterness over the memory of party ingratitude, which in the late Premier's case is said to have found expression in tears.

So far as Mr. Kendry is personally concerned the EXAMINER has nothing in the way of objection to urge. He has been an enterprising and active citizen, and ambitious, as shown by the success he has gained in securing the nomination of the party over the head of a stronger candidate and one with stronger party claims. But, politically, he goes into the contest heavily handicapped. Mr. Stevenson with a smiling suavity, that barely concealed the little morsel of revenge that lurked beneath the surface, unloaded his political sins upon the friendly usurper of his place, when he submitted as evidence of the harmony that existed between himself and Mr. Kendry, that Mr. Kendry "endorsed all that he (Mr. Stevenson) had done at Ottawa." This was the unkindest cut of all—Mr. Kendry has political sins enough of his own, as a government candidate, without being loaded up the wrong way with the sins of Mr. Stevenson and sent forth into the wilderness of an election campaign, as Aaron sent forth the scapegoat burdened with the sins of the people into the rocky wilderness of Sinai. Mr. Kendry's load of responsibility in respect of the government record is quite enough. The last session of Parliament showed that there were too many Conservative members more concerned in looking out for themselves than for the welfare of the country and it cannot be expected that Mr. Kendry in dealing with the tariff will place the interests of the country before his own private interests. He will keep the duty high and see that his own business is protected, no matter how the public interests may suffer.

Mr. Kendry will "have to hump" to fit his back to the burden of Mr. Stevenson's position on the Manitoba school question. He will have to take a pretty sharp curve to turn his back on the position he assumed on the "equal rights" and anti-separate school campaigns of the recent provincial elections. Then in Ontario we had, as now, separate schools, guaranteed by the constitution, and, because Sir Oliver Mowat introduced legislation to make these schools as effective as possible, with a view of making the best possible citizens of Separate School pupils, Sir Oliver and his government were assailed with intolerant bigotry, as enemies of the state; and Mr. Kendry joined the band of assailants of the church and traducers of Pope, priest and convent, under the leadership of Mr. Carnegie, assisted by Mr. Dalton McCarthy, and "Mrs." Margaret L. Shepherd. We do not wish to accuse Mr. Kendry of being an eel, but he will have to display a good deal of the proverbial slipperiness of that unique "wobbler" of the natural world, if he wiggles himself out of every tight place, which the present campaign promises to provide without much seeking.

DECENCY IN PUBLIC DISCUSSION.

While not wishing to canvass at present the positions assumed by the speakers in the Opera House on Thursday night, we unhesitatingly assert that it is deplorable, that the speakers, one especially, were led into intemperate violence of language that cannot but have the effect of exciting all the latent bigotry of both the religious sections of the community, and tend to sow enmity between neighbours and to embitter the relations of citizens who have heretofore lived and done business together in harmony. One cannot, in one sense, blame the speakers; it is their stock in trade to deal out sentiments of such a nature, but the parties responsible for their presence are responsible for these utterances and for the crop of bitterness and strife and unneighbourly bickering which such language much need will arouse. The independent candidate was brought out by Conservatives—not the straight party Conservatives, but by disgruntled Conservatives, whose shoulders were so galled by the chafing of the government collar, that they could not pull in harness with the members of the machine element of the party; and for fear they would have to lose their votes or vote for a Liberal—an "independent" candidate must be brought into the field. Nine-tenths of Mr. Newman's backers are Conservatives and therefore it is to Conservatives that we owe the ignoring of the decencies of public discussion that marked many of the utterances heard at the Opera House on Thursday night, which were evidently made of extra strength in the hope of driving the Roman Catholic electors en masse to the side of the Conservatives, for, no matter how much a disgruntled Conservative of the all-wool school hates his old associates, he would hate worse to see a Liberal candidate succeed. The Liberals expect no favours at the hands of the independent candidate or his supporters. They know nothing about Mr. Newman, only the fact that the Conservatives, discontended or otherwise, brought him here for purposes that were doubtless sufficient to themselves.

A SAVED MAN'S CONFESSION!

"I AM PERFECTLY CURED."

Paine's Celery Compound, The Kind That Cures, Saves a Photographer's Life.

"The kind that cures.

This short sentence implies warning, comfort and joy; but there are some who do not fully grasp its depth of meaning.

"The kind that cures" refers directly to that marvelous disease-curing medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, the only medical prescription of the century that sick people can implicitly trust in and look to for the banishment of all nervous troubles, dyspepsia, neuralgia, rheumatism, and blood diseases.

"The kind that cures" warns you to be ever watchful, lest substitutes try to persuade you to take what they term something just as good. The continual anxiety of the substituting dealer is to sell you some worthless medicine from which he derives a large profit.

"The kind that cures" was the medicine used by Mr. Hubert Rainaud, of Roxton Pond, P. Q. After he was perfectly and completely cured, he wrote as follows:

"I desire to inform you in as few words as possible what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I was a photographer in the United States for 19 years, and was obliged to return to Canada in order to regain my health. I used all kinds of medicines that were recommended to me, but they brought me no relief or cure. My troubles were a very bad form of dyspepsia and rheumatism of the stomach. For ten years I was very miserable and suffered much. My wife bought me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, which I used with wonderful results. I continued until I used twelve bottles, and am now completely cured. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the great good your Paine's Celery Compound has done for me."

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Norwegian Balloon Expedition to the North Pole.

MR. OUIMET GAZETTED AS A JUDGE

The Queen's Birthday Proclamation - Personnel of This Year's Bisley Team - Directions for the Taking of the Manitoba Census - Personal and General Notes.

Ottawa, May 22.—Official notice is given in The Canada Gazette that the King of Norway is sending a balloon expedition to the North Pole, and all British subjects in Canada are requested to give the explorers, should an opportunity present itself, all help in their power. If the balloon be seen only, and no communication be had with the exploring party, it is requested that the following particulars be noted and communicated to some learned body, namely, the day and the hour in which the balloon was seen, the direction of the balloon and the direction of the wind. Should any accident befall the explorers, and should they arrive in any locality, having lost the balloon, the inhabitants are asked to give them all possible assistance.

Directions to the enumerators entrusted with the taking of the Manitoba census, commencing next Monday, are as follows: "Each page of enumerators' book is to contain the names of the inmates belonging to the house visited by the enumerator; transient visitors not to be taken; Indians not to be taken; children born after the census day, but before enumerators' visit, not to be taken; persons dying after day fixed for taking the census, but before the enumerators' visit, to be taken."

The appointment of Ezekiel McLeod of St. John, N.B., to a judgeship on the New Brunswick bench, vice Judge Tuck, appointed Provincial Chief Justice, will be gazetted to-morrow.

The appointments of Alex McKay of Hamilton to the Customs Inspectorship, and D. W. Davis of Alberta to be collector in Yukon, are also gazetted.

The Canada Gazette will contain also the following appointments: The Hon. Joseph Aldric Ouimet of the city of Ottawa, in the Province of Ontario, member of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada, and one of Her Majesty's counsel learned in law, to be puisne judge of the Court of Queen's Bench, in and for the Province of Quebec, vice Hon. Louis Francois George Baby, resigned.

The Bisley team, which sails for England on the 27th of June, will be composed of the following marksmen: Staff-Sergeant W. Harp, 48th Highlanders; Lieut. W. L. Ross, 13th Batt.; Lieut. A. D. Cartwright, 47th Battalion; Major W. C. McDonald, 48th Highlanders; Lieut. W. C. King, 45th Battalion; Lieut. T. Mitchell, 12th Battalion; Pte. M. D. Campbell, 45th Battalion; Pte. C. Armstrong, 10th Royal Grenadiers; Sergt. C. R. Crowe, 1st B.G.A.; Quartermaster-Sergt. John Ogg, 1st B.G.A.; Pte. T. H. Hayhurst, G.M., 13th Battalion; Sergt. T. Mitchell, 13th Battalion; Capt. J. H. McRobbie, 8th Hussars; Sergt.-Major S. J. Higgins, 13th Battalion; Lieut. J. L. Weller, 59th Battalion; Lieut. R. P. Bent, 93rd Battalion; Capt. R. J. Spearing, 53rd Batt.; Pte. Langstroth, 74th; Pte. Neill, 71st, and Lieut. Runions. The commandant of the team is Lieut.-Col. Stark of Montreal, and the adjutant, Major Bruce of the Royal Grenadiers, Toronto. Col. Bacon, secretary of the D.R.A., considers the teams of 1896 about the best that ever represented the Dominion.

At the general meeting of the Ontario Bank shareholders in June the proposal will be made to reduce the capital stock from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000.

F. E. Kilvert leaves to-morrow for Hamilton. John McDougall, the new commissioner, commenced his duties in the department to-day.

The Controller of Customs was interviewed to-day by Mr. Gibson of Toronto, who urged that a medicinal preparation of his be continued on the lists of extracts rather than rated as proprietary medicine for customs purposes.

The Department of Public Works has received several tenders for the construction of two steel barges to be used as tenders to the new dredge recently constructed in Quebec by Messrs. Carriers, Laine & Co.

The World's Fair medals and diplomas which were promised for this week have not yet been received from Washington, and fears are expressed at the Department of Agriculture that this latest promise of an early delivery is on a par with the broken promises of the past two years.

Application for letters patent of incorporation has been made by the Windsor Salt Co., capital $200,000, and the Montreal Lithographing Co., capital $50,000.

Mr. Haggart left Ottawa to-day to make a trip of inspection over the Soulanges Canal works.

The arbitration on the Dominion and Provincial accounts meets again about the 6th of June. The weightier matters in dispute have already been decided, mainly in favor of the Federal Government, and but few claims of any importance remain to be dealt with.

Contractor Goodwin's claim for $73,000 on the Soulanges Canal work will be heard in the Exchequer Court early next week. This is a claim which Sir Hibbert Tupper allowed against the ruling of Sir John Thompson, and the evidence of the Engineers, Railways and Canals Department. The opinion among contractors is that Goodwin has a likely case.

Around the World on a Bike.

New York, May 22.—Albert Fack, a bicycle enthusiast, of Hanover, Germany, arrived here to-day on the steamer Fuerst Bismarck. He is on his way around the world on a bicycle. He has already wheeled his way in France, Spain and Germany, and has travelled to date 7,750 miles. He will leave in a few days for San Francisco. He is 20 years old.

IT STRIKES HOME!

Chase's Ointment Cures All Skin Irritations.

GRACIE ATTON.

Of the many skin diseases, eczema is one of the worst and most common. The one effective remedy so far discovered for it is Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. Mr. Andrew Alton, of Hartland, N.B., says: "My little daughter, Grace Ella, aged three and a half, was a dreadful sufferer from eczema for three years. We tried a number of alleged cures and several doctors, but all without effect. Her's was indeed a bad case. Her little body was entirely covered with rash. One day our local druggist, Mr. Wm. E. Thistle, recommended me to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I did so, and four boxes effected a complete cure and saved our child."

Dr Chase's Ointment is just as effective for piles, salt rheum and sores of all descriptions. For sale by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto; price 60 cents.

There is nothing to equal Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for severe colds and lung troubles. Large bottle 25 cents.

A NEW SUNDAY DRESS.

Cost Only Ten Cents.

A lady who understands the use and value of Diamond Dyes writes as follows: "I had a light blue dress, made of expensive material, but so light in shade that it faded quickly. It was too good to be cast aside, so one evening I took it to a dyeing establishment, and was surprised when they told me they would dye it some dark colour for two dollars. I did not care for dark colours, so I took it home again. The next day I bought a package of Diamond Dye, and coloured it a beautiful Cardinal Red, and it now looks just like new, so that I now have a new dress for Sundays, and it only cost ten cents."

TROUBLE MAY FOLLOW YET.

An Ugly Feeling Still Exists Over the Sentence on Transvaal Prisoners.

Cape Town, May 22.—The ugly feeling among the public here against the imposition of a sentence of 15 years' imprisonment upon the leaders of the Johannesburg Reform Committee who were originally condemned to death is increasing, upon its becoming known that the prison rules are strictly enforced in their cases, and that the condition of the prisoners is unworthy of Kaffirs, and a positive outrage upon civilization.

NO OFFER TO IAN MACLAREN.

Author-Preacher Has no Proposition from the Broadway Tabernacle.

London, May 22.—The Rev. Dr. Watson "Ian McLaren" is now on a lecture tour in Ireland, but it has been ascertained that no offer has yet been made to him of the pastorate of the Broadway Tabernacle. Therefore the matter has not come under his serious consideration.

Mr. Watson goes to America in September on a lecturing and preaching tour, and will deliver several lectures at Yale University.

It is deemed improbable that he will definitely settle in New York, as it is known that his wife is strongly opposed to such a change.

FELL DOWN TO HIS DEATH.

Robert Armstrong, a Kingston Man, Killed by Falling From a Scaffold.

Ottawa, Ont., May 22.—Robert Armstrong, a laborer, living on Second-avenue, died in the Water-street Hospital at about 11 o'clock this morning as a result of injuries he received about an hour before by falling from a scaffolding on a new house being erected at the corner of Second-avenue and Elgin-street. Armstrong was about 40 years of age and a native of Kingston.

A SLICK BANK BURGLAR

Is "Count" Max Shinburn, But He Will Be Four Years Now.

Albany, N.Y., May 22.—"Count" Max Shinburn, one of the most daring bank burglars, and who during his career has stolen upwards of five millions of dollars from the banks of this country and Europe, was to-day convicted on the charge of burglary in the second degree in breaking into the Middleburg National Bank, Schoharie County, and was sentenced to four years and eight months in Dannemora. A sheriff from New Hampshire was at Schoharie all during the trial, and was ready with papers to arrest Shinburn in case the jury should acquit him on the Middleburg charge.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone whomsoever. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 230 eodw Delray Mich.

VITALITY in MEN Restored

Failing Sexual Strength in Old or Young Men can be QUICKLY and PERMANENTLY cured by me to a healthy, vigorous state. Sufferers from

Nervous Debility
Weakness
Varicocele

and all wasting diseases, should write to me for advice.

I have been a close student for many years of the subject of weakness in men, the fact is, I was a sufferer myself. Too bashful to seek the aid of older men or reputable physicians, I investigated the subject deeply and discovered a simple but most remarkably successful Remedy that completely cured me, and fully enlarged me from a shrunken, stunted condition to natural size and strength. I want every young or old man to know about it. I take a personal interest in each case, and no one need hesitate to write me, as all communications are held strictly confidential. I send the recipe of this remedy absolutely free of cost. Do not put it off, but write me fully at once, you will always bless the day you did so. Address,

Cattle Break Into a Garden.

A herd of ten cattle broke into the Nicholls Hospital grounds last evening and did a great deal of damage. The cattle were not impounded but warning is given that the parties owning such cattle will be sued for all damage committed in future. Mr. Head is justly incensed over the harm wrought the garden upon which he bestowes so much attention.

Should be Punished.

Some narrow minded individuals have, on three different occasions, recently, broken the windows in the Roman Catholic church at Havelock, and the congregation are offering a reward for information of the guilty parties. We sincerely hope that they will be caught and dealt with as they deserve. The authorities should put a firm check on this sort of conduct at once.

CHEMONG PARK POINTERS.

The Road is now Clear of Loose Stones for the Wheel.

As the result of a subscription taken up amongst the wheelmen, a gang of men started out from Chemong yesterday to clear the road of loose stones, and before night reached the Gilmour's memorial church. They expect to finish the work by to-night. The raking off of the stones should contribute a great deal towards making Chemong a most popular resort with the wheelmen. The council, it is understood, is to be petitioned at its next session, to cut all the bills by at least ten feet, and by placing the gravel thus removed at the bottom, the grades will be greatly modified.

Queen's Birthday Concert.

Lovers of music, both instrumental and vocal, will be given an opportunity of enjoying a rare treat, on Monday evening, 25th inst, when a concert will be given in the Opera House, by the combined choirs of the town, assisted by the military bands of Belleville and Peterborough, and Mr. Thos. Dunn, the popular baritone. The programme will be one of the most attractive, presented to a Peterborough audience in years, and those who appreciate a "good thing," should make it a point to attend.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

How the Day Will be Spent in Peterborough.

The train which brings in the military from Belleville to-night will unload at the grounds at about ten o'clock, the volunteers thereby being saved a long march.

At half-past nine Sunday morning both battalions march to Court House Park, where services will be conducted by Rev. M. W. McLean, of the Belleville battalion, and Rev. Dr. Torrance. The service will be concluded in time for the men to attend the other churches, if they wish.

In the afternoon the camp in the Agricultural Grounds will doubtless be visited by hundreds of visitors.

After church, in the evening, a sacred concert will be given, by the bands of both battalions, in the Court House Park.

On Monday morning a grand parade of both battalions, accompanied by their bands, pioneer and ambulance corps, etc., will take place at ten o'clock. In the afternoon a splendid programme of sports will be run off at the Driving Park, and in the evening a concert will be given by both bands and a chorus of the town choirs, in the Opera House. During the evening the local officers entertain the officers of the visiting Battalion to a banquet at the Huffman.

—A baby carriage and several parcels of clothing have been left at the police station to be forwarded to the families who were burned out at Auburn last week.

—The eighth annual meeting of the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec will be held in Montreal from May 26th to June 2nd. Representatives from Peterborough will be present.

—The Ontario crop bulletin says that some farmers who refused to sell hay at $12 and $14 a ton in the winter, when hay was scarce, are now glad to dispose of it at $8 and $9 a ton.

—After chalking down guileless citizens for subscriptions to baseball, lacrosse, cricket and other games, Port Hope boys have exercised their ingenuity, and are now on the hunt for subscriptions to a junior boys' fire brigade.

—Another change in Grand Trunk circles, under the new management, is that of the name. In future, the large railway corporation will be known as the "Grand Trunk System," instead of as in the past, the Grand Trunk Railway.

—A telegram was received here to-day that the body of the late Barney Cook, which was to have been interred here at 3 o'clock on Sunday, will not come to Peterborough, as it was interred at Cook's Mills, Algoma, yesterday.

—The Belleville people know a good thing when they hear of it. To-day, the Peterborough Bookstore shipped a substantial packing box full of wall paper, window blinds and cornice poles to the Bay City. This is an outcome of the great special May sale of these goods, which is attracting so much attention all over the district—

Covers were laid for ten and the decorations were lilacs and violets."

VICTORIA.

We hail the Twenty-fourth of May,
Whose smiling rays all lands adorn;
With loyal hearts we keep the day
On which our noble Queen was born,
As worthy of immortal fame,
With grateful love we speak that name—
Victoria.

Through this another changeful year
The smile of heaven on her has shone,
And made that righteousness appear
Which is the bulwork of her throne:
In distant lands her subjects write
That name in which they all delight—
Victoria.

May long-continued days of peace
Be granted to our gracious Queen;
May loyalty and love increase
And perfect unity be seen;
May all her subjects true and brave
On loving hearts this name engrave—
Victoria.

In her at life's fair eventide
May faith and joy in triumph meet;
May grace divine with her abide
To make her life and work complete;
When she her earthly throne must leave,
May shining hosts in heaven receive—
Victoria.

When men in coming years shall read
The record of this present age,
Of those renowned in life and dead,
Whose names adorn the glowing page,
All proofs of worth shall these combine
To make this name the brightest shine—
Victoria.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH OF MAY.

Come to-morrow, May 24th, Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, will have completed the seventy-seventh year of her life and, within a month the sixtieth year of her long and beneficent reign. And in every quarter of the globe thousands of her happy subjects will be rejoicing over the momentous anniversary. All in Canada join in the jubilation with more than the reason of our love for the person of the Queen. From the accession of Queen Victoria Canada may fairly date the dawn of the civil and, even of the religious liberty, whose blessings we today enjoy. When she came to the throne in 1837 Canada was in the throes of a new birth. She was shaking off the shackles of an effete and tyrannical Toryism, which by long lease and strong abuse of power had become the engine of oppression and the type of self agrandizement at the expense of the popular rights. And we, who to-day, who are enjoying the blessings of responsible Government, which were unknown sixty years ago, have peculiar reason for rejoicing over another birthday of a sovereign among whose first gifts to Canada was the great boon of civil and religious liberty as represented by responsible government; for, sixty years ago Canadians were political serfs, taxed without a voice in the expenditure of their taxes, compelled to contribute to the support of a state church whether they subscribed to its tenets or not. To-day we are in the midst of a struggle that will show how we value these privileges which came to us in the first hours of the Queen's reign.

The Queen has every form of claim to the respect and love of her subjects. Personally she has lived a life of stainless virtue, a model to the best, as virgin, wife and mother. As a ruler she has been the best that has ever sat on Britain's throne, as her reign promises to be the longest of any sovereign of the British realm. She came to the throne in a time of great political unrest, when the very continuance of the monarchy was a theme of discussion. But under her wise rule, under her wise choice of, and faithful deference to, wise counsellors, we had and have results, as suggested by these lines of Lord Tennyson:—

And statesmen at her Council met
Who knew the seasons when to take Occasion by the hand, and make
The bounds of freedom wider yet.

By shaping some august decree,
Which kept her throne unshaken still
Broad-based upon her people's will,
And compass'd by the inviolate sea."

Queen Victoria's reign has been marked by marvellous progress in every department of human activity, material, political, religious, moral and social; and when the history of the world is written by an impartial hand it will be recorded as one of the longest, wisest and most beneficient the world ever knew up to the year of grace 1896. It is therefore no idle formality to celebrate with enthusiasm the recurring anniversary of Her Majesty's birthday, and, as we look back on the past, it is with as much thanksgiving as confiding hope, that we sing with heart and voice,

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

Mile Posts.

Mr. W. J. Wattam, of Oak Hall, Peterborough, was in Bobcaygeon on Tuesday, having placed Mile Posts between his establishment and that village. He had a tested cyclometer to his bicycle, which made the distance between Oak Hall and the Rockland, nearly 25 miles. It was always considered to be only 21. For the first ten miles, each mile is marked and after that every two miles. Whilst being a good advertisement for Oak Hall, the posts are a public convenience.

Norwood Reform Association.

At a meeting of the Norwood Liberal Association, held at W. A. F. Campbell' office on Friday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

President.—H. G. Buck.
Vice-President.—Chas. O'Reilly.
Secretary.—W. A. F. Campbell.
Treasurer.—P. W. Reynolds.
Executive Committee.—W. E. Roxburgh, P. W. Stevenson, Jas. McNicol, James Pengelly and T. H. Squire.

It was resolved to hold very shortly a public meeting here at which Hon. Wilfred Laurier and other leaders are expected to speak. All arrangements were made for a vigorous campaign in the district.

MR. JOHN LANG'S THIRD MEETING.

ANOTHER HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL GATHERING.

Addresses by Mr. Lang—By Mr. Dennistoun for Mr. Burnham, and by Mr. Stratton for Mr. Lang—A Large Gathering of Electors.

A highly successful meeting in the interests of Mr. John Lang, the Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, was held on Friday evening in the Keene town hall, which was filled with a large and intelligent assemblage of electors.

MR. LANG.

Mr. J. M. Drummond occupied the chair, and opened the meeting with a few preliminary remarks, after which Mr. Lang delivered an excellent address of an hour's duration in which he gave his reasons why the policy of the present government was not in the interest of the farmers who comprised the bulk of the electors of East Peterborough, and his reasons why he appeared as an Independent Liberal—pledged to support such measures only as would be of interest to the country. He dealt briefly but clearly with the rapid and extravagant increase of the annual expenditure and the accompanying enormous increase of the national debt, which had increased over a hundred millions since the present party came into power. He vigorously condemned the calling of a sixth and unnecessary session of parliament which involved an enormous expense. Dealing with the Senate he favoured its abolition unless its constitution were so amended as to bring it in harmony with representative institutions by making it elective. He showed up strongly the abuses of the superannuation system by which party friends in the prime of life were retired to make room for other hungry followers, and pensioned by sums that were in some cases equivalent to large salaries. Mr. Lang also pointed out the corrupt methods that characterized almost, if not quite, every department of administration, and exposed the iniquity of the gerrymander and franchise acts as corrupt means of robbing the people indirectly of the freedom of the franchise. The condition of the farmer under the National Policy was dealt with and Mr. Lang concluded a capital address, which had been well received and heartily applauded.

MR. DENNISTOUN.

Mr. Dennistoun, on behalf of Mr. John Burnham, followed, and adhered to the policy laid down by Mr. Burnham, that of a higher rate of protection to manufacturers, the farmers and working man being left to shift for themselves, and the coercion of Manitoba, justifying the latter on the grounds that the Remedial Bill must be passed in spite of provincial rights. He also defended the public debt on the ground that it was incurred in the erection of great public works, but forgot to defend the waste of millions of boodled dollars, that had been perpetrated in the erection of such works. He asked the electors to support Mr. Burnham on the head of his coercion policy and higher taxation.

MR. STRATTON.

Mr. Stratton followed and pointed out the different misleading and false promises with which the Conservative party on several occasions had appealed to the country, which promises had not been fulfilled in any respect, and that now the attention of the public was this time attempted to be diverted from their record of misrule and extravagance by another question, which, but for their desire to risk even the permanency of Confederation for party benefit, would not, as it should not have been, a political question at all. He pointed out that, while their policy was that of commercial freedom, that of the Conservatives was one of restriction and trade strangulation, and that, while he believed that the tariff was a help in a certain lines of manufacture, which he instanced, these lines were able to combine to keep up prices and thus rob the people of the country. He believed that the tariff should be so arranged that prices would be lessened and at the same time be an assistance to the majority of the industries of Peterborough. The making of the raw material practically free, and a revenue tariff sufficient to meet the public expenses would give to the manufacturer a better chance of holding the home market and would at the same time give to the workingmen the employment involved in the production of these articles which, under the present system, they do not get. As it was, the people were compelled to pay exorbitant duties on the raw material, and the inequalities of the tariff was unsatisfactory to many lines which were said to enjoy protection, and therefore tended to produce dullness and stagnation in trade. The large number of manufacturers outside of the combines, that were supporting the Liberal policy showed conclusively that that policy commended itself strongly to those manufacturers who were not in the ring. Mr. Stratton also pointed out the burdens the people were bearing in paying one third of the annual revenue in interest, the exorbitant duty on coal oil and the rice monopoly, the injurious effects of the iron duties and the manner in which the cotton, wool and other combines were bleeding the taxpayer. Coming to the Manitoba school question Mr. Stratton said that the facts of the case could simply be put into a nutshell. The rights of the minority, no matter what they were, as conferred by the Manitoba Act, had not been at all affected by existing legislation—these rights existed in perpetuity—but in 1871 the Manitoba Government gave certain privileges to the Roman Catholic minority in granting them Separate Schools, which nineteen years later it withdrew. The competency of the Government of Manitoba to repeal the act of 1871 was confirmed by the Privy Council committee. Upon the passage of the Manitoba Act of 1890 to which the whole discussion is directed, an appeal was made to the Parliament at Ottawa, which had special powers to review provincial educational legislation when it affects the privileges of minorities. This was where, Mr. Stratton said, the Liberals differed from the Conservative party. The Liberals contended that the Government should there and then have set itself seriously at work to get at all the facts; whether the Manitoba Government, by repealing its own legislation which it had the right and power to do, according to the Privy Council, and enacting the school law of 1890, had brought about a state of affairs so intolerably offensive to the Roman Catholic minority as to require and justify intervention. It was, he said, simply a question of fact, and the Liberal party for the past four years had been urging investigation and a policy of conciliation upon the Dominion Government. The legal power of the government to interfere was admitted; but the question as to whether the right to use that power is brought into operation by the conditions actually existing in that province, was to be decided by investigation which should have been employed to obviate the necessity of the agitation that is now convulsing the country. It was claimed by the government supporters that Remedial Legislation was compulsory and ordered by the Privy Council of England, and it was contended by the Government of Manitoba that the school law of that province was not, in their opinion, unjust and that they were ready and willing to amend it in any particular wherein it may be shown in any degree to do violence to the consciences of the minority. On three different occasions the government of Manitoba held out the olive branch, and the Ottawa Government had been invited to make a complete investigation of the facts. But the Dominion Government has brusquely and positively declined to assent to any investigation. If the necessity for the coercion of Manitoba was so urgent, would it not have been desirable for the Federal Government, and in the interest of the Conservative party, to have nailed the Manitoba Government by giving to the public the reasons why coercion instead of conciliation was adopted! Considerable time has elapsed since Manitoba made overtures of peaceful settlement, and there was no doubt, the speaker said, that at the present time there was a very strong feeling of sympathy with Manitoba, and against over-riding Manitoba by force, especially when similar questions of school difficulty in other provinces had been settled without the interference of the Dominion Government. Had the course Mr. Laurier recommends been adopted, in all probability the Manitoba school question would have long since been settled to the satisfaction of all reasonable men. But the Government, which assumes to have a strong case, refused to submit it to the test of an independent judgment; it preferred to treat Manitoba as an enemy and to adopt the anti British policy of force. If the government programme succeeds it would be the cause of creating still further feelings of antagonism between provincial and federal authorities, and if Manitoba resists coercion that province was likely to have the sympathy and support of the majority of the people of Ontario, and a war of creeds and races would be engendered, and injury to confederation occasioned. There could be no permanent settlement of this question except upon the lines advised by Mr. Laurier and approved of by the Manitoba government, as shown by its repeated invitations to investigation. A full investigation by a competent commission, and legislation in accordance with the findings of that commission, was to his mind the only reasonable and wise solution of the difficulty. The Liberal party were opposed to coercion and they desired an investigation and a permanent solution of the trouble. The Conservative party desired coercion and a war of race and creed. The applause which greeted Mr. Stratton at the close of his address, showed that the audience was warmly in sympathy with his sentiments.

Mr. T. Blezzard closed by a brief speech of fifteen minutes duration. He asked how a nest of traitors, conspirators and boodlers could be expected to wisely govern and make a happy country and instil confidence in the Canadian people.

The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, the Liberal leaders and Mr. Lang.

Sleeplessness, Mental and Physical Fatigue

Go hand in hand. The waste of the body that ought to be restored by rest and sleep suffers increasing diminution; then loss of strength and vigor of body and mind follows. It is in this class of diseases that the marvellous properties of Maltine with Coca Wine are most markedly exhibited. It penetrates to the very source of vital action, inasmuch as the nerve centres are impressed by its medicinal power and the digestive functions stimulated to increased and more efficient action. This imparts to the whole system the much needed impetus, the nerves are soothed from a state of irritability to one of repose—sleep, with all its beneficent influences, comes back to lend its aid to the process of restoration. Digestion keeps pace with the improvement of appetite, and in a short time the nervous, miserable sufferer regains his old-time vigor and the capability to enjoy life and all it affords. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

Do not see as well as they should. Others see well but their eyes soon become tired. Others suffer with constant headache which medicine does not relieve, because the headache comes from eye strain.

The proper remedy is a pair of Good Glasses, Properly Fitted.

If for any reason your sight is not good, an examination will not cost you anything. We have the appliances and the knowledge necessary to fit any that eye glasses will help.

Can show you something very choice in Gold Rimmed Spectacles and Eyeglasses.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering with some disease o. derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and discomfort seem less. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The effects of such disorders are not limited to mere local discomforts but extend over the whole body. Perhaps the nerves are most affected, and this in turn disturbs the digestion. After that there is no telling what form the trouble may take. With irritable nerves and poor digestion, a woman is on the straight road to the grave Women are notoriously negligent in matters pertaining to their health. Too many of them understand too little about their own physical make-up. They do not understand their possibilities or their limitations, and they do not know enough about themselves to know when a symptom is really serious and when it is not. This naturally makes them overlook the plainest of danger signals. The start of everything is simple. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It affords immediate and lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting physicians.

The whole story of the "Favorite Prescription," and what it has done for thousands of women is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This is a 1008 page book, profusely illustrated, written in plain language for the use of every-day people, and gives in a clear and lucid way an immense amount of valuable information about health and medicine. It will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only.

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

HOW A CUMBERLAND CO., N. S., MAN OBTAINED IT.

A Sufferer From Acute Dyspepsia and a Complication of Troubles Following an Attack of La Grippe—He was Forced to Quit Business and was Hopelessly Discouraged When Help Came.

From the Amherst, N. S., Sentinel.

Mr. Chas. Tucker, who lives about two miles from Lockport, is one of the best known men in that section. He is engaged in business as a lobster packer, and a dealer in flour and salt, and in addition has a fine farm. During the past three years Mr. Tucker has been almost a constant invalid, being the victim of a complication of troubles following a severe attack of la grippe. Recently he has been restored to his old time health and having learned that he gave the entire credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, concerning which so much has been said through the press, a reporter interviewed him in the matter, and was cheerfully given his story for publication. Mr. Tucker said:—"About four years ago I had a severe attack of la grippe, which left me in a fearful condition. I had for a number of years before this attack been a sufferer from dyspepsia, but following the la grippe it took a more acute form, and to add to my distress my liver appeared not to perform its usual function, and my heart troubled me greatly, and there were as well other complications which baffled the skill of four doctors whom I successively called in in the hope of regaining my health. From the knees down my legs were as cold as ice; my bowels would bloat from bad to worse, despite the medical treatment I was undergoing, and at last I got so bad that I was forced to give up business. I could hardly eat anything, got but little sleep at night, and as you will readily understand my condition became one of despair. My father urged me several times to give Dr. Williams's Pink Pills a trial, but I was so discouraged that I had no further faith left in any medicine. However, more to please him than from any hope of beneficial results, I began the use of Pink Pills. The first beneficial effects I found was that the warmth and natural feeling began to return to my limbs, my bowels ceased to bloat, and with the continued use of the pills my appetite returned. I slept soundly at night, and the action of my heart again became normal. I continued taking the Pink Pills until I had used in all fifteen boxes, and I have not felt better in years than I do now. I did some particularly hard work last fall, and was able to stand it with a strength and vigour which surprised me. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, not only a wonderful medicine, but also in the light of what my other treatment cost, the least expensive medicine in the world, and I strongly recommend Pink Pills to all in need of a medicine.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills act directly upon the blood and nerves, building them anew and thus driving disease from the system. There is no trouble due to either of these causes which Pink Pills will not cure, and in hundreds of cases they have restored patients to health after all other remedies had failed. Ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and take nothing else. The genuine are always enclosed in boxes, the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." May be had from all dealers, or sent post paid on receipt of 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Very Lively Debate in the British Commons.

CLOSURE VIGOROUSLY APPLIED.

The Members Hammered Away All Night and Finally Passed the Agricultural Rating Bill—Matters in the Transvaal Still Look Ugly—Mrs. Dyer's Trial.

London, May 22.—The House of Commons was still sitting at noon, having been in continuous session since 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Balfour, the Government leader, refused to adjourn until the Agricultural Rating bill had passed the committee stage.

The Radicals moved a good many amendments to the bill, and these, after discussion, were brought to a vote by closure, with the result of their rejection by an approximate vote of 192 to 64. The clauses of the bill were then adopted in their entirety by the same majority.

Sir William Harcourt, the leader of the Opposition, at 7 o'clock this morning, protested against Mr. Balfour's high-handed use of closure, which, he said, had been a sinister feature of the conduct of the business in the House since the opening of the session. This declaration was received with cheers by the Opposition and caused a great uproar among the Ministerial members.

Henry Broadhurst, Liberal, at 9 o'clock this morning asked that the House adjourn for two hours in order to enable members to get breakfast, the larder of the House of Commons kitchen having become exhausted, but Mr. Balfour refused to agree to this. The attendance of members increased during the forenoon. The amendment to clause 7 was rejected by a vote of 206 to 77, and clauses 7 and 8 were adopted at 1 o'clock.

The House adjourned at 1.30 p.m. During the sitting 33 divisions were taken, When the Agricultural Rating bill passed the committee the cheering was loud and long. The adjournment was taken until June 1.

IS MRS. DYER INSANE?

There Are Experts in Britain Who Think This Wholesale Murderess is Simply Dodging the Gallows.

London, May 22.—The trial of Mrs. Annie Dyer, the baby farmer, who, with her son-in-law, Albert E. Palmer, was recently arrested at Reading, charged with wholesale murder of infants entrusted to her care, the bodies of a number of them having been found in the river, took place in the Criminal Court, Old Bailey, to-day. The woman was indicted yesterday, and the jury to-day brought in a verdict of guilty, whereupon the court sentenced her to death. On May 16 Mrs. Dyer was judicially declared insane upon the strength of an examination by an expert connected with the Home Office, and in the course of the trial to-day a number of experts were called to the witness stand to testify for and against her plea of insanity. Experts designated by the Home Secretary will now examine Mrs. Dyer as to her state of mind, which examination will be final, and if she is found by them to be sane she will be hanged.

ALL ARE AGAINST IT.

The Decision of the Transvaal Council is Most Unpopular.

London, May 22.—The Telegraph will to-morrow publish a despatch from Pretoria dated Thursday which dilates upon the excitement and indignation growing out of the sentences imposed upon the members of the Johannesburg Reform Committee. The Volksstem, the despatch adds, is the only paper that approves of the decision of the Executive Council in the matter. The Telegraph Department refuses to handle messages referring to the political situation.

Another despatch dated Friday states that the situation is improving. The papers generally appeal to President Kruger to exercise further clemency towards the prisoners.

Elsewhere it is stated that Gen. Joubert, commander of the Transvaal forces and a member of the Executive Council, was the chief opponent of clemency to the prisoners.

A Royal Funeral.

Vienna, May 22.—The funeral of Archduke Carl Ludwig, brother of Emperor Francis Joseph, who died May 19, took place to-day. The services were simple and without pomp. The remains were deposited in the Imperial vault in the Capucin's Church. The Emperor and the other members of the Imperial family, with the exception of Archduke Franz, whom the doctors forbade to attend, were present, as were also a number of foreign princes, diplomats and ministers. A large crowd attended the services.

TORTUES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, Arkwright, Ont., says: I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed, and could neither sleep nor rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle, and after taking about the half of it I found myself recovering, and after continuing it for some time I recovered, but when the cold weather set in this winter I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared, and I consider that I am entirely cured.

EXCITEMENT AT PRETORIA

Over the Heavy Sentences Imposed Upon the Johannesburg Reformers.

London May 21.—The Times will to-morrow print a long despatch from Pretoria, detailing the excitement arising from the heavy sentences imposed upon the members of the Reform Committee. The despatch says that the wildest kind of talk is indulged, and that the situation is critical. The foreign residents of the Transvaal are dismayed. They are convinced that Great Britain will not meddle with their affairs or with the sentences of the prisoners.

Mrs. Dyer Indicted.

London, May 21.—Mrs. Annie Dyer, the baby farmer, who with her son-in-law, Albert E. Palmer, was recently arrested at Reading for the murder of a number of infants, some of whose bodies were found in the river, was formally indicted for murder in the criminal court, Old Bailey, to-day. Mrs. Dyer was judicially declared insane a few days ago.

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. THE SPORTING WORLD.

Speculation as to the Queen's Plate Winner—Baseball News.

The Ontario Jockey Club will throw open its gates to the public at Woodbine Park to-morrow afternoon. The feature of the card for the opening day, in public opinion of course, is the Queen's Plate, which on paper appears to be a very open race. Of the various candidates that will sport silk for this historic event to-morrow, nearly all have worked the distance in about the same notch, and therefore on their work it is difficult to select the winner. It is conceded, however, that Mr. Seagram will again carry off Her Majesty's prize, though with which one it is doubtful. In all probability he will send Millbrook, Sprugal and Moorland to the post, and to beat this combination is figures not their equal, but a superior horse. Apparently the only ones having a chance are Dictator and Lochinvar, and it is very doubtful if they are equal to the task. The other starters will likely be Bradaugh, Clipmont, Brother Bob, Marcella and Dan Gordon, making a field of ten to battle for the guineas.

The other events to be decided to-morrow include the Trial Purse, at 6 furlongs, Juvenile Scurry for 2-year-olds, Hunters' Flat, Royal Canadian Steeplechase and Selling Race, and all promise to furnish capital contests.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

The Torontos won their sixth consecutive game yesterday afternoon over the Don by administering a coat of whitewash to Wilkes-Barre. Casey filled Deschanty's place at short, the new man having hurt his shoulder in Wednesday's game. The Torontos secured their three runs in the second innings on Casey's double, O'Brien and Dowse's triples and Wright's single. The other run was recorded in the eighth on Freeman's hit for three bases and Lutenburg's single. The Wilkes-Barres only got one man as far as third base. The score:

Earned runs—Toronto 3. First base on errors—Toronto 1. Two-base hit—Casey. Three-base hits—O'Brien, Dowse, Freeman. Sacrifice hits—Bonner, Smith. Left on bases—Wilkes-Barre 9, Toronto 6. 'VARSITY BEAT THE HAMS.

Hamilton, May 21.—The University of Toronto team pounded Buckenberger's farmed out pitcher Dean all over Dundurn Park this afternoon and won by 6 to 5. Hamilton's infield work was sharp or the score would have been larger. Barron pitched a wonderful game, and only allowed six hits, three of which were by Baker. Hutchison's batting was perfect, five singles for five times at bat. 'Varsity went in with two to win in the last of the ninth. Campbell's single, Garrett's three-bagger and Hutchison's fifth hit did the business. Score:

Hamilton	..	..	0	0	1	0	1	1	2	0—5
'Varsity	..	..	0	0	1	3	0	0	0	2—6

CONROY KILLED HIS WIFE

The Coroner's Jury Finds a Verdict Against Him of Wilful Murder—The Woman From Renfrew, Ont.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., May 21.—The inquest has just been completed in the Conroy murder case of yesterday. The verdict is that Kate Conroy came to her death by wounds inflicted with a knife in the hands of her husband, Frank Conroy. The prisoner was arraigned and charged with murder in the first degree. He waived examination and was held by the Recorder for the grand jury. The prisoner is cool and collected and responded to questions in a clear voice. The parents of the murdered woman reside in Renfrew, Ont., and will be here to-morrow to take charge of the body. The prisoner will be defended by the Hon. D. Bluecy, Mayor of this city.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, May 11th.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poison of Mr. Langley of this city by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langely, among others, also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

DIED VERY SUDDENLY.

Mr. John Livingston of Listowel, Apparently Well, Succumbs in 20 Minutes.

Listowel, May 21.—Mr. John Livingston, sr., partner of the firm of J. & J. Livingston, flax manufacturers, Baden and Listowel, died very suddenly at his residence here about 10 o'clock this morning. He had been chatting with some friends in a neighboring house and suddenly put his hand to his heart and complained of a severe pain. He hurried home and a physician was summoned, but he died in about 20 minutes.

Four Cyclones and a Water Spout.

Guthrie, O.K., May 21.—Four cyclones and a waterspout visited the territory last night, doing thousands of dollars worth of damage in Cleveland, Oklahama, Kay and Payne Counties. In the Osage reservation six or eight persons were killed.

TWO BURGLARS WILL HANG.

One Man, After Sentence, Dashes His Pal to the Floor in His Frenzy.

London, May 21.—The trial of Albert Millsom and Henry Foyler, for the murder of Mr. Henry Smith, in his residence, Muswell Lodge, Highgate, on February 13 last, ended to-day in the conviction of the prisoners, who were sentenced to death.

After the sentences were pronounced, Fowler seized Millsom, who was standing by his side, and dashed him to the floor. The wardens sprang at Fowler and pulled him away from Millsom, but it was with great difficulty that the frenzied man was overcome.

Fowler and Millsom entered Mr. Smith's house in the night for the purpose of robbing him, and it is supposed that Mr. Smith was aroused by their noise and went down stairs, when he was killed by the burglars

THE PIONEER

A SIMCOE COUNTY MAN WHO HAS AN INTERESTING HISTORY.

At 263 McCaul st., in this city, lives Mr. Samuel Kilgore, a vigorous specimen of those sturdy pioneers to whom the rapid development of this Province is mainly due. Mr. Kilgore relates, with pride, how he cleared the land on which Judge Gowan (now Senator Gowan), had his house built, and how himself and that honorable gentleman together laid the corner stone and deposited a box with various coins, etc., within the corner stone at the time. With his own hands also he cleared the land on which stands the Barrie High School, which numbers among its ex-pupils such names as Wm. Lount, Q.C., and D'Alton McCarthy, Q.C. Mr. Kilgore has served as reeve and councillor also in the township, and his sterling integrity and sound judgment give great force to his words. A few words from him will be sure to be of interest. Mr. Kilgore says:

"The dull aching pains around my loins and in the small of my back indicated to me several years ago that my kidneys were affected. I had to get up frequently at night and my rest was broken accordingly. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Gilpin's drug store some time ago, and they did wonders for me. They gave me relief almost immediately. The annoying pains around my back fled. The trouble in urinating was felt no more. My stomach, though foul, became sweet, and my whole system became so regulated that I looked back, with pleasure, to my boyhood days when pains and aches were unknown to me. I am now over seventy-three years of age, and Doan's Kidney Pills are the most wonderful medicine I ever took. After having given them a fair trial I can heartily recommend them to any one with kidney or stomach troubles."

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. LXIII.

Short Studies of Great Men. No. 5.

Akbar, Emperor of India.

The name of the "great man" selected for this week's column will probably be unfamiliar to many of our readers. Yet Akbar was unquestionably one of the greatest of the sons of men, combining as he did in his own personality, the characters of a great soldier, a great conqueror, a great ruler, and last, though not least, a good and truly pious man.

Akbar was born in the year 1542. He was the grandson of one, Babar, a soldier-king, who made great conquests in India, by which the foundations of Akbar's empire were laid. For over five hundred years successive Mohammedan dynasties had ruled over a greater or less portion of India. They had conquered and ruled by brute force. Akbar was the first to attempt to govern a conquered people for their own good. It is impossible for us to realize what a new departure in government this was, but had Akbar's life no other claim upon our esteem, it would entitle him to the title of Great. He studied the races whom he conquered, he noted their peculiarities, he was mindful of their prejudices, he encouraged native talent, he enquired into their religious faith, he ruled with firm justice, always tempered with mercy. It is certain that he successfully promoted the welfare of his people, by the wisdom and humanity with which he administered his empire.

Akbar was not unmindful of the lustre which intellectual brilliancy sheds about a court, nor of the easy descent to luxury and its concomitant vices, of a court which is without intellectual or spiritual ideals. He had a palace built according to plans of his own, for the meeting of the sages whom he gathered round him. This palace was divided into four halls, each assigned to certain classes or orders of distinguished men. Meetings were held on Friday evenings, and Akbar eagerly entered into the discussions of the wise. He moved about from hall to hall, and his presence must have supplied a great stimulus to the energy and the wit of the debaters.

Akbar was not only a soldier, a governor, a statesman and a philosopher, he was also a theologian. Born a Mohammedan, he was naturally of an enquiring disposition, and endowed with a broad and fair mind. He was convinced that the only satisfactory test of a faith was its fruits. This is a view which is even to-day imperfectly realized, although it is the one test which our Lord Jesus Christ bade his followers apply, and the condition, most clearly and definitely stated, upon which eternal life depends. Tried by the test of fruits, Akbar found much to admire in all the religious creeds with which he was acquainted. He found good and pious men amongst them all, and he therefore came to the conclusion that there was good in all. Although nominally a Mohammedan throughout life, he provoked the utmost animosity in the minds of those who judged not by life but by letter.

It is interesting to know that Akbar was acquainted with and held in high esteem the Christian faith. Jesuit missionaries had already commenced that work which has raised the name of St. Francois Xavier to a noble pre-eminence in the roll of missionaries of the Gospel. Father Rodolpho Aquaviva was invited to Akbar's court, and when he triumphed over those who in their own narrow way disputed against his faith, Akbar took pleasure in his victory.

It is not then at all surprising that a man of such intellectual and spiritual fibre as Tennyson, should make Akbar the subject of a poem, in which, under the mask of a dream, there is set forth the aspiration of Akbar to bind together all his subjects in a unity whose bonds should be Truth, Peace, Justice and Love. Akbar compares himself to a lonely man.

"In the King's garden, gathering here and there
From each fair plant the blossom choicest-grown
To wreath a crown, not only for the King,
But in due time for every Musselman,
Brahmin and Buddhist, Christian and Parree,
Through all the warring world of Hindustan."

To the various sects of Hindustan, each of which claimed to be the perfect way, he cries :—

"Shall the rose
Cry to the lotus "no flower thou!" the palm
Call to the cypress "I alone am fair!"
The mango spurn the melon at his foot?'

The horrors of war and persecution in the name of God fill him with disgust.

"I stagger at the Koran and the sword,
I shudder at the Christian and the stake,
Yet "Alla" says their sacred book "is love."
And when the Goan Padre quoting him,
Isa ben Mariam, his own prophet, cried
"Love one another little ones" and "bless"
Whom? even "your persecutors!" there methought
The cloud was rifted by a purer gleam
Than glances from the sun of our Islam."

Meditating upon these things Akbar dreamed

"That stone by stone I reared a sacred fane,
A temple, neither Pagod, Mosque, nor Church,
But loftier, simpler, always open decreed
To every breath from heaven and truth and peace
And love and justice came and dwelt therein."

But then suddenly his enemies burst in, headed by his own and he is slain. Still in spirit he sees all his work undone, and his fair temple destroyed. Very ingenious and very inspiring to us English speaking peoples is the conclusion :—Whilst Akbar looks on at the destruction of his work and the revival of the old hatreds, behold

"From out the sunset pour'd an alien race,
Who fitted stone to stone again, and Truth,
Peace, Love, and Justice came and dwelt therein,
Nor in the field without were seen or heard
Fires of Suttee, nor wail of baby-wife,
Or Indian widow. And in sleep I said
"All praise to Alla by whatever hands
My mission be accomplished.

Ed. F. C. C.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion, because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

DALTON M'CARTHY

Carried on the Shoulders of His Admirers.

FOUR THOUSAND PEOPLE LISTEN

While the Late Member for North Simcoe Deals Out Hot Shot to the Ottawa Government—Mr. Martin Shares the Plaudits With Mr. McCarthy.

Winnipeg, May 25.—(Special)—A heavy downpour of rain, which continued through the day, threatened to badly interfere with the reception to D'Alton McCarthy here this evening, but even the rain, a chilling wind and streets ankle deep in mud did not dampen the enthusiasm of Mr. McCarthy's admirers, who turned out in full force and gave him such a reception as he will not soon forget.

About noon a party of Winnipegers, composing the Reception Committee, left by special train to meet Mr. McCarthy at Selkirk. Among the members of this committee were Attorney-General Sifton, Mayor Jamieson, Alderman Sproule, R. J. Whitla, Hon. Mr. Cameron, H. M. Howell, Hon. Mr. McMillan, Hon. Joseph Martin, Isaac Campbell and a score of others.

When the train pulled into the depot and Mr. McCarthy appeared, there was tremendous cheering, while the band played "See the Conquering Hero Comes." A carriage drawn by four white horses was waiting for Mr. McCarthy's reception, but it was never occupied. As the third party leader approached, the enthusiasm of his Winnipeg admirers broke the ordinary bounds, and those nearest him picked him up bodily and lifted him on their shoulders. In the arms of a dozen sturdy men, Mr. McCarthy was carried along Main-street, surrounded and followed by an immense crowd, cheering most enthusiastically.

The parade wound up at a big skating rink building, which was densely packed with people, fully 4000, if not more, being in the audience, filling every nook and corner of the spacious auditorium.

There was tremendous cheering when Mr. McCarthy was carried into the hall and this was repeated when Joseph Martin appeared.

The hall was decorated with appropriate mottoes, among them: "No Mandament," "No Clerical Interference," "Hands Off Public Schools," "No Coercion," and several others of like character.

R. W. Jameson, Mayor of the city, presided, and after a speech of welcome, asked the audience to join singing the National Anthem. This being done, Mr. McCarthy was introduced and received a great ovation.

After returning thanks for his splendid reception, Mr. McCarthy at once plunged into the school question. He reviewed the circumstances attending the establishment of national schools from the time of Confederation, declaring that the facts demolished completely any contention that Catholics had a right to Separate schools. Manitoba had full power to abolish Separate schools and in doing so was in no sense violating the constitution. Neither was it violating any rights possessed by Catholics, for clearly it had been held they had no special rights.

Then he attacked the Dominion Government for the position it had assumed on the school question, charging the Government with manifest unfairness. The Conservative Government, he declared, had decided on the execution of Manitoba first, and holding a mock trial afterwards. The Government was completely in the power of the Roman Catholic Church and dared do nothing but what that church dictated.

Mr. McCarthy entered into elaborate argument, demonstrating that the Federal Government was not called upon to interfere, contending that the interference was solely at church dictation. He contended further that the Privy Council of England had gone beyond what it had been asked to declare.

Manitoba, however, was not bound to be governed by these eminent gentlemen at Downing-street.

"Thank God," he said, "Manitoba can govern for itself." This expression was received with prolonged cheers.

Continuing, Mr. McCarthy said Manitoba's various answers to the demands of the Dominion Government showed firmness, yet it had due respect for the constitution. Mr. McCarthy created great laughter by exhibiting a copy of the Remedial Bill, showing as he put it, "how the few clauses passed had been beautifully amended and wonderfully improved."

Mr. McCarthy begged the people of Manitoba not to be deluded by other issues. The school question, he declared, was the chief issue, the only issue Every man when he marked his ballot at the coming election marked it for or against Separate schools. In the east, as in the west, he said, this question over-shadowed all others.

Next Mr. McCarthy attacked Hugh John Macdonald's position on the school question. His change of front on this question, said Mr. McCarthy, denoted him to be a weak man and he could not withdraw his charge that Hugh John

As to the Hudson's Bay Railway promise, Mr. McCarthy said it was held out as a bribe and for the purpose of hiding coercion.

Then Mr. McCarthy attacked the individual members of the Conservative Government, particularly Dr. Montague, in respect to the anonymous letter charges, and Sir Charles Tupper for reading in Parliament and garbling Premier Greenway's telegram to Sir Donald Smith. He dealt minutely with what he termed the steal in connection with Contractor Goodwin's claim in respect to the Soulanges Canal. The Opposition, he said, had at the session, prevented this steal, but now, he said, there was another loop hole by which the Government might effect this steal. He noticed now that Goodwin's claims were to be brought before the courts this week. "Why this week? Why so much haste?" Mr. McCarthy said. "Let me warn the people about this latest move. If the court gives judgment for this claim on any implied consent of the Crown, I would have the members of the Government indicted as criminals."

Mr. McCarthy then eulogized Mr. Laurier for the bold stand he had taken against his church. Mr. McCarthy declared that the attitude of the Church of Rome in this matter of school was tryannous and would not be submitted to by British freemen. This declaration created prolonged cheering.

Mr. McCarthy, in resuming his seat, was tendered a most enthusiastic ovation.

Joseph Martin followed Mr. McCarthy and was also heartily cheered. He scored a great point by announcing that W. M. MacDonald, Conservative candidate for East Assiniboia, had been withdrawn because it was found, he said, his candidature as a coercion candidate was hopeless. After scoring this point, Mr. Martin left the school question, which had been so fully discussed by Mr. McCarthy and took up other issues of the campaign. He made an excellent speech, and then followed brief speeches by Mr. McCarthy's supporters. The meeting dispersed with cheers for Messrs. McCarthy, Laurier and Martin.

THE MAIL'S WHEELABOUT.

Its Opinions in 1892 and Now—General News of the Campaign

Here are a few more extracts from The Mail, showing the opinions it formerly held with respect to the coercion of Manitoba:

Mail, 15th Aug., 1892: "The decision of our Highest Court of Appeal makes for the cause of liberty and progress in Manitoba and it will strengthen the hands of those who are endeavoring to prevent the planting of a system of education, the fruits of which are disunion and prejudice. But it also reminds us of what are the essential British views with regard to education, viz., that it shall be unsectarian and such as all may participate in without distinction of creed. It would be well for those who are waving the old flag and glorifying the British connection to remember that the waving can be most consistently done by those who are at any rate not flagrantly out of harmony with British opinion and British methods."

"ILL-ADVISED FEDERAL INTIMIDATION."

Mail, 30th Nov., 1892: "That the first public act performed by Sir John Thompson after the announcement of his elevation to the Premiership should have been the hearing of the preliminary argument in behalf of Separate schools for Manitoba, is in some quarters regarded as ominous. * * * What Manitoba would do were Sir John Thompson to attempt to restrict the rights to which the Judicial Committee has certified the leaders of opinion there alone show. But the general belief is that very active opposition will meet ill-advised Federal intervention. If Sir John desires to strain the bonds which hold the Dominion together and to wreck the party he leads he cannot do better than attempt to strangle the Manitobans."

PRAISE FOR GREENWAY.

Mail, July 22, 1892: "The genius of Manitoba is for advancement. This was made apparent early in the history of the province, when the effort to fasten a privileged class upon the people was defeated by the prompt abolition of the Local Senate. From time to time the excrescences of government have been removed, until the province is now set up in business on an entirely modern footing. There can be no question that the Greenway Government has contributed largely to the favorable condition of affairs, in view of which the victory of Saturday is but an act of justice."

WE CANNOT CHECK MANITOBA.

Mail, Feb. 19, 1890: "We cannot check Manitoba. We cannot bind those people by the wretched compromises in vogue in these older provinces. We cannot with safety invade the domain of their local self-government or expect them to submit to clerical rule, against their sense of what is due to their own interests."

MORE ADVICE FOR OTTAWA.

Mail, Aug. 4, 1892: "Our Federal politicians may as well face the issue straight. They are called upon to re-establish for Manitoba the school system the Manitobans have constitutionally rejected. It is idle in the presence of this demand to talk of a settled issue or calmer counsels. If these gentlemen wish for a quiet settlement let them urge Quebec to give us peace—if they want calmer counsels, let them tell their French friends to be moderate."

CHECKS ON PARLIAMENTS.

Mail, March 27, 1893: "There ought to be no restriction upon any portion of the Dominion so far as the educational system is concerned."

HE'S A GONE COON.

Although Sir John A. Macdonald was fond of remarking that there were two doubtful things in this world—a horse race and an election—the result in at least one constituency hitherto regarded as safe for the Government, cannot be considered doubtful. Hon. John F. Wood, the Controller of Customs, is a gone coon, sure. The straight Conservatives under Wood and the McCarthyites under Cluff are at daggers drawn, and Mr. Cumming, the Liberal candidate is as good as elected.

IN EAST SIMCOE.

H. H. Cook, the Liberal candidate for East Simcoe, held a series of very successful meeting last week. A great change in feeling was manifested, and many former Conservatives are going to support him. An attempt by the Georgian Bay Lumber Company to coerce their men to vote against Mr. Cook is being made. This is really a foreign company, the president being Mr. Dodge, a wealthy New Yorker. In the face of this the story about Yankee gold being brought over to help the Liberals looks point.

NOTES.

While one Tory paper is laboring to prove that cotton shirts are cheaper than under the Mackenzie Government, another declares that "cheapness is the badge of poverty and the signal of distress." These organs should decide upon the same cry and stick to it.

The meeting in the Horticultural Pavilion, Toronto, on Saturday night, in the interest of Mr. Emerson Coatsworth, was a very noisy affair. Mr. Foster, the Finance Minister, and Mr. Rufus Pope, of Compton, Quebec, delivered addresses, as well as Mr. Coatsworth. There were frequent disorderly scenes, and Mr. Coatsworth had great difficult in getting a hearing.

GREAT FIRE AT DESERONTO.

The Rathbun Company Suffer Their Immense Flour Mill, Grain Elevator and Several Employes' Houses Burned.

Belleville, Ont., May 26.—(3 a.m.)—It is reported that a big fire is raging in Deseronto to-night, but no particulars can be obtained, as all the wires are interrupted.

A large portion of the Rathbun Co.'s property, including the flour mill, grain elevator, bran storehouse and several employes' residences, are said to have been destroyed. The Roman Catholic Church was also burned.

The loss cannot be estimated to-night, but it will probably amount to fully a quarter of a million. Insurance not known.

Later Loss $350,000.

Deseronto, May 26.—Yesterday afternoon about 3.30 fire broke out in the tie dock of the Rathbun Company, east of the cedar mill, and in a short time spread to the docks adjoining, destroying large quantities of shingles, posts, hardwood, etc., the flour mill, bran house, elevator and the Canoe Club boat-house. Going northward and eastward, it swept away almost the entire eastern portion of the town. The Roman Catholic Church and several stores were consumed. The flames spread so rapidly that many persons lost all their possessions, some being away from home. A large quantity of cord wood belonging to the Rathbun Company was destroyed. A strong southerly wind was blowing at the time and drove the flames northward. A steam fire engine was brought from Napanee and also one from Kingston. About 9 o'clock a terrific downpour of rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning, passed over the town, lasting about three hours, and that helped to extinguish the flames and smouldering ruins. About 75 families are homeless, many of whom owned their houses.

The loss will no doubt figure up over $350,000.

POINTERS FOR POSTMASTERS.

The Latest Regulations Issued by the Department at Ottawa.

Ottawa, May 25.—(Special)—The following notices have been issued by the Postoffice Department "In returning direct to senders' 'request' and 'address' letters postmasters should be careful always to give reason for non-delivery. No letter should ever be returned until the postmaster has satisfied himself by a careful examination of the address that it was really intended for his office. It happened quite lately that a 'request' letter plainly addressed to Clinton, Ont., was returned by the postmaster of another office entirely, who did not take the trouble to see that the letter had never been to Clinton and who, moreover, back stamped the letter so indistinctly that the impression could not be read. This is not a faithful or creditable performance of duty.

"In the case of either 'address' or 'request' letters, postmasters may return them at once if the addressee has left the place and if his place of residence is unknown, due allowance being always made, however, for the possibility that the addressee may be a commercial traveler or other stranger visiting or about to visit the place.

"Certain publishers have attempted to post as sample copies of their papers prepaid at the rate of 1 cent per pound, 'marked' copies; that is to say, copies in which attention was called by marks or strokes to a particular advertisement notice article, etc. This is not permitted. A paper prepaid as third-class matter 1c per 4 oz. may be marked in that manner, but not a paper sent from the office of publication free or at the 1 cent rate found rate.

THE CHURCH AND THE NATION.

An Address Appropriate to the Times.

At the evening service in St. John's, on May 24th, the rector preached the sermon on the subject of "The Church and the Nation." Preliminary to the address he very cordially welcomed to Peterborough, the Belleville volunteers, and to St. John's, the considerable number who were present and hoped while they were faithfully serving the Queen, they were as faithfully serving the King of Kings.

The text of the sermon was:—Isaiah, chap. xxvi, v 2—"The righteous nation which keepeth the truth." We were, the speaker said, that day (Whitsunday, May 24th.) keeping two festivals, the birthday of the Church and the birthday of the Queen As on this day the Holy Ghost, came into the church on earth, the religious and the national ideas were blended in the text—national glory and national prosperity are closely linked with national righteousness. The Holy Ghost came to comfort—strengthen man morally—to make him strong to walk the paths of righteousness, to turn us from all shams and sins. Christ came not only to save us from the consequences of our sins but from our sins themselves. One point was especially emphasized in the text—to keep the truth. The speaker pointed out that the British Empire was the type among the nations of keeping the truth. British faith and British honour were proverbial the world over, in both a national and personal sense. Honourable principle and practice were characteristic of private and national life. In England, honour was regarded as sacred possession. Great Britain's adherence "to truth" was the cause of her great successes. As to ourselves—on this side of the Atlantic—we were tempted to set up an ideal of sharpness and trickery and fraud. He besought that on this double birthday we should place before us the British character as a standard of honour. It was a part of our heritage from the mother land. We should resolve to be honourable in business, in society and social life.

In politics the preacher urged, let us bind ourselves to be an honourable people. Let us squarely face the month of election campaign that is before us and ask the question, whether as a people we shall be more degraded or more patriotic and noble minded citizens as a result of these elections. The coming month would be sure to degrade us if in the public speeches the leaders of the parties do not restrain themselves from angry and untruthful personalities. The present campaign would degrade us if the contest be fought with unlawful weapons. The preacher said he had received by letter the question, "Can a churchman conscientiously accept or give a bribe?" For answer it could be seen what the word of God said. It made the members of the church the agents of God to advance righteousness and just dealing. No church member could consistently do an unjust act and an illegal act. It was the mission of the members of the church to raise people nearer to heaven and not to degrade them. Bribery was the worst way to degrade a man. The man who accepts honest charity feels a certain sense of humiliation; what, then, must be the feeling of a man who takes a bribe? Unless we discountenanced and checked bribery we might help it on. If men spoke lightly and facetiously of the great sin of bribery it was equal to tolerating it. The audience were earnestly enjoined to denounce this sin against God. The preacher called upon the members of the Church of England to take, in the next month a just and generous course, and in so doing they would obey the call of right and duty, and he was confident that a solid and united effort for the right would exert a material and perceptible influence in West Peterborough. The speaker said that he had made personal investigation and believed that there was not as much bribery as there was said to be. He believed the principal men on both sides wished to make a fair fight. But, said the speaker, "Men of the Church of England stand firm, wage a fair open fight and avoid personalities, and deal with public questions." They should study the position of the country and its grand possibilities. Let the watchwords be fair dealing, courtesy and practical Christianity that will lead to honest dealing. He spoke with reference to neither party, only of general principles. The preacher closed by the assertion that the gates of prosperity would only open to "the righteous nation that keepeth the truth."

EVENTS IN THE LIFE OF QUEEN VICTORIA.

Rev. W. R. Young Attributes Her Success in Life to the Influence of a Godly Mother.

Rev. W. R. Young delivered a most interesting sermon on Sunday evening on "Events in the Life of Queen Victoria.' He took for his text the appropriate verse, "Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all."—Proverbs xxxi chapter and 29th verse. The language of the text, he thought, was peculiarly applicable to Victoria as amongst those upon whom the fierce light which beat upon the throne shone, in all the world's history none were more worthy of the language of the text than our virtuous sovereign the Queen. Fifty-eight years ago she had been summoned to fill her responsible position, and although the maiden of eighteen had now become the widow of 77, the declining glory of her life seems to excel even its noonday brightness and to-day in every quarter of the globe Victoria's subjects are thanking God for her life and praying that it may still be spared. To the historian, continued Mr. Young, rather than to the humble preacher, will fall the delightful task of describing the grandeur and true nobility of the woman whom all delight to honour and obey.

The childhood of Victoria, the speaker explained, was spent under the care of a godly mother, who had resolved, on the birth of her daughter, to train her child so that she would grace the position she was destined some day to fill. How well she had succeeded in this task was unnecessary to say and much of the character of the Queen was due to the excellence of her training in childhood. Mr. Young then took occasion to pay a most touching tribute to the mothers. "Of all the powers and influence," said he, "at work in the world to-day there is not one of them equal to that of a Godly mother. In the hands of the mothers are the destinies of the world."

She who to-day stands at the head of this mighty nation, continued he, is a woman who believes in God's word and makes it the stay of her life. When the news of her succession to the throne was brought to her by the nobles, her first request of the Archbishop of Canterbury was that he should pray that she might be guided by the Almighty to rule wisely in His sight. The same conscientious dependance upon God had been evinced all through her life.

The Queen's strong sympathy and anxiety concerning her soldiers, was one of the strong points of her life. There were times in which the palace had been transformed into a vast workroom for sewing women, in order that the needs of the soldiers might be attended to.

As a queen, she shines brightly, said he, but as queen of her home she is seen at her best. Her private life as wife and mother, stands out in the presence of assembled nations and the eulogy of Solomon is none to great.

In her public life the development of the country had been her first care. When God gave Victoria the inheritance of her high position he intended that it should be developed. That it had been developed was proven by the great increase in territory.

Every interest of Victoria's subjects is considered, said he in conclusion, and her motto is the greatest good to the greatest number, though the rights of the minority are always jealously guarded.

CLYDESDALE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A highly interesting event took place last Monday morning in St. Mary's church, Chandos, when Mr. Frank Hogan was united in marriage to Miss Minnie O'Neil, of Bancroft. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Scanlan, curate of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, and in spite of the early hour a large number of friends assembled to bestow their best wishes on the happy couple. The bride, who was tastefully arrayed in a light brown travelling costume, was supported by Miss Maggie Mahoney, while a similar office was performed by Mr. James Cleary for the groom. It is expected that the good example thus set will soon be followed by other young people in this part of the township, and that when Father Scanlan next pays us a visit, he will have a much larger matrimonial contract to handle.

On Sunday, May 17th, Father Scanlan made his regular quarterly trip to Chandos, arriving in Clydesdale early on Saturday afternoon. On Sunday morning mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock, and was followed in the afternoon by a short devotional exercise. On Monday, after another mass at 7 o'clock, Father Scanlan left for Coe Hill in time to catch the noon train for Peterborough.

Mr. James Coyle Brown, P.S.I., has just finished a tour of inspection of the schools of Burleigh and Chandos. On Monday, May 11th, he was at Clydesdale, and made a thorough examination into the condition of the school. Besides the teacher, Mr. T. J. Dwyer, there were present Messrs. Trotter, Mahoney, and Hillcox, trustees, and Mr. Hugh Caldwell, Sr., postmaster. At the conclusion of the examination the Inspector presented his report to the trustees, expressing satisfaction with the progress made during the year, and recommending that the grounds be drained and properly levelled, and that a suitable fence be erected to enclose them.

Our blacksmith, Mr. James McIlvena, is rushing up his new house, and will soon have it ready to move into.

The cheese factory is now in full swing, and under the management of Mr. James Hogan, is turning out a fair quantity of capital cheese.

It is surprising what a man will do for love. On Saturday night one of our young men, who is working on the drive down near Jack's Lake, came up a distance of fifteen miles to see his sweetheart, returning again early on Monday morning.

On Tuesday morning Miss Annie Goolais bid good-bye to her Chandos friends and returned again to her home in Peterborough. On the Friday night previous to her departure, a large number of friends assembled at her father's house and enjoyed themselves thoroughly until daylight, when the party broke up.

YOU CAN DO IT NOW!

No More Failures.

Not until recently has it been possible to prepare a full line of colours adapted to colouring cotton and mixed goods, and all material for carpets, rugs and mats, that could be depended on to hold their colour when exposed to light, and not to crock or fade. These colours are very valuable discoveries, and have only been given to the public after severe tests which proved them to be superior to all known dyes or dyestuffs.

The fast Diamond Dyes for Cotton and Mixed Goods are the only dyes that can give satisfactory results in dyeing goods composed of silk and cotton, silk and wool, and cotton and wool. If you value time, money and success, insist that your dealer furnish you with the guaranteed Diamond Dyes.

MILLBROOK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Major Howden, of Port Hope, was in town last Saturday.

Messrs. J. C. Leach and A. Parkin wheeled to Peterborough on Sunday.

Mr. F. D. Craig, of Port Hope, was in town on Saturday.

Miss Pearl Burnham, who has been visiting friends in Peterborough, returned home on Saturday.

Miss Rousland, of Cobourg, is visiting Mrs. Snelgrove.

Mr. Geo. Edmonds, of Port Hope, is visiting his brother, Mr. Robert Edmonds.

Mrs. Walter Gilliott left on Saturday for an extended visit to Rochester.

Mr. Geo. Brown, of Buffalo, is visiting his mother here.

Mr. L. F. Clarry was in Port Hope on Saturday on business.

The lacrosse club will hardly be organized this year, as many of last year's men have decided to retire and others are not now in town.

The prospects for the celebration here on the 24th are good and those who intend coming to Millbrook on that day can rely on having a good time.

A Court of A. O. U. W. was organized here on Friday night.

A grand political picnic will be held in Harper's grove about the first of June, at which Mr. D'Alton McCarthy will speak.

An interesting case was tried at the Division Court, here, last week, between the Merchants' Protective and Collecting Association, of Hamilton, and Nasmith Bros., merchants, of Manvers. It appears that in July, 1893, Nasmith Bros. became members of the Association, receiving its books, pamphlets and forms, the subscription fee being $10.00 for the first year and $7.50 for the second, on the condition that if they wished to drop out at the end of any year they could do so by returning the books. Nasmith Bros. sent two accounts to the Association for collection, both of which turned out to be uncollectable, whereupon they decided to drop out, but did not return the books. Five dollars of the first year's subscription had been paid, but they refused to pay the balance or any of the second or third years' subscription. The Association therefore brought action, when defendants set up misrepresentation and fraud on the part of the Association and counter claimed for $20.00 damages for breach of contract. The contract, however, fully appeared in the writings signed by the defendants, and the Judge found that there had been no honest effort on the defendants' part to carry out the terms of the contract, and accordingly gave judgment for the plaintiffs for the full amount claimed. A. A. Smith appeared for plaintiffs, and R. Ruddy for defendants.

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience, he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline, no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

AN AWFUL CYCLONE

A Section of Iowa Suffers Great Destruction.

50 PEOPLE KILLED AND INJURED.

Railroads Leading Into Dubuque Washed Out—Galena, Ill., Under Water—Michigan Also Visited by the Storm Fiend—People Killed and Houses Wrecked.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 25.—Nine persons were killed and several injured in a cyclone which struck near this city at midnight. The storm struck Valeria, a small town 19 miles east of here. It blew the Maple Leaf Depot into splinters, killing four persons. Five other people, living near the depot, were also killed. Oswalt, a mining town, two miles south of Valeria, and much larger than the latter town, is supposed to have suffered even worse.

Des Moines, Ia., May 25.—The most alarming reports are being received here this morning respecting the cyclone which swept over Polk, Storey and Jasper Counties shortly after midnight last night. Owing to the almost total prostration of telegraph and telephone wires, it is not possible to verify the reports, but indications are that the casualties will reach 50 killed or injured.

Fourteen persons are reported killed in the three towns of Valeria, Bondurant and Ankeny. The two latter towns as in this (Polk) county, while Valeria is in Jasper County, directly east. So far as heard from, Slater is the only town in Storey County which suffered, but as there is no means of communication with that section this morning there is every probability that the restoration of telegraphic communication will bring news of disasters as yet unreported.

A telephone message from Berwick says that a courier just in states that 24 persons were killed at Bondurant, five at Valeria and three at Ankeny.

Later.—The situation grows worse as authentic news comes from the cyclone district. At Valeria it is now known that 15 persons were killed, the number being first placed at but five. Most of those killed were in the depot of the Chicago Great Western road, some of them having just alighted from the train, and others having taken refuge from the rain. The depot was literally blown to pieces. The west-bound passenger train escaped the cyclone but a few minutes.

A despatch from Santiago, this county, says the storm was unprecedented in its fury in that section. Three miles west of town a house was lifted bodily from the earth, carried some distance and thrown to the ground a shattered wreck. The entire family of occupants was killed. The roads are almost impassable from debris.

A messenger from Bondurant, who arrived at 9 o'clock, says that R. G. Scott, a prominent farmer, was killed; also that a church at Ankeny was blown down and several persons injured. The town of Granger was badly wrecked. The number of farm houses wrecked between Valeria and Bondurant is very heavy.

GREAT STORM AT CHICAGO.

Houses Blown Down Everywhere—Press Rooms Had to be Pumped Out.

Chicago, May 25.—A storm of wind, thunder and lightning struck Chicago at 3 o'clock this morning. The wind at times attained the velocity of a hurricane, and the lightning was incessant. Over an inch of water fell in less than ten minutes, which amounted to a cloud burst. The sewers were unable to carry off the water, and as a result basements all over the city were flooded. The press rooms of three morning papers were flooded by water backing up from the sewers, and fire engines had to be called to pump out the water before the second editions could be sent to press. Much minor damage from wind and lightning is reported all over the city, but no fatalities resulted. The storm extended south of Chicago into Will and Kankakee Counties. There is every probability that wrecks will be heard of on the eastern shore of the lake.

The work of the storm in the suburban towns was disastrous. Edison Park, Norwood Park, Irving Park and Ravenswood came in for the greatest damage. Several persons were injured.

At Ravenswood, McDonald's circus was tented when the cyclone came and ripped the canvas from the stakes, snapped the guy ropes and upset the animal cages. An elephant got loose, but was captured half an hour later.

At Summerdale one house was blown down, resulting in serious injuries to the occupants.

So far as reported the injured are: Miss Reifenstall, slightly bruised; Peter Fox, wife and child, seriously bruised; Mrs. Albert Sweetser, arm broken and internally hurt; Mrs. James Hutchinson, badly bruised; Albert Danish, seriously cut and bruised.

GALENA, ILL., INUNDATED.

Tow Boats Doing Service in the Business Streets—A Woman Drowned.

Galena, Ill., May 25.—A flood devastated Galena last night, as the result of a cloudburst. Danger signals called people from their beds and the night was spent in efforts to save themselves and property. Water rushing in torrents from the bluffs to the low ground, with the sudden rise of the Galena River, turned the down-town streets into running rivers. Tow boats did service on Main and Commerce-streets. Franklin-street is a scene of devastation. The solid macadamizing of the street has been gutted out to the depth of ten feet in many places. Several bridges are washed away. Cellars on Main-street are inundated and places of business in some parts of the town are abandoned. Walls of solid masonry were torn out, buildings carried from their foundations and horses swept from floating barns, down the deluged streets. Several houses were wrecked, among them that of J. F. Strickland, whose wife was drowned.

SWEPT DOWN TO DEATH.

Mrs. Clark's Four Children Drowned When the Durango Station Went.

Dubuque, Ia., May 25.—A terrific thunder and lightning storm struck Dubuque shortly after 9 o'clock last night. In the midst of the storm Mrs. Clark, station agent of the Chicago & Great Western Railway at Durango, eight miles northwest of Dubuque, was called from her residence to the depot nearby to get orders for a train which had just arrived. She took her four children with her and was at work when the flood sweeping down the Maquoka Valley carried away the bridge, then the residence and finally the depot, which was borne down stream a mile and a half. The four children were drowned, but Mrs. Clark clung to the roof and was saved by the trainmen.

All railroads leading into Dubuque were washed out and telegraphic communication completely destroyed. Bridges on all the roads were washed out, the Illinois Central losing 30 between Dubuque and Lemars.

It was when the storm began that Mrs. Clark went to the depot with her children—two girls, 8 and 4 years old, and twin girls, 3 1-2 years old. The station men also repaired with their families to the depot.

About midnight the water surrounded the depot and streams which forked at the bridge poured their floods into the valley until it was filled from bluff to bluff, a distance of 150 yards. The depot went out about 2 o'clock and after going 50 yards struck a tree and careened. Tom Griffith, a brakeman, seized the oldest Clark child and jumped. Both are missing. Two section men, James Dillon and Peter Moss, caught the limbs of an overhanging tree and will be rescued when the flood subsides. The depot lodged against a tree and this morning the body of one of the Clark twins was found some yards below the lodging place. Those who remained in the depot were rescued soon after it lodged. The loss of her children drove Mrs. Clark crazy.

Twelve persons were killed by a flood on the Bloody Run, a stream along the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, emptying into the Mississippi at North McGregor. One man was drowned at Dyersville, Dubuque County, and two were killed at Manchester.

A Dozen Killed in Michigan.

Pontiac, Mich., May 25.—Reports from Ortonville, Oakwood, Oxford and Thomas, which are located in Oakland County, 15 to 20 miles north of here, say that a cyclone swept these sections this afternoon. Ortonville and Thomas were nearly wiped out of existence. It is said that fully a dozen people lost their lives at Ortonville, while at Thomas four were killed.

Six Killed at Mount Clemens.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., May 25.—A cyclone passed over this city this evening, wrecking about 50 houses and killing six or eight persons and injuring several others.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

Scott's Sarsaparilla his Salvation.

Nothing blights existence like the knowledge that our appearance is repellant to those with whom we come in contact, nor is there any relief like that of feeling that the disfiguring causes have been removed. Says Mr. William Alger: My face on one side was a mass of blotches, some of which were constantly full of matter. I run a bake shop doing my own work, but my face got so bad that customers drifted away. Then I hired a man and went to a doctor. He said my blood was in a horrible condition. I sold my business and moved to the city where Scott's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me. The first bottle did me much good, and after taking five bottles my skin is as clear as possible, and not a sign of my previous disfigurement. I say Scott's Sarsaparilla is the best blood medicine going and am speaking from experience.

Pimples, blotches, boils, ulcers and all diseases arising from vital exhaustion and impure blood are radically cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla, a concentrated compound of the finest medicines ever known. Your druggist has it at $1. But get Scott's. The kind that cures.

A Jersey City Baptist Clergyman Slates the Rowdies on the Wheel.

New York, May 25.—The Rev. Claude Raboteau of the Parmley Memorial Baptist Church, Jersey City, in a prelude to his sermon last evening, said:

"Rowdyism on the bicycle has become a public nuisance and seriously mars the pleasure of this innocent sport. How a certain element can afford to own a bicycle is a mystery, for many do not own a second shirt.

"One bicycle rowdy who ought to be quickly suppressed is the scorcher. I have seen him bent double, with chin on handle-bar, riding down men, women and children remorselessly, like a two-wheeled juggernaut. The scorcher is a mean, inconsiderate ruffian, whom the police should serve as he deserves."

Mural Artist Armitage Dead.

London, May 25.—Edward Armitage, historical and mural painter and member of the Royal Academy, died at Tunbridge Wells yesterday.

It is a great mistake to suppose that a simple tonic gives strength; it only stimulates the stomach to renewed action. To impart real strength, the blood must be purified and enriched and this can only be done by such a standard alternative as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone whomsoever. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 239 eodw Delray Mich.

MILVERTON, 28TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

Reaping The Benefits

AT ROBERT HALL'S RETIRING SALE.

There were a good many Ladies in and around Peterborough who did'nt think it necessary to come out the first two weeks of our Retiring Sale, but who now wished they had,—and are coming out now.

There are many others who have just awakened to the knowledge of what they have been missing by holding back, thinking there would be plenty time to get their share of the Bargains before the sale closed. These, too, have helped to make busy days for us this week.

DO AS OTHERS DO

And investigate for yourself. The chief attractions among our All-Over-the-Store Bargains will be in those goods specially in demand by the Ladies.

Special mention may be made of the Unmatchable Values to be had in Straw Hats, Straw Bonnets, Capes, Parasols, Veiling, Gloves, Hosiery, Corsets, Handkerchiefs, Shirt Waists, Ladies' Ties, Belts, Buckles, Collars, Cuffs, &c., &c.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla — for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine."

THE 15TH BATTALION OF BELLEVILLE VISIT PETERBOROUGH ON THE 24TH.

The Visitors Were a Fine Soldierly Body of Men.

PETERBOROUGH WILL RETURN THE VISIT ON THE FIRST OF JULY.

How the Day Was Spent in Town—The Visiting Battalion was About 200 Strong—The Grand Old Veterans Turned Out in Full Force, and Were Given the Heartiest Cheer of the Day—Friends in '66 Recognized Each Other After a Separation of Forty Years—The Belleville Officers Were Accompanied by Their Wives.

The advantages of spending the anniversary of the Queen's Birthday in the manner in which it was celebrated in Peterborough yesterday, was manifested to all, as although the sky looked most threatening, trainloads of visitors came in from every direction, whilst those living in the country drove in by the scores.

The chief item which created interest in the celebration of the day in Peterborough was the presence in town of the 15th Battalion, Argyle Light Infantry, from Belleville. The visiting troops arrived on a special train at about half past eleven Saturday evening, after having enjoyed a quick run from Belleville where a big crowd gathered at the station to see them off. The train stopped at the grounds in order to save the visitors a long midnight tramp from the station to their camp, which was located on the agricultural park where the the day before by a corporal's guard—sent on in advance.

The visiting battalion disembarked almost 200 strong and was officered as follows: Staff—Lt.-Col. Ponton, Major

LIEUT.-COL. PONTON, COMMANDING 15TH BATTALION.

Halliwell, Major Horrigan, Adjutant McRae, Quartermaster Donald, Paymaster Biggar, Surgeon Eakins, Asst. Surgeon Gardiner.

Co. "A"—Capt. Muir. Strength 28.
Co. "B"—Capt. Osborne, Lieut. Hulme. Strength 24.
Co. "C"—Capt. Walmsley, Lieut. Clapp. Strength 19.
Co. "D"—Capt. McGinnis, Lieut. Carter. Strength 18.
Co. "E"—Capt. Vermilyea, Lieut. Gibson. Strength 27.
Co. "F"—Capt. Pope, Lieut. Stewart. Strength 29.

Non-Commissioned Officers Staff—Sgt. Major Aria, Asst. Sgt. Major Luscombe, Quartermaster's Sgt. Mills, Orderly Room Clerk McFee, Paymaster's Sgt. Brown, Pioneer Corp's Sgt. Soules, Ambulance Corp's Sgt. Mathison, Bicycle Corp's Sgt. Lockett

The Battalion was accompanied to town in a special car by a number of ladies, the majority of whom were the wives or daughters of the officers. Amongst them were Mrs. Col. Ponton, Mrs. Glencoe Hulme, Miss Maclean, Mrs. Capt. Osborne, Mrs. Capt. Pope, Mrs. Dr. Eakins, Mrs. Sanders, Miss Halliwell, Mrs. J. P. Thompson and Mrs. Major Biggar.

On arriving at camp a luncheon was served the men and they were dismissed to retire for the night. As the majority of them, however, had not visited Peterborough before they wished to avail themselves of the first opportunity possible of seeing the town and the novel spectacle of witnessing the streets in the middle of the night was observed by those abroad at that hour. The boys were too tired, apparently, to remain up town long and in a couple of hours the last of their merry tilts was heard as they wended their way back to camp and had an opportunity of exercising their ingenuity in evading the sentries, as they dodged into their tents.

On Sunday morning the men were up into town for their breakfasts bright and early and partook of them at the different hotels to which they were assigned, after which they returned to camp and at half-past nine met the 57th, who marched down to meet them about half way, and both battalions proceeded to Central Park where a drum head service was conducted in the open air by Rev. Mr. MacLean, Chaplain of the 15th and Rev. Dr. Torrance of St. Paul's church. A brief but impressive sermon was preached by the latter from the text "Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ." No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life, that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier"—II Timothy, chapter 3rd and 4th verses.

At the conclusion of the service both battalions were dismissed for the day on the grounds.

THE RANK AND FILE

dispersed to enjoy themselves with their new made friends in the other battalion, whilst the visiting officers and their wives were carried off to dine by the officers of the 57th. The non-commissioned officers of the 15th marched down to the rooms of the local sergeants' mess and the visiting buglers, pioneers and ambulance corps were entertained respectively by the corresponding corps in the Rangers.

In the afternoon, beautiful Chemong was flooded with visitors. The officers, and the ladies who accompanied them to Peterborough, drove out in carriages to this beautiful resort, while the men hired big vans and went bowling along the country roads bound for the same destination. The non-commissioned officers of the 57th, chartered the North Star for the afternoon and gave their brethren of the 15th a most enjoyable trip down the Otonabee.

Orders had been issued for every man of the 15th to be in camp by 10.30 at night, and being thoroughly tired by their long trip and short rest of the night previous, they needed no urging to retire at this hour.

The order on the streets throughout the day was excellent, and although the visitors were almost all young fellows, hardly in their twenties, the day was respected, and no unseemly conduct was witnessed on the streets during the Sabbath.

Peterborough's pretty girls made the acquaintance of many a gallant red coat during the day, and in the evening on every street those Belleville boys were to be found strolling around with coy maidens, who for the time being had relegated their civillian "best fellow" to the background.

After church in the evening the bands of both battalions gave a sacred concert at the Court House Park, which was crowded for the occasion as well as all the streets in the immediate vicinity.

THE VETERANS RECEIVED.

Sharp at 7.30, the Peterborough veterans assembled at the drill shed and marched with martial tread to the Grand Trunk station, where they were put under fire by Mr. R. M. Roy, who poured a volley of snap shots into the steady ranks of the veterans, who never once quailed under the withering fire of the camera.

At 8.10 the train bringing the veterans of Belleville, arrived. The visiting veterans mustered 35 strong,—three officers, Lieut.-Col. Hulme commanding, Capt. Blaind and Lieut. Johnson, Sergt.-Major Scholes and 31 men.

The visitors were escorted to the market square, and after "dismissing" were personally entertained by the local volunteers.

Amongst the visiting veterans were Messrs. Allan T. Petrie and Wm. Blaind, who not only saw service in 1866 but also in 1837.

It was surprising to see how the members of the old guard renewed their youth—how the old esprit du corps flashed out again in an added sprightliness of step and more erect bearing—how the walking stick that each one carried in lieu of a rifle were nervously handled in furtive experiments at "shouldering," "porting" or "trailing." Reminiscences were exchanged with almost boyish glee—"I say, Fred, do you remember what a born divil Fitzsimmons was?" "Yes; he was up to anything, and he'd as soon fight as eat." "Yes, and do you mind, Tom, how"—and so on ad infinitum. Verily the Vets of '66 had a grand time on the 24th recalling past deeds of chivalry and derring do and shouldering their crutch to show how fields were won.

And the rally of the 24th will doubtless result in the formation of a permanent association, and a meeting for this purpose will be called in a short time, of which due notice will be given through the press.

STABBING AFFRAY IN ASHBURNHAM YESTERDAY.

The County Constables Out After the Man.

Yesterday afternoon a fight took place in Hogan's hotel, Ashburnham, with the result that a knife was drawn and a young butcher named Taylor was stabbed in the eye.

The wounded man was driven almost crazy with the pain and rushed through the village streets with the blood gushing from his awful injury.

He was finally quieted down and induced to allow a physician to dress the wound. At present he is lying in a semi-unconscious condition and it is feared he will not survive his injuries.

County Constable Cochrane is searching for the man who is stated to have done the stabbing and who is alleged to be Bert Craig. The arrest has not as yet been accomplished.

OBITUARY.

The death of Agnes Cowan, wife of Thos. C. Tucker, took place early this morning, at the family residence, No. 543 Reid street. The deceased was subjected to an attack of la grippe last winter, which settled on her lungs and which she was never able to shake off, although last July she was able to take a trip to the Adirondacks in an endeavour to recover her health. The deceased was 68 years of age and a consistent member of St. Paul's church. Her influence for good was felt by all who knew her. She was kind and unassuming and a most devoted mother. Mrs. Tucker was a daughter of the late William Cowan, of "Costeruse," Londonderry, Ireland, and niece of the late Samuel Gilliland, of Brook Hall, Londonderry. She leaves two sons,—John T. and Charles of Montreal, and one daughter, Lizzie. The funeral will take place Thursday at 2 p. m.

CELEBRATION OF THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

Queen's Birthday was to be observed. This somewhat dampened the ardor of the hundreds of spectators who lined the streets in the expectancy of seeing the parade of both battalions, but at about eleven o'clock the flashes of sunshine came at quicker intervals and as the rain had almost ceased the gallant 57th came marching forth and proceeded down to the camp to escort their guests through the streets. As both battalions came sweeping through the streets the sight was a grand one, and cheer after cheer greeted them as they marched through the crowded thoroughfares, but the greatest cheer of all was reserved for the veterans, and as the grand old men, who had risked their lives at the front in '66, stepped smartly along with their heads as erect as ever one long cheer greeted them, continuing all along the line of march. The procession was formed as follows :—

Lt.-Col. Bell and Lt. Col. Rogers,
15th Batt. Bicyle Corps,
15th Batt. Pioneer Corps,
15th Batt. Band, Bugles and Drum Corps,
Lt.-Col. Ponton, Major Halliwell and Major Horrigan,
The 15th Battalion,
15th Batt. Ambulance Corps.
The Veterans of the 15th and 57th Battalions'
57th Band, Bugles and Drum Corps.

THE VETERANS ON PARADE.

Elsewhere in this report is recorded the reception of the visiting veterans of Belleville by their Peterborough old-time compdnions in arms.

Sharp to the hour the Peterborough and other veterans of 1866 residing in Peterborough, mustered at the drill shed and were awarded a place of honour—the rear guard of the 57th. The dirty drizzle of rain that fell from ten to eleven o'clock did not deter them, though the wet and the sloppy streets were unpleasantly suggestive of rheumatic visitations, begotten of the damp and the unwonted march. When the 57th were on the move, headed by the band, the command came, "Veterans, form four, right, quick march!" and fourth the gallant eight and forty "boys" paced out briskly. As they marched down George street, eyes front, with a swing as rythmic and steady as a line regiment, they were greeted with hearty cheers from the crowds that lined the walks. And all along the route they were favoured with similar demonstrations of approval, varied by the more appreciative directness of the undaunted small boy—"Bully for the old boys!" "Them's the fellows that was in it!" etc. The route was from the drill shed down George to Charlotte to Aylmer to Sherbrooke, where the regiment countermarched, formed line and allowed the 15th to advance to the front, when the route was resumed—up Aylmer to Charlotte, to Rubidge to Simcoe, where the line of march was opened to permit the Belleville veterans who came up Simcoe to fall in behind the Belleville corps. Then again the route was resumed to Hunter, down Hunter to Water, to London to George, to the Market Square. About half way of the route of march Major Langford suggested that if the tramp would be too fatiguing the veterans could drop out. The proposal was received with as much scorn as respect due to a commanding officer would permit :—

"No, sir! We'll see it through, we can stand it as well as the raw recruits."

Arrived at the Market Square the combined corps of veterans deployed into line on the north side of the square facing southwards, and watched with patronizing tolerance the military manœuvres of the two battalions, which consisted in presenting arms and giving three cheers for the Queen, and for each other. When the awkward squads, to wit, the 15th and 57th, had left the square, the veterans performed a few complicated evolutions with the perfection of animated machines, and forming into line, exchanged cheers and tigers with the greatest enthusiasm.

The position taken by the veterans in Monday's parade shows that there is plenty of life and service in the old boys yet, and shows that if danger should threaten our land, the country would not be disposed to show any haste in being "off with the old love and on with the new."

The names of the local veterans were as published on page 8 and the Belleville contingent was composed as follows :—

Adjutant R. Croft Hulme.
Lieutenant U. E. Thompson.
Ensign E. Dulmage.
Sergeants Wm. Bland, James Macoun, J. P. Thompson, Wm. Johnson, W. H. Scholes, W. A. Roblin.
Corporals F. M. Clarke, A. McDonald, Geo. Thompson.
Privates Thos. Gibson, George Dame, Wm. Black, J. W. Johnson, J. W. Crookrite, Jeremiah Aris, John Aris, Joseph Bosely, R. J. Boyle, H. W. Taylor, Wm. Hopkins, A. T. Petrie, W. Kirkpatrick, B. J. Service, Chas. Smith, John McCutcheon, Henry Carre, C.E., W. H. Howe, Arch. Collins, James Hamilton, John Morrison, John Gordon, C. P. Holton.

After marching through the principal streets the two battalions were drawn up on the market square, the 15th on the east, the 57th on the west and the Veterans on the north, all facing inward. Arms were presented on the word of command, and three hearty cheers were given for Her Majesty the Queen; three more were given each for the 15th, the 57th and the Veterans. Lt.-Col. Bell then briefly addressed the men, after they had been drawn up in close order. He welcomed them to the town in the cordial manner which he knows how well to express, and his reference to the honour which the town and local battalion felt it to be to entertain the 15th was couched in terms exceedingly well fitted to the occasion and was received with cheers.

The 15th were marched from the market square to the camp ground and the 57th proceeded to the drill shed, where Lt.-Col. Bell and Rev. J. C. Davidson made brief addresses.

In the afternoon the majority of the men attended the sports in the Driving Park, the results of which will be found chronicled in another column.

Between two and six o'clock the camp was visited by hundreds of citizens, who were most hospitably entertained in the mess tent of the officers, as well as under the Quartermaster's canvas. The mess tent was most prettily decorated with flowers and the tables were most beautifully arranged. A light luncheon of lemonade, ices and cake was served during the afternoon by the officers, who could not do too much for their numerous callers and were most assiduous in doing the honours of the camp.

THE BANQUET OF THE BATTALIONS.

In the evening the officers of the 57th entertained the officers of the 15th and a few invited guests at a splendid banquet at the Huffman House, which was as conspicuous a success as the other features of the day.

Mine Host of the Huffman House, with a fine sense of the fitness of things, had decorated the banquetting hall in a manner well becoming the occasion. Streamers of bunting adorned the celling, and the walls were bright with flags, tastefully disposed. The tables were a triumph of gastronomic decoration, the military spirit predominating. At several points were placed minature brass cannons loaded to to the muzzle, and the long lines of goblets containing the serviettes was each decorated with a tiny flag. The table cover was in the colours red, white and blue, and the shades of the three gorgeous banquet lamps were of the same national colours. Cut flowers of brilliant hues, in Venetian vases and tiny jardinieres, vied with the glitter of cut glass and sparkling silver; the fruit epergnes were wreathed with sprays of smilax that crept greenly amidst the luscious fruit with which they were filled. The menu cards and toast list were also beautiful in their colours and military symbolism. They were ornamented in red, white and blue, printed in cadet blue and tied with tri colour ribbons. Altogether the tables presented a beautiful appearance and occasioned much complimentary remark upon the taste of the hostess of the Huffman. An orchestra consisting of violin and harp furnished capital music during the evening and furnished impromptu accompaniments to the songs that enlivened the evening.

Forty-five covers were laid, and among the guests were Rev. M. W. McLean, chaplain of the 15th, Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's, Mayor Yelland, Councillors White and Moore, Messrs. T. A. Hay, R. B. Rogers and H. S. Greenwood.

Dr. Halliday, President of the Mess, occupied the chair, and Capt. Hayes, Vice-President, the vice chair. Major Bell occupied a seat at the centre of the table, having the guests of honour, Lt.-Col. Ponton and Major Hallowell at hand.

After the disposition of the menu which included a most sumptuous variety of delicacies and substantials, received attention.

THE TOAST LIST

The toast par excellence, "The Queen," was received with an enthusiasm that surpassed the usual heartiness with which it is invariably received. "God Save the Queen" was sung with a rousing effect that drowned the crash of the electrical storm that was raging without.

The next toast was that of the Governor and Lieut.-Governor and Houses of Parliament—or as the chairman paraphrased it—the government of the country. There was no one present to respond.

This was followed by the singing of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun's favourite song, "Drill ye Tarriers Drill" and the company picked up the chorus with reverberating effect.

The next toast, "The Fifteenth Battalion," pressed into service all the enthusiasm of the company. It was drunk with cheers and tigers and vociferous vocal assertion of the fact of their being "Jolly Good Fellows."

Lt.-Col. Ponton responded in a neat and polished speech. He gracefully expressed on behalf of the officers and men their thanks for the exceedingly cordial reception that had been tendered the battalion. It was a magnificent reception throughout, and was conspicuous for its inclusive character, for it came not only from the officers and men of the 57th but from all classes of the citizens as well. And the cordial personal character of the reception was worthy of special reference. He referred particularly to the kindness received from the staff of the 57th in giving the 15th pointers as to the manner of conducting an outing which had been such a delightful

TWO DAYS OF UNBROKEN ENJOYMENT.

He hoped to have the pleasure of trying to reciprocate on the first of July, when it was hoped the Peterborough volunteers would return the visit.

The toast of our "Sister Corps" brought a neat speech from Major Horrigan of the 15th, Picton. He had heard Peterborough spoken of as a pretty town, and noted for its pretty girls. In both respects reality was quite up to rumour. He would have the most pleasant memories of his present visit to Peterborough.

Responses were also made by Capt. Greenwood, formerly Adjutant of the Fourth Regiment of Cavalry and by Lieut. Coburn, of the Third Cavalry, and Mr. T. A. S. Hay, who upheld the good name of the "Veterans of 1866."

Lt.-Col. Ponton and Major Halliwell proposed the toast of the Fifty-Seventh. In so doing, the latter heatily endorsed all that Lt.-Col. Ponton had said of the extreme cordiality of the reception they had received, and of the enjoyment it had afforded. In saying this he knew that he spoke the sentiments of every officer and man of the Fifteenth. The success of their reception was owing to the great efforts put forward by all the citizens of the beautiful town of Peterborough. This happy speech was very warmly received, as was the toast of the Fifty Seventh, which he disposed in conclusion, and was drunk with all the honours.

Major Bell briefly responded and acknowledged the courteous sayings of those who had spoken for the Fifteenth. He read a telegram from Captain Walmsely, mayor of Belleville, who had been compelled to return home on an earlier train, thanking the Fifty-Seventh and the town for the royal reception which had been extended the Fifteenth.

Rev. Mr. McLean, in his acknowlegment, referred warmly to the kindness and generous hospitality he had received at the hands and home of the Rector of St. John's. He and all the corps would carry away delightful recollections of the unexampled kindness they had received in Peterborough.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rector of St. John's, in a happy and enthusiastic address, referred to the beneficial effect exercised upon the community by the presence of a volunteer corps. It was a stimulus to the whole citizenship, and practically inculcated a spirit of obedience and respect for authority that was not always exercised by other influences.

Rev. Dr. Torrance also paid a brief but pithy tribute to the worth of our citizen soldiers.

"The Mayor and Corporation" was responded to by Mayor Yelland and Councillor Moore.

The hour having arrived when the Fifteenth must entrain for home, the other toasts, of the Veterans of '66 the Press, etc., were taken as honoured, and the company sang, with "locked shields," Auld Lang Syne.

THE BAND CONCERT.

The concert which was given last evening in aid of the 57th Batt. Band fund was largely attended. The numbers which were given by the united choirs of the town are deserving of special mention. Mozart's "With Full Voiced Choir" and Mammat's beautiful "Deus Miseratur" were the titles of the two numbers and the manner in which they were given, after only a few practices, reflected great credit upon the performers. The 15th Batt. band executed some difficult numbers from Gounod's "Faust," and from the works of Missud, Herani and Tobani, and that the audience was delighted was manifested by the unstinted applause which was bestowed. Bandmaster Riggs understands placing his men on the stage in such a manner as to produce the best effects. The local band also gave several selections.

At the conclusion of the supper the local officers accompanied their guests back to camp and marched with them to the train, where the visiting battalion was sent off with hearty cheers.

NOTES.

The 57th are now all looking forward with eagerness to the First of July trip to Belleville, when the visit of the 15th will be returned and the many new acquaintances formed will be renewed.

Lt. Col. Ponton says if the 57th think as highly of the 15th as the 15th think of the 57th, that is the highest praise which can be bestowed on the 15th. Very nicely put, indeed.

Major Fitz Horrigan, of the 16th Battalion, Picton, was along with the 15th, and was warmly welcomed by his friends in the 57th, to whom he showed such kindness in Picton last year. Major Horrigan says that the 57th is the best advertising medium that Peterborough could have. The Picton people were so pleased with them that there will be a big crowd of Pictonians up in Belleville on the first of July to see the Rangers again.

Major Halliwell was the high priest in the Quartermaster's tent and all who know genial Jack will know that he looked after his callers with the utmost assuidity.

Col. Ponton makes an ideal commanding officer. His cordiality to visiting citizens will long be remembered in Peterborough. Under him the 15th should take a high stand amongst our volunteer militia. He was requested to act as the Brigadier of the day.

The men of the 15th had a merry time of it on the streets last night, so merry indeed that fully half of those in attendance at the concert rose and went out to see the fun. Horns, kazoos and every imaginable kind of musical (?) instrument was pressed into service and although the rain poured down in torrents the fun continued until the hour for returning to camp arrived.

The bicycle corps was an innovation and in Sergeant Laurie Lockett, Peterborough recognized a friend, as he received his education here. Amongst the riders were Messrs. Hull, Austin and John Dempsey, representing the Belleville Intelligenger and Sun.

The action of the officers of the 15th in allowing the ladies to accompany the battalion is to be generally commended. It lent a certain elevated tone to the whole trip.

The 15th is great on corps. Their bicycle corps is a splendid feature, but the kazoo corps that performed a processional serenade of the guests at the banquet, can beat a thunderstorm for noise.

Perfect Wisdom

Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly wise, they must take medicines to keep themselves perfectly healthy. Pure, rich blood is the basis of good health. A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a dreadful discourager of affection, or rather of the demonstration of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a perfect remedy for this most common of all troubles. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. They are very mild in their action, and act without any violence whatever. In this, they are different from many preparations offered for a similar purpose. Sometimes the remedy is worse than the disease, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are mild, but they are infallibly efficient. They do the work which they are intended to do, without deranging the system in any way. They not only give immediate relief, but the benefit derived from them is permanent. You can stop taking them by and by and there is no danger that you will become a slave to their use. The druggist who tries to sell you something else "just as good," either does not know what he is talking about, or he makes more money on the other thing. If you care more for his prosperity than you do for your own health, take the other thing. If you value your health, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. A free sample, of from 4 to 7 doses, will be sent to any address.

A copy of Dr. Pierce's celebrated 1008 page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) cents in one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only.

A CALL TO WOMEN!

A Helper in Times of Need.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND A BLESSING TO FEMALES OF EVERY AGE.

The Greatest Health-builder and Strength-giver of the age.

SURE, QUICK AND PERMANENT CURES.

The greatest misfortune of the present generation is that the mothers and wives are so often unfitted for the duties of life, and for all domestic enjoyment, by reason of broken down health and overtasked systems.

The duties of women of all ages are often more worrying and wearing than the troubles met with by men. Social, household, and often business cares press upon women very heavily. In this way the delicate nerves and sensitive organs become deranged; suffering ensues, and life becomes a burden that many carry to the grave.

For all the special weaknesses that women are so apt to fall victims to, medical science has provided Paine's Celery Compound. The wonderful tonic and building up properties of this famed medicine have specific powers in correcting the disorders of the female organism; it maintains health, gives strength, vivacity and good looks, keeps the secretory system in perfect order, and imparts to the body the elasticity of early womanhood.

Mrs. Hooper of Thornhill, Ont., briefly tells how she was restored to health and made a new woman. She says:

"With great pleasure and satisfaction I wish to add my testimony to what has already been said in favour of Paine's Celery Compound. For a very long time I suffered from debility and a run-down system. Having heard of Paine's Celery Compound I determined to give it a trial, and I am happy to state it has done for me more good than I can express. For ten years I doctored with other medicines without any good results, but after using Paine's Celery Compound I am perfectly restored to health, can eat well, digestion is good, and my sleep is sweet and sound. Altogether I am a new woman. I always recommend Paine's Celery Compound to my friends."

Fashionable Economy.

Fashionable women in London are agitating a new league, which has the worthy motive of preventing extravagance in dress, and even limiting the number of dresses a woman shall buy in one year, providing, of course, she becomes a member. So many women dress beyond their means to keep pace with their more favored associates that this "anti-dress league," is proposed as a sort of mantle of charity to cover a small dress allowance with fashionable respect, and bring about an average rule for dress which shall govern the richer as well as the poorer members of society. The success of this enterprise is yet to be seen, but the amusing side of it is that the women who are the most enthusiastic workers in the cause keep very clear of it themselves.

TORTUES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, Arkwright, Ont., says: I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed, and could neither sleep nor rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle, and after taking about the half of it I found myself recovering, and after continuing it for some time I recovered, but when the cold weather set in this winter I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared, and I consider that I am entirely cured.

THE O.J.C. MEETING.

For the Sixth Time Mr. Seagram Wins the Plate.

MILLBROOK DID THE TRICK HANDILY

His Stable Companion Springal, Got the Place—Large Crowds on Saturday and Monday—Some Very Fine Racing on Both Days—The Summaries.

Toronto May 26.—The Ontario Jockey Club meeting opened on Saturday with the weather good, though a trifle cool, and there was a large attendance, perhaps 9000 people, representing the best elements of Toronto and provincial society. Large contingents from Hamilton, London, Woodstock, Owen Sound, and other leading points were in evidence, and the scene at the Woodbine was a most attractive one. There were good fields in all the events, and though no very fast time was made, the racing was full of interest. The chief interest centered in the Queen's Plate, and for the sixth time the black and yellow of Mr. Seagram went to the front. Millbrook won, With Springal second, and the victory of the Waterloo man was a popular one.

On Monday another great crowd—about 10,000—attended, and there was grand sport. Although the heavy shower of the morning had made the track somewhat heavy, excellent time was made in some of the events, notably the Ontario Plate, which was won in 2.14 1-2—only half a second behind the record of Joe Miller in the Queen's Plate two years ago.

The summaries for the two days tell the story:

Saturday—First race, 3-4 mile—Havoc 1, Silk Gown 2, Sun Up 3. Time 1.16 1-2.

Second race, Juvenile Scurry, 1-2 mile—Sleepy Belle 1, Cardinal 2, Bon Ino 3. Time 50 1-4.

Third race, 1 1-2 miles—Thorncliffe 1, All Blue 2, Governor Russell 3. Time 2.51 1-2.

Fourth race, Queen's Plate, 1 1-4 miles—Millbrook 1, Springal 2, Dictator 3. Time 2.19.

Fifth race, Royal Canadaian Steeplechase, 1 3-4 miles—Lawyer 1, Tom Nye 2, Revolver 3. Time 5.58.

Sixth race, 7 furlongs—Stonemason 1, Crimea 2, Alarm 3. Time 1.31 1-4.

MONDAY'S EVENTS.

First race, 3-4 mile—Petrolene 1, Kapanga colt 2, Silk Gown 3. Time 1.20.

Second race, for 2-year-olds, 1-2 mile—Bird of Freedom 1, Maud Lyles 2, Edna D. 3. Time 52 1-2.

Third race, 1 1-4 miles—Maurice 1, Connoisseur 2, Booze 3. Time 2.14 1-2.

Sixth race, Woodbine Steeplechase, 2 1-2 miles—Lion Heart 1, Vicar of Wakefield 2, Pat Oakley 3. Time 6.16 1-2.

RACES AT GEORGETOWN.

Georgetown, May 25.—The races held here to-day were the most successful ever held.

The day's sports started with a lacrosse match between the Excelsiors of Brampton and the Actnas of this place, and after one and one-half hours of fast and brilliant play resulted in a draw, each team scoring one goal.

The bicycle races were well filled. Half-mile amateur—R. Thompson, Toronto, 1; W. J. Cromby, Toronto, 2. Time 1.29½.

One mile amateur—W. J. Cromby, Toronto, 1; R. Thompson, Toronto, 2. Time 2.53½.

The horse racing was the feature of the day, all the classes being well filled.

TWO GAMES OF BASEBALL.

Springfield Won the Morning Game, But Toronto Turned the Tables in the Afternoon Before a Big Crowd.

A big crowd was present to see the holiday morning game, and they were disappointed from the start. Springfield took a lead in the first, and Toronto never looked dangerous. Dineen's slow delivery let the champions steal bases at will. Apart from a brilliant running catch by Shannon of a foul fly, the game was featureless. Score:

Springfield	4 0 1 0 4 1 0 0 2—12
Toronto	0 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 2—4

Earned runs—Springfield 2, Toronto 2. First base by errors—Springfield 3, Toronto 1. Left on bases—Springfield 10, Toronto 11. First base on balls—Off Dineen 5, off Easton 4. Struck out—By Dineen 6, by Easton 3. Three-base hit—Coogan. Two-base hits—Sweeny, Wright. Sacrifice hit—Tenney. Stolen bases—Sweeny, Leahy, Sheffler, Shannon, Tenney. Double plays—Lynch to Tenney. Hit by pitcher—By Easton 1. Wild pitches—Dineen 1. Umpire—Swartwood. Time of game—2.20. Attendance—2500.

A PITCHERS' BATTLE.

An enormous crowd saw the afternoon game. It was a pitchers' battle, and no runs up to the eighth. Springfield scored on Leahy's single, a stolen base and Tenney's double. Toronto added six, and cinched the game in their half on singles by Padden, Lutenburg, Smith, Delehanty and McPartlin, a double by O'Brien and two errors. Score:

PYNY-PECTORAL

Positively Cures COUGHS and COLDS

in a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific certainty, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCOMBER & SON, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Garceau of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. G. McComber of a long-standing cold.

MR. J. H. HUTTY, Chemist, 528 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."

Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

For all scrofulous and blood diseases use Scott's.

The greatest of spring medicines is Scott's Sarsaparilla.

Give the children Scott's. They like it, and it drives away disease.

Women whose complexions are bad can get a clear skin by using Scott's Sarsaparilla.

Does your heart palpitate? If it does, you may drop dead. Cure heart disease by the use of Scott's Sarsaparilla.

There is no blood purifier made that equals Scott's Sarsaparilla. Remember that fact every time you want spring medicine.

THE BELGRAVIA ASHORE.

She Gets Aground Soon After Her Pilot Left Her Near St. John.

St. John, N.B., May 22.—The Anchor Line steamship Belgravia, Dial, laden, which sailed from this port at 4 o'clock this morning, is ashore at Black Point, some 8 or 10 miles up the bay. She went out in charge of a pilot, who took her past the island, gave the officers the course, and left her, as it was not thought necessary for him to go down the bay. The ship seems to have got entirely out of her course, as the point where she is ashore is almost in the opposite direction from that supposed to be taken. The deck load is being taken off and it is hoped the ship may be floated at high tide.

A DAY FOR GOOSE EGGS.

Springfield Falls Before Toronto—Scranton and Wilkes-Barre Also.

Toronto, May 23.

Springfield appeared the easiest mark of the year for the Torontos. Over the Don yesterday the champions fielded like third-rate amateurs and could not bat a little bit. Dunn made the record for the year by only allowing one hit, a short fly over third, by the other pitcher, in the sixth innings. Most of Toronto's runs were scored after the side should have been retired, and then the Torontos batted viciously. O'Brien made the first home run of the season here. Score:

Earned runs—Toronto 5. First base by errors—Toronto 5, Springfield 1. Left on bases—Toronto 1, Springfield 2. First base on balls—Off Jordan 7, off Dunn 3. Struck out—By Dunn 2. Home run—O'Brien. HOW WEYLER HIT THE YANKEES

When He Prohibited the Exportation of Tobacco From Cuba to the U.S.

New York, May 22.—A stir has been created in the wholesale tobacco trade of this city by the order of the Spanish authorities prohibiting the exportation of leaf tobacco from Cuba to the United States. The decree will be enforced next Tuesday and in the meantime strenuous efforts are being made to import as much stock as possible. Dealers averred to-day that the outlook was serious and especially so in view of the fact that the insurgents were likely at any moment to destroy the Cuban crop entirely. The revolutionists have levied a tax of $5 a bale on planters, which will not now be forthcoming if the United States market is cut off and the result, it is feared, will be the complete destruction of the tobacco fields.

The prohibition order was issued by Spain, it is believed, to strike at the thousands of tobacco dealers here who rely upon the Cuban product and whose earnings have largely gone towards supplying ammunition to the insurgents.

HE WANTS OTHERS TO KNOW.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please state in your journal, that if any sufferer from Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lack of Energy and Ambition, Lost Manhood, Night Losses, etc., will write me in confidence, I will inform him by sealed letter, free of charge, how to obtain a perfect cure. I ask for no money, having nothing to sell. I know how to sympathize with these sufferers and am only too glad to be able to assist them. I promise everyone absolute secrecy and as I do not, of course, wish to expose myself either, I do not give my name. If you desire to get well, send stamp and address simply: P. O. All About Her,

Delft gowns, which are in reality tailor combinations of cadet blue and white, are being ordered largely.

Short veils, not unlike those used by the French infant of fashion, are worn by youthful brides, who consider the more voluminous fall too stately.

Some exquisite drawn work is done by machine. In fact, the very daintiest designs both in embroidery and this form of labor can be skillfully and swiftly accomplished in this manner.

Violets are worn par excellence with street and reception costumes. Occasionally mignonette is used in combinations with them, but other flowers are not seen on the best dressed women.

Kipling Travels Incog.

Gloucester, Mass., May 22.—Capt. John Dench of the fishing schooner Venus, who arrived here last night, reports that he brought as a passenger from Boston the novelist Rudyard Kipling, and a friend. Mr. Kipling explained to the captain that he and his friend were traveling incognito, but for what purpose was not explained. Mr. Kipling admitted that they were traveling in the schooner for the purpose of observing how fishing vessels are equipped and manned.

Japanese Go on Strike.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 22.—Advices from Guadaloupe say that an extensive strike of Japanese laborers is in progress in that island and that serious trouble is imminent. Detachments of troops occupy the disturbed districts where threats of interference with the operations on the plantations have been made by the strikers.

Cures, absolute, permanent cures have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world and the first place among medicines.

HOW
THE SUN LIFE
FULFILS ITS PROMISES.
A Matured 10 Year Endowment.
Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.
The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled
BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.
W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—
DEAR SIR.—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.
I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."
I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,
Yours Sincerely, (Signed) F. R. C.
The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

"Going to Insure."
THE Man who is simply "going to insure" is usually no better than the man who has'nt made the decision. In fact he is usually worse, because he has considered the subject and been convinced of his duty, but has not done it. "Nothing is done so long as anything remains undone." On application to either of the undermentioned gentlemen, full particulars will be furnished in regard to the Unconditional Accumulative Policy issued by the

WILL LYTLE WON HIS NOVICE YESTERDAY

AT THE BICYCLE RACES IN THE DRIVING PARK.

A Grand Afternoon of Sport—Horse Races—Bicycle Races—Lacrosse—Baseball and Many Other Events of Interest.

The sports which were run off at the Driving Park during the afternoon were attended by a big crowd and were carried out most successfully. The bicycle races particularly were most exciting and watched with the closest interest.

The track officials were as appended:

Judges—Dr. Bradd, Omemee, and S. Ray.

Bicycle Referee—Lionel King.

Timers—W. E. Lech and C. LeBrun.

The boys' bicycle race was the first event on the programme. There were four entries, viz., Hubert McBain, Frank Bradburn, Davidson and Smith. McBain had things all his own way after he jumped to the lead on the back stretch, but Bradburn passed him hard at the finish and the spectators were treated to a good race the grand stand, McBain winning by a wheel.

The next race was the mile novice and the greatest interest was manifested in it. Silverwood's entry created a good deal of anxiety amongst the local riders, as he has the name amongst the Lindsay riders of being very fast. He was never dangerous however. The other entries were as followed: — Gordon, W. Lytle, B. Rickey, J. Hamilton, R. P. Bradburn, Chas. Dawson, Pakenham and E. Hall. Gordon took the lead at the start, and for three quarters of a mile set a hot pace. At the end of the first half Gordon led, closely followed by Bradburn and Lytle, with the others stringing out behind. At the turn into the home stretch the riders in the rear moved up and the spectators were treated to a grand race. Lytle came out of the bunch closely followed by Hamilton and Dawson and these three swept over the line in order named with about a wheel length between each and several wheels ahead of the bunch. The mile was covered in 2.38½, which is remarkably fast tim for a novice race over a track on which the rain had been falling but a couple of hours previously.

The handicap was another race on which great attention was concentrated. The entries and handicaps were as appended: Scratch—Phillips and Little; 40 yards—Lytle and Evans; 100 yards—Bradburn, Rickey, Packenham, Dawson, Hall, Hamilton, Gordon and Silverwood. The scratch men had such trouble in catching the bunch of young flyers that they were played before the final spurt came at the finish. Lytle, however, from the 40 yard mark, speedily caught the bunch, and at the half was leading, followed by Rickey and Packenham. On the home stretch Dawson and Gordon collared Lytle, and Dawson succeeded in winning from him by a length, Gordon making a good second.—Time, 2.33.

In the open event there were four entries: Evans, Walker, Little and Phillips. Walker won handily in 2.56, beating out Little, who made a good second.

There were only two entries in the team race.

No. 1.	No. 2.
Lytle	Gordon
Little	Dawson
Walker	Packenham

Team No. 1. won handily, Walker, Little and Lytle crossing the tape in the order named

OTHER EVENTS.

The professional foot race was won by Nolan, of Trenton, with Fitzgerald second. The other entries were Mayhew, Riley and Crews. Time, 10 seconds.

A little girls race was won by Ada Mills, with Mabel Seymour second.

The amateur foot race was won by Ford, of Toronto, with English, of Toronto, second. LeBar, when in the lead, lost his shoe. It took five heats to decide the winner of the horse race. The heats were won as follows:

Sandy B.—E Brown	1	1	2	2	2
Miss Stabler—W Sherin	2	2	1	1	1
Doubtful	3	3	3	3	3

The lacrosse match lacked interest, as the Peterboroughs "played rag" with the Cobourgs, winning four straight games inside of fifteen minutes. An exhibition game was played, in which the score was 2—1 in favour of Peterborough. The teams were composed as follows:—

Cobourg.		Peterborough.
McConachy	goal	Dobbin
Hartley	point	Bolan
Smith	cover point	Brown
A McCaughey	1st defence	Mein
Sutherland	2nd "	Borland
Leavens	3rd "	Rubidge
Holland	centre	McDonough
Pratt	3rd home	Gailey
Duncan	2nd "	Lattimor
Rooney	1st "	Lipsett
Piercy	outside home	Begley
Duncan	inside "	McCabe

Referee—E Wasson.

A game of baseball was played between the visiting battalion and the Park Nine, resulting in a victory for the Peterborough club by a score of 10—3. For the visitors Cronkright and Fleming were in the points, whilst Connors and Graham were the local battery.

A tug of war between the 15th and 57th battalions resulted in a victory for the visitors.

LAKEFIELD PICNIC.

The Annual Celebration of St. Paul's Church a Great Success.

The annual picnic under the auspices of the congregation of St. Paul's church, was held at Lakefield yesterday. There was a large attendance of the citizens of Lakefield and the surrounding community, and considering the numerous attractions here, Peterborough was well represented. There was the usual programme of picnic sports which delight the younger portion of such assemblages, and a dancing platform supplemented these enjoyments.

A platform had been erected, and Mr. T. Cahill of Peterborough occupied the chair. Addresses were delivered by the following gentlemen: Messrs. J. R. Stratton, Jas. Stevenson, John Laing, James Kendry and John Burnham. The addresses were brief and opportune to the anniversary which was being celebrated.

During the day the ladies of the congregation provided dinner and tea of an excellent character, and they were liberally partaken of. The picnic was in every way a most gratifying success, upon which the genial pastor, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, and the members of the congregation are to be cordially congratulated.

THE VETERAN'S REUNION.

Meeting of the Veterans of 1866—Preparing to Receive the Veterans of Belleville—The Muster Roll—A Permanent Association to be Formed.

At a meeting of the "veterans" of 1866 at the Drill Shed on Saturday evening the following answered the roll call:—

Major Langford,

H Rush,	Ed Green,
R J Sanderson,	Geo Stenton,
Thos Brown,	A T McGregor,
H W Watson,	J L Hughes,
John Alexander,	T A R Hay,
A P Poussette,	R W Grubbe,
F M Corry,	C S Dudman,
W Montgomery,	C McBurney,
H D Holmes,	R M Roy,
Jas Fox,	P Thompson,
L Spry,	R Tivey,
Geo Brown,	Jonathan Green,
J D Collins,	F R Yokome,
Wm Logan,	W H Anthony,
David Law,	D Breese,
B Shortly,	J Belleghem,
Wm Galley,	Alex Fitzgerald.
G W Hall,	W Cox,
Fred Mitchell,	John Mowry,
D H Burritt,	Roger Green,
Thos Fitzgerald,	Thos Armstrong,
Gordon Wright,	Geo Armstrong,
D McMartin,	Geo Kingdon,

Geo L May.

Though these were not all present at the meeting they all took part in the parade on the 25th.

It was resolved that the Veterans of 1860 meet at the drill shed to receive the Veterans from Belleville, Major Langford to be in command and John Irwin to be Sergeant-Major, and H. D. Holmes, Sergeant. The question of forming a permanent Veteran's Association was discussed, and the following gentlemen appointed a committee to prepare a constitution:—Col. Bell, Col. Rogers and Messrs. H. Rush, F. R. Yokme, T. A. Hay and A. P. Poussette.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion, because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—All members of the Otonabee Canoe Club are requested to meet at P. Connal & Co's. store, Wednesday night at 7.30 p.m. sharp. Business of importance.

—The watering cart was badly needed on George street to-day, as the dust was flying in clouds. There was no sign of the cart at half past two.

—The "White Crook" is the attraction offered at the opera house next Monday evening, June 1st. This is without doubt the finest spectacular production travelling. Don't forget the night—Monday, June 1st.

—Messrs. J. J. Turner & Son, have just filled an order from Messrs. Dickerson & McWatt, barristers, Barrie, for 12 awnings. The letter acknowledging the receipt states that the awnings are satisfactory in every way, fitting nicely and looking well, and a further order was also sent.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Percy Bysh is home from Toronto for a day or so.

Miss Flora L'Esperance, of Cobourg, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Raine spent the holiday at her home in Port Hope.

Mr. Fred Wesley came down from Toronto for the holiday.

Mr. Warran Trickey came in for the Queen's Birthday.

Dr. Bradd, of Omemee, was in town for the celebration.

Miss Jennie Moore spent Sunday and Monday with her parents in Port Hope.

Miss Emma Murray, of Bobcaygeon, is in town visiting her friends for a few days.

Miss Nellie Treewern, of Rochester, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. Geo. Ball for a week or so.

Miss Ada Stenton, Park street, left Saturday for Irondale, where she intends visiting friends.

Mrs. Wragge, of Belleville, spent the 24th in town as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. Maitland Roy, Stewart street.

Miss Carrie Martin, Belleville, was in town for the 24th, the guest of Miss J. Glover, Ashburnham.

Mrs. R. Binch and daughter, of Parkdale, is on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Hendricks, Bethune street.

Miss Jennie Gillespie spent Sunday and Monday with her friend, Miss Gamble, in Port Hope.

Miss Ida Palmer and Miss Helen Millward, of Port Hope, are the guests of Mr. S. Henderson, Ashburnham.

Mr. Lionel King was down from Toronto for the holiday. He and George Horkins rode down on a tandem.

Dr. Charlie McKee left to-day for New York, where he will take a post graduate course in medicine.

Mr. J. P. Thompson, City Treasurer of Belleville, was amongst the visitors to town on the twenty fourth.

Mrs. Francis Burke and daughter, Miss Lillie, of Lindsay, are at present visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stenton, 22 Park street.

Police Magistrate, J. J. B. Flint, was one of the Belleville citizens who visited Peterborough on the Queen's Birthday.

Mr. W. H. Brownscombe and daughter, Jennie, were in town over Sunday, on their way to Uxbridge to spend the holiday.

Mr. H. A. Dean, of the Bank of Montreal, in Deseronto, rode up on his wheel from that town on Saturday and spent the 24th in town as the guest of Rev. W. R. Young.

Mr. Will Thompson, of the local branch of the Ontario Bank, has been transferred to Bowmanville. He will be greatly missed in athletic circles in town and Bowmanville gains a good lacrosse player in him.

Mr. Jack Parsons, of the Bank of Montreal, has received notice of his transfer to Moncton, N. B. Since his residence in town Mr. Parsons has won the esteem and respect of all with whom he came in contact. He will be particularly missed on the hockey rink, where his grand work at cover point has saved the Peterboroughs many a defeat. In social circles Mr. Parsons was also a great favourite.

Mr. E. B. Wilson has leased the customs woolen mills at Lescard, near Pontypool, and goes to-morrow to take possession and to operate the mills. Mr. Wilson has been engaged in the custom woolen mills business for the past twenty years and is a widely respected citizen, whom we shall regret to lose. His many friends in Peterborough will wish him abundant success in his new sphere of labour.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it gives rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active business man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and don't be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

THE HON. G. W. ROSS

Fires the First Shot in the Welland Campaign.

HOUSING MEETING AT THE FALLS

The Minister of Education in Terse Language Shows How the National Policy Has Failed to Produce What Was Promised by Its Promoters.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 26.—The Liberals fired their first gun in the County of Welland here this evening. The meeting was largely attended, the principal speaker being Hon. G. W. Ross, Ontario Minister of Education. The Town Hall was filled to the doors. All the prominent local Reformers were on the platform, and when the Liberal candidate, Mr. James A. Lowell, entered the hall with the Hon. Mr. Ross the audience cheered both of them heartily. The chairman, Mr Alex. Gray, opened the meeting with an appropriate speech, followed by Mr. Gross of Welland, who made a short but rattling and witty political speech. Mr. Lowell, who followed, received a grand ovation, and made a good speech, giving a resume of the session of Parliament of last winter, pointing out the conspiracy that brought out the present Premier as the leader of the Conservative party.

Hon. Mr. Ross was then introduced, and received a grand ovation. After alluding to the honesty of character of Mr. Lowell to faithfully represent the people of the County of Welland, he took up the political issues, and handled them to the satisfaction of his auditors, who frequently cheered as he scored the late Government.

The first issue he took up was the trade policy of the Conservative party. He said he would deal with the questions as the Conservatives promised them in 1878. He claimed the National Policy had not given the people of Canada employment, as they said it would. It did not even keep them at home. He claimed there were a quarter of a million more Canadians in the United States in 1890 than there were in 1880. There was a greater number of failures in Canada in 1894 than there were in 1878. The N.P. advocates promised the farmers higher prices for farm produce. He showed by figures that prices were lower now than ever before. He said the Conservatives boasted over their loyalty to the old flag, but had through manipulations decreased the imports from Great Britain from sixty million dollars in 1878 to thirty millions last year, while the imports from the United States had increased. He said the policy of the Liberals should be tariff for revenue, all surplus to go into the public treasury and not sugar combines, the raw material in every case to be free. He believed in the policy of Sir Robert Peel and Hon. W. E. Gladstone for his political economy. Take the duty off wool. Give to the artizans of England free raw material and good machinery and the artizans of England would compete with the world, and the same thing could successfully be applied to Canadians. He believed the heavy tax should fall on the luxuries of life and not tax woolens and cottons 30 and 35 per cent. and silks 30 per cent. We claim, said he, that the present tariff is defective in this respect. Why should the duty on farm implements be higher than jewelry and silverware? He claimed that one-half the manufacturers were Liberals, and they would adjust the tariff to prevent the forming of combines and not cause any violent change to interfere with any industry or men working in factories.

He then took up the Manitoba school question, and claimed the worst of all the Government's offences was the fact of allowing the question to enter the arena of Federal politics. No one disputed the element of justice. The Privy Council had decided the Roman Catholics had suffered a grievance. The grievance was caused by Manitoba and it was to the Government of that province they should have gone and told them that the Privy Council has said, "You have inflicted a grievance; see if you cannot withdraw that grievance," and waited a while to see what they would do, instead of rushing at Manitoba, commanding them to restore the schools to the majority. He claimed that the Remedial bill was totally unfitted for the purpose for which it was intended. The Government had been trifling with this question. He said it was claimed that there were 34 Government candidates in Ontario pledged against the Remedial Bill—that the party were whistling on both sides of their mouths. "We believe in provincial autonomy; we take the ground that Manitoba should have been approached and conciliation used instead of coercion." Coercion failed with Pharaoh, and so it would with the modern Pharaoh, Sir Charles Tupper, as it did when the Americans tried to coerce Canada into the Union, when our brave forefathers drove them across the Heights at Queenston and Lundy's Lane, and if there was one thing he admired in the late Sir John Macdonald it was his powers of conciliation, and he cited the case of Nova Scotia, when Sir Charles Tupper wanted to coerce that province into the Confederation. Sir John took the first train for Halifax and within 24 hours after his arrival there, Nova Scotia was one of the provinces of our fair Dominion.

The speaker then took up the national debt, and pointed out the extravagance in contracts and pension funds, reading a long list of items of pensions. What Canada wanted was a higher grade of politics. He scathingly alluded to Sir Charles Tupper as Premier of this Canada, standing before an audience in Winnipeg, promising the electors of that city he would grant a subsidy of four and a half million dollars to the Hudson Bay Railway, as a bribe to return his candidates. Imagine Lord Salisbury telling the people of Manchester if they supported his party he would grant them a large sum of money to defray the expenses of building their canal! What a howl would ring through all England, and it would not be amiss telling you here that Her Majesty would cancel his commission before the next day. After thanking those present for their kind attention, he took his seat amidst a storm of applause.

THE TWO-SIDED MAIL.

His Opinion of Sir Charles Tupper as Expressed in 1891.

"Of the system which Mr. Blake deplores, Sir Charles Tupper has notoriously been the chief agent; all that is worst in it and has tended most to debase the national character is familiarly connected with his name, which may be said to be a household word of corruption. Nor has he, like his late chief, succeeded in convincing the people that except when he is doing the dirty work of a political party his hands are clean; or that, if he governed the nation, its honor, while it might be in danger from such exposures as that of the Pacific Railway scanda' would be secure against deeper stain. His name is at this moment unpleasantly connected with a suspicious commercial affair in England, and if the sentence of the arbitrators in the Onderdonk contract case next month should be against the Dominion, another sinister transaction will be recalled to mind. * * * It is too evident what sort of a scene would be opened by his accession to power. He is the prince of political cracksmen, no doubt, but we cannot afford to purchase ability even of so rare a kind as such a price as that of continued and increased demoralization. * * * The appointment of such a man at the head of the state would be not merely the inauguration of violence and corruption unredeemed by any true wisdom or statesmanship; it would be the signal for a disruption of the community and for a moral civil war."—The Mail, June 9th, 1891.

The Mail now urges the electors to vote for the "disruption of the community," and for "a moral civil war."

Efforts are being made to induce Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., to run as an independent candidate in Haldimand and Monck, and the able lawyer is said to be considering the matter.

Mr. Evanturel, M.L.A. for Prescott, has been doing effective work among the French-speaking voters of some of the Ontario constituencies. His work is likely to tell on election day.

ORANGE GRAND LODGE.

Mr. N. Clarke Wallace Welcomed by His Brethren at Collingwood.

Collingwood, May 26.—The Royal Black Chapter held a session this morning and at noon adjourned and marched to the station to meet Grand Master N. C. Wallace. When the Grand Master appeared he was cheered by a large crowd, and afterwards presented with an address from the Royal Black Chapter, eulogising him for the stand he had taken on the Manitoba school question, and expressing the fullest loyalty and devotion. Mr. Wallace replied briefly, denouncing in strong terms the attempt of the Dominion Government to coerce Manitoba.

After a procession through the streets, the session of the Orange Grand Lodge was opened in the City Hall, and Grand Master Wallace delivered his annual address, which referred to the usual committees.

During the afternoon the delegates were welcomed by the Mayor on behalf of the town and by the local and district Orange lodges.

Locomotive Strikes a Wagon.

Chicago, May 26.—A Panhandle switch engine ran into a wagon belonging to the Howe Great London Circus at 59-street and Centre-avenue at 2.30 o'clock this morning, smashing the wagon and injuring its five occupants, three of them probably fatally.

A BRILLIANT SCENE

Was the Coronation of the Young Czar Nicholas.

OLD MOSCOW IN A BLAZE OF GLORY

Amid Solemn Religious Ceremony the Emperor of All the Russias Places the Crown Upon His Own Head—The Empress Also Crowned.

Moscow, May 26.—To-day was the chief day of all the ceremonies connected with this festive occasion, the day up to which all the previous days have led and were preparatory to.

The weather was fine and the sky cloudless.

Crowds thronged the streets at an early hour, and those who were fortunate enough to possess cards of admission to the small Cathedral of the Assumption, where the coronation ceremonies were solemnized, were early at the Kremlin seeking their places.

The famous Red Staircase, leading up by the side wall of the Granovitia Palace to the Kremlin Palace, down which the royal party came, was covered with crimson cloth. The cathedrals of the Assumption, the Annunciation and the Archangel were connected by means of a wide wooden path, carpeted with crimson cloth, stretching from the Red Staircase, and branching off to the doors of the cathedrals, and to the entrances of the large square of the Kremlin, through which their Majesties would pass on making the circuit of the cathedrals and the Ivan Tower after being crowned, in order to show themselves to the people.

At 8.15 numerous ladies and gentlemen of the court, in brilliant dresses and uniforms, entered and took their places, and at 8.30 the great bell in the Ivan tower began to boom, giving the signal to all other bells, which took up the peal and resounded through the city. A large number of bishops and priests, in magnificent ceremonial robes were in attendance, the bishops with golden mitres and golden broidered chasubles, the priests in white surplices, with golden chasubles. Some of the priests were busy within, the iconostas lighting the tapers on the altar and preparing the elements for the celebration of the Eucharist, while others were grouped in their several places about the iconostas. As the bell of Ivan Veliki tolled out the half-hour, the male choir, which in Greek churches is always concealed, began to intone the Te Deum. Their beautiful voices swelled to the tones of the grand and solemn anthem, and seemed a fitting preparation to the ceremony about to begin.

At a quarter to 9 the diplomatic body and special envoys, headed by Count de Montevillo, the French Ambassador, who, in the inability of the Turkish Ambassador to be present in a Greek church, was the doyen of the diplomatic corps, slowly filed into the sacred building. The choir continued singing, and at 9 o'clock the sound of cheers and roars from the waiting throngs outside announced the fact that the royal party was approaching.

The first of the imperial party to appear was the Dowager Csarina, mother of the Emperor, who came separately from the Emperor and Empress and their attendants. The Dowager Empress wore a crown and an imperial mantle, and was accompanied by those members of the imperial family who were not included in the Czar's cortege, and the ladies and officials of her court. Four chamberlains bore her train as she ascended the throne, on a dais, level with the other two thrones. Over the Dowager Csarina's throne hung a magnificent baldachin, and on a pillar covered with red velvet was the initial letter "M." in gold. On the opposite pillar was the letter "N.," with the number "2" below it; the Csarina's initial was not visible, being covered by the great baldachin immediately after.

Amid tumultuous shouts from outside the Emperor and Empress appeared at the door. They were received by the clergy and escorted to the steps of the altar. The Emperor was in the dark green and gold uniform of a general of the guards, with high boots. The Empress was dressed in a silver robe with a long train, which was borne by four girls.

Arriving at the altar steps, the Metropolitan of Moscow, and the Grand Duke Sergius welcomed the Emperor and Empress in the holy building. The Metropolitan of St. Petersburg presented the cross for them to kiss, and the Metropolitan of Kieff presented them with the holy water. After bowing three times before the altar and kissing the sacred images, their Majesties ascended the steps and took their places in front of the altar, with their backs to the throne.

The scene was one of great beauty as the Imperial couple stood awaiting the service which was to proclaim them Emperor and Empress of all the Russias. The blaze of gold and silver, the brilliancy of the uniforms and orders, the richness of the Russian court toilets, worn by the ladies, the sparkling and precious gems, the clouds of incense rising from behind the ikonostas and pervading the church, the solemn sweetness of the singing, which now again began, all contributed to the splendor of the oc-

A DEVICE OF DESPERATION.

The Conservative politicians seem to think that the electors are children to be frightened by bogies. They say that if you point a finger at the N. P. in the way of reducing or readjusting a single item of high taxation, the country will go to the bow wows. They tell the manufacturers that the Liberal policy of a tariff for revenue, which the extravagance of the present Government will keep high enough to furnish all the protection an industry suitable to the country can require will not fill the bill. And now apparently sensible men, who presume to address sensible electors, are reviving the antiquated ghost of alien gold to be used for bribing the electors. There should be no reply to this. It is simply rot, and carries absurdity on the face of it. The Montreal Witness, an independent paper, in referring to this puerile concoction, says:—"The protectionists of the United States have for a quarter of a century raised the cry at each Presidential election that 'Cobden Club gold' was being poured into the country by the English manufacturers to bribe the electors to vote for free trade. The Protectionists of Canada are following humbly in the footsteps of their brethren in the United States, and are crying out again in this campaign, as they have done in former cases, that the United States manufacturers are flooding Canada with money to bribe Canadian electors to vote for tariff reform. Why the protected manufacturers of the United States should pay out of their own pockets hundreds of thousands or millions of dollars in order to secure tariff reform which would open up the Canadian market to Great Britain, which in a great majority of lines can beat the United States out of its shoes in an open market, is not easy to understand. Nobody ever did believe such reports, and nobody ever will, and they have been put forward so often that they now only bring ridicule upon the party which is in such desperate straits that it clutches at every straw to save itself."

THE FURNITURE TRADE.

The Globe publishes an open letter from a number of furniture manufacturers of Canada, expressing confidence in the Liberal trade policy. It is signed as follows:

The Charles Rogers & Sons company Ltd., Toronto.
Gold Medal Bed Spring & Furniture company, Toronto.
Canadian Feather Down & Wire Mattress company, Toronto.
Anthes Manufacturing company, Berlin.
Brown & Erb, Berlin.
Snider, Rose & Company, Waterloo.
L. C. Klippert, Waterloo.
J. B. Snider, Waterloo.
Bingeman, Ward & Company, Bloomingdale.
Burr Bros., Guelph.
Stubbs & Rogers, Guelph.
Baird Bros., Platteville
Broadfoot & Box, Seaforth.
George C. McLagan, (of Porteous & McLagan) Stratford.
John Ferguson & Sons, London.
Kensington Furniture Company, London and Goderich.
Cliff & Forster, Lucknow.
Krug Bros. & Co, Chesley.
Hanover Spring Bed & Upholstery Company, Hanover.
Knechtel Furniture Company, Hanover.
R. J. Disney, President of Disney & Devlin Manufacturing Company, Hanover.
Jacob Messenger (ex-President Hanover Furniture Company), Hanover.
H. V. Fralick, Napanee.

In this connection it is worthy of note that the following firms, some of them leaders in their line prior to 1878, have failed or gone out of business during the operation of the N. P.:

Upper Canada Furniture Company, Bowmanville.
Oshawa Cabinet Company, Oshawa.
James Hay & Company, Woodstock.
Hess Bros., Listowel and Toronto.
R. Hay & Company, Toronto. (Retired.)
R. A. Allardice & Company, Hamilton.
Zingsheim & Company, Hamilton.
Gilchrist Grunt Company, Wingham.
Zoellnert Company, Mount Forest.
Brantford Furniture Company, Brantford.
Luke Bros., Oshawa.
George Diehl & Company, Toronto.
Guggisberg Bros., Preston.

Why has the policy of high taxation failed to help and also preserve the cabinet-making business. One would think that a protective duty of 30 per cent. would have enabled the furniture trade to hold its own. In Peterborough, before there was a protective tariff, the furniture and cabinet-making business gave employment to fifty men, where it does not now do more than employ five. That is to say that we have some forty fewer persons earning good wages at a trade now than before the N. P. came into operation. Where is the claim of the N.P. to creating a home market for the farmers by giving employment to mechanics in the matter of the furniture manufacturing business? Let its advocates give a satisfactory answer. Here we have optical demonstration of the fact that the N.P. has failed to help—not to speaking of hurting—the furniture trade in Peterborough.

OUR paternal Government answers the workingman's demand for protection of his labour by Taring him a job on the canal with a pick and shovel, in case he votes right. The workingman wants protection from principle, and not mere work as a charity, and he has a right to it equally with the capitalist.

MR. KENDRY, the Conservative candidate, advocates "protection," with an eye to number one. He is anxious to have the duty kept up in the interests of the business he is concerned in. But he doesn't say how he proposes to protect the workingman. The rich manufacturer, who has enjoyed a high rate of protective tariff for eighteen years, must have more, but the workingman has absolutely no protection against competition. Is this fair?

OUR "trooly loil" Conservative friends borrow their election cries as well as their fiscal policy from the United States. High taxation is the Yankee system and we have slavishly followed it. A Yankee election cry is "Cobden club gold," contributed by reckless Englishmen, and now our Conservative friends raise the cry of Yankee gold to bribe Canadian electors to vote for a British as against an unBritish trade policy.

IN proof of what the National Policy has done in the way of keeping its promise that it was to raise the price of the farmers produce, an Otonabee farmer has furnished the following statement of Wheat sold in Peterborough, 1878.

April	3,	20 bushels and 45 lbs.	at		$1.12
April	6,	45	"	25	" 1.10
May	2,	28	"	33	" 1.08
May	4,	23	"	55	" 1.06
May	5,	42	"	0	" 1.06
August	22,	45	"	33	" 1.02
August	26,	41	"	34	" 1.00

These figures are bona fide, and if their accuracy is disputed the original grain checks can be produced.

BENSFORT.

From our own Correspondent.

Mr. Thos. Armstrong is busily engaged painting his stable, which he built last fall. It is quite an improvement to his place and a credit to the village.

Mr. John Fletcher will have his hands full this summer. In addition to drawing the mail he is drawing a route of milk for the cheese factory, but with his usual agility he will come out all right.

Mr. Samuel Smithson has been ailing for some time, but is able to be around again. Mr. Wm. Huggins is also sick, being under the care of the doctor.

Mrs. Pierce Powers is ill, but under the skilful treatment of Dr. Montgomery will soon be around again.

William Smith is kept busy opening the swing of the new bridge, for steamboats and yachts. The Otonabee River and Rice Lake seem to be growing in popularity as summer resorts and fishing grounds.

Mr. Smith intends starting his mill in a few days. He will be kept busy most of the summer, as he has quite a contract on hand sawing timber and lumber for the new wharf to be built by Thos. Harris, at Smithson's Landing.

Mr. James Wedlock is preparing for a large trade this summer. Several men are engaged already catching frogs for the United States market.

The Union Sunday School intend holding their annual excursion to Idyl Wyld and other points of interest on Rice Lake and Otonabee. The steamer Beaver leaves Smithson's landing at 7.30 and will call at all the landings down the river. Come one come all on June 5th and enjoy one of the greatest treats of the season.

A large bee was held on Thursday and Friday at the new bridge filling in the north side and improving the road generally. Several parties on both sides of the river assisted and under the able direction of Messrs. Joseph Wood and John Riddell two very profitable days were spent. A few more days like them and they will have as good a road as can be found anywhere.

A very interesting political meeting was held in the Sunday school last Monday evening. Several speakers from Peterborough were present and added much to the interest of the meeting by their addresses.

As Mr. Robt. Fisher was on his way to the meeting the colt he was driving took fright at a pig on the road and ran away. It did no serious damage, except to break the belly band of the harness and throw Mr. Fisher out of the rig. He got the horse stopped before it had gone very far, but in his endeavours to do so he startled the villagers by such an emphatic 'Whoa' as has not been heard in the village since the owner of a team of mules named Bell and Maud passed through the village on their way to Peterborough last spring.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Belleville, May 19.—At the Cheese Board today 40 factories boarded 1,518 boxes white and 280 boxes coloured cheese. The sales were:—J. R. Brower, 60 boxes at 7 9-16c, 105 at 7 7-16c; A. A. Ayer, 290 at 7 7-16c; R. J. Graham, 165 at 7½c, 306 at 7⅝c; Marden Bird, 125 at 7 7-16c.

Ingersoll, May 19.—At the Ingersoll cheese market to-day 24 factories offered 2,600 boxes cheese. Sales—880 boxes at 6½c, 146 at 6 1-16c. Large attendance but market quiet.

Campbellford, May 19—The first meeting of this cheese board for 1896 was held this evening. The president is Mr. Kellegher and the Secretary, Mr. J. Goran. Both buyers and salesmen were well represented and the prospect for a good season seems fair. Five hundred and ninety boxes of white were boarded. The sales were:—To Ayer & Co., 80 boxes at 7 5-16c, and 80 at 7½c; to Ware & Sons, 105 boxes at 7½c; to Watkin, 105 boxes at 7½c, and to Hodgson Bros., 30 boxes at 7 3-16c. Balance unsold. Buyers present were Messrs. Thompson, Bird, Morrison and Whitton. The board meets again one week from to-night.

Woodstock, May 20—Eighteen factories offered 1,280 boxes. Sales—520 boxes white sold at 6 11-16c, 150 at 6½c, 230 at 6 3-16, 300 at 6½c. Eight buyers present.

Tweed, May 20—Six hundred and thirty boxes cheese boarded here. White sold at 7 5-16c.

Barrie, May 21.—There was a large attendance at the first meeting of the Cheese Board here to-day. The officers elected were:—F. J. Gillespie, Uptergrove, President; J. A. Myers, Mount Albert, Vice President; C. E. Lundy, Newmarket, Secretary; Directors, D. Wood, A. Jones, H. L. Tarbush, J. A. Kidd, J. McAuslan, R. Graham, and J. A. Blain. The factories in this district have just got nicely started. The prospects for a strong board here this season are good. There has been no fodder cheese made in this locality this spring, and what cheese will be offered at next meeting will be full grass. The board adjourned to meet June 4.

Brockville, May 21—To-day's meeting of the Cheese Board was fairly well attended. The following officers were elected:—President, J. B. Wilson; First Vice-President, A. Gray; Second Vice-President, M. K. Everetts; Secretary-Treasurer, C. J. Gilroy; Salesmen, H. G. Murray; Auditors, T. H. Percival and H. Brown. The Treasurer's report showed a deficit of $46 for last year. The offerings were 2,079 white and 926 coloured. Sales—413 white at 7½c; 6½c was offered for coloured, but found no takers.

Kingston, May 21—At this afternoon's meeting of the Frontenac Cheese Board there were 1,077 boxes white cheese boarded and only 77 boxes coloured. E. J. Madden opened by bidding 7c for white selections. L. W. Murphy was the highest bidder at 7 9-16 c for selections, and secured these lots:—Battersea, 45; Coldspring 60; Oregon 60; Pine Hill 25; St. Lawrence 28; Madel 30; Central 30. E. J. Madden's bid of 7 1-8c was not accepted, neither was L. W. Murphy's bid for 7c for coloured.

casion. As the Emperor and Empress entered the cathedral the choir sang Psalm 101, "Misericordiam et judicium cantabo tibi Domine."

The Metropolitan of St. Petersburg, as the hymn of the choir ceased, stepped forward and handed the Emperor a missal, saying, "Gratia Spiritus Sancti sit semper tecum, amen," and bidding him read aloud the orthodox creed, which he did in a voice audible to all. This was followed by the reading of the litany, with prayers for God's blessing upon the Czar's Government. The choir then sang "God is the Lord," with the response, "Lord, save Thy people."

The Metropolitans of Kieff and St. Petersburg then assisted the Czar to don the Imperial mantle, made of cloth of gold, lined with ermine, which was presented on two golden cushions by court chamberlains. After donning the mantle the Emperor assumed the diamond collar of St. Andrew, the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg, saying: "In nomine Patris et Filii et Spiritus Sancti, amen."

Then turning to the altar, the Czar bowed his head to the prelate of St. Petersburg, who crossed his hands upon his Majesty's forehead and said: "May the Lord anoint him with the oil of joy, may he clothe him with power and place upon his head a crown of precious stones of long life: may he give into his right hand the sceptre of salvation, set him upon tha throne of rightrousness and preserve with his protection the established rule."

Immediately after this the Czar received the crown from the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg and, standing in full sight of all the people and still before the altar, with both hands placed the crown upon his head, then, taking his sceptre, in which blazed the famous Orloff diamond, in his right hand, and the globe of the Empire in his left, he ascended the dais, and took his seat upon the throne, the Empress still standing in her former place. This was the supreme moment of all, and when gazing round the church and seeing representatives from nearly every district of this mighty Empire, and beholding the Czar sitting on his throne of state, with the symbols of power given to him by the highest authority in the land, one had a realizing sense of the great power wielded by the man in whose honor this great function was held.

At the moment of his taking his seat on the throne, the cannon of the arsenal thundered forth, the bells rang, and the bands massed outside, played the National Anthem.

The Emperor after merely occupying the throne for a few seconds, rose, and placing the sceptre and the globe on the table by his side, turned to the Empress, and, taking off his crown, touched her forehead with it. She then knelt before him on a crimson velvet cushion, when the Emperor placed upon her head her own crown, which is surmounted by a large sapphire. The Empress' ladies of honor fixed the crown on her head with a gold comb, and then robed her in her mantle of cloth of gold ermine, lined like the Emperor's. She was also invested with the collar of St. Andrew, and she was led to her throne by the Emperor and remained seated at his side.

The Emperor then resumed his sceptre and orb, and the clergy broke forth into the magnificent anthem "Domine Salvum Fac Imperatorem," and "Domine Salvan Fac Imperatricem," of course, in the old Slavonic tongue. The choir answered, "Ad Multos Annos."

The members of the Imperial family and the foreign princes now advanced and congratulated the Imperial couple, while others in the church bowed thrice towards the throne, thus expressing their felicitations.

Suddenly the cannon, bells and bands ceased, and a deep silence ensued, while the Czar knelt and solemnly uttered the following prayer: "Lord, God of my fathers, King of Kings, by whose single word the universe was created, and by whose wisdom the destiny of mankind is guided, thou rulest the world in righteousness and justice, thou hast elected me to be a ruler of this Thy people. I trust in Thy goodness toward me. I thank Thee and bow to Thy power. Direct Thou my way in the accomplishment of the mission Which Thou hast entrusted to me. Endow me with the knowledge of the right; strengthen my hands for this great work. May I be permeated with the wisdom that goeth forth from Thy throne. May my heart abide in Thy hands that my life may be full of love towards my subjects, that I may on the great day of judgment stand before Thee with a clear conscience."

When the Czar rose from his knees, the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg began a prayer for the Emperor, at which everyone in the Cathedral knelt, with the exception of the Emperor, who stood erect, wearing his crown. The Metropolitan then stepped forward to the foot of the dais and made a short address to the Czar on the importance and duties of his office, ending with these words: "With this visible and corporal adornment of thy head is clear proof that Christ, the King of Honors, invisibly crowns the head of the Russian Empire."

After the Emperor took the sceptre the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg said: "God has crowned this God given, God adorned, most God fearing autocrat and great monarch, Emperor of all the Russias. Take thyself the sceptre and ball of the empire, the visible image of the sole sovereignty over the people given by the most high for their government, promotion and every desirable well-being."

After this the choir sang the Te Deum and the bells of the Kremlin again rang out. At the invitation of the Metropolitan, the royal couple then descended from the dais and walked to the entrance of the sanctuary, where the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg, with a branch of gold, sprinkled the forehead, the eyes, lips, nostrils, ears, breast and the palms and backs of the hands of the Emof Kieff removing the oil with a linen cloth. The Empress was merely sprinkled upon the forehead.

Resuming their places upon the dais, mass was now begun, and after the consecration of the elements, the Emperor, the train of his coronation robe, being borne by the clergy, entered the sanctuary behind the ikonostas, and received the communion. The Empress likewise received communion, but kneeling at the sanctuary steps, as women are not allowed within the ikonostas. After the communion, the Emperor and Empress reascended their thrones, their insignia being borne before them and all of the court dignitaries grouped around them. The Czar's chief almoner then recited the prayers, which follow the communion, concluding with the intonation of the "Domine Salvum Fac Imperatorem" and "Domine Salvam Fac Imperatricem."

The choir then sang the "Ad Multos Annos" three times. The long ceremony was now concluded by each of the annointed kissing a golden crucifix, containing a sacred relic, which was held up by the Metropolitan of Kieff amid a salvo of cannon and the clanging of bells, to which were joined the mighty acclamations of the people. The Imperial couple, arrayed in their coronation splendor, emergid from the northern door of the cathedral under a gorgeous canopy, borne aloft by four court chamberlains.

The Emperor, who still held the sceptre and orb preceded the Empress by a few paces. The Imperial pair walked around outside the Ivan Veliki, which was surrounded by tribunes filled with guests, and re-entered the cathedral square between the Ivan Tower and the Cathedral of the Archangel Michael, which they entered, and thence walked to the Cathedral of the Annunciation, several high dignitaries carrying the trains of their mantles.

The strains of the National Anthem, the joyful pealing of the bells, the thunder of the cannon and the loud, prolonged roar of the people who struggled with each other to see their crowned Emperor and his consort, contributed to make an unforgetable scene to those who witnessed it.

After paying their devotions in the Cathedral of the Annunciation, their Majesties placed themselves again under the Baldeachin, and were escorted to the foot of the Red Staircase, which they ascended amid the shouts of the troops and the people. At the top their Majesties stopped, and, turning towards their subjects, bowed, then they entered the palace. The Emperor and Empress subsequently dined in state in the banqueting hall of the Granovitaya Palace, wearing their imperial crowns and mantles. The members of the Imperial family and the chief clergy and high dignitaries of the Empire were their guests, and they were served by officers in gala uniform, ten servants being present. Every dish of the Imperial couple was brought in with especial ceremony by a general, followed by the master of ceremonies, attended by pages. A court chamberlain poured out the wines. For this banquet the court chef had under his direction 200 cooks and 1500 assistants.

In proclaiming the Emperor crowned after the donning of the mantle, the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg used all of the Czar's titles, which are: Nicholas II. Alexandrovich, Emperor and Autocrat of All the Russias, Czar of Moscow, Kieff, Vladimir, Novgorod, Astrachan, of Poland, of Siberia, of the Cherconnese, Tauric, Seignior of Pskow, Grand Duke of Smolensk, of Lithuania, Volhynia, Podolia and Finland, Prince of Esthonia, Livonia and Courland.

The proclamation issued by the Czar on the occasion of his coronation prescribes various remissions, of which the following are the principal: All arrears of taxes in European Russia and Poland are remitted and the land tax is reduced by half for ten years. The sentences of exiles in Siberia are materially reduced, political offenders receiving further remissions with the restoration of their civil rights in certain cases. The Ministers of the Interior and Justice are empowered to submit to the Czar deserving cases of those punished after a regular trial. Those persons who shared in the Polish rebellion who are not guilty of murder, cruelty, arson or robbery are exempted from the police supervision decreed in 1883 and are granted full freedom of residence if they return to their own country and take the oath of allegiance.

AT STITTSVILLE!

The Town's Leading Merchant Laid Up

Rheumatism in various forms is one of the most common diseases there is. It arises generally from impure blood and a broken down system. In the limbs it is painful; in most of the internal organs dangerous, and in the heart usually fatal.

The experience of Mr. S. Mann, the well known general merchant of Stittsville, is interesting:

"Last winter I was badly afflicted with rheumatism. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Pills. To my surprise, I got immediate relief, and before I had used one box my affliction was gone.

"I was also troubled with biliousness for years, and at intervals of three or four weeks would be laid up with a severe headache and sick stomach. Since using Chase's Pills I have not had an attack of either.

"I may add that Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles and skin diseases is just as effective as Dr. Chase's Pills for blood troubles. I have a clerk who suffered terribly from bleeding piles. He tried Chase's Ointment and in a few days was completely cured."

Lightning Kills Horses

Bowmanville, May 26.—During the passage over this district of a heavy thunder storm last night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, lightning struck the barn of John Ayre, lot 25, concession 3, Darlington, and killed two horses standing in the stable. A corner of the building was shattered, but did not take fire.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion, because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporising measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to bame the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why, should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Struck by Lightning.

During the thunder storm of Monday night the lightning struck a black ash tree on King street, near Mr. Harry Hall's residence, and rived it into splinters, which an Indian basket maker could use to advantage. At the same time a lightning bolt struck and toppled a few bricks off the chimney of Mrs. Fairweather's residence, Gilmour street, seriously alarming the family but doing no further damage.

THE DESERONTO FIRE.

A Concise Statement Presented of Origin and Extent.

Mr. C. E. Hubbs, local agent for the Rathbun Company, has received the following concise account of the origin and extent of the great Deseronto fire, received from the head office:

DESERONTO, Ont., May 26th, 1896.

C. E. Hubbs, Esq., Peterborough, Ont.:

DEAR SIR,—About three o'clock yesterday afternoon fire started about one third of the distance from the south end of our shingle dock. It was probably by some little boat passing or one coming in or going out of the slip, or possibly a fire cracker from a row boat. The wind was blowing a gale from the south and although we very soon got streams of water on from both the flour mill and cedar mill, we were unable to check it owing to the large stock of dry material on that dock.

It soon spread to the long cedar mill dock and then to the lumber dock to the east, which is right south of the flour mill. It burned these docks clean. We held the fire to within about 100 feet from the north end of the long tie dock until it was put out, but it was very hard work. If we had not confined it there it would have have taken all that part of the cedar mill lumber yard north of the cedar mill and probably have swept the whole block between Fourth and Prince streets.

Hard working men in the east end kept the fire from reaching the chemical and terra cotta works, but the elevator, flour mill bran house and nearly all the dwellings north of same, even including Dundas street, were burned—probably 100 dwellings in all.

Kind Providence sent a very heavy rain storm about 9 o'clock, without which still greater damage may have been done.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Robert Cottrell spent Saturday in Toronto.

Mr. Will Lewis spent the holiday in Toronto.

Miss Lizzie Chard is home on a visit to her parents in Stirling.

Miss Henderson, of Lindsay, is in town spending a few days.

Mr. Cecil Fitzgerald spent the Queen's Birthday in Fenelon Falls.

Mr. F. D. Kerr has returned to town after spending the holiday in Cobourg.

Miss Pearl Walker spent Sunday and Monday visiting her friends in Norwood.

Mr. Frank Peakenham spent the holiday with his old friends in Port Hope.

Miss Best is visiting with her cousin, Mrs. (Dr.) McKinnon, for a few days, in Millbrook.

Mr. "Jimmy" Weir spent the holiday in Toronto. He reports having seen all the "wonders."

Miss Maud Landry, of Lindsay, has returned home after visiting friends in town.

Mr. Vincent Coleman, of the Port Hope Electric Light Company, is in town to-day on business.

Miss Emma Clark, of Port Hope, who has been visiting friends in town, returned home last night.

Miss S. Garrow, who has been visiting friends in Toronto during the past week, returned home last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Fleming, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor, Lindsay, have returned home.

Miss Sullivan, of Lindsay, has been spending the last few days as the guest of Mrs. M. O'Brien.

Mr. H. Goldie has returned to town after spending the 24th in Port Hope. Miss Eva Goldie accompanied him.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor will on Sunday, May 31st, conduct confirmation services in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Campbellford. A large number, it is understood, will be confirmed.

The Lindsay Post says:—Mrs. J. A. McWilliams and daughter, and Master Amos, went to Peterborough this morning to spend a few days with friends. Miss Millie will not return for a few weeks.

The Port Hope Guide says: Mr. W. H. Bradburn, wife and son, Bruton street, who have been spending a few days in Peterborough and vicinity, have returned home, much pleased with their visit.

Mrs. Hatton, mother of Mr. G. W. Hatton, whilst visiting at the residence of the latter on Monday evening, accidentally stepped off the verandah and received a severe shock to her nervous system.

The EXAMINER had a call to-day from Mr. Thomas Telford, our weather observer, after a four months' absence from the sanctum. He had not been up town since the 18th day of January. Although improving he is still suffering from bodily pain and disease.

Mr. Patrick Young, sr., of Young's Point, is paying a short visit to his daughter, Mrs. D. Costello, George street. Although close on ninety years, Mr. Young is still hale and hearty and his many friends and old acquaintances are glad to see him.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

BASEBALL.

The Park Nine challenge the Auburn baseball team, or any other team in town—seniors or juniors—to a match on Saturday next.

FOOTBALL.

In a match on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Saturday afternoon, the Otonabee team defeated the Collegiate Institute by a score of two goals to one. Barker scored the first game for the Institute, and Gillespie shot the ball through twice for Otonabee.

LACROSSE.

Port Hope won from the Independents of Toronto, on the 24th, scoring four straights. The Ontarios are playing a purely local team, as are the Peterboroughs this year.

The Peterboroughs donned their new red shirts for the first time in Monday's game with Cobourg. They are very natty looking.

When Cobourg opens the league season here on the 10th of June, their team will be far stronger than it was on Monday. They are playing the three Whites this year, but loaned them to Cornwall on Monday.

MR. RICHARD HALL'S FOURTH MEETING.

A SUCCESSFUL GATHERING AT YOUNG'S POINT.

A Good Attendance—Addresses on Behalf of the Liberal Cause—The Conservatives Represented by Mr. Dennistoun—Messrs. Hall, Kerr, Stratton and Fitzgerald Speak.

A very successful and satisfactory meeting of the electors of North Smith was held at Young's Point, Tuesday night, in the town hall. There was a good attendance of the electors who gave great attention to the addresses. There were also several ladies present.

Mr. Kearney occupied the chair.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, town, opened the speaking. He dealt clearly and forcibly with the failure of the government to fulfil the promises of prosperity which they made in the name of the "National" Policy, and gave excellent reasons why they had forfeited public confidence, and why the Liberals should be entrusted with the government of the country.

Mr. Richard Hell, the Liberal Candidate, briefly addressed the electors generally, outlining his policy and showing where he stood on the important public questions that were the real issues before the electors in this contest. He was received with a cordiality which shows that the electors have confidence in his honesty and sincerity and faith in the platform that he supports.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared on the behalf of the Conservative candidate. He spoke in support of the "National Policy," and advocated increased taxation as represented by increased protection, and claimed that the protective policy had greatly benefitted the country at large, though he carefully refrained from giving any specific instance of a local character that would come within the notice of the electors of this riding. He claimed that the Remedial Bill was the best method of settling the Manitoba difficulty. He drew upon the credulity of his audience by claiming for the Conservatives a great anxiety to do justice to the Catholic element of British subjects.

Mr. Stratton followed in a forcible address of about an hour's duration. He dealt with the general topics of the campaign. Referring to the Manitoba school difficulty he showed very plainly that if the Dominion government had been in earnest in the matter of settling the question they would not have called a special session to pass a remedial bill and then have held it over till near the end of the session, when they knew that it could not receive attention. This device was in keeping with the usual policy of the Conservative party, to enter every election with some creed-disturbing question that would distract attention from their dark record of misgovernment. Mr. Stratton also dealt with the inequalities and injustice of the tariff, and its unfair bearing upon the poorer classes, and of the failure of the "National Policy" to be of any benefit to the farmers in the way of increasing prices or values of farm lands, which everybody knew had dropped in price. Every farmer by putting his hand in his pocket would find an answer to the question of how the N. P. had benefitted him.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald was the last speaker. He said that after the eloquent and convincing speeches they heard in favour of a change of government and policy for Canada, from Messrs. Hall, Kerr and Stratton, and the speech of Mr. Dennistoun, which he characterized as largely fallacious and evasive, the audience, he was sure, could readily discern the relative merits of the policies laid down by Hon. Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat on the one side, and the great "Stretcher," Sir Chas. Tupper, on the other. He referred to the Onderdonk contracts and other notorious contracts and jobs, and urged the electors to support clean and honest government. He ridiculed the notion that Sir Charles Tupper was in earnest on the school question, or that the minority in Manitoba would receive from him a greater measure of justice than from Messrs. Laurier and Mowat. If he thought so, he (Mr. F.) would not support Mr. Hall, but would support the Tupper candidate. It was very amusing, he said, to observe the love for Catholics, the care and tender solicitude which these erstwhile "equal righters" now manifest for Catholic education. It was not so long ago when this province was overspread with anti Catholic and ribald missioners, the agents of the party that now seeks to Catholic votes, and who was it that checked their fanaticism and dealt justly with Separate Schools? It was Sir Oliver Mowat and the Liberal party, from whom alone Catholics may expect fair play or something near it. He concluded by asking the electors of West Peterborough, who valued peace and harmony in this Dominion, to vote for Mr. Richard Hall and return him to Parliament by a large majority on the 23rd of June.

The meeting concluded with the usual cheers.

Dr. McGrath stitched the ugly gash that was inflicted.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it gives rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active business man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and don't be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

SABBATH DESECRATION.

A Pulpit Reference to Sunday Street Cars.

At the close of the Sunday evening service at the Murray street Baptist church Rev. J. E. Trotter made a reference to the desecration of the Lord's Day in Peterborough. He said he was very much pained that afternoon to learn that our street cars were running and a steamboat excursion taking place down the river. He did not know who inaugurated these movements or for what purpose, but if the promoters thought to honour our Gracious Queen by these acts they had certainly dishonoured her and disgraced themselves. If the object in running the cars was to give the visiting volunteers an opportunity to see our town it seemed to have miscarried, for in passing down the street he had observed that most of the patronage was given by our respected citizens. He protested against this desecration of God's day in our town and he called upon his hearers to do all they could to guard jealously the sanctity of the day. He said: "Surely God is not unreasonable in demanding that one day in seven remain unsecularised. There is a growing tendency throughout the country, especially by monied corporations, to render secular the hold day by turning it into a public holiday, and the time has come for Christian people to think calmly, speak strongly and act firmly on this question, lest in the end we find ourselves, as a people, robbed of our day of rest. Do not forget that one of the chief causes that led to the ruin of the Jewish nation was the profanation of the Sabbath day. Instead of honouring it as the holy day of the Lord they had pursued their own pleasures, walked in their own ways and sought their own profit, and thus polluted the day. And would we as a nation insure for ourselves a continuance of divine favour, and not provoke the Lord to vengeance. Let us set our faces against every pleasure-seeking and money-making scheme that would desecrate our Christian Sabbath." He hoped there would be such an expression of disapproval from our Christian citizens that there would be no more of this sort of thing in Peterborough.

As the congregation dispersed there were many and strong expressions of approval of the pastor's words on this question, and a number thanked him personally for the stand he had taken.

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience, he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline, no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

BATTALION NOTES.

What our Visitors think of Peterborough.

The Belleville Ontario and the Intelligencer both have good accounts of the 15th Battalion's visit to Peterborough. The Ontario says:—

"It will be some time before the 15th Bugle Band forgets the many courtesies extended to them by their comrades in the 57th Bugle Band, and the Strikers' Club, of which that jolly good fellow Reggy Turner, is president. There will always remain in their memory a green spot for the 57th Bugle Band, and their trip to Peterborough will not be forgotten very soon, as these young men have the faculty of making you feel at home as soon as you meet them, and all left them 'Glad we had met, and sorry to part so soon, but hope to see them all in Belleville on June 30th and 1st of July.'"

"The officers and men of the Battalion are loud in their praises of the treatment they received at the hands of the citizens of Peterborough. Everything that could be done to make them enjoy themselves did not seem to be too much for the authorities and the 57th Batt. of Peterborough. The 15th took part in a tug of war and brought home a large silver trophy as the prize for their prowess."

"The 57th Batt. will come to the city on July 1st, when the citizens will have a chance to return the courtesies extended to the boys of the 15th."

The Intelligencer's account is even more comprehensive. The following extracts are taken from it:—

"The 15th Battalion's trip to Peterborough is now a thing of the past, but it will be a green spot in the memories of those who participated in it for years to come. The regiment were never received with greater honours and they deserve the greatest praise for their behaviour, both military and civil."

"It was about midnight when the train reached Peterborough and the Battalion was at once drawn up and under the guidance of the officers and men of the 57th they were marched to their camp on the Agricultural grounds, about two hundred yards distant. Everything was in readiness for the reception of the regiment. After the men had been assigned quarters and blankets had been distributed, they were served with an abundance of refreshments in the Agricultural hall. The friendships begun at Picton on last Dominion Day were here renewed between the men of the two regiments, and the men of the 57th vied with each other in their endeavours to entertain their visiting brothers in arms."

"The non-commissioned officers of the 57th took in hand the non-coms. of the 15th and carried them off to their handsome quarters down town, where they entertained them to the Queen's taste."

"Several members of the bicycle corps rode out to Chemong park and returned late in the afternoon with keen appetites, sun burnt faces and a keen appreciation of the scenic beauties of Chemong."

"The two bands of the 57th looked well after the bands of the 15th. The music dispensed by the I. O. O. F. and military band took the people of Peterborough by storm and they were warmly applauded on several occasions."

"Through the kindness of Lt.-Col. Bell of the 57th, the electric cars ran from the camp ground on Sunday as well as Monday and those in military uniforms were given eight tickets for twenty-five cents."

"A large number of ladies accompanied the 15th and they, with the officers, were well looked after by the officers of the 57th. Drives were arranged to many points of interest and Sunday had not a dull or uninteresting moment for the visitors."

"The marching and general appearance of the 15th were most favourably commented upon by all who saw them and the bicycle corps came in for a share of the praise. The 57th presented a splendid appearance and were liberally applauded along the route, which was lined with people."

The men of the 57th know how to entertain, from the Colonel down to the privates.

The 15th are now looking forward to the visit of the 57th to Belleville on Dominion Day.

The six hotels at which the men were quartered gave splendid meals.

The camp was pitched on dry, sandy soil, an ideal spot and every accommodation was provided.

The thoughtfulness of Lt. Col. Bell in having the street cars run on Sunday to convey the men to and from the grounds was greatly appreciated.

Peterborough has some excellent streets for wheeling and they were taken advantage of by the cycle corps.

A concert was given in the Opera House last evening and the men of the visiting regiment were admitted free, in fact they owned the town all the time they were there.

The veterans were the heroes of the day. Their reception was most enthusiastic. At all the principal street corners their appearance called forth ringing cheers, waving of handkerchiefs and calls "What's the matter with the veterans? They're all right," &c.

The marching of the veterans astonished the people and shows the value of early training. Many of them had not drilled for thirty years and yet half an hour's review served to refresh their memories on the movements of their early days.

Peterborough's athletic grounds and race track are a credit to the town and the enterprise of its residents.

Peterborough's street cars are badly in need of paint, but there is nothing wrong with the motors. They run beautifully.

Food, when it sours the stomach, becomes innutritive and unwholesome. It poisons the blood and both mind and body suffer in consequence. What is needed to restore perfect digestion is a dose or two of Ayer's Pills. They never fail to relieve.

THE BELMONT MINES.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—During last winter one hundred tons of iron ore was taken from the "Bismere Mine," in Belmont, to the C.O.R. Junction, by teams, then shipped to Hamilton for the smelting furnace of that city. We have just been informed by the best of authority that all the ore, or nearly so, is, to use his own words, "ditched," that is thrown away as being no good.

If this is true, it is the result of mismanagement by those in charge, and, by the way, it is mismanagement that is crippling half of our industries to-day. Though keeping silent as to the quantity of ore in the Bismere mine, we are bold enough to say, without fear of successful contradiction from any quarter whatever, that the ore in the Bismere mine, if properly selected, is the best in Ontario. If selecting was not done at the mine before winter, and we are told it was not, no one could properly select in three or four feet of snow. Again, teamsters drawing by the ton, and not knowing the difference between the good article and the bad, would be likely to load whatever came conveniently to hand.

NOT A QUESTION OF CHOICE, BUT A QUESTION OF MUST!

The public understand our position. To retire from Business we MUST dispose of our stock. We would rather sacrifice every dollar's worth than delay the object we have in view.

We MUST either sell out at cost by retail or close out en bloc to one purchaser. Rain or shine, the goods MUST go.

During the past three weeks of this sale we have cleared out great quantities of beautiful Dry Goods and Millinery, but

Sales Must be Increased

for the next three weeks. It is true we are offering an exceptionally fine class of Goods, in which the styles are the newest in vogue. It is true we are giving higher advantages than those struggling to remain in business by reducing prices on a few lines of "old shop-keepers"—but

Prices Must go Still Lower

And sales loaded down with greater goodness. Nothing will be offered at regular prices—nothing will be offered that we cannot sincerely recommend. There are so many rare values we can't quote prices. Of course, we don't have to meet prices—we make them, and let others do the meeting, if they can.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? The accident of birth has something to do with it. Some men are born stronger than others, but frequently the strong man becomes weak and the weak man strong. It depends on the care he takes of himself. When the man who runs an engine hears an unusual sound about it, he stops immediately and looks it up. If he finds a little looseness, or a little crack, it is remedied immediately. If it isn't, there will come a break presently—a break that will wreck the engine. Likely as not, this same man will totally ignore the call for help from some one of his own organs. He will let the trouble grow and grow until it lays him out in bed. If he keeps on working with a damaged body, he will soon wear it out. The strain on his nerves will tell on his constitution. He will not be hearty when he is old. The chances are he never will be old at all. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restores health. It is not only a cure for disease, it is a preventive. Whenever a man feels that he is not quite as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs the "Golden Medical Discovery." No matter how his trouble shows itself, this wonderful remedy will cure him. We say it is wonderful because of its wonderful results, and not because there is anything supernatural about it—not because it does anything that is unexpected, or anything which its discoverer did not mean it to do. That it cures many different so-called diseases is the most natural thing in the world when you understand that nearly all diseases spring from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure. No disease of the blood can withstand its action.

Learn more about it from Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, which will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

NOTES FROM CANADA'S CAPITAL.

The Baroness of Earnscliffe Arrives from England and May Visit Winnipeg—Movements of Ministers.

Ottawa, May 25.—(Special)—Ottawa people were agreeably surprised and delighted to-day by the arrival in the city from England of Baroness Macdonald of Earnscliffe. It is now four years since Lady Macdonald left Canada, but, needless to say, she has retained her affection for the land of her adoption and expects to spend a few pleasant weeks in this country before returning to England. It is not unlikely that before her departure the baroness will visit Winnipeg, that is, unless the Hon. Hugh John Macdonald cannot come east before June 23.

The following changes and appointments in the customs service have been approved by order in council:

F.A. Campbell and Oswald Pape to be tide waiters at Toronto.

Simon Parke to be preventive officer at Owen Sound.

John D. Parmelee to be preventive officer at Sarnia.

A. Odell to be landing waiter at Hamilton.

L. J. Guerin to be tide waiter at Montreal.

O. Giroux of Toronto promoted to be preventive officer at that port.

H. Renaul to be customs locker at Montreal.

F. S. Belton and T. W. H. Leavitt to be preventive officers on the board of customs staff.

G. W. Jessop, assistant Dominion appraiser at Ottawa.

John Thompson, appraiser at Hamilton, and J. H. Douglas, hardware appraiser at Montreal, to be Dominion appraiser.

The resignation of W. H. Howie, sub-collector of customs, Sudbury, has been accepted.

Mr. T. F. Blackwood, one of the appraisers at Toronto, has been granted two months leave of absence on the ground of ill-health.

FISHERMEN IN GREAT LUCK.

Sixty Schooners Made a Big Haul of Mackerel off Halifax Harbor

Halifax, May 25.—There was an animated scene in the bay and off the harbor to-day. The ocean was fairly boiling with mackerel for miles around and a fleet of about 60 vessels floated in the midst of the teeming schools, some 40 of the craft being Gloucester fishermen. A swarm of seine boats followed the fish and two Dominion Government cruisers hovered in the vicinity to insure respect on the part of the Gloucester men of the three mile limit. Inside that limit the vessels taking fish were exceedingly fortunate, doing better perhaps than any outside. The mackerel followed the line on the shore very closely. Three schooners from the western shore came in this forenoon with an average of 200 barrels each. The mackerel are mostly No. 1 fish. There were hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth in the schools which were off the harbor today.

Yesterday there were 35 schooners off Prospect, waiting for mackerel, including a large number of American fishermen. The Government steamer Aberdeen was in their midst and watched closely the movements of the Yankees.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, Arkwright, Ont., says: I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed, and could neither sleep nor rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle, and after taking about the half of it I found myself recovering, and after continuing it for some time I recovered, but when the cold weather set in this winter I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared, and I consider that I am entirely cured.

THE CZAR'S CORONATION.

Priceless Jewels and Garments Regalia Which Will be Worn by the Czar and Czarina.

Moscow, May 25.—At 3.15 p.m. to-day the gorgeous regalia which will be used at the ceremony to-morrow were transferred with great pomp from the treasury to the throne room, the hall of St. Andrew, in the Kemlin Palace. The most important of these is the magnificant crown which was manufactured by a Geneva jeweler at the command of the Empress Catharine II., immediately after her accession to the throne. It somewhat resembles a mitre, surmounted by a cross of five flawless diamonds, and the celebrated pear-shaped ruby, which has scarcely a superior in the world. This forms the only touch of color, the rest of the stones being diamonds and pearls. The setting is of silver, and there is a band of purple velvet inside. The value of the crown is over 1,100,000 roubles, but that of the sceptre surpasses it. Made for the coronation of the Emperor Paul in 1797, it is the most wonderful thing of its kind which has ever been known, for the famous Orloff diamond surmounts it. The orb also dates from the reign of Tsar Paul and is of solid gold set with three rows of brilliants and a huge almond-shaped diamond. The diamond cross is supported by an exquisite sapphire, worth a fortune. The Czar will also don the collar, star and jewel of the order of St. Andrew, valued at over 1,000,000 roubles. This order is never worn save on a day of coronation, and is adorned with five pink diamonds, and two Siberian aquamaines, one blue and the other green, set in diamonds.

The jewels which the Czarina will wear are a little inferior in value. The state corcuet contains stones of unequaled beauty. The neckiet worn with it consists of huge single stones with hanging pendants of still larger diamonds.

The coronation robe is the most costly ever beheld, and the masses of precious stones which Her Imperial Majesty will wear in addition, will be of incredible value. They include the smaller insignia of the St. Andrew Order, set with gems representing a fortune.

These magnificant symbols of authority will remain in the throne room during the night guarded by a detachment of the Grenadiers of the palace, and several gentlemen of the court.

This afternoon the Emperor and Empress left the Palace of Alexandrina and took up their quarters in the Kremlin. Their chief devotions were paid to-day in the Cathedral of the Redeemer, a small chapel upon the Gold Court, surmounted by twelve small gilted cupolas.

This private chapel of the palace contains a miracle-working image of the Saviour, and here before the golden Ikonostas, the Imperial couple perform their acts of preparation for the morrow's sacred ceremony.

All day long preparations have gone forward for the morrow and many of the tribunes which were erected for the triumphal entry have been removed that more space can be given for the massing of soldiers and the entrance and grouping of invited guests. The decorations throughout the city have been looked to, and removed where necessary. Full preparations for the illumination have been made, so much so, that had a stranger happened upon Moscow to-day he might almost have thought a new town was in process of erection.

The weather throughout the day was clear and bright.

It is a great mistake to suppose that a simple tonic gives strength; it only stimulates the stomach to renewed action. To impart real strength, the blood must be purified and enriched and this can only be done by such a standard alternative as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Linseed Cake in the Dairy.

As a milk and butter producer, ground linseed cake has no equal. It not only increases the flow of milk, but adds greatly to its richness in cream. With a cow accustomed to corn meal, bran, shorts and the like, the increase will be from one to two quarts at each milking, within 24 hours after beginning with the ground linseed cake. A cow, to be able to give a full flow of milk, must have food richer in nitrogen than would be required for any other animal, since milk itself is composed largely of albuminoids, and this can only be supplied from food containing this substance. The first demand of a cow upon the nitrogen of food is to supply waste of tissue, and only the surplus will go to milk.—Coleman's Rural World.

Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hixson, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

The Latest Chatter

It is claimed that the perfume of flowers disappears as soon as the starch in the petals is exhausted; and it may, it is said, be restored by placing the flower in a solution of sugar, when the formation of starch and the emission of fragrance will be at once resumed.

The earth in making one complete revolution in the space of twenty-four hours must turn with a velocity almost exactly equal to that of a cannon ball. In short, its rate of speed at the equator is exactly 1,507 feet per second. This is equal to a mile every 3 6-10 seconds—seventeen miles a minute.

In Paris the autocar is rapidly taking a place for business purposes. The Magasin du Louvre, after experiment with a motor-driven parcel van, has decided to adopt a special form of parcels delivery van propelled by petroleum motive power, and has ordered eighteen of these autocars to be built for its use.

It is said that yellow fever is being successfully treated at Brazil by a refrigerating process. The patient is placed for three days in a box, the temperature of which is only one or two degrees above the freezing point—the theory being that the bacilli of the disease cannot reproduce themselves except at high temperature.

For practical purposes from twelve to thirteen miles is the range of the most powerful Armstrong guns now used. This distance has, however, been considerably exceeded by Krupp's 130-ton steel gun, which fired a shot weighing 2,600 pounds, a distance of a few yards over fifteen miles. The gun cost $195,000 and each projectile $4,750.

It is learned that Russia has induced China to make all her railroads now building in the northern part of the flowery kingdom 4 feet 11 inches wide, the width of the railroads in Russia. The advantages of this concession are apparent from the fact that in the future engines and trains of the great Siberian railway can be run over Chinese lines.

The two biggest fire engines in the world are in Liverpool. They are the most powerful known, throwing 1,800 gallons of water a minute and a jet 140 feet high. The force with which the water is ejected from them may be estimated from the fact that the jet was "warranted to kill a man at 350 feet." Each engine took ten weeks to build, the cost being roughly estimated at £2,000 each.

Parsley, among the Greeks, was symbolic of death. It is said that an Athenian army marching out of the city during the Peloponesian war, was panic stricken by meeting two mules, laden with parsley going into the city, this fact being considered as a token that the army would soon be vanquished with great slaughter. "To be in need of parsley" was a favorite Greek euphemism of death.

Anthony Purver, a poor Quaker carpenter, published in two folio volumes, in 1764, a literal version of the Old and New Testaments, curious for its Hebrew idioms. There are such phrases as "A hind let go may exhibit gentle Naphtali; he gives fine words," for "Naphtali is a hind let loose; he giveth goodly words;" "I am he who am." for "I am that I am," and "Poem of Solomon," instead of "Song of Solomon," for "song," he says, "is of profane use."

"Illustrated journalism," says the Buffalo Courier, "has at last reached the Orient. S. S. Sarkis, a Syrian resident of Cairo, is the editor of a paper, Al Musheer (the Counsellor), printed in Arabic, and intensely anti-Turkish in its views. In two recent issues brought to the Courier by a Syrian now living in Buffalo there are cartoons poking fun at Turkish officialdom. In some respects these caricatures are crude, but the idea in one of them is very clear and forcible. So far as is known, these are the first examples of political caricature ever published in an Arabic newspaper. Mr. Sarkis, the editor, fell under the displeasure of the Turkish authorities a while ago, and fled to England, where perhaps, he got his ideas of illustrated journalism."

The question as to the effect of plants in sleeping apartments on the health of the occupants would seem to have been satisfactorily determined by recent tests in a London conservatory. In the latter, containing some 6,000 plants, in the middle of the day oxygen had so far increased on the carbon dioxide that out of 10,000 parts chemical examination proved only 1.40 to be carbon dioxide, whereas the normal proportion of the purest air is about four parts in 10,000. After being shut up some 12 hours, the air in the greenhouse at noon thus proved to be surcharged with oxygen. The same air was analyzed just before sunrise, and the carbonic dioxide had so far gained on the oxygen that the proportion of it was almost exactly four per 10,000. Taking, therefore, the 24 hours round, the day is found just about to balance the night.

The calculating genius figures on everything. He can tell you exactly how far you could hear the whine of a mosquito if the little insect should suddenly develop into a creature as large as an elephant, or how far a flea could jump if his weight were equal to that of the average man. He knows exactly how many tons of shoe leather every year and how many pounds of tacks are wearing into fine powder while the soles are wearing down. He knows several odd things, and is even now figuring on others. His latest calculation is on the amount of solar heat received by the roofs of our large cities. He finds that in Philadelphia enough of the sun heat is wasted each day to keep 5,000 20 horse power engines in motion. This means the equivalent of 100,000 horse power. While his estimation may not be exaggerated, he might have extended his calculations to the whole state, the Mississippi valley, or to the United States. Philadelphia has only 129 square miles of area. There are several spots of that size in America that receive an equal amount of sunshine.—St. Louis Republican.

Another Pretender in France.

France, it is said, has yet another pretender. The son of the late Duc de Chartres, Prince Henry of Orleans, has recently attracted much attention among monarchists as the ablest, or at least the most attractive, among the Bourbon princes. He has achieved a reputation as an explorer in Indo-China and Thibet, and recently was presented with the gold medal of the French Geographical Society. He was thereupon, as is customary, offered the Cross of the Legion of Honor, which, to the surprise of many Frenchmen, he accepted, calling at the same time, as etiquette demands, upon the President of the Republic. At a dinner given in his honor the prince observed that he remembered two counsels given by his grandfather, the Duc d'Orleans, in his will—to be "the passionate servant of the revolution, and to manage to get forgiven for being a prince." He thought he had achieved that forgiveness. It is said that all that remains of Boulangism gathers round the prince, that he is rapidly forming a party, and that his idea is to be elected President of the Republic, and then—what fate shall decree. Of his political ideas nothing is yet exactly known, except that he professes to believe strongly in colonial expansion for France, and to be unusually hostile to Great Britain. There is no evidence yet that he is a strong man, though he is a brave and enterprising one; but his desire to play the part of "Philippe Egalite" seems to be unmistakable. The house of Orleans, say the Legitimists, with a smile and a sneer, naturally produces traitors.—London Spectator.

Water-Pipe Telephone.

"I have the most remarkable telephone in my house," remarked a resident of the western addition. "I noticed that at times I could hear very distinctly the conversation in the next house. Suddenly it would be broken off short in the middle of a sentence, and I could not hear another word. It would become audible again just as suddenly.

"By a series of experiments I have found out that the sound is conducted by the waters running through the pipes. When the water is turned on in my house I can hear all the conversation in any of the rooms next door in which there is running water. When I turn off the water all sounds stop suddenly.

I told my neighbor of it, and we have put it into practical use. When I wish to speak to him I tap on the window; he turns on the water in his house and listens while I talk to him in an ordinary tone of voice. When I have finished he turns off the water in his house and I turn it on in mine and listen. In that way we can carry on long conversations with as much ease as if he were in the room with me. Still, our houses are about twenty feet apart."—San Francisco Post.

Roentgen Rays in Vienna.

Two Berlin physicists, assistant professors at the university, had been invited by a club in Vienna to deliver a lecture with practical demonstrations on Roentgen's X rays. But the police in Vienna declined to grant the necessary permit, the refusal being in writing that as "to experiments with so-called Roentgen rays, permission cannot be given, as nothing is here officially known about the dangerousness or dangeresness of said rays."

Fogs in Fall.

Fogs are more frequent in October and November than at any other period of the year, because, besides the evaporation from seas, rivers and lakes, there is a constant exhalation from the ground in the form of vapor.

THE 24TH IN MILLBROOK.

Celebration under the Auspices of the Fire Department—A Great Success.

The celebration which took place here on the 24th, under the auspices of the Fire Company, proved to be a grand success. The principal attraction was to have been the lacrosse match between the Cobourg second team and the Millbrook juniors, but it proved to be so one-sided that there was little lacrosse seen at all. The home team was victorious by five straight games in less than thirty minutes. The Millbrook lacrosse club have not organized this year, and their team went on the field with not even one night's practice. The team was composed mostly of juniors, and with practice would make a strong team. In fact there is some talk of them getting down to work, and Millbrook may yet be heard from in lacrosse circles this year. The teams lined up as follows:

Cobourg.		Millbrook.
F Butler	goal	J Richards
C Pringle	point	S Carveth
R Kirkpatrick	cover point	J Bateson
A McIntosh	1st defence	C Homan
J Sutherland	2nd defence	T Nattrass
C Pomery	3rd defence	S Pickup

R Buck	2nd home	J Nattrass
C McCallum	1st home	F Coombe
V Mulds	outside home	W Coombe
A Jewell	inside home	G Carveth
A Black	field capt	L F Clarry

Referee, Mr R H Hunter.

In the baseball match between Bethany and Cavanville the latter came out victorious.

The football match between Carmel and and Cedar Valley, resulted in a tie.

The concert in the evening was very largely attended. Messrs. Geo. Fax and G. W. Mulligan were the principal attraction, and took well. The proceeds were in the neighbourhood of two hundred dollars.

ANOTHER BRILLIANT VICTORY

For the Remedy Which Cures Rheumatism in 1 to 3 Days.

"I would rather give $50 a bottle for South American Rheumatic Cure than be without the remedy, if I was again troubled with rheumatism as in the past." These are the words of Mr. Wm. McAteer, living near Creemore, Ont. He further says:—"I have been troubled with rheumatism for five years, and was so bad at times that I could not put on my coat without assistance, and the severest pain. Two bottles of South American Rheumatic Cure completely cured me, and I am to-day in perfect health, a statement which I have been unable to make for the last five years. The remedy gave me perfect relief within the first few hours." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

A GRAND OUTING AT JUBILEE POINT.

Football, Baseball, Sprinting Quoits and Other Sports on the Queen's Birthday.

Jubilee Point was undoubtedly a centre of attraction on the Queen's Birthday. The Point was crowded with tourists and pleasure seekers from Port Hope, Cobourg and surrounding villiages in and about Rice Lake. The various steamers plowed the waters of the Trent, Ouse and Otonabee rivers, bringing in hundreds of excursionists. The steamer "City of Peterborough" and steamer "North Star" were well patronized considering the many counter attractions in town.

The day at the Point was most pleasantly spent. The Salvation Army held their picnic with their string and brass bands. They held an open air sacred concert which was enjoyed by all present.

The dancing pavillion was thronged throughout the day with those desirous of indulging in tripping the heel and toe. The music was furnished by Professer Crow's Indian string band—some several pieces in all. The Sherwood brothers also furnished music on board the North Star. Sid Martin called off during the day in the pavilion as well as on board the ship.

Manager Nell pushed the fun right along. He acted as umpire in the various games and gave general satisfaction to all, being impartial to contesting teams.

The sports opened with a baseball match for a silver cup, presented by H. Calcutt, between the Stars of Keene and Burnley baseball club. The game was exciting, though one-sided. The Burnley battery were far superior to that of any club which has played on the Jubilee ball grounds this year. The score was 15 to 5 in favour of Burnley. The Keene lads will tackle the boys again on the same ground on the 11th of June. The following are the players:

Burnley—J. Downs, W. Blake, S. Downs, A. Shearer, W. Downs, B. Macklin, R. Hicks, C. Downs.

Keene—S. Fife, M. Miller, J. Quinn, J. Ritchie, F. Quinn, G. Walsh, J. Tobin, Chas. Calcutt and W. Heffernan.

Umpire—A. Smith.

The Downs brothers of Burnley played a magnificent game throughout. They make a first-class battery. The Keene boys were not in it for a minute, they being a new aggregation. However they vanquished their opponents in the football match: defeating the Gore's Landing club by three goals to one. The Keene boys played a keene game. The Quinns played a splendid combination. Mick Kenealy surpassed himself as a goalkeeper, stopping a number of difficult shots.

The game was for a silver cup, presented by H. Calcutt. The boys played in splendid form on both sides. The Keene boys were much lighter but were more active. The following are the names of the players:

Gore's Landing.		Keene.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is Much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 25.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely, Dodds Kidney Pills, is obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Lionel Pritchard, of Toronto, has been visiting Miss Wright.

Miss Throop, of Port Hope, spent the 24th in town, with Mrs. Henry Argue.

Mr. T. Dixon Craig, ex-M.P., of Port Hope, was in town on Monday, and Col. McLean, the McCarthyite candidate, was also here.

Mr. Fred. Parkin, of Lindsay, came down from that place for the 24th.

Mr. John Kells was in Kinmount on Saturday on business.

Mr. Don. Martin, who is attending the Military School, in Toronto, was in town over Sunday.

MATHERS' CORNERS.

The annual school picnic of the Mathers' Corners school was held at the Pat Manogue's old hill on Thusday last. There was a large attendance of both old and young, and Keene supplied quite a number. The programme of sports included races of all kinds, three-legged, potato race, straight race, mixed boot race, and girls' double race. Besides these there was baseball and drop the handkerchief. A grand tea was served by the ladies.

An Electric Car Falls Through a Bridge at Victoria.

MORE THAN SIXTY PEOPLE KILLED

They Were Pleasure Seekers Going to Witness a Sham Battle on the Queen's Birthday—Full Extent of the Disaster Not Yet Known.

Victoria, B.C., May 26.—The most terrible accident that ever took place in this vicinity occurred about 2 oclock this afternoon, when an electric car fell through the Point Ellice Bridge into an arm of James Bay.

A sham battle at Macauley Point was on the program to-day as part of the celebration of the Queen's Birthday, and nearly the whole population of the city had gone out to witness it.

The electric cars running out to the scene of the battle had been overcrowded all the forenoon. Every car was full, not only inside, but as many as could do so clinging on the outside as well.

The car to which the accident happened contained about 80 persons. Even the roof was occupied.

In crossing the Point Ellice Bridge it left the track, crashed through the railings and fell into the water 75 feet below. The fall was so sudden and unexpected that all the passengers were carried with it.

The car floated for a moment and then was carried down by the weight of the metal work attached to it. Those inside were unable to escape and were drowned like rats in a trap. Some of those on the outside escaped by swimming, but many, stunned by the fall and unable to swim, were drowned.

It is believed that 50 or 60 persons were drowned, but it is as yet impossible to ascertain the exact number.

It will probably be several days before the real extent of the disaster can be learned.

As soon as possible the work of recovering the bodies was began, and is now being pushed vigorously forward.

The bodies of the following have been recovered:

Mrs. Fred Adams and son.
E. B. Carmichael and wife.
J. B. Gordon.
J. Edmonds.
Miss Nathan.
J. Bossie.
Arthur Fullerton.
Mrs. Hetherdell.
Infant son of Superintendent James Wilson of Vancouver, the C.P.R. Tel. Company.
M. W. Vantoeklyn.
Miss Annie Kest.
Captain Leveridge.
Mrs. C. I. Post.
Mrs. Lout.
Miss Ida Goodacre.

A number of unidentified bodies have also been recovered and more are being brought to the surface hourly.

It is claimed by many that fully 200 persons went down with the span and that more than half of them perished. The accident occurred so quickly that nobody has a very clear recollection of what transpired.

Superintendent J. Wilson was driving a carriage containing his wife and five children directly behind the car. His vehicle was swept down and in a moment the entire party were struggling in the water. Mr. Wilson succeeded in saving his wife and four of his children. The fifth child, a little boy, was drowned. A number of bodies have been carried out of the harbor by the outgoing tide.

Owing to the fact that nearly every kind of craft in the city was engaged for the day, boats were hard to procure, and the work of rescue was somewhat slow. Steam and naphtha launches were hurried to the scene and the boats of the various warships in the harbor were most active. Scores of people were picked up and taken to places of safety, but many sank before the eyes of the rescuers before they could be saved.

Up to 10.30 p.m. 62 bodies have been taken from the bay. Twenty persons known to have been on the bridge at the time of the accident are missing and it is supposed that they have perished. The car register shows 90 fares, and it is probable that over 125 were on board.

That hacking, persistent cough can be quickly cured by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It cures all throat and and lung troubles.

SWEPT TO DEATH.

St. Louis Visited by a Cyclone Yesterday.

A THOUSAND PEOPLE WERE KILLED

The Path of the Storm Strewn With Dead Bodies—Railway Trains and Steamboats Overturned by the Force of the Wind—An Awful Visitation.

St. Louis, May 27.—St. Louis was struck by a cyclone of frightful fury at a late hour this afternoon. Hundreds of people were killed and the property loss is beyond estimate.

At 5.20 p.m. the clouds that had covered the city since noon, broke into a furious storm. Within ten minutes, the wind reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour, sweeping with it dense waves of rain. The highest speed of wind previously recorded here was 72 miles an hour in August in 1878. The screeching of the wind through the electric wires, the crash of debris that it swept in every direction, the electric flashes from tangled wires and crashing thunder made a scene indescribable. The loss of life is appalling.

At 7 p.m. the lowest estimate of fatalities in East St. Louis and this city is placed at 300. East St. Louis suffered probably the greatest. Messengers came this evening from there asking for physicians and nurses.

The steamer D. H. Pike with 30 passengers on board, bound for Peoria, was blown bottomside up in the middle of the river and a number of persons were killed.

The steamer Delaphin, with a crew of six and 20 lady passengers on board, was blown against a bridge pier and broken in two. The ladies and two of the crew clung to the bridge stonework and were rescued. The steamer Libbie Conger, with only Captain Seaman and his wife and three of a crew aboard went adrift. The wreck of a boat opposite Carondolet is supposed to be the steamer Conger.

Ottened's furniture store at Broadway and Soulard was demolished and six men are reported killed. A saloon at No. 604 South Seventh-street fell with nine men in the ruins. St Patrick's Church at Sixth and Biddle-streets fell and the debris fills the streets. The electric railway line is burned out, as well as the electric plant. Fourteen fire alarms were sounded within an hour, and three alarms were sent in from the Poor House, which building has 1200 inmates. The roof of the Poor House was blown off and the fatalities were great.

During the last race at the Fair Grounds the roof was blown off the grand stand. The crowd had gone to the open field for safety and but four men were killed.

The Armoury at 17th and Pine-streets is being used as a temporary hospital.

At 7.30 p.m. the rain, which had ceased for a time, began afresh and fell in torrents.

At 8 o'clock the eastern sky was aflame with the light of fires in East St. Louis. The metal roof of the Merchants' Exchange was rolled up like a scroll and fell into the streets.

The Louisville and Nashville eastbound local passenger train had just reached East St. Louis when the storm struck that city. The train was overturned, but miraculously only a few passengers were injured. They were taken from the cars by railroad yardmen.

The Chicago and Alton eastbound local passenger train, which left St. Louis at 5, was on the east span of the bridge, when the wind picked the cars up and turned them over on their sides. The iron spans and trusses held the cars from toppling into the river, 100 feet below. The passengers were thrown into a confused mass. The net work of wires made rescue difficult and dangerous, but it is thought all will be got out uninjured. The east span of the Eads bridge is so badly wrecked that it will take three days to allow trains to pass.

The reports of fatalities in East St. Louis are hourly increasing, and at 9 o'clock it is estimated that the loss of life there will exceed 150. It is impossible to cross the bridge or river to get particulars.

Lightning struck the Standard Oil Works and flames were soon pouring from a dozen buildings. The fire department was utterly powerless to cope with the conflagration and it is feared nearly the entire business and a great portion of the residence section will be annihilated by flames, if not already destroyed by the wind. Among the principle buildings already in ruins are the National Hotel, the Standard Oil Works, East St. Louis Wire Nail Works, the Crescent Elevator, Hesel Elevator and all the freight depots and stores and residences on St. Clair-avenue.

At 9 o'clock to-night no wire can be obtained to surrounding territory in the western and northern portions of Missouri, but it is feared that the loss of life in these sections will be very large. The damage to property in St. Louis is estimated at $1,000,000, and the loss in East St. Louis is already $2,000,000 and the fire is still raging.

There were really two cyclones. One came from the northwest and the other from direct east. Both met on the Illinois shore of the Mississippi River and joined in a whirling cloud of death and destruction. The list of dead in St. Louis is beyond present computation.

A startling report has just reached Police Headquarters that 200 girls are in the ruins of Liggitt and Meyers' cigarette factory at Tower Grove Park. Alarming reports are received of great loss of life in the southern portion of St. Louis from the railroad tracks to Carondelet.

The winds swept away the roof of the Exposition building and that structure was badly damaged by the flood of water. The greatest anxiety is felt for the safety of passengers on the different excursion boats, which were on the river when the storm broke. The steamer City of Florence with an excursion party is reported lost below Carondolet. The steamer St. Paul, with 30 passengers, left for Alton at 4 o'clock and is believed to be wrecked. The levee is packed with people groping through the darkness and eagerly imploring information of loved ones on the river.

Destruction to property in this city will not be learned until daylight. The Annunciation Church at Sixth and Lasalle-streets was totally destroyed. Father Head, the pastor, was fatally injured. The middle span of the roadway above the railroad tracks on the Eads bridge was blown completely away. It is not known whether any persons lost their lives while crossing the bridge.

The Plant flour mills and the works of the St. Louis Iron and Steel Company were destroyed and the big Cupples block of buildings was partially demolished. The dead and injured are being taken from the ruins of the various buildings and manufactories. The Waters-Pierce Oil Works were destroyed by fire and buildings in several parts of the city have been burning all night.

H. C. Rice, the manager of the Western Union at the Relay depot, on the east side, reports a terrible wreck of property. He says the National Hotel Tremont House, Marteil House, DeWolf's Cafe, Hazel Milling Company's mill, Horn's cooper shop and a large number of dwellings east of that section were swept into wreckage.

The Baltimore and Ohio and Vandalia round houses, the Standard Oil Works in East St. Louis, the Crescent elevators and a dozen freight houses were caught in the vortex of the cyclone and reduced to debris.

It is reported that the Grand Republic and several other excursion steamers with all the passengers and crews have gone down.

The scene in East St. Louis is appalling. The tornado struck that city with terrible effect and it is now estimated that 300 persons are dead in that place alone as a result of the wind, flood and flames.

The tornado was followed by an outbreak of fire caused by lightning and before the flames were gotten under control property to the value of nearly $3,000,000 was destroyed. The tornado passed in an easterly direction, and it is reported that Vandalia and Caseyville in Illinois, suffered severely. One report states that the railroad depot in Vandalia was blown away and 30 people were killed.

All Lights Turned Off.

St. Louis, Mo., May 28—3 a.m.—The difficulty in obtaining information from outlying districts is increased by an order from Mayor Walbridge, ordering all electric light circuits cut off. This is to prevent death to persons coming in contact with the broken electric light wires.

Later reports from the city hospital state that only two were killed and six injured as the result of the roof of that institution being blown off. From Soulard-street southward as far as Carondelet, wind played havoc with the residence and business houses in that territory. The streets are filled with the wreckage of demolished houses, over an area of 15 blocks. The number of bodies already found indicates that the loss of life in that section will reach at least 30.

The body of a well-dressed man was found at Marion-street and Park-avenue. Peter Diedrich was killed in the collapse of a big mill at Ninth and Marion. William Ostendale, proprietor of a factory at Marion and Eighth streets, and Benjamin Burgess, an employe, were killed in the wreck of the building. An unknown dead man was found under the bricks of a fallen chimney at Second-street and Choteau. Foreman Joseph Carpenter of the St. Louis railing works on Menard-street, together with his wife and child, were crushed to death in the collapse of the factory.

The body of an unknown man was found badly mangled in a quarry on DeSota-street, Alexader Schulinger, a dairyman, was struck by a falling tree and killed at Third and Marion-streets.

Fred Wells, aged 17, and his sister Theresa, aged 13, were found dead in the ruins of their home, 1728 South Ninth-street.

St. Paul's German Evangelical Church, Ninth-street and LaFayette-avenue; Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Eighth-street and LaFayette-avenue; and St. Hugo's Catholic Church on Kansas-avenue, were totally demolished.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Canada and the International Postal Union.

REPRESENTATIVES WILL ATTEND

The Quinquennial Conference to be Held at Washington Next Year—Another Locomotive Officer Resigns—Mr. Lowe Starts for Labrador—Other Items.

Ottawa, May 27.—(Special)—The Canadian Government has been invited, as is customary, since this country joined the International Postal Union, to send representatives to the quinquennial conference of the Union, which is to be held in Washington, D.C., next year. This will be the first time that the conference has met outside of Europe. Canada will, of course, be represented at the gathering, and in order that her delegates may be fortified with the statistics of the amount of mail matter passing through the country, and to facilitate adjusting of accounts between the Dominion and other countries, Mr. W. D. Lesueur, secretary of the Postoffice Department, has been engaged for some weeks past in visiting points along the line of the C.P.R. between Ottawa and Vancouver. At the Union conference the amount which the United States or other countries will owe to Canada on account of the excess quantity of mail matter carried on the China and Japan steamers will be determined, as well as other questions of a kindred nature.

A. P. Lowe of the geological survey left to-day on another expedition to Labrador. He will proceed direct north to Hudson Bay, sail up the east coast and then strike across the northern part of the Labrador peninsula to the Atlantic, and down the Atlantic to Hamilton Inlet, the scene of his recent exploration. Mr. Lowe expects to arrive home about next October or November.

The discussion on the management of the Locomotive Engineers insurance scheme, which has been in progress for some days, reached a climax to-day, when Secretary-Treasurer H.H. Hay resigned. President Youngson and the trustees have already resigned, but Mr. Hay declined, as his term of office does not expire for two years. He made a proposition that if he be paid $3000, or the equivalent of one year's salary, he would resign. This proposition was considered by a special committee, and this afternoon the committee reported recommending that Mr. Hay be paid $3000, and he immediately resigned. Mr. W. B. Prenter, chairman of the local L.E. committee of convention arrangements will, it is stated, be a candidate for the secretary-treasurership.

The Ladies' Auxiliary concluded its business to-day. Officers were elected; nearly all the retiring executive were successful, being re-elected to office. Mrs. W. A. Murdoch was again elected president, after a very spirited contest, in which Mrs. Cassels, vice-president, was her chief opponent. The officers elected are: Grand President, Mrs. Murdoch, Calgago; Grand Vice-President, Mrs. M. E. Cassell, Columbus, Ohio; Grand Secretary, Mrs. Harry St. Clair, Logansport, Ind.; Grand Treasurer, Mrs. Robertson, Toledo, O.; Grand Chaplain, Mrs. F. S. Bowley, San Francisco, Cal.; Grand Guide, Mrs. B. Baker, Ottawa; Grand Sentinel, Mrs. Adams.

A beautiful silver souvenir is being prepared on behalf of the ladies of the auxiliary, for presentation to Her Excellency Lady Aberdeen, as a token that the ladies appreciate Her Excellency's courtesy to them during their visit here.

The Welland Field Battery has notified the secretary of the Dominion Artillery Association that the invitation to send a representative to England as a member of the Canadian Shoeburyness team is under consideration and a decision will be reached in the matter within the next two or three weeks.

The privilege of running the ferry between Fort Erie and Buffalo has been renewed to the International Ferry Co. for a period of 10 years.

The local fishery officers in the southern part of the Georgian Bay report the prevalence of illegal fishing, chiefly for pickerel. Officer Smith of Midland reports several seizures of seines and illegal trap nets.

The following changes in the customs service are announced: W. P. Killackey, appointed a preventive officer at Windsor, in place of Miles Cowan, retired. J. H. Hamilton, appointed appraiser of customs at St. John, N.B. H. H. Osburn, appointed a preventive officer at Milltown, N.B.

During the 17 days from the 7th to the 24th of May, inclusive, 480 vessels of a tonnage of 460,250 tons, passed through the Canadian Canal at the Soo, a very good average.

Mons. Boissage of the Forestry Department of France, is here gathering information concerning lumber operations in Canada. He will proceed to the Pacific coast.

CONSERVATIVE CONVERTS.

The Review affects to be skeptical as to the probability of a Tory of the Tories, mentioned in THE EXAMINER, having decided to support the Liberal party's policy and candidate in this riding. Our contemporary bases its credility on the improbability of such a person being approached with an invitation to vote Liberal. There is nothing wonderful in that. So many "Tories of the Tories," who are too honest to support a policy and party which their better sense and sense of patriotism condemn, are coming to act independently of their party and supporting the platform of the Liberal party, that it implies or requires no "cheek" to solicit a good Conservative's support for the Liberal party. The Review may be assured the gentleman we named is a genuine and bona-fide convert from the error of his ways, whose name, with his consent, THE EXAMINER will cheerfully give if our contemporary demands it.

While we are talking about Conservative converts, we might add a few more names to those we have previously given, coupled with the intimation that it's never too late to mend—while the lamp holds out to burn the vilest sinner (political) may return."

It seems that the slump in the Conservative ranks began in the east, the quarter from which the wise men came, and continues there with unabated force. A despatch from Halifax on Monday, May 25th, mentions three new prominent Conservatives who have abandoned the old party and are supporting the Liberal candidates: Capt. Lewis Anderson, underwriter's agent; Col. McShane and Mr. Cossey, of the firm of Northrop & Cossey, manufacturers' agents. The two former are Roman Catholics and the latter a Protestant. Capt. Lewis Anderson said he had decided to support the Liberals this time for several reasons. First, the National Policy had proved a failure and a deadly injury to the shipping interests of Halifax. Secondly, the shameful manner in which the affairs of the Marine Department are administered. On this point he says:—"Actually I know of instances where lighthouses were placed in a certain locality, not because it was the proper locality, but because some one with a political pull was interested in selling a piece of land to the Government. On the general prospects of the Liberal party in this province Mr. Anderson says:—"I have travelled in Nova Scotia during the past season a great deal and have been in many remote localities, and I find a strong desire on the part of the bulk of the electors for a change of Government. There is dissatisfaction in the Conservative ranks, and the prevailing sentiment everywhere seems to be that after eighteen years of office it would be in the interests of the country to have a change of government at Ottawa."

Another accession to the Liberal ranks is Mr. Thomas Forhan, a leading ship chandler and sail manufacturer. Mr. Forhan spoke at a meeting held in behalf of the Liberal candidate last night, and his speech has created no little talk. He said he had been a Conservative all his life and had worked hard in past campaigns to maintain the Conservatives in power, but he now felt that it was in the best interests of the country that there should be a change of Government at Ottawa. He compared promises and predictions with facts, drawing special attention to how far Sir Charles Tupper's glowing pictures of prosperity were from realization. Then we have two more prominent Haligonians stepping out of the Conservative into the Liberal ranks, one a prominent grocer and the other an East Halifax Councillor, neither of whom have never voted anything but Tory; but they will vote Liberal on June 23rd. A single straw shows which way the wind blows, but the veritable straw stack of converted Conservatives show which way the cyclone is blowing that will sweep the present Dominion Government out of power on June 23rd. The annual solstitial storm is booked for June 21st but it will be prolonged till June 23rd to cover the case of our doomed Conservative friends.

Mr. Robert Mosley, President of the Dominion Paint Company, of Dartmouth.

Dr. Smith, of Dartmouth.

John Walker, of Dartmouth, merchant.

These three are well known in Nova Scotia as hitherto active workers in the ranks of the Conservative party and their present defection shows that their party must have committed grievous political sins in order to break the life long bonds of allegiance.

Then there is to be added to the list:—

C. T. Briens, manufacturer, Halifax.

Dr. Cunningham, of Pictou, a leading physician, and Mr. Hubley, an extensive grocer, who will cast their first Liberal vote on June 23.

POOR FREE TRADE ENGLAND.

Though it is impossible under the existing Canadian conditions, to have even approximate free trade, yet we, who love the old land, can regard, with loyal sympathy, the blessed results that have accrued to the British Island through the operation of a free trade policy. When we listen to super-loyal Conservatives like Sir Hibbert Tupper, who declared that England was driven from the civilized markets of the world, and therefore in a state of senile decay, we must blush for Canadian loyalty. For, in spite of Conservative slanders, free trade England is enjoying unexampled prosperity, thriving in her green old age, in a manner which we almost envy, while we rejoice at it. How glad we should be if Canada, under Conservative rule of eighteen years, could show such a balance sheet, and such a condition of prosperity as that pictured by the West Sussex Gazette below:—This year's budget—the annual statement of the nation's housekeeping—is the most wonderful the country has ever seen. What does it tell us? That, in spite of the fact that we are the lightest taxed country in Europe, we last year raised a revenue of $505,974,000 with less trouble and suffering than forty years ago we could have raised one of $250,000,000. We have paid off some $40,000,000 of debt; given $10,000,000 to the navy, $5,000,000 as special gratuity to the land, and a nice little bonus to the elementary schools out of the year's income, all without imposing a new tax. This extraordinary revenue is raised, be it remembered, under a fiscal system stripped of any protective taint, and is accompanied by a steady and unique growth in the prosperity of the country and in the comfort of its inhabitants. No other country in the world is so well off as is the happy England which some delight to malign; in no other country in the world are results so magnificent possible. To the financial administrators of the past forty years our readers owe a debt they can never adequately repay. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and the pudding of national comfort and well-being was never more succulent or savoury than it is now. It was never easier than it is to-day to get food, drink and garments; it was never easier than it is to-day to turn from unprofitable industries to profitable ones. Surely, seeing that we are all so comfortable, we might find time to enrich our education and vitalize our civilization."

THE HOME MARKET.

Yesterday a gentleman from Ennismore called at the EXANINER office on business and during his call incidentally stated that he had brought 13 bags of potatoes to town for sale and had been unable to dispose of them at 10 cents per bag, though he had been all over the town and even in Ashburnham. This is an uncomfortable anti-climax to Mr. Stevenson's Genesee Valley potato yarn which he has paraded at all the Conservative conventions held before they succeeded in getting a candidate, to the effect that the poor Yankee farmers in the Genesee Valley were selling potatoes at 15 cents a bushel, 22½ cents per bag. And he pointed out what a hardship it would be if the tariff dam were removed and such cheap Yankee products allowed to flood our great Canadian "home market." The circumstances related show the absurdity of the claim of the high taxation advocates that the N. P. will give or has given the Canadian farmer an ample home market. If the gentleman from Ennismore had a few car loads of potatoes such as he could not sell in Peterborough, the best local market, perhaps, in Ontario, he could send them to Mr. Stevenson's gloomy Genesee Valley, and make it a slaughter market, and sell his potatoes at a profit—compared to the price he couldn't get here—of 12½c. per bag, less carriage charges. So much for our great home market in the matter of potatoes, which Mr. Stevenson makes such a hobby of. In other matters we have nothing to boast of. On the Peterborough market last Saturday good matured veal sold at 2½c. per pound, and oats are quoted at 20c to 21c., and wool is down to 17c. here, while mutton has to meet the competition of Australian mutton brought to compete with that of the Canadian farmer in steamships subsidized by our "home market" government with the people's own money. Are the farmers satisfied with the home market the N. P. has provided them, with the prices quoted, and with wheat at from 75 to 80 cents per bushel, as against $1.12 on the Peterborough market on April 3rd, 1878, with cheese threatening a drop, and with our best markets for live cattle—Great Britain—closed for purposes of good profit, by an embargo, for which our inefficient and carlessly conducted Dominion Department of Agriculture is responsible—for our Government neglected and refused to meet the reasonable conditions upon which Canadian cattle on the hoof would be admitted to the British market. Talk about the N. P. "home market." We only hope the honest farmer is happy over it. And yet our Conservative organs will write columns, and our Conservative spouters talk hours and pile up wonderfully and fearfully cooked figures to prove that we have something to be proud of in a home market, where potatos are a drug at ten cents per bushel.

THE Constitution guarantees us representative government. The Conservative party gives us mis-representative government.

IN his first campaign meeting, Mr. Kendry credited the N. P. with creating a splendid home market for the farmers. How does 10 cents a bushel for potatoes strike the honest agriculturist as the type of a good home market? Peterborough is the best market in Central Ontario. How then would the farmer that had to depend on inferior markets, fare?

An Age of Substitution.

Keeness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it gives rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active business man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

VICTORIA CALAMITY.

Sorrowful Scenes After the Awful Collapse.

A LIST OF THE IDENTIFIED DEAD

The Uncertainty Among the People as to the Fate of Relatives Was a Frightful Experience—Relief That A Hundred Lives Have Been Lost.

Victoria, B.C., May 27.—Throughout the night thousands of anxious watchers surged about the approaches to Point Ellice Bridge, the scene of yesterday's disaster. When the first corpse had been brought to the surface the rescuers announced that they could find no more bodies under the wreckage. Still nearly 30 people are missing, whose fate may not be known for days. It is possible that many bodies were carried out by the tide.

It is thought that nearly 200 persons were carried down with the bridge, and that less than one-half of of them surive.

The dead who have been identified are:

James Thompson Patterson, a chipper employed at the Albion iron works, 33 years old, and leaves a wife and three children.

Gracie Elford, 17 years old, daughter of P. Elford.

Mrs. Fred Adams, sr., widow of the late Contractor Adams, who lost his life in the wreck of the ill-fated Velox.

Her son, Fred Adams.

Mrs. William Heatherbell, of South Road, Spring Ridge, who was sitting with her husband at about the centre of the car. Heatherbell had a miraculous escape, receiveing few injuries.

Mrs. G. H. Woodrow of Seattle, pinioned in the shattered car and had no chance for her life.

Mrs. D. L. Balard of Providence, R. I., who was spending a few days with friends in Victoria.

William Von Bokkelin of Port Townsend, for some years a well-known custom house officer at Puget Sound.

J. K. Loveridge, grocer, of Spring Ridge. He was on his way to the military spectacle, accompanied by his daughter, Nellie Preston, who was taken from the water before life was extinct, and resuscitated.

Gabrielle Marotta of Seattle.

Guiseppe Mauro, also of Seattle.

Mrs. Thomas Physick, of Vancouver. She leaves two children.

Miss Emily Nathan of Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Pearson of North Park-street, this city. They leave three children.

Mr. James. No particulars obtainable.

Mrs. P. Elford of Shawnigan Lake.

B. W. Murray, son of Foreman Murray of City Waterworks.

W. J. Crowell's little son, 10 years old, whose parents reside in Spring Ridge.

Mrs. Priest y of Minneapolis, identified by papers found on her body.

Meratta, an Italian harpist, from Seattle.

Mrs. Dr. Preston of Seattle; leaves two children. She was identified by her sister, Mrs. Evelyn Farrel.

Mrs. Edward Hoosen, wife of Night Watchman Hoosen of this city, and Clarence Hoosen, their son, aged 6 years.

James Wilson, the 6-year-old son of James Wilson.

Emma Olsen, of 73 Frederick-street, 20 years old; had no relatives so far as known in this city or province.

Miss Lester, no other particulars obtainable.

Miss Ann Keast, daughter of Deputy Registrar Keast.

Her mother was rescued and resuscitated with extreme difficulty.

Miss Flossie Jackson of 50 Quadra-street.

J. B. Gordon of Vancouver, a representative of Bradstreets.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Carmichael of Menzies-street, old residents of Victoria.

George Farr, a conductor, leaves a wife and two children.

Harry Talbot, the conductor in charge of the car, leaves a wife.

Miss Sloan of Seattle. She was accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Trout and their party, and was drowned with the majority of that little circle of holiday makers.

Bossie, a storekeeper.

J. H. Tyack, blacksmiths helper, residing on Humboldt-street. His body was at first mistaken for that of his cousin, Jimmie Laurie, Laurie is safe.

Two children fo J. W. Biggar of this city, who himself narrowly escaped.

Edmonds of Pembroke-street.

W. Arthur Fullerton, son of W. F. Fullerton of North Pembroke-street.

Mrs C. I. Post and her son, of No. 153 Fernwod-road.

Frank Oresta, bootblack, of Yates-street.

Miss Minnie Robertson, daughter of ex-Ald. W. A. Robertson, who, with his son, was also a passenger on No. 16, both of whom escaped with some bads cuts and serious bruises.

The Misses Brownes (two); their mother was with them on the car, but was among the few saved.

Ida Florence Goodacre, of Tocama, whose parents as well as her uncle, Mr. Lawrence Goodacre, reside in Victoria.

R. S. Holmes, bookkeeper at Sayward mill.

Mrs. Frost of New Whatcom, identified by Mrs. Gortley of that place.

The jury empaneled last night viewed in all forty-seven bodies, and then adjourned until this morning, so that the work of recovery could be completed.

Some Harrowing Details.

One of the first to hurry to the rescue was Captain Foot, who happened to be looking out of his window on the bank of the Arm. Rushing down to the scene he got a skiff near by and pulled to the struggling mass of people, who were fighting for life and wreckage. Little Nellie Preston was the first person saved. She had been in the car with her stepfather, Mr. Leveridge, who was drowned. The number of rescued was being increased rapidly, and soon the scene was alive with all kinds of small craft, many from the sealing schooners moored close by. The Misses Drake, daughters of Justice Drake, saw the acident, and at once put out in a skiff and succeeded in saving seven lives. William Burners, pulled five persons into his boat and many other lives were saved by the swarm of boats which came to the spot.

Rev. Canon Paddon, a passenger on the ill-fated car, was among the first rescued. He had received terrible injuries about the head, and was placel in the house of Captain Grant close by. In another room of the same house was James Jackson, who with his young daughter had been inside the car. The father will live, but the daughter is beyond recovery. Downstairs in the drawing-room in the Grant house was Mrs. Bowness, who had been rescued and who begged some one to tell her of the fate of her two daughters, one of whom was lying dead outside the house at that moment, and the other at the bottom of the river. A few feet away was Dr. Hall, trying to bring back to life Miss Sophie Smith, while beside her, unmindful of her soaking clothes, stood her sister, who had escaped unhurt.

All the doctors in the city hastened to the scene of the accident as fast as possible, and did noble service to the cause of humanity. A half hour after the accident the lawns of Captain Grant's house presented a fearful change from their generally trim appearance. Here and there groups of people were gathered around a body, trying to resuscitate the unfortunate. The doctors directed the operations, while the agonized relatives wandered tearfully from one body to another trying to find out if some of their dear ones were among the dead.

The uncertainty was something frightful. So many people had intended to go to the sham batle by the tramway that none knew but that the next body brought ashore might be one of their own family. A sad sight was when Mr. Biggar recognized the bodies of his little son, Archie, aged 6, and his young daughter, Julia, aged 9. Mr. Biggar, who had suffered severe injuries, worked hard with the others to bring back the breath of life to his little ones. They were wrapped in blankets and taken into the house, but it was useless, as their lives were ended and they were taken away with other bodies.

A wonderful escape was that of a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Jordan of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Potts. They were driving in a buggy on the bridge at the time of the accident. Potts drew up to allow the first tram car to pass and then followed it. The tram car behind came along, and when just opposite the bridge gave way. Down went the buggy into the water with the other wreckag. Potts managed to drag his wife to the top of the submerged car, Jordan rescued his wife in the same way, and they were picked up by a boat and carried ashore. The horse was drowned.

A Former Torontonian.

Mr. J. B. Gordon, who was killed in the accident at Victoria, was well-known in this city. He was for many years connected with Bradstreet's and went to Victoria about six years ago to act as superintendent of the company's branch there, a position he held until the time of his death. He was a relative by marriage of Mr. G. W. Bilton, of Bilton Bros., tailors, and had a host of friends in this city. His wife was a Miss Craig of Jarvis-street. Mr. Gordon carried considerable insurance in fraternal societies. Mr. J. Creighton, 18 Toronto-street, was brother-in-law of the deceased.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Rheumatism of 20 years' standing radically cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Sarah Browning, an estimable resident of the Ambitious City, was for twenty years a sufferer from acute rheumatism, and her restoration to health is so remarkable that we present the case for the benefit of our readers, many of whom are doubtless sufferers from this painful complaint which arises from blood poison. Mrs. Browning says: "I used only one bottle of Scott's Sarsaparilla and received such benefit that I continued taking only at intervals for two months. That is seven months ago, and the pain has not returned. I had spent a fortune in various "treatments" and was told by one medical man that a cure was impossible as I had suffered so long."

Scott's Sarsaparilla cures by making and keeping the blood pure. It increases flesh by digesting flesh-forming foods. It is the most successful medicine in the world to-day, for dyspepsia, nervous troubles, rheumatism, sciatica, syphilitic afflictions, pimples and all diseases originating in a foul condition of the blood. Dose from one half to one teaspoonful.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Famals Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

SURPRISED THE MATABELES.

Captain Plumer's Scouts Poured a Heavy Fire on Them With Effect.

Buluwayo, May 27.—Captain Plumer reports that the scouts belonging to his column on Monday afternoon found a force of 2000 Matabeles encamped upon a stone kopje having a hollow centre like a fort. The scouts opened fire on the natives and retired. Captain Plumer, upon hearing the firing advanced his column at a gallop and poured a heavy fire into the enemy. The Matabeles stood the fire well for a few minutes, but finally fled, having sustained heavy loss. Captain Plumer pursued them, but abandoned the pursuit at sunset. One English trooper was killed and two wounded. The defeat of this party of Matabele warriors has stricken the native impis in the west with fear.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion, because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from any one whomsoever. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

HOW THE SUN LIFE
FULFILS ITS PROMISES.
A Matured 10 Year Endowment.
Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

"I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of

MR. RICHARD HALL'S FIFTH MEETING.

AN EXCELLENT MEETING AT MADILL'S SCHOOL HOUSE.

Addresses by the Liberal Candidate and Representatives of Both Parties.

Last night a well attended meeting of the electors of Smith, was held at Madill's school house. Mr. Sanderson occupied the chair.

Mr. Hall, the Liberal candidate, opened the meeting with a brief address, setting forth the Liberal platform and its claims to the support of the electors.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun was the next speaker, and set out to show the extraordinary fact that the people of Canada were not taxed at all, apparently, and that the taxation per head had not increased since Mr. Mackenzie's time.

Mr. G. M. Roger followed, and showed the hollowness and fallacy of Mr. Dennistoun's claims.

Mr. J. H. Burnham made an ornate address of his usual academic style, more marked by elaborateness of diction than ponderosity of argument.

Mr. Stone concluded the speaking with a vigorous address, attacking generally the fallacious arguments advanced by the Conservative speakers.

Altogether, the meeting was a most successful one, and the Liberal candidate have every reason to be well pleased with it.

A Compliment From Belleville.

The EXAMINER forwarded to Col. Ponton several copies of its issue containing an account of the Belleville Battalion's visit, and to-day received an acknowledgment of the receipt of the same in the form of a letter from which the following extract is made:—"I am very much obliged indeed for the papers you have sent me. Each one of them will find a billet. We will have one posted in the Armoury, one will be in the Regimental Scrap Book, and every officer in the Battalion would like to have one. We appreciate very much the able and excellent account of our visit in all its details. This will have the best effect possible on our men, and if any member of the EXAMINER's staff ever comes to Belleville I hope you will look us up at our quarters. If you could spare a couple more papers they would be prized."

Far-Reaching Influence.

The influence of the EXAMINER extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific — pardon this extreme modesty; we have just been reading one of Sir Charles Tupper's speeches. This is shown by the following circumstance: Mr. John Elder of San Francisco, a former resident of this town, is a subscriber to the EXAMINER. Mrs. Elder during the process of housecleaning, in sorting up the back files of the EXAMINER, came across one which seemed to have been mislaid at the time of receipt, and saw in it a report of St. Andrew's conundrum dinner held some months ago. Yesterday Mr. Mulligan, choirmaster of St. Andrew's, received a letter from Mrs. Elder inquiring as to details of the manner of conducting such a dinner. As the idea is claimed to have originated with St. Andrew's, Mrs. Elder could obtain from no other source the information she desires. It will be promptly furnished, and it is likely the Lebanon Presbyterian church, San Francisco, will, thanks to the EXAMINER, conduct a conundrum dinner, which it is hoped may be as successful as that of St. Andrew's was. It is quite a feather in St. Andrew's cap to be able to give pointers to our smart Yankee cousins of the Golden Gate.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

A Section Man Falls From a Handcar and is Killed.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Lindsay, May 20.—Thos. Rogers, a G. T. R. section man, was killed this morning near Ops station. It appears he was on a handcar going down a slight grade, when, in some way, he lost his balance and fell off, striking his head on the rail. It is supposed his neck was broken. He was a son of Mr. John Rogers, a well known resident of this town.

THOSE AWFUL GIRLS.

They Appropriate the Pater's Neckties for Themselves.

A well known citizen entered a gentleman's furnishing store the other morning with his coat buttoned tightly and his collar turned up and fastened securely with a black pin. The morning was exceedingly warm and the clerk inquired if he was troubled with a bad cold or if he had one of Job's comforters located on some quarter of his neck.

"No," replied the citizen, "I want to buy a tie. I could not find one to put on this morning and as I had to pass along several principal streets, I thought it would be advisable to turn my collar up so that the persons I met would not arrive at the conclusion that I had been out all night. I purchased a dozen different kinds of ties about a month ago, and this morning I tore the one I was putting on and went to my tie case to get another, but to my astonishment not one was there. I asked my wife where my ties were, and she, looking astonished, answered that she could not understand where they could have gone unless the girls had taken them. When she said that I perfectly understood where they had gone, and taking the old tie (I must acknowledge I was annoyed, for I am greatly opposed to women wearing men's attire,) I handed it to my wife and said, "Give that to them with my compliments. I fastened my coat up as you see it and went down to breakfast. My daughters were sorry, at least they said they were, that they had caused me any inconvenience by borrowing my ties, etc., and both they and my wife tried to induce me to take one of the ties or wait until the one I had been wearing was mended, but my ire was up and so here I am. Show me a dozen of your nicest ties," he said to the clerk. The clerk was only too willing and soon the purchase was made. As the much-abused citizen walked out of the store wearing a new tie and with a parcel containing the other eleven, he turned and said to the clerk, "I do not purpose being caught in a like manner again and intend putting these under lock and key. I wish I could also put my laundry bill under lock and key for it has increased enormously since these girls commenced wearing starched blouses." The clerk smiled and in his inmost self wished that more girls would go and do likewise.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

BASEBALL.

The Printers would like a game of ball with the Auburns on Saturday afternoon next at five o'clock on the Central Park.

LACROSSE.

The rules that will govern the lacrosse league series this year contain a number of important changes from last season.

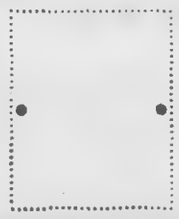
The most important probably is that the referee will have control of the match during the entire two hours, and will have power to rule off players for bad conduct or bad language during the rests. He will even have charge of the dressing rooms, and may punish players who get into disputes there. Players who abuse the referee during rests had also better look out.

When a foul occurs, and the player who is fouled has possession of the ball, the referee will have power to let play go on and warn or remove the offending player. The reason for this change is that many players when fouled lost by the "face" that followed the foul, any advantage they had. Now a player who is about to shoot when fouled may go ahead and shoot, while the man that fouls is punished.

The "free throw clause" of last year was knocked out. It was considered the free throw did not work satisfactorily.

Hereafter in facing the ball the referee will cry "draw" instead of "play." In the past through the indefiniteness of the referee's orders many disputes between players and referee have arisen. Now there must be a clear drawing of the sticks.

Another important change is in regard to the goal crease. In the past the rules have read that the crease shall extend six feet either way from the goal posts, and the interpretation has been six feet backward and six feet forward, as per the diagram below:—



With the crease so made the players on opposing home have been able to stand close up to the poles and check the goal keeper, and often it was done when the ball was not in the crease and the referee got considerably battered and annoyed.

Under the new rule the goal crease will be 6 feet every away from the poles or 18 feet wide and 12 feet deep as shown below:

Now a goalkeeper will be free from crackings except when the ball is within the crease, for by another new rule no opposing player is allowed in the crease except when the ball is actually within it. The rules have hitherto allowed a player in the crease when the ball was "falling" into it. The word falling gave great scope for energetic home men to jump on the referee.

After this Indians will be eligible, provided they are not professionals. The colour line is broken. On Monday, in Toronto, Cornwall played three Indians, the White brothers, and one of them, Louis White, is said by the Toronto papers to have distinguished himself.

If teams do not agree on officials by Wednesday night of the week they are to play, the president of the league will call a meeting of the league for Thursday evening, and the league will do the appointing. If the president is not notified by the teams by Wednesday night that they have agreed he will take it for granted that they have not, and act accordingly.

The competing teams must furnish the referee with the names of their players. This rule will be strictly enforced so that the league may be able to keep track of "ringers." A number of minor changes have also been made.

HASTINGS NEWS.

Healthy Indications of Progress and Prosperity—Lovely Village, Lively Citizens, Lovely Fish—Local Items.

From an Occasional Correspondent.

Although the Queen's Birthday was celebrated very quietly in this village by mutual consent in order to allow the people to patronize the Peterborough and Campbellford demonstrations, that's no reason why Hastings can't get a move on when she likes. If you want to wait until the 1st of July, you will see what Hastings can do in the way of a loyal celebration. But you don't have to wait to see the enterprise and push of the citizens of this live village. On every hand indications are as plentiful as fruit in an orchard that Hastings has a lot of go-ahead people, and that they have faith in her present and future prosperity. Just now the principal business centre of Front street is almost barricaded with new brick and building material, and the new brick buildings going up are alive with sturdy workingmen raising the superstructures worthy of their skill. The walls of a new white brick building have just been completed on Mr. T. Coughlin's property, which, when finished, will be fitted up for a branch of the Union Bank, to be opened here about the 1st of July. This will fill a long-felt want in the village, and prove a great convenience to the business men of the place. On the opposite side of the street, the sound of the trowel and hammer mingles all day long with the busy bustle of building operations. The enterprising Fowlds Bros. are erecting, alongside of their Clarendon House block, a new white brick store, which is already rented. Adjoining this, Mr. R. R. English, one of the most successful merchants of the village, is also erecting a fine double store, of white brick, which he contemplates moving into himself as soon as completed. Mr. Rich. Sheehy and a number of other Peterborough men are at work on these buildings. The Roman Catholic church is building a splendid new brick residence for the parish priest, adjacent to their church. The stonework was completed on Saturday, and Mr. P. McNamara, of Peterborough, has commenced the contract of the brickwork. Mr. Plant's large new foundry and machine shop is now completed and in full running order, its beautiful site and the substantial stone structure being a credit to the village and the perseverance of the proprietor.

ILLEGAL FISHING.

There was a good deal of excitement in the village yesterday over a rumour that got abroad rapidly that half a dozen well known citizens had been pulled for illegal fishing. It is stated that summonses were issued in the afternoon by the new Deputy Fishery Inspector, Mr. William Buntin, who charges that maskinonge are being hooked from the bridge in large numbers quite openly, contrary to law. Several parties have lately been cautioned repeatedly, but the caution was ignored and the "gaffing" went on as usual, even in broad daylight. Mr. Buntin determined to put a stop to it, and laid his plans accordingly; the result being that the poachers were caught "red-handed." The issue of the summonses to a number of the guilty fishermen caused a sensation, and they will be invited to face the beak next Monday, and show some cause why they should not contribute handsomely to the fund for the maintainance of Fishery Inspector.

IDYL WYLD SUMMER RESORT.

Mr. A. B. Spillman, of the Clarendon House, the lessee of the Idyl Wyld Summer resort, has already opened for summer and is actively engaged pushing forward his preparations for a brisk season. Enquiries are coming in by mail quite rapidly, for information respecting accomodation and rates for the season; and already parties are booked to commence the season on the 2nd of June. A number of letters have been received from New York, Rochester, Port Hope, Toronto and Kingston, and in several cases for parties of six and eight who wish to remain at Idyl Wyld from the middle of June to August 20th. Mr. Spellman says the prospects for a busy season are brighter than ever and he is satisfied that he will run a full house until the end of the term. Idyl Wyld has been completely put in order. The portion of the building which was dismantled by the heavy weight of snow during the winter, being completely restored and the grounds improved and beautified. The island steamer for the convenience of the guests was taken down to Idyl Wyld on Monday by Capt. Jerry Spellman, who will again manage the business this season.

FIRST OF JULY DEMONSTRATION.

The Directors of the Agricultural and Driving Park Association are co-operating with a number of the prominent citizens in the village with the object of celebrating Dominion Day by another grand gala event, for which an attractive programme of varied sports and games will be prepared. The energy of the management and the successful sports which marked a similar event held last year, will no doubt warrant the promoters in looking forward to another big day this year.

THE "STAR'S" SCINTILLATIONS.

Mr. Scriver, the proprietor of the "Star," is a swimmer up stream. He is not content to float along with the dead fish, but has a forcible way of his own in pushing to the front. The neat and tidy newspaper office is abundant with evidence of his perseverance and thrift, and his spicy sheet deserves all the local encouragement the citizens can bestow. His policy is in some respects outlined in the following paragraphs which appears in the last issue of the Star:

"We are in receipt of a correspondence from Warkworth which came too late for last week's issue, and also without any name. We may say that we will not publish any correspondence unless we have the name of the sender, not for any one but subscribers unless we are paid for doing so. Our columns are always open to subscribers, particularly those whose subscriptions are paid. We work on Artemus Ward's principal, "You scratch our back and we'll scratch yours."

"We have tried hard to collect a number of accounts, for several years subscriptions past due, and have failed to even get an acknowledgement pro or con. The Star is $1 per annum if paid in advance, if not $1.50. We are now going to try another plan, viz:—All such not settled by the first of June, we will charge the $1.50 and hand the account to the Publisher's Collecting Agency for collection, and if the parties are worth it and on this side of eternity, we are going to have it and don't forget it. This is the last asking, so send on your CHINK or take what follows. We don't intend to publish a paper for five or six years for the fun of it."

Miss Lily Scott, who is teaching in Toronto, is home for a couple of days.

On Sunday evening the Rev. S. S. Weaver delivered a very interesting address on "Loyalty and Patriotism.

Mr. John Burnham, Conservative candidate for the House of Commons, addressed a meeting of the electors on Wednesday evening last.

On Friday evening the band was out and rendered a number of choice selections.

Last Tuesday a free social was given in the Methodist church. A large number were present, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

DISTRICT MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Campbellford District of the Bay of Quinte Conference was held in the Methodist church, here, on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 19th and 20th.

The first session was at 10 30 o'clock, on Tuesday, and devotional exercises were carried on. After several ballots were cast the Rev. Jas. Macfarlane, of Warkworth, was elected secretary for the session.

The Rev. J. R. Peake, who has completed his course of study and term of probation, was received in full connection with the Conference. Mr. H. S. Spence, B.A., who is studying theology at present, was recommended to be continued on probation. The general business being then completed the meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock.

The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock and a very interesting discussion followed on "What can be done to improve the work in the district?"

On Wednesday morning the meeting opened at 9 o'clock. The Rev. Jas. Macfarlane was elected to represent the district on the stationing committee. The Rev. J. A. McCamus and Wm. Knox were appointed auditors. It was resolved that the stationing committee be asked to place centre church in charge of the Havelock circuit. The Rev. C. L. Thompson and Dr. Harrison were elected to represent this district on the Sabbath school committee; the Rev. J. R. Peake and G. S. Spafford on the Epworth League Committee, and the Rev. J. A. McCamus and W. E. Rankin on the sustentation committee. It was moved and seconded that Dr. Ford be representative to the conference, missionary committee—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned at 3.30 o'clock.

TEACHER'S CONVENTION.

The annual convention of the teachers of Peterborough county was held in Norwood on Thursday and Friday, May 21st and 22nd.

On Thursday the session opened at 2 o'clock and the Canadian poets were discussed by Mr. Eadie, of Havelock, and Miss M. Howson, of Norwood. This was followed by a very interesting paper on primary work by Miss Brighty, of Norwood, after which the meeting adjourned.

At 4.15 o'clock a football match was played between the teachers of the county and the High School. The match was very evenly contested, but resulted in a victory for the teachers, the score being 1-0.

On Friday, a morning session was held, at which Mr. John Davidson delivered a very interesting address on "Current History" with particular reference to Armenia and the Munroe doctrine, after which Mr. H. Beer read a paper on Canadian Commerce. In the afternoon Mr. C. H. Edwards spoke on "The care of the Mind," and Mr. F. E. Perney read a report of the Toronto Educational Association. It was moved by Mr. Perney, seconded by Mr. C. Gallagher, that a teacher's library be established in connection with the Model School for the use of the teachers of the country. Mr. C. H. Edwards, Mr. John Davidson and Mr. J. C. Brown were appointed as a committee to look after it.

At the close of the session a very interesting game of football was played between the teachers and the Norwood town team. After a hard fight the teachers succeeded in scoring, thus winning the game.

On Monday, May 25th, an old time demonstration was held in Norwood, and notwithstanding the rain, about 10 o'clock large numbers began to gather in, and by noon the streets were crowded. Shortly after twelve o'clock the calithumpians appeared and paraded the streets, headed by Galway's band. After marching on the principal streets they proceeded to the park.

At 1.30 o'clock, a baseball match was played between Havelock and Norwood. For the first three innings the game was very even, but while Havelock was at the bat a shower of rain made the ball very hard to catch and as a result they scored several runs which the Norwood boys were unable to make up. At the close of the five innings the game stood 7—14 in favour of Havelock. The teams were as follows:

Havelock—Dalt, pitcher; Ford, catcher; McGuire, Carey, McAllister, Campney, Hicks, Black and Dorricott.

Norwood—Knox, pitcher; Code, catcher; Brown, Wigmore, Pettigrew, McKelvie, Rutherford, Hendren and Kelly.

Umpire—W. Stephenson.

After the baseball match a game of football was played between the High School and the town team. The match was very even, but resulted in favour of the town by one goal.

Besides the matches there were horse races, bicycle races and caledonian games.

In the evening a grand concert was given in the skating rink, at which about eight hundred were present. Those who took part in it were Mrs. Caldwell, Mr. Best Harvey and Mr. Walke, of Toronto, and Mrs. F. E. Perney, of Norwood. The programme was as follows:

PART I.

Comic song, "Norwood Band".....Mr Harvey
Solo, "In Romany Land".....Mrs Perney
Solo, "Staccato Polka".....Mrs Caldwell
Reading, "The Dude in the Horse Car".....Mr Walke

NOT A QUESTION OF CHOICE, BUT A QUESTION OF MUST!

The public understand our position. To retire from Business we MUST dispose of our stock. We would rather sacrifice every dollar's worth than delay the object we have in view.

We MUST either sell out at cost by retail or close out en bloc to one purchaser. Rain or shine, the goods MUST go.

During the past three weeks of this sale we have cleared out great quantities of beautiful Dry Goods and Millinery, but

Sales Must be Increased

for the next three weeks. It is true we are offering an exceptionally fine class of Goods, in which the styles are the newest in vogue. It is true we are giving higher advantages than those struggling to remain in business by reducing prices on a few lines of "old shop-keepers"—but

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman finds ample compensation for her trials and worries and bothers in the soft, clinging little body nestling close to her own—in the fretful clinging of the little hands, and the love light in the little eyes.

A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Doctor Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo.

"I lost six babies by untimely births. In the eighth month of my seventh pregnancy, as usual, I was taken ill. The family doctor was called. He said there was no help for me. The baby must be born. I grieved excessively. I persuaded my husband, against the physician's advice, to get me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Four doses quieted my pains. That child was born at full time. It is three years old, and I am the happiest mother in the world."

PURE CANADIAN!

Scott's Sarsaparilla No Imported Decoction.

The Raw Ingredients Are Brought Here and Prepared.

Foreign Sarsaparilla Cannot Compete with it on Account of a Heavy Customs Duty—That is Why They are so Much Poorer than Scott's.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is of purely Canadian manufacture. The ingredients are imported and the medicine compounded and put up here.

That is the reason no American or foreign preparation can begin to compare with it in quality or strength.

The Canadian duty on imported patent medicines is 50 per cent. on the selling price. Hence on a bottle of imported Sarsaparilla that sells for one dollar the customs authorities collect fifty cents. Yet these imported medicines have to compete with those of Canadian manufacture which have no duty at all to pay.

Of course it is impossible for them to do so. To meet the duty without increasing the price so much less must be spent in the medium itself. Reducing the cost of the ingredients in a bottle of Sarsaparilla by fifty cents so as to cover the duty makes the medicine worthless.

Raw Sarsaparilla.

The manufacturers of Scott's under the Canadian tariff have the right to import all their raw material free. In Canada the real genuine Sarsaparilla is prepared. It is put up good and strong.

Saddled by no duty, Scott's Sarsaparilla outdistances in strength, purity and health-giving qualities anything offered on the Canadian market. Those who prefer medicines simply because they have foreign names should ponder over this. If Scott's Sarsaparilla were made in the United States and sent to Canada it could not be sold here for less than $1.50 per bottle, the extra 50 cents would be for duty. If it had to be sold at $1, as some Sarsaparillas are, the amount of the duty would have to come off the cost of the medicine.

Purely Canadian.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is made in Canada, the bottles it is sold in are made in Canada, the labels on the bottles are printed in Canada. The boxes and wrappers it is sold in are Canadian Everything about it is Canadian, and that is the reason it has made its reputation as the best and most thorough blood purifier and spring tonic to be had anywhere. Good cleaning out medicine at this season of the year is an absolute necessity in every household. Purchasers are foolish to experiment on unknown preparations when they can get an established medicine like Scott's to whose curative properties thousands of leading Canadians testify. More tomorrow.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, Arkwright, Ont., says: I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed, and could neither sleep nor rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle, and after taking about the half of it I found myself recovering, and after continuing it for some time I recovered, but when the cold weather set in this winter I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared, and I consider that I am entirely cured.

FAVORITES IN FRONT.

The Chosen Ones Were Victorious in All the Races Save One at the Woodbine.

Toronto, May 27.

Holiday weather arrived yesterday, and although it was a day behind time, it was none the less welcome to racegoers. High winds and a warm sun had dried the Woodbine track out admirably, and the only effect of the rain to be seen was a freshening up of the park. The track was fast, and mudhorses, as such, were not at a premium. As was natural on the day after the big holiday, the attendance was not up to the top notch; nevertheless there was a fair crowd. The drags and private motor-trains carried members and their friends to the track, while there was a large turnout of tandems and carriages, and the street cars were liberally patronized.

It was a fairly good afternoon's sport, though the racing was hardly up to the previous days. The track had dried out considerably, and, with the exception of a few bad spots, was fair. It was a good day for the favorites, as five were successful, and Halifax, the second choice in the opening race, was well played. Starter Fitzpatrick despatched his fields quickly, the only race giving him any trouble being the Jockey Club handicap, which was caused by the refusal of Lord Nelson to "break." The finishes were tame, outside of the Handicap, as all the other races were won easily.

The Don Purse, at six furlongs, started the ball rolling. It had five starters, with Miss Young a top-heavy favorite. Halifax was freely supported by the stable following, and delighted his backers by bringing home the money. They were sent away to a capital start, with Miss Young in front, closely followed by the others. In the stretch the Seagram horse drew away, and won by half a length from the favorite, who beat Alamo two lengths for the place.

Melcha and Princess May were the only two to put in an appearance for the Breeders' Stake, and the bookies held Mr. Hendrie's filly at such prohibitive odds that there were few takers, while a few of the small betters took a chance on Princess May at 2 to 1. The favorite, Melcha, led from start to finish, winning pulled up by 10 lengths.

The Jockey Club Handicap, at a mile, proved the event of the day. Subito, on account of his weight, was made an odds-on favorite at evens, and 4 to 5, notwithstanding that his owner declared to win with Sauteur, while Connoisseur, regardless of his heavy impost, and as Mr. Seagram declared to win with him, had many followers. Mr. Boyle thought that his representative, Lord Nelson, had an excellent chance, and many of his friends played the horse. When they were finally sent away, Lord Nelson and Sauteur were in front, and made the running for over half the journey, when they were joined by the Seagram pair. At the head of the stretch Connoisseur appeared to be winning easily, but Subito came through on the outside, and Lewis, who had lost his whip, had to take the whip from Johnston on Silk Gown, but it was too late, for Subito came strong and won by a length and a half, Connoisseur beating his stable companion a neck for the place. Silk Gown was apparently the best horse in the race, and could no doubt have won, had Mr. Seagram not declared with Connoisseur, though, of course, Johnston tried at the finish, when he saw that Connoisseur was beaten, but lost ground in giving his whip to Lewis.

The Green Hunters' Steeplechase resulted in a runaway race for the favorite, All Blue, who led from start to finish, winning by two lengths from Lawrence, who beat Cockatoo several lengths for the place. The Tough was strongly tipped, for some reason or other, and was freely played at threes and twos. His running was woeful disappointing to his backers, Mr. Hayes never being seriously in the race.

Edna D., at 1 to 3, beat her only two competitors, Parbuckle and Fiddle, in the 2-year-old race in easy fashion. Mellone took the favorite to the front at flag-fall and won easily by three lengths from Parbuckle, who was six lengths in front of Fiddle.

The last race went to Dr. Smith's unnamed brother to Kingston, who was heavily played by the talent, and won all the way. Rossmar, in an exciting finish, beat Beau Ideal a neck for the place.

PROVIDENCE BY 10 TO 4.

Toronto's Baseball Team Badly Beaten by Rhode Islanders.

Toronto, May 27.

Providence made its first appearance of the season over the Don yesterday, and won rather handily. Moran was very wild, and gave 10 bases on balls. He was hit safely 16 times, and thus, with Toronto's rugged fielding, the visitors sent 10 men across the plate. Hodgson kept the Toronto hits very well scattered, Wright being the only man to gauge his delivery with any accuracy. Providence scored nine in the second on four bases on balls, a wild pitch, a single by Lyons and three-baggers by Canavan and Dixon, and Druhby's home run over the left field fence, and errors by Padden and Moran. This lead was more than the Torontos could overcome, and thus the visitors won all the way. Score:

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is Much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 25.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely, Dodds Kidney Pills, is obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

SIXTY HOUSES WRECKED

How the Cyclone Did Great Damage in the Neighborhood of Tecumseh, Ont.

Tecumseh, Ont., May 26.—The most appalling cyclone ever experienced in this vicinity passed three miles west of this place about 9 o'clock last night, wrecking over 60 houses and barns, killing many cattle and horses and destroying farm machinery, fences and trees. Wonderful to relate, nobody was killed or even seriously injured. Four unoccupied houses, used as summer resorts, vanished, not a piece of them as large as a man's hand to be found. A cow was lifted by the wind and carried nearly a quarter of a mile and dropped with a broken back. Whole orchards were rooted up and not a tree left standing.

Mr. Alex. Langlois mourns the loss of his Jesuit pear orchard, which was over 200 years old.

The total loss is estimated at between $65,000 and $100,000.

After spending its fury the storm passed over the Detroit River into the State of Michigan.

Food, when it sours the stomach, becomes innutritive and unwholesome. It poisons the blood and both mind and body suffer in consequence. What is needed to restore perfect digestion is a dose or two of Ayer's Pills. They never fail to relieve.

A TORONTO LADY

GETS A CHRISTMAS BOX WHICH SHE PRIZES HIGHLY.

In tracing up some of Santa Claus' good deeds this year, a lady gives us the following account of her Christmas box. The lady's name is Mrs. H. G. Ferguson, and she resides at 211 Church st. Mrs. Ferguson began as follows:—

"I have for years been a great sufferer with kidney complaint, severe pain under shoulders and across back, and latterly so weak that I could not walk out or do housework. Seven years ago the doctor told me I had Bright's Disease. A number of physicians told me I was past help; one of them said I could not live a month. I have taken a great deal of medicine, but without relief, and had given up hope; in fact, told my son that I did not expect to live until spring. My son saw the advertisement of the Doan Kidney Pill Co., Dec. 3rd, and told me. I asked him to get a box and I would try them, although I had but little faith in them, because all other remedies had failed, and as a result I had given up hope. He got one box of pills at J. R. Lee's drug store and I commenced taking them. The result has been marvellous. After taking them once I experienced relief, and after taking them three times the change for the better was marked. I have only taken one box of pills, but I feel like a new woman. The pain and other symptoms of the dreadful disease are gone. I am stronger and better than I have been in many years. I am now able to do my housework and walk out without suffering any inconvenience. That box of Doan's Kidney Pills was indeed a grand Christmas box for me. I am glad to let everyone know about this wonderful cure, in the hope that some one who has suffered as I have may try the remedy and be benefited as I have been."

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. CHILD LIFE IN JAPAN.

BABIES ARE OF CONSEQUENCE IN THE FLOWERY KINGDOM.

A Boy May Be More Welcome, But a Girl Has Her Place in the Home—Visiting Children Silent Among Their Elders—The Doll Festival.

(Special Correspondence.)

Japan has often been called a paradise of children, and child life in it is frequently spoken of as ideal by foreign travelers in the east and by many writers on Japan. While not agreeing with such sweeping statements, it must be confessed that children enjoy themselves to no small extent in this land of flowers and sunshine, from the time they are tiny tots carried about on the back of nurse or elder sister, until they have gone through all the different phases of childhood, and are ready to take up the burden of life laid, perhaps, all too soon on their young shoulders. A Japanese child is fortunate in not being bound by many of the restraints and conventionalities which advanced civilization enforces in western countries, and life, perhaps, is simpler, freer and easier, if not more happy, for the little ones.

Children are greatly loved and occupy a prominent place in the Japanese household. Both father and mother take great pride in them, and, though demonstrative love is unknown in Japan, the care and love for them is seen in many ways. The first child, be it boy or girl, is always warmly welcomed, though preference may be given to a son as the one who will in the future take the father's place in the household as head of the family. Yet girls are dearly loved, and fill an important place in the home. On the birth of a son or a daughter all the relatives and near friends of the family come to pay a visit of congratulation, bringing with them the usual good-luck gifts of fish and eggs, or a piece of silk for the baby's dress. The customary words of congratulation are uttered by admiring relatives. It cries and kicks and sleeps and grows and is trotted up and down.

After a time life grows more interesting to it, as it looks about with its tiny black eyes on its surroundings. It sees the clean, thickly matted floor on which its bed is laid; the mats are soft and comfortable to creep about on, and the room with hardly any furniture—neither tables nor chairs—is an almost ideal one for a young baby. The room is surrounded by paper doors, those leading to the porch outside being of light frame and covered with thin white paper, which admits the light. These give the most charming amusement for a Japanese child, especially for a boy, for it is the very thing to poke little wet fingers through and to tear with such a delicious noise when mother or nurse is in some other room.

For Weak Backs, Lame Backs, Painful Backs or any kind of Bad Backs, Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound is the Great Back Strengthener.

Wm. Rogers, 8 Ottawa Street, Toronto, Ont., writes:—"For a number of years I have been troubled with a lame back. Some of the doctors I consulted called it Lumbago; others, Kidney Disease. I received no benefit from their treatment. Nine months ago I was lucky enough to try Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound, and, after taking two or three bottles, the pain entirely left me, and I have had no return of it for 9 months now."

Baby's ideas of outside life are usually obtained in observations from the back of mother, nurse or sister, for babies, unless of high rank, are tied on the back and carried about while work or errands are being done. Sometimes, on the back of elder sister or brother, baby enjoys a whole afternoon of play and romp, and is thus early initiated into kite-flying or ball-tossing, while snugly tied and hidden under the warm, loose coat which holds it on to the back.

After a time, when babyhood is past, there are many pleasant things in store for Japanese children. A little girl has her own special toys and amusements. Her mother spends much time with her, and takes the greatest pleasure in making pretty clothes for her, and in dressing her often like a gay butterfly—for even children of the poorer classes are dressed in bright and pretty colors. Visitors and relatives all come with some present for the little girl, who is made a great deal of and loved and treasured. The father, too, seldom fails to take interest in the children, and pets and plays with his little girl. Sometimes he takes her out with him to walk or ride, and at such times, mounted on tiny wooden clogs, with a little hand slipped into the father's big one, our little girl will enjoy the merry sights and pretty places along the streets of the great city of Tokyo, or, perhaps, with father, mother and brothers, will spend a pleasant spring day picknicking in some country spot, where the much-loved flowers of Japan, the plum or the cherry, are out in full bloom. Japanese children learn instinctively to love nature and outdoor life, for the children of the lower classes are seen out of doors at all times; and they, as well as their parents, enjoy the sights of the places so famous in Japan for the many beautiful flowers, each season as it passes bringing some one into perfection. The children of the wealthier and more exclusive families enjoy the same pleasure, but the much-loved flowers are those of their own spacious gardens in which they walk and whose beauty is not for the common crowd.

At 6 years of age school life begins for the average child, sometimes preceded by a year or two of kindergarten work. The ordinary primary school is of a late growth in Japan, but in the city of Tokyo, as well as in most of the country districts, it is almost the universal custom to send the children to them. School life is pleasant, with tasks and play for six days in the week, not unlike that of the children of Canada. But school tasks are perhaps harder, and the numerous Chinese hieroglyphics which have to be memorized are very puzzling to the little heads. The big brush dipped in India ink, which is used to form the many strokes of one Chinese character, are very unwieldy to be handled by the little fingers of a child. Later on in school life there are many lessons to be learned in this complex language of written symbols, besides the accomplishments of music, painting, arrangement of flowers, and, above all, sewing, which is an essential part of a girl's training.

However, not so much in the way of hard study is demended of girls at present, and there are numerous holidays during the school year, when, with dolls and tops, a group of little girls can play at keeping house, cutting out and folding paper dolls, making dolls' clothes, teling stories, and looking at the gay picture books illustrating the many romantic stories in the history of Japan in ancient times.

Often on a cold winter evening the family gathered around the charcoal fire placed in the center of the room will amuse themselves with entertaining stories, and the old grandmother or aunt will relate tales of the old feudal days in which she was born, and of the many changes she has seen, or else will amuse the little ones with marvelous fairy stories of the enchanted palaces under the water; of Momotaw, the wonderful boy found within the peach; or of the mysterious fox god, which in various forms bewitches men. The dear old grandmother occupies a warm place in the hearts of the children, for it is she who pets them and fondles them, takes them out to walk and gives them toys, when the mother's tasks are too many and her hands too busy to indulge them in their little fancies.

To go out visiting with grandmother or mother is a great event in a child's life, not frequent enough, perhaps, even to lose its charm. The visit is usually to the home of a relative or a near friend, and as distances are great in Tokyo, and calling not so frequent among women, there is quite a preparation beforehand. Arrived at the house where the visit is to be paid, the guests are made most welcome. Tea and cakes are at once served, while many long and formal salutations and bows are exchanged between guest and host, seated on the soft matted floor. The little girl, however, nestles shyly up to her mother, and is expected to be only quiet and good after she has made her one bow down to the floor. She does not join in the talk or conversation of her elders, but looks at the picture books and toys which are brought out for her entertainment.

Among the pleasures of the year none is more enjoyed than the great festival at New Year's, when all the world of Japan, young and old, takes a holiday and has a brief play. During the first week or ten days young and old throw aside all work and enjoy themselves in many games and amusements characteristic of the holiday season. Presents are exchanged, visits of congratulation are paid and there is a bustle and stir which enlivens every one.

Next to New Year's the great festival of the dolls on the 3rd day of March is, for girls, the greatest time of all the year, when all the beautiful dolls—the effigies of emperor and empress, which have been handed down in the family for many generations—are taken out of the storehouse and arranged on shelves, to be looked at and admired by the wondering eyes of the little ones. A feast is prepared for the dolls, and visitors are invited to see them and the many miniature household utensils of lacquar and china, which are all carefully arranged on different shelves. These are a great joy to the children, who are never tired of looking at them during the days the festival lasts; for the dolls and toys are not like the common ones played with by them daily, and a fine collection composes a part of the household treasure, being valued highly and handed down from mother to daughter for many generations.

But life does not pass for Japanese children all in festivals and play. There are many lessons to be learned and much work to be done. In the homes of the middle class it is expected of the young girl that she help in the sweeping of the house, in the polishing of the woodwork—the chief ornament of a Japanese house—and in the sewing and mending of clothes. She assists her mother in every way, even to the caring of the younger children of the family.

As the years of childhood pass by she will find restrictions gather around her. Her life becomes busy, yet narrow; her school days close early, and there are perhaps fewer pleasures and less freedom as she grows older. The happy day of unconscious childhood, spent in careless content—perhaps the happiest in the life of a Japanese female—are soon over, and a new life begins for her at the dawn of womanhood, when marriage takes place, too often before the real meaning of life is understood.

Letters Come.

Letters come day by day telling us that this person has been cured of dyspepsia, that person of Bad Blood, and another of Headache, still another of Biliousness, and yet others of various complaints of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood, all through the intelligent use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

It is the voice of the people recognizing the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels and Blood.

Mr. T. G. Ludlow, 334 Colborne Street, Brantford, Ont., says: During seven years prior to 1886, my wife was sick all the time with violent headaches. Her head was so hot that it felt like burning up. She was weak, run down, and so feeble that she could hardly do anything, and so nervous that the least noise startled her. Night or day she could not rest and life was a misery to her. I tried all kinds of medicines and treatment for her but she steadily grew worse until I bought six bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters from C. Stork & Son, of Brampton, Ont., for which I paid $5.00, and it was the best investment I ever made in my life. Mrs. Ludlow took four out of the six bottles—there was no need of the other two, for those four bottles made her a strong, healthy woman, and removed every ailment from which she had suffered, and she enjoyed the most vigorous health. That five dollars saved me lots of money in medicine and attendance thereafter, and better than that it made home a comfort to me.

SWEPT TO DEATH.

quor store at 229 South Broadway collapsed from the force of the wind.

Julius Marano was killed and three others seriously injured.

The power house of the Scullin street car line at Jefferson and Geyer-avenue was totally destroyed and a dozen employes received serious injury.

The Gem Theatre building on Walnut-street was badly wrecked by wind.

In the suburbs dozens of frame houses were blown down, but up to 11 o'clock last night no fatalities were reported.

Bloomington, Ill., May 27.—Word reached the Chicago and Alton officials this evening that a cyclone had demolished the village of Rush Hill, Mo., 12 miles from Mexico, in Audrain County. The cyclone struck the town a few minutes before 4 o'clock and blew down the school house, crushing its inmates. The report was to the effect that 50 pupils had been killed and a number injured.

In addition to the river disasters noted later reports add to the losses. All the wharf boats on both sides were swept away and sunk. The steamers Medill, City of Pittsburgh, Belle of Calhorn and City of Providence were all driven on the Illionis shore and wrecked. Eleven of the vessels' crews tried to swim ashore, but were caught in the eddy of the Pittsburg dyke and drowned. The river front is a mass of wreckage. From the Eads bridge south for two miles every building is damaged that is not in ruins. The loss to shipping is estimated at $400,000.

Over in East St. Louis the loss of life is now placed at 250 and the damage to property exceeds $2,000,000.

The fire in East St. Louis was not under control at midnight.

In this city the building occupied as St. Vincent's Asylum at Southard-st. was entirely demolished

In the collapse of the Sculler Line power house Frederick Zimmerman, chief electrican, was killed. The Liggitt and Meyers' cigarette factory at Lower Grove was destroyed and seven men engaged in placing new machinery were killed. The story that 200 girls are in the ruins is untrue.

The telegraph wires are prostrated in all directions, but the companies are making herculean efforts to restore communication. Only three wires are working out of the city and those are subject to frequent interruptions.

1000 Dead.

Indianapolis, May 27.—Railroad officials say the best estimate of killed put it in the neighborhood of 1000. The cyclone is moving rapidly almost due east.

Story From the Outside.

Louisville, May 27.—A telegraph operator at Corondelet, four miles south of St. Louis, says: A railroad man who walked from St. Louis, reports the city badly wrecked and hundreds of lives lost; street cars stopped; lights all out and everything in great confusion. He says several city buildings, including a hospital, are wrecked. Streets are almost impassable from debris and great volumes of water.

Carried Over a Mile.

Sturgeon, Mo., May 27.—A cyclone passed five miles north of Sturgeon about 2 o'clock this afternoon. At Renick, three men were seriously injured, and a family of colored people were carried over a mile, two children being fatally hurt.

Two Towns Destroyed.

Kansas City, Mo., May 27.—Rennick, Randolph County, Mo., was blown away this afternoon, and several persons killed. Labaddie, Mo., was also destroyed. Ten persons were killed at the latter place.

500 Box Cars Blown Away.

Decatur, Ill., May 27.—It was learned from Wabash Railroad officials that about 5.30 this afternoon a terrible cyclone struct East St. Louis blowing away one span of the Eads bridge, and also the east approach of the same. Five hundred box cars in the yards were turned over and blown away. The Wabash and Vandalia freight houses were blown down, together with many other buildings, but as yet the particulars are meagre.

Eighty Children Killed.

Rood House, Ills., May 27.—It is reported that eighty children were killed in a schoolhouse at Drake, near this city, by the cyclone.

All Employes Killed.

Chicago, May 27.—Word was received by wire at the Union Depot to-night that the Vandalia freight house at St. Louis was blown into atoms and all employes at work inside except four clerks were killed.

Prominent Judge Killed.

St. Louis, May 28, 4 a.m.—Among the worst disasters in East St. Louis was the wreck of the Martell House, of which nothing was left but a heap of ruins. Up to 3 o'clock seven people were known to have been engulfed in the ruins, among them Judge Faulk of Vandalia, who was killed, and Judge Hope, who was seriously injured. Both are circuit judges. Judge Faulk has been holding court in Belleville.

Among others killed are: David Sage, a well-known real estate man, and his wife. Their residence on Collinsville-avenue was wrecked and both were crushed in the debris. Another building demolished was that of Philip Strickler on the corner of St. Louis and Collinsville-avenues. Mr. Strickler, his wife and several children perished in the falling walls.

Among other buildings demolished were the National Hotel at the stock yards, the Clipper Restaurant, the old railway depot and Bedling House and an old brick building near it.

The Vandalia freight house near the east end of the Eads bridge was completely demolished and a number of persons went down in the ruins.

The East St. Louis Journal was also destroyed.

Special Train for Doctors.

Indianapolis, May 27.—The Vandalia started a special train from here filled largely with surgeons and newspaper men at 10.30 o'clock.

More Identified Dead.

St. Louis, May 28.—The following are among the dead on both sides of the river; Captain Seaman and wife and three of the crew of the steamer Libbie Conger; Wallace Bradshaw, colored, aged 11; Katie Claypot, aged 7; Josephine Martini, aged 25; Henry Beschir, aged 20; John Nolta, aged 40; Michael Dawes, driver; Peter Diedrich, A. M. Ottendale, factory proprietor; Benjamin Burgess, Joseph Carpenter, foreman of St. Louis Railing Works, wife and child; Alex. Schulinger, dairyman; Julius Marano.

An Awful Death Roll.

The latst reports compiled from the scene of destruction in the three states, point to the loss of over 700 hundred human lives and the probabilities are that later reports will swell the total death list to enormous proportions.

According to places the death roll is divided as follows:

In St. Louis, 300; East St Louis, 300; Drakee, Ill., 80; Rush Hill, Mo., 10; Rennick, Mo., 5; Labaddie, Mo., 10.

The number of injured is estimated to be in the hundreds.

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience, he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline, no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

SAD AFFAIR AT OTTAWA.

Mrs. Hayter Run Down by an Electric Car and Killed.

Ottawa, May 27.—(Special)—Mrs. Hayter, mother of Fred Hayter, chief clerk, Auditor-General's Department, was killed by an electric car on Bank-street this evening. She had alighted from one car and did not notice another coming. She was run down and struck in the head, expiring within 15 minutes of the accident. Ottawa cars do not carry fenders.

WALLACE RE-ELECTED G.M.

Proceedings of the Orange Grand Lodge at Collingwood.

Collingwood, Ont., May 27.—Nothing of great importance transpired at the session of the Grand Lodge held this morning. Reports were received from the Finance, Expulsions and Suspensions and Correspondence Committees, all of which were adopted, after short discussions.

At half-past 12 o'clock Grand Lodge adjourned to enjoy a trip on the Bay on the steamer Majestic on the invitation of the local committee.

Collingwood, May 28, 3.30 a.m.—Bro. Pitts, Grand Master of New Brunswick, at the evening session moved, seconded by Mr. Lockhart, Grand Master of Ontario west, a resolution commending the Grand Master N. C. Wallace for the course taken by him in opposing Remedial Legislation and condemning those members of the Orange Order who are members of Parliament, who supported the Remedial Bill. After a stormy debate, this resolution was carried amid tremendous applause. In the election of officers, Hon. N. C. Wallace was re-elected Grand Master, and Armstrong, Deputy Grand Master, by acclamation; contest for chaplain between Rev. W. F. Wilson and Rev. J. C. Madill now on.

Later—Rev. W. F. Wilson was elected Grand Chaplain, Robert Birmingham was re-elected Grand Secretary. This brings the business of the Grand Lodge to a close, and they will adjourn in a short time.

Further election of officers as follows: W. J. Parkhill, Midland, treasurer; Robert Burns, Toronto, D. of C.; R. A. C. Brown, St. John, N.B., lecturer; J. C. Gess, Shubenacadie, N.S., Deputy Grand Secretary. Parkhill, past G.M., in the chair during the elections.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P.O. Box 383, London, Ont.

LIBERAL MEETINGS

To be Addressed by Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver.

THE MANDEMENT READ IN ONTARIO

Hon. Mr. Haggart Willing to Take Credit, But Unwilling to Shoulder Responsibility—A Troublesome Little Piece of Paper Brought to Controller Wood's Attention.

Hon. Mr. Laurier will begin a series of meetings in Ontario on the 3rd of June. That evening he will be in London, and will be accompanied by Sir Oliver Mowat. The demonstration promises to one of the greatest ever held in the province. It will be the first meeting during the present campaign, when Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver will appear together. The following is the program of meetings which Mr. Laurier will hold:

Wednesday, June 3rd, at 8 p.m., London.
Thursday, June 4th, at 1.30 p.m., Glencoe.
Thursday, June 4th, evening, at Chatham.
Friday, June 5th, at 2 p.m., Belle River.
Friday, June 5th, at 8 p.m., Windsor.
Saturday, June 6th, at 2 p.m., Amherstburg.
Monday, June 8th, at 1.30 p.m., Ailsa Craig.
Monday, June 8th, at 8 p.m., St. Mary's.
Tuesday, June 9th, at 1.30 p.m., Listowel.
Tuesday, June 9th, at 8 p.m., Stratford.

It is also probable that he will speak in Toronto on a date not yet fixed.

Sir Oliver Mowat will speak at Oakwood, South Victoria, on Tuesday, June 2nd, at 1.30 p.m. Hon. George W. Ross will speak at Grafton, West Northumberland, on Tuesday, June 2nd, at 8 p.m., and in Bothwell riding on June 5th. He will be with Mr. Laurier at Glencoe on June 4th. Sir Richard Cartwright will speak at Streetsville on June 8th, at 8 p.m. Hon. John Dryden will speak at Bobcaygeon on Wednesday, June 3rd.

MR. HAGGART'S CLAIMS.

At a recent meeting, Hon. John Haggart, Minister of Railways and Canals, disclaimed all responsibility for the Curran Bridge, Shiek's Island, and other jobs in connection with his department, stating that he was only the "political head" of the department, and not supposed to know what was going on in connection with the contracts. He claims credit, however, for having saved the public a large sum in the operation of the Intercolonial Railway. He is willing to claim the credit, but not to bear the responsibility. A nice man, truly, to be at the head of a large spending department of the Government.

THE MANDAMENT.

The mandament was read in the Roman Catholic Church at Almonte, Ontario, on Sunday, and the faithful were instructed to vote only for those who would support Remedial Legislation. The mandament, it appears, is intended for Ontario, as well as Quebec. Those who heard it at Almonte cannot, however, vote for Rosamond, the Conservative candidate, as he was one of those who voted against Remedial Legislation, and as the other candidate is also an anti-remedialist, it means that the Roman Catholics of North Lanark cannot vote at all.

GENERAL NOTES.

A joint meeting for West Ontario and East York will be held at Stouffville on the evening of June 2nd. Messrs. Edgar and Frankland, the candidates for the ridings, will be there.

Mr. Calvin, ex-M.P. for Frontenac, and a Conservative, has expressed his opinion that a change of Government is desirable and is supporting the Liberals.

The endorsation of N. Clarke Wallace's course by the Grand Orange Lodge is proving a knock-down blow for the Government. They appear to think that the Orangemen, who generally vote Conservative, but who, as a rule, are opposed to the Remedial Bill, would be found as usual supporting the Conservative Government. The determined attitude of Mr. Wallace and the Grand Lodge shows that they were reckoning without their host.

Notwithstanding the mandament, Mr. Laurier is winning his way in the Province of Quebec. He has been holding successful meetings in various parts of the province, and it looks as if he was going to have a much larger support that appeared likely when the mandament was first issued. The people are coming to see, more and more, that the settlement of the school question is safer in his hands than in those of the Government.

Mr. Pedley of Toronto and Mr. Macallum of Paisley, are assisting Mr. Waldie in Halton this week. They have addressed several meetings in his interest.

Mr. William Paterson of Brantford will address the electors at Bowmanville on Thursday, June 4th, and at Brockville on Friday, June 5th.

Hon. John F. Wood of Brockville is being confronted with a document in which he bound himself to oppose Remedial Legislation, or any government which tried to pass it. The document was signed before Mr. Wood was made a Controller. Office and salary make a great change in some people's views. But Mr. Wood would have been better thought of if he had pursued the same course as Mr. Clarke Wallace.

The Liberals of South Lanark have decided not to place a candidate in the field. That riding is hopelessly Conservative by a large majority. Hon. Mr. Haggart will be opposed by Mr. John Ferguson, a McCarthyite, and the Liberals will give him their support.

The latest name mentioned in connection with the political contest in West Toronto is that of Hon. Lyman M. Jones, president of the Massey-Harris Co.

Mr. J. S. Willison, editor of The Globe, is to enter actively into the Liberal campaign. To-day he goes to Owen Sound, where, with Hon. G. W. Ross, will address a meeting in the interests of Mr. Clarke, the Liberal nominee.

NATIONAL POLICY A FRAUD.

Hon. G. W. Ross Speaks to the Assembled Liberals at Orillia on Behalf of M. H. Cook.

Orillia, May 28.—Two meetings were held in the opera house to-day in the interests of the Opposition candidate, Mr. H. H. Cook. The principal speaker at both the afternoon and evening meetings were Hon. G. W. Ross, Ontario Minister of Education. The attendance at the afternoon meeting was the evening the large auditorium was some what marred by the rain, but in filled about 300 ladies being seated in the gallery Mr. W. M. Harvey, chairman, introduced Reeve Miller, who spoke from a manufacturer's standpoint on the National Policy. Hon. G. W. Ross devoted himself to showing how the N.P. had affected the workingman and farmer. He said that the people of Canada had become very familiar with the N.P. in the 18 years it had been in existence, and found to their sorrow that in every respect it was a fraud. Touching on the Manitoba school question, he claimed that the policy of the Liberal party was conciliation, and not coercion. Coercion, he said, had proved a failure the world over. The superannuation system also received a share of his attention. The Canadian voter, he said, had one minute every five years in which to exert his sovereignity and say how he wished the nation to be ruled, and that was when he marked his ballot. He spoke for one and a half hours. Mr. H. H. Cook followed, and the meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, the candidate and the Reform leader.

The Fight in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, May 28.—(Special)—Every effort is being put forth by the committees of Messrs. Macdonald and Martin, and Winnipeg is being most thoroughly canvassed. The Martinites, it is reported, have forwarded a pressing invitation to Clarke Wallace, asking him to address meetings here, while it is also stated that Hon. Dr. Montague will be asked to aid Mr. Macdonald.

Mr. McCarthy held a big meeting at Virden to-day. He has been well received in Brandon constituency, but admits that he has by no means got a walkover. The declaration of the Conservative candidate, Mr. McDonald, that he will oppose Remedial Legislation, has made him a hard man to beat.

It is learned to-day that John Macdonell, Liberal candidate for Selkirk, is about to retire. This is not because he is discouraged, for there are two Conservative candidates in Selkirk, Messrs. Bradbury and Armstrong, doing what they can to kill each other, but is because, so report says, the Liberals want Isaac Campbell of Winnipeg, to run.

M. Car hyites in Halton.

Milton, May 28.—The McCarthyite campaign in this county is being pushed forward with great energy. No less than 15 meetings have been held, all of which have been well attended, and several organizers for the last two weeks have been busily engaged in forming committees and carrying on an active canvass. Meetings have been held in most of the important places in the county. On Tuesday evening at Lowville, a large audience was addressed by Mr. Hume, the candidate, assisted by P. D. Scott, ex-warden; John Nicholson of Wentworth, who was the Patron candidate in 1894, and by Mr. Karr of Toronto.

THIS UNKNOWN VICTIM

Whose Body Floated Ashore at Leamington Had Been Murdered and Thrown Into Lake Erie.

Leamington, Ont., May 28.—The adjourned inquest upon the body of the man that came ashore here Saturday, was brought to a close yesterday and the result was the following verdict: "That death came by violence, administered by a blunt instrument, and that deceased had been killed sometime before being thrown into the water."

The post-mortem examination showed a severe bruise on the back and side of the head. The nose was broken and one eye gouged out, and the tongue clinched between the teeth. There was no blood in the heart, and no water in the stomach, which would not have been the case had he been drowned. In his pockets he had a Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company's excursion ticket, purchased the 16th inst., punched but once. His watch, which was a silver one, appears to have stopped at 2.15, which might indicate the time he was thrown into the water. He appeared to have been of respectable appearance, and well dressed. Upon his shirt were the letters, "J.N.W.," apparently written by indelible ink.

OUR CANDIDATES; FOR
West Peterborough.....RICHARD HALL
East Peterborough.....JOHN LANG

"Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver make a strong team, and the adhesion of the latter to the following of the picturesque and high-minded Liberal leader will greatly strengthen his position before the country. Presbyterians who pronounce the Grit shibboleth, as well as thousands who fight under other flags, will rejoice at Sir Oliver's decision, for they believe that the leadership of two such men would mean wise laws, the cessation of sectarian strife, economy in national expenditure, a death-blow to corruption, and the general elevation of the conduct of public affairs and public morals. Sir Oliver's record in Ontario for more than 23 years is one that the Province and people are justly proud of, and well-wishers of Canada will gladly see him take office in the larger sphere if like happy results but follow."—Canada Presbyterian.

A SORROWFUL DAY

In the Cyclone-Stricken Cities Down South.

MANY HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS

Millions of Dollars Lost in the Awful Wreck of Property—An Appeal for Aid—Militia Called Out to Protect the People From Thieves.

St. Louis, May 28.—A pall of gloom and death hangs over the Mound City to-night. Twenty-four hours have scarce been sufficient to bring its people to a realization of the horror with which it has been visited and they are yet dazed and stupified. Save for the fitful glare of the gas jets in the windows of saloons and restaurants and the electric lights of the few hotels and other buildings that operate their own plants, the entire city is in darkness. In the devastated district the search for the dead is being carried on by the aid of torches and locomotive headlights. Details of police keep the crowds at a distance, while the air is filled with the shrieks and sobs and hysterical lamentations of the bereaved. Ever and anon the clanging of a gong is heard in the distance and vehicles and street cars come to a stop, while an ambulance dashes by to add one more victim to the record of the dead at one or another of the extemporized morgues.

The streets in the centre of the city usually active with pedestrians until midnight, are deserted save for those whose avocations keep them from their families or friends, while the summer gardens and other points of entertainment are bare of patrons. Grief and mourning have taken possession of the city. Careful tabulation of the information gathered by the United Press from all official sources shows that at 8 o'clock to-night there were 114 victims in this city that had been identified, while 15 still awaited identification. Most of the bodies claimed had been removed to their late homes.

The number missing, the majority supposedly, being in the ruins of the industrial establishments and residences that were totally demolished, is variously estimated at from 50 to 500. Only a complete search of the acres of ruins can tell the true story. Men and women reported as among the missing are continually putting in their appearance, while on the other hand many believed to be sure turn out to be among the missing.

The number of injured reported to the police up to the same hour foots up 189. Of these five are unconscious and unidentified. Of the list of injured, which is about one-fourth of the probable, total nearly 100, are reported by the physicians as fatally injured. These figures relate to the city proper.

On the other side of the river in East St. Louis, Ill., where the elements gathered themselves together for a supreme effort towards the destruction of life and property, the latest reports to the United Press place the total of dead and missing at 205, and the injured at 71.

Another tabulation made this evening by The St. Louis Chronicle gives these figures:

Identified dead in St. Louis 121, unidentified 30, injured 447.

East St. Louis: Identified dead 129, unidentified 125, injured 158.

The total number of families who are without homes and whose household effects were swept away by the storm is variously estimated at from 500 to 800. It will be several days before a complete and reliable roster can be made.

The property loss is estimated in round numbers at $4,000,000.

Almost a reign of terror prevails in East St. Louis to-night. Save for a tug and a few rowboats placed at the service of newspapermen and others whose duties called them to the scene the place has been cut off from communication with this city. Since last night a section of the upper or railroad portion of the Eads bridge, having been carried away, gaurds were stationed at either end to prevent pedestrians using the foot-bridge. The thieves and toughs of the city, reinforced by scores from the surrounding country, started in this afternoon to pillage the overturned trucks in the streets, and the freight cars on the sidings, which were filled with valuable merchandise, groceries and provisions.

The small police force had been detailed to aid the injured and assist in the task of searching the ruins, and, realizing that they were powerless to preserve order or prevent the pillaging, Mayor Bader called upon Governor Altgeld for aid. He quickly responded by ordering two companies of militia to the scene. The first company arrived from Belleville at 9 o'clock and the second is en route from Greenville on a special train and will be on the ground at 1 a.m. The Governor himself arrived late to-night, and did the detailing of the troops about the various properties to be protected.

Prior to his arrival a meeting of leading citizens was held in the First National building in response to a call hurriedly issued by ex-Congressman W. S. Forman and others, and after a full discussion of the situation, it was decided to issue the following appeal:

"To the people of the United States:

"The city of East St. Louis has been

HOME MARKET AND POPULATION

Now as to the home market the EXAMINER does not disparage the advantage and benefits of a home market. A home market is a grand thing, but it is something you can't have under a policy of high taxation. Shutting up a population of five millions and raising prices by compelling one class to buy the products of the other is very like raising oneself by one's bootstraps. Price is fixed by the law of supply and demand; if the demand draws strongly on the supply the prices of the articles demanded will increase. And to have increased demand we must have increased population. And the fact, that under a National Policy our population has practically decreased, is a proof that that policy cannot, or at least does not, create a home market. During the ten years between 1881 and 1891 we virtually lost 300,000 of population. The number of immigrants brought into the country in that time, according to government returns and at an expense of millions, was 896,000, while the actual recorded increase was only 502,000. This shows that we had somehow lost the natural increase of our population which should have been 800,000, which would have made our increase of population in the ten years between 1881 and 1891, the more respectable figure of over a million and a half, or 1,696,000, instead of a third less, showing an exodus to the United States or somewhere, of over a million, made up of 300,000 lost immigrants, and our natural increase of population, 800,000. Why, in some of the provinces there was in many districts an actual loss of population, and in others a very small increase. From 1881 to 1891 the population of New Brunswick increased thirty-one souls. How, in the face of these facts, can we claim that the country is prosperous, or that the conditions for establishing a home market are improving. We had the National Policy promising us no bounds to our prosperity. It was to enrich every citizen, give labour to every willing hand, induce conditions of prosperity that would check the exodus of our citizens by giving employment and prosperity at home. Instead of that, it has brought stagnation, over production of manufactured products, debts, deficits, etc. We have in the Northwest a domain capable of becoming the homes of millions, and in 25 years the population has grown to be only about 200,000 altogether. If a policy of administration had been pursued that would have placed another five millions in the Northwest, we should have been nearer the conditions of a home market. We should have had a demand for the manufactured products of the older provinces, and our manufacturers would not have been compelled to shut down periodically, throwing workmen into wage-losing idleness, to permit our restricted home market from being glutted. If we are to have a home market worthy of the name we must have increase of population in our newer sections, and to get that we must have an administration of our Northwest domain that will not, by vexatious regulations, and fatuous maladministration, that once brought on a rebellion, deter immigration, further checked by burdensome tariff exactions. We must have a clean and honest administration, a reformed tariff, that will not be a burden to the agricultural industry, by which alone the great resources of our Northwest will be developed, and its boundless acres peopled. The N. P. has not only not given us a home market, but has prevented the increase of population upon which a home market must be founded.

ANOTHER TUPPER PROMISE.

Sir Charles Tupper has always been an oratorical kite-flyer; has always indulged in impotent prophecies and impossible promises. In 1878 in one of his fervid flights of oratory in Cape Breton, Sir Charles waxed wroth over the tremendous extravagance of the Mackenzie government, as indicated by an annual expenditure of $23,504,158; and he pledged himself that if he and his party were returned to power, that they would govern the country efficiently for a million dollars less. In an evil day, the people took Sir Charles Tupper at his word, and returned him and his party to power. How his promise of decreased expenditure was broken, is shown by their record. Instead of the country being governed for a million dollars less, the annual expenditure has increased to nearly fifteen million dollars a year more at the present than in 1878, as shown by the following table of expenditures, year by year:

1877 78	$23,503,158
1878 79	24,455,981
1879 80	24,350,634
1880 81	25,502,554
1881 82	27,066,103
1882 83	28,730,158
1883 84	31,107,700
1884 85	35,037,066
1885 86	39,011,612
1886 87	35,657,080
1887 88	36,718,494
1888 89	36,917,884
1889 90	35,994,031
1890 91	36,343,567
1891 92	36,765,894
1892 93	36,874,052
1893 94	37,695,125
1894 95	38,132,005

THE Conservatives are right—tariff reform is dangerous. Here we have, as the Ottawa Journal suggests, a cyclone rushing across the border without paying duty. And if we had had a stiff tax on cyclones imported into Canada, this thing could not have happened.

OUR paternal high taxation government does not quite tax daylight, but it comes very close to it—it taxes lamp light. The tax on coal oil which ordinary persons entirely depend upon for artificial lighting is 90 to 95 per cent—6 cents per imperial gallon, or taking the difference in price between American oil and the difference between the wine and imperial gallon, the tax on American coal oil amounts to something like 150 per cent. The government boasts of having given a free breakfast table, which they haven't done by any means, but they make up by taxing the tea table to the tune of 150 per cent. on the light to eat by.

CONDOLENCE conferences are a new feature of the condition of the Conservative party. A day or so ago the Conservative leaders of the Ottawa district met in Ottawa, with Hon. Messrs. Haggart, Montague and Wood, and mingled tears on the unpromising prospects which the reports brought disclosed. And they had a similar condolence party in Belleville yesterday, and Messrs. Kendry and Stevenson were down to report on the prospects, and from what we know of the situation in East and West Peterborough, they were the carriers of cold comfort The great Conservative party—or rather the bosses and machine element—are in a condition of funk; they feel the greatest of all calamities, the reins of power and chances of office slipping from their hands, is in sight.

WE may at times rail a little at our good Conservative friends but they are not half bad fellows after all. They are uncommonly obliging. Down in New Brunswick at St. John's, Mr. Pugsley, who was the Conservative candidate in Kings, but not liking the look of things nor the policy of that party, resigned, and has very obligingly consented to be the Liberal candidate. In Gloucester county, Mr. Turgeon, who was formerly one of the ablest leaders of the Conservative party in that county, is the Liberal candidate. The Liberals are not prejudiced and have a welcome for every Conservative who, by honest conviction, turns from the error of his ways and espouses the true political faith and practice. The platform and policy of the Liberal party not only secure the solid support of the members of that party but attract honest men from the ranks of the Conservatives. It is worthy of remark that the Conservatives have experienced considerable trouble in getting candidates of their own party.

HAVELOCK.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Laing, of Peterborough, spent Sunday in town as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Laing.

Mr. C. H. Brewster spent a few days this week under the parental roof, at Centreton.

Mr. W. M. Eadie showed us a bunch containing about two dozen beautiful ripe strawberries, which he gathered along the railway track, yesterday, just west of the village.

Messrs. R. Phillips and A. Miell have leased, for a term of five years, a point on Trent River, known as Griffith's Point, where they will erect a couple of cottages 16 x 18. This is a pleasant spot, being directly opposite Gould's Park, and in close proximity to the bridge.

Is it not time a move was made in the direction of preparing for our 1st of July demonstration.

Mrs. J. B. Pearce, of Norwood, passed through town on Monday, on her way home from Belmont.

Mr. J. A. Gould has moved his household effects to Kingston where he has secured a position with his father-in-law, Mr. Lailey, broom manufacturer. Mr. Wm. Thorpe is moving into the house vacated by Mr. Fould.

Mr. C. H. Brewster was summoned to Brantford on Tuesday last to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law, wife of Mr. W. S. Brewster, B.A., barrister. He made the trip in one day, leaving here on the 4 a.m. train and returning on the midnight.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it gives rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active business man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and don't be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

Rolling an Umbrella.

Rolling an umbrella is an art that few understand. The right way is to take hold of the ends of the ribs and the stick with the same hand and hold them tightly together to prevent their twisting while the covering is being rolled around with the other hand. In this way an umbrella may be as tightly rolled as when it came from the factory. It is the twisting of the ribs out of shape around the stick that spoils the looks of the umbrella.

Valuable Charcoal.

If a cellar has a damp smell and cannot be thoroughly ventilated, pans of charcoal set on the floor, shelves or ledges will make the air pure and sweet. If a large basketful of charcoal be placed in a dadp cellar where milk is kept there will be no danger of its becoming tainted.

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience, he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline, no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

A SORROWFUL DAY.

visited by one of the most terrible and destructive tornadoes in the history of the country. As a result of its fearful work at least two hundred lives have been lost, while the number of maimed and wounded we are unable as yet to estimate, but it will probably run into thousands.

"The amount of damage to property is very great, and it is impossible at this time to ascertain, but it is safe to say that at least six hundred families are rendered homeless. A great number of these must depend upon charity for shelter. While the loss appears to fall upon the poorer classes of people almost every class of citizens has directly or indirectly suffered damage.

"While we regret exceedingly to call upon the country at large in this extremity, we feel utterly unable to supply the absolute necessities of these afflicted people, although our own citizens are putting forth every effort and are contributing as liberally, and, indeed, more liberally than their means allow.

"We therefore appeal to the generosity of our sister cities and other communities for help in this hour of trouble.

"We will be pleased to receive subscriptions and assistance in any form which may be deemed advisable.

"The Executive Committee has appointed Paul W. Ahl, president of the First National Bank of this city, treasurer, to whom all contributions can be sent."

Unsolicited, the work of relief in this city was begun at once by the whole people. A meeting of the citizens was held at noon, at the Merchants' Exchange. Within fifty minutes $14,000 was in the secretary's hands. Contributions continued after adjournment. It is not proposed to go outside the city for aid, though no offering will be refused. President C. H. Spencer, president of the Merchants' Exchange, was made chairman of the Committee on Distribution and set to work at once to place the relief money.

The roadway of the Eads bridge was cleared of wreckage at 11 o'clock tonight and a test engine and car passed over in safety.

DESOLATION AT ST. LOUIS.

A Minute Description of the Cyclone Stricken District.

St. Louis, May 28.—A district in this city bounded north by Choteau-avenue, west by Grand-avenue, south by the city limits and east to the river, is virtually a mass of ruins. Not an electric light has burned nor a car run in that section comprising 720 city blocks since 5.20 p.m.; within this territory scarcely a building has escaped injury, and thousands of them are in ruins. On surveying the desolate scene one marvels that the loss of life was not much greater.

Beginning at the western boundary of the section is the handsome and exclusive residence quarter known as Compton Hill, the home of the fourth generation of the early French settlers of St. Louis. This aristocratic section is strewn with debris. Just east lies Lafayette Park. There the trees, shrubbery, fountains and statuary that have been the pride of the city were caught by the wind, and the place is mowed bare as with a giant scythe.

Further east and south to the city limits were the homes of thrifty German-Americans, who have given a distinct character to the district. To-night thousands of them are homeless, many of them sharing the roofs of their hospitable and more fortunate neighbors. Interspersed in this latter section and east of the river are mills, breweries and numberless manufacturing concerns. These were fair targets for the storm, and they suffered severely.

There are 16 breweries within these boundaries, worth four millions, and, while none are destroyed, all are damaged.

After the storm had laid its heavy hand upon the southern half of the city, fire came to complete the work of destruction. Five columns of flames shot up, but, thanks to the deluge of rain, the blaze was mainly confined to its starting point. In three instances engines were unable to get nearer than a block from the fires.

The storm was most destructive in force when it crossed Seventh-street, from the east. The eddying currents of wind again and again returned to make that street a wilderness. At least 40 people were killed along this thoroughfare and the streets immediately adjacent. House after house was totally demolished.

WHY SUFFER WITH PILES?

Dr. Chase's Ointment Will Cure Them at a Cost of But 60 Cents.

Piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, salt rheum and all other annoying and painful skin diseases can be easily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"I had protruding piles for ten years," writes H. H. Sutherland, commercial traveller, of Truro, N.S.; "tried many remedies, and had doctors operate. It was no use. Was completely laid up at times. Chase's Ointment was recommended to me by Mr. Brennan, of the Summerside, P.E.I., Journal. I tried it, and one box completely cured me."

Mr. Statia, the editor of the Streetsville, Ont., Review, gives this unsolicited testimonial under date of Nov. 6, 1895: "Half a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured my daughter of eczema. That was six months ago, and there has since been no reappearance of the disease."

T. Wallace, blacksmith, of Iroquois, Ont., was troubled with blind itching piles for 20 years. "I tried every remedy that came out in vain," he writes, "until I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was a godsend. One box cured me."

All dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto. Price 60c.

Linseed and turpentine are every mother's household remedy for coughs, colds, throat and lung affections. Dr. Chase has disguised the taste and made the remedy pleasant to take. Large bottle only 25c.

SOLD BY J. D. TULLY.

Nally's saloon at South Seventh-street is a total wreck. When it fell it was full of men, who had taken refuge there, and from 15 to 20 were killed.

The force of the wind was so frightful along here that the iron trolley supporting poles of the Southwestern electric line are bent over on the ground. They did not break, but bent like copper wire. At the Vermont Marble Works, 1125 South Seventh-street, the wreck was complete. Harry Hess, a driver for the concern, was killed, being buried beneath tons of the great blocks of stone which were hurled about by the wind.

The saddest place on this frightfully desolated street was on the southwest corner of Rutger-street. Here stood the three-storey brick saloon and boarding house of Fred Mockenheimer. It was tenanted by 20 families, the full number of occupants reaching at least 80. When the storm struck the building it went up like a dry puff-ball, burying its inmates. No one knows how many dead its ruined brick and mortar walls conceal. Eleven persons have been taken out dead, and more than a dozen more or less injured.

Across the street, on the southwest corner the wreck was as bad, but the number of people in the building was not so large. Several dead bodies and a half-dozen wounded persons have been removed and others are thought to be there. In the same neighborhood many private dwellings were destroyed and their occupants either killed or maimed.

The track of the storm across the river was from southwest to northeast, leaving the Missouri short at the corner of the southern half of this city, and striking the Illinois shore in a path, whose northern edge was the Eads Bridge, and extending south three-fourths of a mile. Within this path were moored 25 steamers, large and small. The storm fell so suddenly that none of the vessels were prepared. Ten large passenger steamers, five ferry boats, two transfer boats, two tugboats and half a dozen small pleasure barges were driven to the opposite shore or sunk outright.

The steamer J. J. Odill was loosened from its moorings and blown against the second pier of the Eads Bridge, where it sank. Just before the boat struck, her boilers blew up. Nine of her crew of 12 besides three women passengers and Capt. George Townsend are reported missing.

Twenty employes in the Vandalia freight depot are missing and are believed to have been killed when the building fell. Many injured on both sides of the river are beyond hope of recovery.

The list of injured reported numbers 1500, and a great many were located at home and no report made. The school houses in East St. Louis serve as temporary hospitals, while on this side the Armoury does the same service. Every private hospital is crowded.

At Washington.

Washington, May 28.—The instruments of the weather bureau at the Capital disclosed an unusual and probably an unequalled record. In less than five minutes there was a drop of 31 degrees in the temperature and the wind maintained a velocity of 71 miles an hour. Before the awnings over the windows of the House document room could be secured in advance of the coming storm, the flapping texture broke the iron frames from their fastenings and these broke the windows, with the result that the rain flooded the room, doing considerable damage.

One Sad Story of Many.

Among the victims of the St. Louis catastrophe was a family named Hanson. The father, mother and two children were in the house at the time of the cyclone's fury. The house was lifted from the foundations and thrown down several yards away. Mrs. Hanson was killed, her husband, who is a stationary engineer, has received such serious injuries that his life is despaired of. The son, a youth of 16, and the daughter, aged 4, were taken out of the ruins dead. A nephew of Mr. Hanson is a messenger for the C.P.R. in Toronto, and a month ago was on a visit to his relatives in St. Louis.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

MRS. DYER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

The Second Effort of the Infant Killer Results Unsuccessfully.

London, May 28.—Mrs. Dyer made a second attempt at suicide in Newgate Jail yesterday.

While in bed, seemingly asleep, she twisted a handkerchief around her throat and almost succeeded in strangling herself.

She will be hanged on June 10.

The Trouble in Crete.

Athens, May 28.—The Greek Government has sent a circular note to the powers repudiating responsibility for happenings in Crete unless the Porte, which, it is added, has shown itself to be powerless to protect the inhabitants, restores autonomy to the island.

200 Matabeles Killed.

Buluwayo, May 28.—A portion of Capt. Napier's column, in a sharp brush with a force of 1900 Matabeles, in Siza district, has routed the latter, killing 200 of them and wounding many others. The troopers had two killed and three wounded.

The Time for Building

Up the system is at this season. The cold weather has made unusual drains upon the vital forces. The blood has become impoverished and impure, and all the functions of the body suffer in consequence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great builder, because it is the One True Blood Purifier and nerve tonic.

Hood's Pills become the favourite cathartic with all who use them. All druggists. 25 cents.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn. says, "Shiloh's Vitaliser "saved my life," I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excells. Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent 339 George street.

Rough Turkish Goods.

A rough wash stuff in white and ecru linen shades, that imitates Turkish toweling, is a new material for useful morning frocks for both the small and big fry. It is, indeed, called Turkish toweling, and, though it is commonly used alone, the white is sometimes combined effectively with colored duck.

Country House Bedspreads.

Among some pretty and fancy bedspreads made for a country house are several of cretonne to match the hanging of the rooms where they will be used. They are lined with cambric, though this is not necessary and have a deep frill all around.

It is a great mistake to suppose that a simple tonic gives strength; it only stimulates the stomach to renewed action. To impart real strength, the blood must be purified and enriched and this can only be done by such a standard alternative as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Coughs, colds, asthma, hoarseness, etc., yield at once to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, the successful throat and lung specific.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

HOW
THE SUN LIFE
FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,671 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1906 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

Nervous

People find just the help they so much need, in Hood's Sarsaparilla. It furnishes the desired strength by purifying, vitalizing and enriching the blood, and thus builds up the nerves, tones the stomach and regulates the whole system. Read this:

"I want to praise Hood's Sarsaparilla. My health run down, and I had the grip. After that, my heart and nervous system were badly affected, so that I could not do my own work. Our physician gave me some help, but did not cure. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Soon I could do all my own housework. I have taken

The circular which has been sent out by General Superintendent McGuigan states, "Important statistics are based upon this information."

Stealing Flowers.

Numerous complaints are being made just now about the stealing of flowers. It is a common occurrence for people who have flower beds about their premises, in which they take particular pride, to have them stripped of the blooms, and in many cases the plants injured and broken. If some of these miscreants could only be caught, and an example made of them, it would be a warning to others and, no doubt, result in good.

Took a Tumble.

Passers by on South Water street, at a certain hour this morning, were eye-witnesses of an incident which was more amusing than pathetic. A milk waggon was taking its course down the street, and a well-known young man, the formation of whose vocal organs enables him to articulate the word "hello," clearly and distinctly, followed closely in its wake. Desiring to pass the vehicle, the rider turned to one side, but at that moment the deiryman did the same, the result being that the wheelman struck the conveyance with such force as to precipitate him some feet into the air. On alighting, he sought a recumbent attitude, but was soon able to collect his thoughts.

A Lost Parasol.

It is commonly thought that gas or something of the same nature is required for aerial flight, but as an episode occurred at noon to-day which shows the fallacy of this opinion. A lady was crossing the bridge when a gust of wind caught up her parasol and was taking it steadily aloft when another current struck the sunshade causing it to become inverted, finally depositing it in the water.

We take pleasure in informing the public that we have completed arrangements by which we can supply our old brands of flour manufactured with every care to suit the requirements of our trade. We can guarantee the same satisfaction that our flours have always given, as we are having them made from our own blends of wheat and under our personal supervision. Orders will be taken as usual at our down town office, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. Telephone No. 113. MELDRUM & MCALLISTER, Millers.

Birds Eggs.

It has become the practice among the boys to make what they call a collection of birds eggs. To do this the nests of some of our most valued singing birds are destroyed, and those birds too that live on insects that are the pests of every gardner and farmer. Now, what we wish to call attention to is Chap. 232, R.S.O., inflicts a heavy penalty upon any person robbing birds nests. Section 4 of the act reads:—"It shall not be lawful to take, injure, destroy or have in possession any nest, young or eggs of any birds whatsoever, except of eagles, falcons, hawks, owls, wild pigeons, black birds, kingfishers, crows, jays, English sparrows and ravens." Anyone offending against the provisions of the act may be fined as high as $20, or imprisoned, the whole of the fine to be paid to the prosecutor. It would be well for those interested in the preservation of our beautiful singing birds to make an example of some of the offenders.

MR. RICHARD HALL'S SIXTH MEETING.

A FINE GATHERING AT THE GRANGE HALL.

Addresses on Public Questions—Messrs. Hall, G. M. Roger and Stratton Speak.

The sixth of Mr. Hall's campaign meetings was held last night at the Grange Hall, Smith. The cordial welcome given Mr. Hall in his native township indicates that he will receive a handsome support in this fine old stronghold. The electors know that this policy of high taxation has not made them rich, and they think the time is ripe for a change of government.

Mr. J. Fred Davidson occupied the chair.

Mr. F. D. Kerr was the first speaker. He dealt with the effects of the National Policy upon the interests of the farmers and showed how it utterly failed to redeem its promises of furnishing farmers a satisfactory home market, and made a comparison of prices of farm produce at the present time with the prices that prevailed under a revenue tariff.

Mr. G. M. Roger dealt generally with the policy of the Liberal party. In reference to the vexed school question, Mr. Roger said, that whatever differences of opinion might exist as to the desirability of separate schools to Manitoba, the only way to satisfactorily settle the matter, was to refer it to a commission to ingvestigate, as requested by Manitoba, and act upon the basis of the report of such a commission. If Mr. Laurier were returned to power, the speaker had no doubt that he would, in a very short time, settle the Manitoba difficulty to the satisfaction of all the parties concerned.

Mr. Hall, who was warmly received, referred generally to the questions now engaging public attention. He had, at a great sacrifice of personal inclinations, entered the field, because he hoped to be able to assist in in restoring good government and honest administration to the country which was so badly in need of both. He deplored the sectarian feeling that had been aroused by the government's course of duplicity and vacillation on the Manitoba School question, and was in favour of reaching the goal of justice in the matter by the methods of conciliation and investigation, proposed by Mr. Laurier.

Mr. Stratton concluded the meeting by a vigorous address on the public questions, dealing trenchantly with the government's record of misgovernment, and indicating how the Liberal policy of tariff reform and economical administration was the one that the country greatly required at the present time.

The meeting closed with the usual cheers.

MR. KENDRY'S SECOND CAMPAIGN MEETING.

A second of Mr. Kendry's campaign meetings, with a fair attendance, was held at Selwyn on Wednesday night.

Mr. Preston occupied the chair.

Mr. G. W. Hatton opened the speaking and stated, in reference to the great partiality shown by the Liberals for free trade, that the Conservatives believed in the principle of free trade, but advocated the policy of protection as best suited to the interests and conditions of the country.

Mr. Stone followed and showed the fallacy of Mr. Hatton's claim—that it was no new thing to be told that the principles and policy of the Conservatives do not agree. He pointed out that Mr. Kendry acted quite consistently with the doctrine. He had declared that in the last local election campaign he supported Mr. Carnegie's policy but did not approve of his principles and this position, Mr. Stone pointed out, was characteristic of his candidature throughout.

Mr. Kendry championed with all his might the high taxation policy, making the statement, to the surprise of the farmers, that if Mr. Laurier were returned to power he would take the duty off of wheat, and the country would be flooded with wheat rushed in from the Argentine Republic, and though an elector pointed out that the cost of freight would be about equal to the price of the wheat, Mr. Kendry stuck to his contention. He then proceeded to wobble as to the position he would take on the Remedial question, and instead of declaring, as he had done elsewhere, that he was in favour of coercion, he said he would be guided in this question by the requirements of the constitution.

Mr. Hampden Burnham closed the meeting with a graceful oration full of pretty, patriotic-sounding sentiments, but harmless from a political point of view.

MR. N. CLARKE WALLACE.

The Newly Endorsed Orange Grand Master to Speak in the Interests of Mr. Newman.

Mr. N. Clarke Wallace will speak in the Opera House, on the evening of Thursday, June 4th, in the interests of Mr. Newman, the third party candidate.

BATTALION NOTES.

Capt. Mason Tenders His Resignation as Adjutant.

It will be with genuine feelings of regret that the men and officers of the 57th will learn of the intention of Captain Mason resigning the adjutancy of the Rangers, as since being appointed to the position he has discharged his duties in the most faithful and painstaking manner. For some time the Adjutant has had a leaning towards the cavalry and now announces his intention of resigning his present post and attaching himself to the "boot and saddle" branch of the service. It is understood that the resignation will not take effect until the close of the summer drill.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Mrs. Charles McClelland the Recipient of a Handsome Gift.

The choir of the Charlotte street Methodist church prepared a most pleasant surprise for Mrs. Charles McClelland, last evening.

As the Sunday school room was being used for another purpose, Mrs. McClelland arranged for the choir to hold its practice at her residence, on Downie street, and as she has tendered her resignation as organist, the choir took advantage advantage of the favourable opportunity to present her with a handsome jardiniere and pedestal. The presentation was made by Mr. W. J. Squires, and the following address was read by Miss Florence Hall:—

PETERBOROUGH, May 28th, 1896.

To Mrs. Chas. McClelland,

DEAR FRIEND,—We, the members of the Charlotte street Methodist church choir, cannot allow you to sever the relations which have been sustained for the past few years, without expressing our high respect for you as our organist, and our admiration for you as a friend and associate. Our intercourse has always been most pleasant and agreeable, and we shall always remember your uniform genial kindness and helpfulness to us, for you not only have been efficient in your official position, but you have always proven to be an ever affable and cheerful associate and friend. We ask you to accept this jardiniere and pedestal, trusting that it may be a lasting link in the chain of happy memories.

Signed—

Mrs. George Hall,	Miss F. Hall,
Miss A. Stevens,	Miss M. Stevens,
Miss L. Deland,	Miss E. Sherlock,
Miss M. Headren,	Miss F. Robinson,
J. C. Miller,	A. L. Davis,
E. Squires,	W. J. Squires,
J. F. Steers,	G. Howey,
E. Parsons,	W. Brooks,
E. Hall,	Geo. Cockcroft.

The presentation was a genuine surprise as the members of the choir, although desirous of expressing their esteem for their organist, had not decided upon anything definite until the previous evening. After Mrs. McClelland had expressed her appreciation of the beautiful gift, and the thoughtfulness which prompted it, a very pleasant social evening was spent, during which refreshments were served.

Wonderful Strength of the Beetle.

A noted entomologist who had been writing on the wonderful feats of strength as exhibited in the beetle family, tells the following: I selected a common black water beetle, weighing four and two-tenths grains, and found that he was able to carry a load of shot in a small bag, the whole weighing eight and a fourth ounces, or exactly 858 times the weight of the bug. If a man weighing 150 pounds could carry as much accordingly he could shoulder a forty-five ton locomotive and then chain a train of cars together and take the whole lot across the country at a five mile an hour gait.

Hymeneal.

An event in which many friends took a deep interest occurred Wednesday evening, being the marriage of Mr. Wm. G. Chambers, of the G. T. R., and Miss Nellie Dolby, daughter of Wm. Dolby of Whitby. Rev. J. W. McMillan, B. A., pastor of St. Andrew's officiated. The fair bride, who was attired in a neat travelling costume, was attended by Miss Annie Seaton, of the post office, while the groom was supported by Albert Palen. The happy young couple left by the east-bound train on their honeymoon trip to Montreal and other points east, bearing with them the sincere good wishes of many friends for a long and happy married life.—Lindsay Post.

A Coming Treat.

The attraction offered at the opera house next Monday evening, June 1st, is Ed. F. Rush's famous "White Crook," a beautiful spectacular production equipped with special scenery and gorgeous costumes and all the cast and effects of the original production at the Broadway Theatre, New York, during the "White Crook's" long run there. The company is headed by the charming comedienne, Miss Helen Russell assisted by the clever fun makers, Turner, Colby and Mack, and a chorus of 20 handsome young ladies with well trained voices. The performance is strictly moral and chaste—with which the most fastidious cannot take offence. Prices, 50c, 35c and 25c. Plan at Ormond & Walsh's.

Commandant and Mrs. Booth's Work.

The issue of the War Cry of May 30th gives some interesting statistics of the work of Commandant Herbert Booth and his wife's four year's work in Canada. The have extended the operations of the Salvation Army from Bermuda to British Columbia and from the far north to the 45th parallel, comprising an area of 3,600,000 square miles. The work is looked after by 827 officers and cadets, 1,337 local officers and 307 bandsmen. In 1895 the Army raised by self-denial, $23,833.45; harvest festivals, $9,769.77; light brigade, $5,080.79. Commandant and Mrs. Booth will be transferred shortly to Australia, and they will be tendered a farewell at Toronto on June 6th to 12th inclusive.

A Railway to the North.

A few days ago we received a letter from Mr. T. D. Ledyard, of Toronto, who informs us that the first ten miles of "The Ontario, Belmont & Northern Railway," which is to run into the iron mine on lot 19 in the 1st concession of Belmont township, is likely to be undertaken and completed soon, and if this mine is worked successfully, others will follow it, and that part of the country will be opened up. Mr. Ledyard is the owner of large tracts of valuable mineral lands in Belmont and Methuen townships, and we are pleased to learn that he will soon realise largely from their development. This railway enterprise, we understand, is being pushed forward by a New York Company, representing a large amount of capital, and its extension into the township of Methuen may be considered at no distant day. Enclosed in Mr. Ledyard's letter to us is a map showing the gold mine on the east half of lot 19, and the iron mine on the west half. —Campbellford Herald.

DEATH OF A BELMONT BOY.

He is Drowned at the Sault Whilst Repairing a Tug.

A sad drowning accident occurred at Sault Ste. Marie a few days ago, the unfortunate victim of which was Mr. Alex. Boyd, second son of Mr. Ezekiel Boyd, of the township of Belmont. Mr. Boyd was engaged with some other men in making repairs to a tug at the docks, and it seems that one of the men, who was repairing the frame work at the gang plank, had tacked a board across the opening, and while absent for a minute or two Boyd came to the gang way to throw out a pail of water. In doing so he leaned against the board, which gave way and allowed him to fall headlong into the water between the boat and the dock. The current at this point in the river is very strong, and he was carried underneath the boat before assistance could reach him. The body was not recovered until some time afterwards. He was 33 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. His father attended the funeral, which took place at the Sault.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mr. John Drain, of Dummer Township.

Mr. John Drain, eldest son of the late David Drain, one of the earliest settlers of Dummer township, died at his residence, near Stony Lake, at one o'clock last Friday morning. He had been ill only a few days. Death was caused by pneumonia which developed from a cold contracted a short time ago. He was 53 years of age and leaves a wife and eight children, one brother and two sisters, viz., David Drain, Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. William Miles, all of whom reside in Dummer. The funeral took place on Saturday to the Warsaw cemetery. Rev. Mr. Robson officiated. Messrs. Thomas J. Drain, of Norwood, and Hugh Drain, of Dummer, nephews of the deceased, attended the funeral. The cortege was a very large one, some sixty vehicles being in the procession.

—Fishing poles of all kinds, fishing tackle, tennis balls and tennis racquets, lacrosse and baseball goods, cheapest place in town, at Salisbury's Bookstore. d

—We have heard of no large brook trout having been caught in this district this season. The big fish seem to keep under cover or the greater number of them took the hook last year.

—The dorynhora decemlineata has again come forth in all its full-fledged loveliness, ready to pack away lot of vegetable matter. If you don't believe it, just examine the potato stalks, and you may find six to a dozen in a hill.

—On the farm of Mr. William Stillman, in Seymour West, may be seen a ram that carries the extraordinary weight of 460 pounds. It is doubtful if a larger animal of the kind can be found in this country.—Campbellford Herald.

—Citizens are taking a greater interest that ever in their lawns this season, and a walk along many of our streets, where the eye meets the pleasant sight of green vegetation on every side is very refreshing. There are still many places, however, that could stand various improvements.

—The remarkable earliness of the growing season has created some surprise among our farmers, some of whom say that they do not remember vegetation being so advanced on the last of May in forty or fifty years. The stage of growth is placed at from one to three weeks in advance of the average season.

DOWN AT JUBILEE.

Preparations for the Inauguration of a Season of Sport.

The steamer North Star left port at noon to-day carrying quite a number of passengers. The freight was principally composed of sporting goods, such as six of the celebrated Jonathan Stevenson skiffs, which Commodore Calcutt has had built for tourists visiting his far-famed summer resort, Jubilee Point, Rice Lake. The Commodore has also forwarded poles for the football club, as well as bases for those participating in games of baseball. Iron pegs have also been furnished for competitors in the quoit field. Mr. Calcutt's intention is to have the Jubilee ball grounds going this season and he has added silver cups for quoit pitching, lacrosse matches, sprinting races, tossing the hammer and other athletic sports. Many entries have been filed by Manager Neil of the sporting committee for the Farmers' Institute annual picnic, where the clubs which met on the Queen's Birthday will have an opportunity of again coming together. He has already been communicated with and no doubt on the 11th of June there will be a monster gathering on the Point to witness the sports on that date.

"THE ROB ROY."

Its new Owner Takes it Down the River to Hastings.

(Norwood Register.)

Mr. H. G. Buck, of this village, on Monday of last week purchased from Mr. Roy, of Peterborough, his fast running pleasure yacht, the "Rob Roy." She is a very neat little craft, thirty-two feet long, with seven foot beam, steam power, 4x4 engine and draws about thirty inches of water, when loaded. She obeys her helm perfectly and is capable of making ten miles an hour. The cabin, which is enclosed, is nicely upholstered and has seating room for about twenty people. On invitation of the genial proprietor, Mr. Buck, Messrs. W. C. Harrison, C. W. Waters, Harry E. Bruce, J. G. Keefer and W. Carberry accompanied him on the trip from Peterborough to her home port at Hastings, which was made on Friday last.

On arriving at Peterborough on the "Local," Captain Buck and Engineer Carberry proceeded to the dock and secured a supply of fuel, while the guests secured a liberal supply of buns, cakes, bananas, apples, lemonade, canned goods, pickles and a cork screw. Everything in readiness the "Rob Roy" steamed out into Little Lake, with Mr. Roy and a friend on board. In about half an hour, our Peterborough friends landed and we bade farewell to the town at 10.40 a. m. At 1.30 we steamed up to the wharf at Jubilee Point, where we relieved our baskets of a large portion of their contents and after enjoying an hour at this beautiful resort, made a very fast run down the lake to Hiawatha, over to Harwood and down to Idyl Wyld, where we spent another hour sight-seeing. Leaving at 4.30 we made the trip to Hastings, 18 miles, in two hours and fifteen minutes. The "Rob Roy" safely moored to Mr. Fowld's wharf, we entered a carriage, provided by our genial host, and were driven home.

The distance between Peterborough and Hastings, about 50 miles by the route taken, was covered in about five and a half hours, which is a fast run for a small vessel.

Although there was a heavy sea rolling on Rice Lake and the skiff which she had in tow was swamped twice, the Rob Roy cut the waves without any trouble, and even in the trough of the sea those on board were able to keep down their dinner. We are grateful to Captain Buck for the kind invitation and his generous hospitality and hope that he may be spared to spend many pleasant seasons at the helm of his trim little craft.

NOT A QUESTION OF CHOICE, BUT A QUESTION OF MUST!

The public understand our position. To retire from Business we MUST dispose of our stock. We would rather sacrifice every dollar's worth than delay the object we have in view.

We MUST either sell out at cost by retail or close out en bloc to one purchaser. Rain or shine, the goods MUST go.

During the past three weeks of this sale we have cleared out great quantities of beautiful Dry Goods and Millinery, but

Sales Must be Increased

for the next three weeks. It is true we are offering an exceptionally fine class of Goods, in which the styles are the newest in vogue. It is true we are giving higher advantages than those struggling to remain in business by reducing prices on a few lines of "old shop-keepers"—but

Prices Must go Still Lower

And sales loaded down with greater goodness. Nothing will be offered at regular prices—nothing will be offered that we cannot sincerely recommend. There are so many rare values we can't quote prices. Of course, we don't have to meet prices—we make them, and let others do the meeting, if they can.

LAKEFIELD PICNIC NOTES.

Handsome Receipts—Acknowledgment of Appreciated Assistance.

That the Lakefield picnic on May 25th, in aid of St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, was a decided success, is evidenced by the handsome receipts, which amounted to over $300.

Many were prevented from being present owing to inclemency of the weather and business engagements, but many of these made up for their absence by liberal contributions.

The Catholics of Lakefield have every reason to feel grateful to their many friends in Young's Point, Selwyn and Peterborough, for the active part they took in making the picnic a success. Among those from Peterborough who ably assisted were Misses Gertie Sullivan, Gertie McFadden, Josie Storts, Gracie Ball and Irene Doris. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick on behalf of the parishioners of Lakefield, wishes to cordially thank all who in any way contributed to the gratifying success of the picnic.

WILL BE OPEN EACH EVENING THIS WEEK.

All Workers and Supporters are urged to be present.

ADAM HALL, Chairman.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no stomach or bowel trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They work as if their bodies were made of iron and their brains of steel. They eat as if they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles; health goes and strength goes. It is really wonderful how much abuse the human body will stand! It is equally wonderful how quickly it will recover from abuse if one helps in a rational, natural way.

It was to give just such help that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets were prepared. They are for constipation and torpid liver, and in curing those derangements—cure many complications and resultant diseases, such as sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. They are mild in action — merely supplementing nature. They are the result of years of study and experience, and there is nothing else like them—nothing so effective. If your druggist tries to sell you something else he is either ignorant or makes more money out of the other thing.

ONE GAME IN THE EASTERN.

And Toronto Lost to Providence by 3 to 1 —How it Might Have Been Worse.

Toronto, May 28.

There was only one game in the Eastern League yesterday. Rain caused postponements at Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse. Toronto was the only loser, Providence capturing the contest over the Don by 3 to 1. Still, the result might have been worse, as it was the intention Tuesday night to play two games yesterday in Toronto. The Canadian hired by Providence did better batting than any of the other artists, and his two-base hit sent home the winning run. Knight also scored an extra tally that the Rhode Islanders did not need. Score:

Earned runs—Toronto 1. Left on bases—Toronto 5, Providence 3. First base on balls—Off Dunn 2, off Rudderham 1. Struck out—By Dunn 3, by Rudderham 2. Two-base hit—Knight. Stolen bases—Lyons, Murray, Delehanty 2, Dowse. Double plays—Canavan to Cooney to Dranby. Hit by pitcher—by Dunn 1, by Rudderham 1. Umpire—Swartwood. Time of game—1.55. Attendance—400.

HAMILTON GOOSE-EGGS GUELPH.

Hamilton, May 27.—The Hamilton Baseball team redeemed itself this afternoon at Dundurn in its game with Guelph, scoring 7 runs, and shutting the Maple Leafs out. Moore twirled the sphere, did good work and was well supported, there being few errors recorded to the home players. The Hams punched Carney all over the field, and the Maple Leafs lost heart and never regained it when their opponents scored three runs in the first innings. Score:

Hamilton	3 0 0 0 3 0 1 0 *—7

TORTUES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, Arkwright, Ont., says: I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed, and could neither sleep nor rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle, and after taking about the half of it I found myself recovering, and after continuing it for some time I recovered, but when the cold weather set in this winter I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared, and I consider that I am entirely cured.

Peaceful Resolutions in the Transvaal Assembly.

HOPE FOR COMPLETE TRANQUILITY

A Thorough Investigation to be Made—The Czar Holds a Reception—Prince of Wales Opens a Military Tournament at Islington—Other Items.

Cape Town, May 28.—The House of Assembly to-day, by a vote of 60 to 11, rejected the motion of Mr. Merriman declaring that the exercise of sovereign rights by a trading and financial company is not consistent with the peace and prosperity of South Africa, and urging that an address be forwarded to Queen Victoria requesting her to take the matter into her consideration with a view to the revocation or alteration of the terms of the charter of the British South Africa Company, and to make such provisions for the government of the territories under the control of that company as may be advisable. The House, without a division being taken, adopted a motion, offered by Mr. Schreiner, declaring that the House condemned the invasion of the Transvaal, trusted that the British Government would set on foot a searching enquiry into the origin and carrying out of the raid, promised assistance to the enquiry, recognized the steps already taken, trusted that Her Majesty's Government would take further measures by administration of the territories or otherwise to prevent a repetition of the British South Africa Company's inroad, and felt assured that by proceeding in a spirit of mutual conciliation and forbearance, complete tranquility would be restored, and further discord, so fatal to the peace of South Africa, would be prevented.

THE CZAR'S RECEPTION.

He Receives the Diplomatic Representatives Represented at the Coronation —Many Official Gifts.

Moscow, May 28.—At 11.30 a.m. today the Emperor and Empress received in the hall of St. Andrew in the Palace of the Kremlin the congratulations of the foreign diplomatic body, the special envoys of the various countries sent to Moscow to represent their respective governments at the coronation, the military and naval suites of the princes and grand dukes, the civil officials, delegates representing the Cossack troops, deputations of Russian peasant and the Asiatic tribes, and representatives of non-Christian religions. The weather, as it has been for the past few days, was perfect and the streets were crowded, as upon the former ceremonial occasions, with people eager to see the foreign dignitaries and others on their way to and from the Palace. The costumes of many of the Cossack representatives and deputations from remote regions of Siberia, from Turkestan and from the various provinces along the Mongolian frontier were most peculiar and their faces varied as much as their costumes. Some wore immense woolen hats, which they kept on their heads, while others carried their insignia of office in their hands and marched in stately procession. These representatives from the Asiatic tribes bore presents of Oriental workmanship and sometimes presented coins.

Many more gifts than were presented at this reception have been received by the Czar, including very valuable offerings from the Shah of Persia and hundreds of costly gifts from the south of Russia. The nobles of Saratov, for instance, gave a magnificant silver tray with the emblems of agriculture chased round it. In the centre is a boyard in ancient costume, with a sword and plow in relief. The Imperial arms are in diamonds. The salt cellar which accompanies this tray is shaped like an ear of corn.

The Cossacks of Terek also gave a large tray of enamelled silver, decorated with all the arms and armor of the Cossacks. The Imperial arms are in the centre. The salt cellar represents a Cossack cap. The inhabitants of the European Caucauses brought one more large tray, with the portraits of the present and late sovereigns on it.

From Siberia and the city of Omak came statues of the saints, Nicholas and Alexandra, in enamelled silver. Trays, salt cellars and sacred images were received by hundreds. All these gifts but augment the famous Imperial treasury in the Kremlin.

The Czar has sent a cordial telegram to President Faure in reply to the latter's congratulations upon the occasion of the Czar's coronation. He says: "You may be sure that the lively sympathies of France are especially agreeable to me. I feel she is one with us in these solemn moments."

Fire broke out last evening in the tower of the Kremlin, but the flames were speedily subdued.

GREAT MILITARY TOURNAMENT

Opened at Islington Yesterday by H.R.H. Prince of Wales.

London, May 28.—The Prince of Wales formally opened the military tournament at Islington to-day in the presence of immense crowds of visitors. The weather was beautiful. The tournament for the first time includes representatives of the navy among its participants, and also comprises a new feature, in a pageant of the Sons of the Empire, composed of four representatives, each from 86 different classes or kinds of British soldiers, selected from every part of the Empire. The pageant was wildly applauded.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is Much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 25.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely, Dodds Kidney Pills, is obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

Mrs. P., says: "My daughter was pale and weakly for two years; she took Miller's Compound Iron Pills for one month and is now well and strong." 50 doses for 25c. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by John Nugent, 239 George Street.

The carpenters' ways are plane,
The grocer works on the green-goods plan,
The glazier works with pane.

The pickpocket has a taking way,
The policeman's on the beat,
The musician's work is always play,
And the doctor's plan is treat.

The cobbler works in a half-soled way,
The pawnbroker works on time,
The weather-man's work is vane and gay,
And the bootblack works to shine.

A Berlin Cab.

A cab shaped like a bath tub, in which the passengers either sit or recline as if in a bed, is in use in Berlin. It has three wheels, and is propelled by a naphtha motor.

Food, when it sours the stomach, becomes innutritive and unwholesome. It poisons the blood and both mind and body suffer in consequence. What is needed to restore perfect digestion is a dose or two of Ayer's Pills. They never fail to relieve.

YOUR "BAD BACK" RE-BACKED.

HOW IT IS DONE!

The pertinent question of the day is—Does your back ache? Is it lame?

Thousands suffer from what they commonly term "Bad back." When they walk or when they work, when they lie down or rise up, wherever they may be or whatever they may do, the old aching, paining, "lame back" worries and wearies and wears them out.

Few people understand the real cause of their aches, and fewer yet know how easily they can be cured.

Just a word of explanation.

The back is the key-note of the kidneys. When it aches that's a sign that the kidneys are not acting properly. When it is "lame," that indicates that the kidneys are clogged up.

Then all the poisonous products that it is the kidneys special duty to eliminate from the blood, are carried in the blood current to every organ and tissue of the body, bringing on many a kidney trouble which if neglected means disease.

Will you heed the timely warning the back gives you? Will you strike the enemy while you can strike hard? Doan's Kidney Pills are the little enemies of kidney disorders. They strike with no uncertain hand Old backs and young backs are being "re-backed" and freed from never-ceasing pain and many a lame and shattered one, stooped and contracted, is strengthened and invigorated by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ALWAYS CURE

AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 29TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. AN ELECTRICAL HOME

RUGS AND CARPETS THAT GIVE OUT GRATEFUL WARMTH.

The Touch-Button Household of the Future. It Will be Without Stoves or Heaters, but There Will Be Connecting Wires to Supply Every Need.

There's a good day coming for the housekeeper—a day when there will be no cellar heater nor kitchen fire to make, no vexation at delayed coal delivery, and when kitchen work will be such a delightful occupation that it will be regarded as a pastime and it will not in the least disturb madam should the kitchen maid leave without warning. This will be done by electricity. The electric household will be a model establishment, but it is not a dream. It is an assured fact. Indeed, the various devices have been made and patented, and their practibility has been tested. The only thing needed is a cheaper method of generation. This is only a question of time. In a modern house equipped with only a very small number of these electric devices, the use of coal and gas is altogether obviated, and the house is heated and lighted and the cooking done by means of the mysterious electric fluid. In this house you see no apparent heating means and yet there is a diffused warmth evenly distributed throughout all the rooms. This heat is produced by the heavy electric carpets and rugs with which the rooms and halls are provided. Each of these carpets is made of ordinary material, but is provided upon its under side with two loose layers of asbestos. A composition composed of powdered clay and plumbago is applied between the two layers to which wires of an electric circuit are connected, are embedded in the composition at opposite ends of the carpet. The electric current in passing through the plumbago in the composition is resisted by the clay and a gentle heat is thus generated over the entire area of the carpet, heating all parts of the room equally. Each carpet is connected to an independent circuit so that the rooms may be heated to different temperatures.

In the kitchen, electricity reigns supreme. Hot water is supplied for the whole house by a tubular electric boiler. Each water tube of this boiler is wound with wire resistance coils, and when the current is passed through the coils by the turning of a switch the water very soon begins to boil because of the heat generated by the resistance to the electric fluid. Along one side of the room is arranged a polished wood bench, upon which the electric cooking stove and electirc pots and pans are placed. Above this bench is arranged a smoke trap provided with an electric fan for creating a suction to draw all the smoke from the room and discharge it into the chimney.

The electric stove is heated by a plate of separated resistance bars. This plate can be raised or lowered in the stove to or from the cooking article to give a greater or less amount of heat. The top of the stove is provided with a window and an incandescent light illuminates the interior so that th cooking article is n plain view at all times. The stove is stated and stopped by the simple turning of a switch. The degree of heat in the oven is regulated in the same manner as in the electric carpet.

Next to the stove stands an electric broiler. This is composed of two hinged frames provided with hollow-spaced bars and a pan beneath the same to catch the drip. Electric resistance wires are passed through the hollow bars and connected to an electric circuit. When the current is turned through this device the bars become heated and thoroughly broil the meat between them. The electric frying pans, coffee pots, tea pots, gridirons and like utensils cover the remainder of the bench, an dare each heated separately by electric resistance coils applied on their under sides. These articles are all detachably connected to the circuit wires that pass along to the rear of the bench so that they may be disconnected and carried about. There is no smut or dirt about any of the devices or any part of the kitchen, for the obvious reason that there is no fire or coal to create the same.

In one corner of the kitchen stands the electric dishwasher. Rotatable shelves are mounted in this washer and are adapted to receive the dishes. Flexible stationary wipers are arranged over the shelves to wash the dishes as they are carried about by the rotating shelves. The shelves are rotated by a small electric motor, and hot water is supplied from the electric boiler.

The laundry is a counterpart of the kitchen in neatness and cleanliness. Along one side are arranged the washing tubs provided with rotatable beaters or agitators operated by a small electric motor. The tubs are supplied with hot water from the electric boiler in the kitchen. The ironing is done by electrically heated sad-irons.

The house is lighted throughout by incandescent electric lamps. All the sweeping throughout the house is done by electrically operated sweepers.

In the bath rooms above are arranged electric baths, each consisting of a suitable, smooth, non-conducting base portion in which the body of the bather sinks. Upon this base is laid a flexible sheet made of soft, pliable woven wire. This sheet forms one of the conductors of an electric circuit. The other conductor comprises a similar sheet and is laid loosely over the first. When the bather places himself between the two sheets the current passes through every portion of his body touched by the same, and his blood is sent bounding through his veins in a very refreshing manner by the peculiar action of the electric fluid.

In the bed-rooms electrically heated mattresses are used on all the beds. The blankets are also heated in the same manner by electric resistances. All the towels are also heated to a gentle warmth by flexible resistance wires embedded in them and flexibly connected to the electric circuit. The combs and brushes are also electrical and are each provided with their own batteries for generating the current.

If the baby complains during the night it is only necessary to put him in the electric cradle, which is operated by a small electric motor. The movement of the cradle by the motor also operates a fan, so that on hot summer nights baby can be rocked to sleep and fanned at the same time without inconvenience to any one.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion, because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

NIGHT AND DAY.

"Night and Day" for May emphasises strongly the needs of "Dr. Barnardo's wonderful Homes for Waif Children," in the interest of which the magazine is issued. Five thousand "other people's children,"—all orphans, or of the waif and stray class—are now under the Editor's care, and the tidal flow of new admissions is at the rate of eight or nine fresh cases of destitute boys or girls every day that passes. As the work has stood the test of thirty years the public may well feel that their confidence is justified in this great social agency for the reclamation of the friendless and forlorn, which has already rescued, trained, and placed out in life thirty thousand outcast children. The contents of this issue of "Night and Day" include the usual interesting quota of "Personal Notes," with numerous illustrations from photographs. Dr. Barnardo pleads strongly for the observance of the principle of Proportionate Giving, to which he lends the sanction of his individual experience. We observe that the Thirtieth Annual Meeting of "Dr. Barnardo's Homes" is fixed for the 24th June next, in the Royal Albert Hall, when the Duke of Sutherland will preside, and the Prince and Princess of Wales will be among the visitors. We understand that the display of child-life and the process of child-training to be seen on that occasion will be of an altogether unique and unprecedented character.

COLDSPRINGS—OTONABEE.

Anniversary Sunday School Service and Tea.

On Sunday, May 31st, the Coldsprings Union Sunday school will celebrate their 8th anniversary. Mr. E. A. Stanley will be present and address the school.

On Monday evening, June 1st, there will be a tea meeting and entertainment. Tea will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock, after which a choice programme, consisting of short addresses, music, recitations, etc., will be given. The Rev. H. Symonds, Mr. E. A. Stanley, Mr. M. W. Matchett and others are expected to be present, Mr. Mulligan has been secured to take charge of the musical part of the programme, and a very enjoyable evening is promised to all who may attend.

A NEW LIGHT.

Edison and Tesla will Astonish the World.

It looks as if the well known electric light will soon be supplanted by another and an improved light, as much its superior in brilliancy as it was superior to the old gas light. It is well known that the present electric light gives forth only 3 per cent in light, the remaining 97 per cent. giving out heat. The new light will generate very little heat, so will be much more brilliant.

The Electrical Review in its last issue announced by authority that Nikola Tesla had perfected his vacuum tube system of electric lighting without wires, the possibilities of which he first brought to notice about five years ago in a lecture before the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. This light is whiter, more brilliant and more intense than the arc light, and is produced with a much smaller amount of electrical energy.

Working on different lines Thomas A. Edison has, according to the Electrical Review, succeeded in developing a new kind of electric lamp or vacuum tube, by means of which the Roentgen X rays are turned into pure white light. Edison's new lamp is an ordinary Crooke's tube, coated on the interior surface with crystals of a new fluorescing substance which he has discovered, similar to tungstate of calcium. The X rays, in passing through this coating of crystals, are changed to light. Very little heat is generated and nearly the whole of the electrical energy expended is transformed into light.

The new lamp is used in place of the Crookes tube with the ordinary X rays apparatus. Mr. Edison believes that there are great possibilities in his discovery, and he is now at work getting his apparatus into commercial form. He expects that before long he will so develop it that it may be used with high economy on an ordinary incandescent circuit. The Electrical Review says editorially:

"We cannot hesitate to express our positive conviction that the introduction of a more perfect illuminant is near at hand.'

THE WHEEL.

The Buffalo Express speaks as follows concerning McDonell's recent ride against time in that city:—McDonell took a rub down before donning his racing costume and, as it was decided to take a flying start, went back a couple of blocks. He came tearing down the street at a terrifying pace and as he caught the tape the watches snapped at 4.30:10. The ride had begun.

In a minute Mac was a speck on the horizon; another minute and he had passed out of sight. Few men have ridden a bicycle as he did in those first five minutes, for few men can ride as he can and it is seldom that a rider has a chance at a wind such as howled along the course yesterday. Even the timers at the five mile post were astonished, when they compared their watches with those of the men at the start, to find that McDonell had consumed but 8 minutes and 21 seconds in that ride. The five-mile record was his by nearly three minutes, and as the wind held good and the rider tore along, it was known that, barring accident, three other marks were his beyond doubt.

And so it proved. McDonell's time at the five-mile post was just 21 minutes and 25 seconds.

The pace so far had been terrific. For the five miles it averaged 1:40 1-5; for the 10, 2.08 1-5. From the 10 mile post the pace decreased. Bad roads were encountered and the strain must have told somewhat on the rider. Still the record was McDonell's by a wide margin, when the timers took his passing time as 5.04:42 at the 15-mile post.

McDonell arrived at the end of his 20 mile journey at 5.16:?1. The time for the 20 miles was 46.01, and the four records were the rider's. The course ended about two miles this side of Corfu.

McDonell now holds the following national road records:

Five miles—8:21.
Ten miles—21:23.
Fifteen miles—34:32.
Twenty miles—46.01.
Twenty-five miles—51:55.
Fifty miles—2.02:19.
One hundred miles—4 40:03.

Tandem riding is becoming more popular every day. Two years ago it was a rare sight to see the double seated machine, but that time is past. Manufacturers are experiencing some difficulty in supplying the market, for most of the makers are behind orders, and could turn their attention to building tandems until well into the month of May. The tandem has become popular for the reason that in propelling it the exertion is much less than in pedalling alone on the single wheel. Tandems are companionable and embody numerous other good qualities. The day is not far distant when a three-seated bicycle will be almost as common as the tandem, and no doubt a bicycle will be built to accommodate a whole family.

ANGLING.

Mr. H. F. Ketcheson, mail clerk, had had nice sport amongst the brook trout yesterday. From a small creek in Peterborough county he took ninety-two fish in three hours' fishing.

The other day Messrs. W. A. Sanderson and B. Shortly caught forty of the little beauties up near Manvers, and later on Messrs. Wm. Thompson and Fred Dixon, of the Sun Life office, caught about seventy in the same stream.

THE TURF.

May 26.—Philip J. Dwyer quietly announced to his friends last night that he would like to bet $50,000 that his colt, Handspring, would beat August Belmont's Hastings in the Belmont Stakes at Morris Park, June 2nd. Mr. Dwyer also announced that he was willing to match his colt against Hastings for $50,000 or against any horse in the United States, weight for age, over any distance that a three-year-old could fairly be asked to go. Mr. Dwyer's offer is the result of the great rivalry between the followers of Handspring and of Hastings in the Withers. When the two horses met at least $200,000 was bet on the result of the race. Only a few inches separated the contestants, and Handspring won, Hastings' men claimed, because of a series of mishaps to their favourite.

CLYDESDALE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The rain which fell on Monday was very much needed in this part of the country and its effect can be seen already with the crops. If the weather continues as favourable as it has been so far, the farmers expect to have a very good year.

All the early spring crops have been put in and the farmers are now busy with their sheep. A good many have finished shearing, and the markets will soon be flooded with wool.

Mr. James Cleary has a record in lambs which he thinks will be very hard to beat. Out of a total flock of sixteen ewes he has the remarkably high number of twenty lambs.

Poor Apsley had a very bad day for its picnic. It rained heavily at intervals during the whole day, and we are afraid that the young people who went down from here must have got a little wet. There was a baseball match between Apsley and Clydesdale, but as our boys were entirely without practice, they were badly defeated.

On account of sheep shearing and potato planting the attendance at the school has been very low for the last few days. An average of about 27 for the month had been reached, but this week will make it considerably lower.

Frank Hogan, Mart. Hobbins and Hugh Cleary left on Monday to work on the drive. When a few more of our young men go, there will not be much life left around Clydesdale.

Mr. David Fitzsimmons of Pittsburg is spending a few weeks here with his brother John.

Our cheesemaker, Mr. James Hogan, is opening some people's eyes around here. In former years some of the patrons used to take away all the whey they wanted, leaving others without any. Now every man gets just three pailsful for every one hundred pounds of milk he sends to the factory, and any person found taking more than his due will be fined.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinching touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

THE POLITICAL FIGHT

Hon. G. W. Ross and Party at Owen Sound.

MR. WILLISON ONE OF THE SPEAKERS

Mr. Laurier Very Much in Demand—Wanted in Every Part of the Province—The Two-Faced Mail Further Shown Up—Campaign Notes.

Owen Sound, Ont., May 29.—The Liberals of North Grey held a mass-meeting here to-night in the Town Hall, which was very largely attended. Quite a number of ladies were present and prominent Reformers of the town and vicinity occupied places on the platform. The meeting was opened by J. M. Kilbourne, chairman, who introduced the speakers of the evening. James Clark, the Liberal candidate, was the first speaker, followed by J. S. Willison of The Globe, Toronto; James Clelland, M.L.A. for North Grey, and the Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, each of whom addressed the audience on the various political questions of the day.

MR. LURIER IN DEMAND.

He Can't Go Everywhere, But Has a Good Corps of Able Assistants.

If Hon. Mr. Laurier could divide himself into several sections he would scarcely be able to meet the demands for his presence at political meetings in Ontario. He can only devote about ten days to this province, and many ridings which desire his presence will be disappointed. Seldom has a political leader been more highly respected, and the more he is known the greater is the confidence felt in his ability and honesty. It is to be regretted that he cannot appear in a larger number of places, but as his speeches will be very fully reported, it is to be hoped they will be extensively read, in view of the important interests involved in the coming election.

Mr. Paterson, the coming Minister of Trade and Commerce; Hon. George W. Ross, Hon. John Dryden, Sir Richard Cartwright and other well-known and able speakers, will fill engagements at a number of places which Mr. Laurier cannot visit.

Mr. E. B. Osler, one of the machine candidates for West Toronto, is going to England, leaving Ned Clarke to fight the battle alone in West Toronto. This does not mean that Mr. Osler is by any means sure of election. West Toronto will very probably be represented in the next Parliament by a member on each side.

East York is being thoroughly canvassed on behalf of Mr. Frankland, and every precaution has been taken to prevent personation, which prevailed so freely at the last election. Those who resort to this plan are likely to regret it.

THE CHANGE-ABOUT MAIL.

Mail, 2nd August, 1892: "Let there be no mistake about the judgment of the Judicial Committee in the Manitoba school case or about the consequences of that judgment upon the educational policy of the Western Province. The French, denying the right of the Manitobans to legislate with freedom upon the school question, declared that they would appeal to Caesar. They have made their appeal; they have received their answer; and they shall now abide by the result. It is idle to talk of a reversal, through the intervention of the Dominion Parliament, of the interpretation the highest court has set upon the charter of the province as inscribed on the statute book. The English-speaking people are long-suffering and tolerant. But our French-Canadian friends may as well understand at once that good nature has its limit and that in the case of British Canada the limit will be far exceeded when the attempt is made to subvert the constitution and to override the will of a province for the sake of a race or a church. The tribunal of last resort has pronounced Manitoba free; and free that province shall be if the English population has any voice in this country.

"Upon no possible grounds can the solicited interference of the Dominion Government and Parliament in the local educational affairs of the Manitobans be defended."

But The Mail now advocates interference.

"A GROSS INEQUALITY."

Mail, 16th April, 1890: "The campaign against Separate schools in Ontario and Manitoba is simply an attempt on the part of those politicians who are dependent upon the Roman Catholic Church for votes or for office to remove a gross inequality. Why should the Catholic Church and she alone be allowed to propagate here religious doctrines in the schools at the expense of the general ratepayer? And what difference in principle is there between granting Government aid for the propagation of a certain form of religious belief in the schools and granting it for the propagation of the same form of belief from a pulpit? * * * * What has the Roman Catholic Church ever done for public education here or elsewhere, that the State should contribute to schools over which such ecclesiastics as Dr. Cleary of Kingston are to have absolute control, according to their own new pretensions?"

If Separate schools were an evil in 1890, wherefore does The Mail seek to force them upon Manitoba in 1896?

ABOLISH THEM "ROOT AND BRANCH."

Mail, 24th May, 1890: "We are finally persuaded that the only safe course for the country is to obtain such constitutional reforms as shall enable it to abolish the Separate school system root and branch, and to introduce the sane and wholesome principles which have helped in no small measure to make the neighboring republic what it is."

If it was desirable to abolish Separate schools root and branch in 1890, why should they be forced upon an unwilling province in 1896?

A BARRIER TO EDUCATION.

Mail, 29th November, 1888: "The settlers in the Northwest Territories are deep in the dicussion of the Separate school system. Separate schools and the dual language system are part and parcel of the organic law of the Territories. The official use of two languages involves a considerable waste of money and serves also to keep the two races apart. The Separate schools are even more harmful. * * * In addition it is a direct barrier to the progress of education."

Yet the Mail is now busy advocating what it declares a barrier to education.

DARKEST QUEBEC.

Mail, 12th February, 1890: "Quebec is the darkest spot on the intellectual map of North America."

The Mail's opinion of the Province of Quebec as expressed above will doubtless change if it supports the Tupper faction in the coming election.

Elections June 23rd.

OUR CANDIDATES; FOR

West Peterborough.....RICHARD HALL
East Peterborough.....JOHN LANG

"Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver make a strong team, and the adhesion of the latter to the following of the picturesque and high-minded Liberal leader will greatly strengthen his position before the country. Presbyterians who pronounce the Grit shibboleth, as well as thousands who fight under other flags, will rejoice at Sir Oliver's decision, for they believe that the leadership of two such men would mean wise laws, the cessation of sectarian strife, economy in national expenditure, a death blow to corruption, and the general elevation of the conduct of public affairs and public morals. Sir Oliver's record in Ontario for more than 23 years is one that the Province and people are justly proud of, and well-wishers of Canada will gladly see him take office in the larger sphere if like happy results but follow."—Canada Presbyterian.

GROSS NEGLIGENCE.

That Bridge in Victoria Had Been Thrice Condemned.

Victoria, B.C., May 29.—This city is still in a dazed condition as the result of the bridge disaster. All day yesterday divers were at work. The car that fell from the bridge was pulled out on the bank, but it is believed there are still a number of bodies entangled in the wreckage of the bridge itself. Fifty three bodies have been taken from the wreck, and it is known that at least three more are yet to be recovered.

The bridge had on three separate occasions been pronounced unsafe, and had been condemned. It was built for wagon traffic, and its strength was only one-fourth what it would have been had it been intended for railroad use. The car that caused the accident was the heaviest on the line. Once before several months ago it had crossed the bridge when crowded, and had caused such a sagging that it was feared the bridge would fall. After that experience the car was not run until this week when it was put on to accommodate the extra traffic. It is reported that the city will be sued for one million damages by relatives of the victims.

THE FIGHT IN CUBA.

Several Engagements Were Reported Yesterday—Where is Maceo?

Havana, May 29.—Several engagements have been reported to-day between Government troops and rebels, but they were unimportant. The official reports have no mention of Maceo since the last fight at Cosolialon, when it was claimed he was defeated. It is reported that Gomez, who was lately encamped near Santi Spiritus, was ordered to stop the westward march until the arrival of reinforcements from the east. It is said that he has already made a junction with an important leader, and will soon resume his march westward.

The rumors that Captain-General Weyler has resigned, are only gossip.

It is stated on good authority that an important filibustering expedition has landed on the coast near Trinidad, Province of Santa Clara.

Do not fail to read Thos. Slater's advertisement on page 3 for men.

ST. LOUIS CALAMITY.

One Hundred Victims Consigned to Earth.

FOUR CHILDREN CAME OUT ALIVE

After Being Imprisoned in the Debris for Forty Hours—A Ghoul Pounced Upon by Indignant Onlookers and Killed—The Search for Bodies.

St. Louis, May 29.—The principal damage to buildings in the path of the tornado may be summarized as follows:

City Hospital, southwestern suburbs, unroofed.

Poor House, southwestern suburbs, unroofed.

Concordia Turner Hall, Sixth and Soulard, demolished.

Convention Auditorium, 12th and Clark-avenue; eastern wall blown away; can be rebuilt in 48 hours.

Soulard Market, South Broadway, demolished.

At Fair Grounds, grand stand, unroofed.

Church of the Annunciation, Sixth and Hickory, demolished.

St. Patrick's Church, Eighth and Carr-streets, demolished.

St. Paul's Church, Ninth-avenue and La Fayette, razed.

Annunciation Church, Sixth and La Salle-streets, wrecked.

Trinity Lutheran Church, Eighth and Hickory-streets, demolished.

St. Vincent's Church, Ninth and Park-avenue, windows out and tower off.

St. Peter and St. Paul Church, Seventh-street and Allen-avenue, total loss.

St. Louis Railway Co., power house, Jefferson and Geyer-avenue, total loss.

Fourth-street Cable power house, Geyer and Jefferson-avenue, total loss.

Jefferson-avenue Railway car shops, Jefferson-avenue and La Salle-street, demolished.

Elevator B, foot of Choteau-avenue, collapsed.

Gas tank, La Clede Gas Co., 128th-street and Choteau-avenue, exploded.

Cupple's building, white grocery and woodenware house, Seventh and Spruce-streets, damaged by fire.

South Side race track, totally destroyed.

Bicycle factory, Main and Park-avenue, wrecked.

Four Courts, 12th-street and Clark-avenue, east prison wall blown out.

Waters Pierce Oil Co.'s tanks, 14th and Papin-streets, exploded.

Merchants' Exchange, Third and Pine-streets, unroofed and flooded.

This is only a partial list, and is representative of the class that suffered heaviest.

Mayor Wallbridge, Health Commissioner Starkoff and Chief of Police Harigan completed a tour of the devastated streets at 4 o'clock this morning. In addition to gathering data on sufferers needing immediate relief, they made estimates of losses. The Mayor's tour of inspection has been thorough, and without hesitation he places the property losses in this city at $20,000,000. This does not include the damage to shipping nor the collateral loss by suspension of business, but is placed upon the property destroyed by the storm. While these figures are startling, they convey to the outside world probably the true character of the disaster in convenient form.

These losses in seven-tenths of the cases are irreparable, as they fall upon those unable to recoup themselves.

The local papers this morning tell of the sympathy offered by the whole country to St. Louis in its present state of woe. Offers have come to the Mayor from commercial organizations all over the United States, and from the Mayors of cities, to extend financial aid, as the situation demands. Chicago was the first to extend offers of assistance. It is not likely that Mayor Wallbridge will accept these kindly offers, for while the losses are stupendous local citizens are going down in their pockets and have already established a large fund for the sufferers.

In St. Louis the number of dead reported to the authorities up to 4 o'clock this morning was 143, of which number 116 were identified and 27 unidentified. There are undoubtedly many others awaiting burial at private residences, and it is still more certain, unfortunately, that the removal of the debris will disclose the bodies of other victims of the storm as yet unaccounted for. A careful survey of the section, however, justifies the belief that the unreported—those in private houses and those unrecovered from wrecked buildings, will not exceed 100. This brings the total dead in St. Louis up to about 258, and it is believed that the eventual verification of the death roll will not show more than ten from that figure.

GREEDY PROTECTIONISTS.

The Conservatives stole their fiscal policy from the United States; they steal their election cries about British gold for bribery purposes in the form of "Yankee" gold for bribery purposes, and they are also stealing the "Yankee" arguments against tariff reform. In the Review of Wednesday is printed a lugubrious wail of the terrible results that have followed Tariff Reform in the New England States. We have here a doleful story of how cotton and woollen mills have been compelled to shut down and dismiss hundreds of operators, while others have been compelled to shorten hours and reduce wages; and, at the same time, it is pointed out how tariff reform has affected the workmen and operatives injuriously, and all is due to this terrible tariff reform.

What in the world do these high shouldered protectionists want any way? The earth? Apparently they wont be satisfied with any less than the country that adopts protection. These poor maltreated and down-trodden New England protected manufacturers have only a protective duty of from 35 to 50 cents on cottons and a proportionate duty on woollens. Yet they can't live, can't carry on business. What rate of duty will satisfy them? A duty as high as that named should be enough protection for anybody; yet that's not enough for these greedy protectionists.

And the greedy protected manufacturer of this country is not any more easily satisfied. Mr. Kendry, the Conservative candidate, is interested in woollen goods. He has declared in this campaign that he hasn't enough protection and wants more. He is not satisfied with the protection he has from a duty on blankets, flannels, tweeds, etc., of 5 cts per lb and 25 per cent. ad valorem, but he must have more. And with all this protection, a business that has been in operation for years and established a trade, would collapse like a pricked bubble if there was a trifling reduction of the tariff. Protection was only to be, so its promoters told us, a temporary assistance to enable manufacturing industries to get onto their feet—to help infant industries. Now in law a man ceases to be an infant at 21 years of age, but we have lusty industrial infants a long way over 21 which confess that if they are not protected to the highest notch they must fall. This would be serious if it were true—but there's no fear of such results.

There's no reason for the fear that the tariff will, under a Liberal administration, be so reformed that it will injuriously affect the industries of the country. The necessities of revenue will not permit of much all-round reduction. There will be an equalization of the tariff so that it will not fall heavily on one class and lightly on others, but the burden of taxation will be so adjusted that justice as far as possible will be done to all classes and interests. The aim will be to help rather than hinder manufacturers by giving them the advantage of free or lightly taxed raw material. No, no, the fear of evil results from rational tariff reform is only the fear of losing undue advantages, and, for the Conservative party its grip on office, and the spoils of office.

The blue ruin list quoted by the Review professes to have a very tender heart for the workingman. When have combine manufacturers ever shown a very tender heart for their operatives? When it was necessary to close down temporarily to reduce stock and keep up the prices, were the interests of the working men ever taken into consideration? We have no record of mills running over time, for the sake of giving working man employment. But we know of instances where mills have closed in the interests of the owners, without regard to those of the working man.

There are two sides to this matter of protection. The capitalist cannot rightly claim all the favours, though he only looks, as a rule, for his own interests.

Mr. Kendry, as the representative of a class, clamors for more protection for himself, but we don't hear of him raising such an outcry on behalf of the working men. They must be contented with what is doled out for them, in the way of work, when it suits the employer to give it.

Woolen and cotton goods are kept out o the country, by a tariff in the interests of the employer, but there is no protection to the workingman from foreign competition and imported labour.

No; the high protectionist doesn't want much, but he wants it all for himself. He must have protection, whether the workingman or the consumer gets it or not.

THE Mail and Empire doesn't usually stick at verbal trifles, but the strongest gush it can get up over a Conservative rally in Tory East Toronto is "there was considerable enthusiasm." The organ doesn't apparently want to drop far on June 23rd.

HON. JOHN HAGGART cannot be accused of wobbling; when it's necessary to tell a good straight campaign lie, told it. He declared at Trenton on Wednesday night that the Liberals had dallied for a while with a revenue tarriff, but had come down now to Free Trade as they have it in England. A "statesman" who makes such a statement in an address, that everybody knows is false, only hurts the cause he seeks to help.

Lord Bacon.

"Truth, though new hews, like the mangled body of Osiris, into a thousand pieces, and scattered to the four winds of heaven, shall be gathered limb to limb, and moulded with every joint and member into an immortal feature of loveliness and perfection."—Lord Bacon.

"Great ideas and great principles need their adequate interpreter, if they are to influence the history of mankind. This was what Bacon was to science, to that great change in the thoughts and activity of men in relation to the world of nature around them, and this is his title to the great place assigned to him."—Dean Church.

Frances Bacon was the son of Sir Nicholas Bacon, one of those great statesmen that so successfully steered the ship of state through the troubled and stormy waters of the reign of Queen Elizabeth. As has not unfrequently happened, the greater glory of the son has eclipsed the great glory of the father, yet of Nicholas Bacon it has been said—"A profound lawyer, and all but a great orator, Sir Nicholas was one of those solid and stately Englishmen to whose sagacity, high principle, and firm demeanour England owed its safety at that critical period when Elizabeth mounted the throne. The motto of Sir Nicholas Bacon, "In mediocria firma est," is significant of both his own character and of the temper of the English nation, both in the Reformation and at other great crises in its history.

Francis was born in 1560, three years before Galileo. The times were stirring, and the call had already gone forth for a new guide for the study of all things in heaven and earth. For nearly two thousand years the authority of Aristotle had been supreme in the world of nature, but it had led, not to the discovery of truth, but to all sorts of fantastic ideas and notions based, not upon the observation of facts, but of arbitrary ideas.

The sixteenth century called every claimant to authority to the bar of reason. The existing method of the study of nature tried in this court, was found wanting, and every successive generation has endorsed its judgment. A galaxy of brilliant scientific discoverers sprang into existence and shed bright rays of light around them in every direction. Bacon, no great man of science himself, no brilliant discoverer is, as Dean Church has styled him, the interpreter, or the prophet of the great ideas and great principles of his times.

Bacon was a more than ordinarily precocious child. At the age of twelve he was an undergraduate at Cambridge and at sixteen was admitted to the "Society of the Ancients" of Gray's Inn. We are told that already he had made universal knowledge the object of his ambition, and discovered the unsatisfactoriness of Aristotle. In 1582 he was called to the bar, in 1584 was a member of Parliament, and commenced to write on a variety of subjects. At this time Bacon was poor. He knew how necessary money was to the successful pursuits of his great objects and possibly the shifts and expedients to which he condescended in order to gain the favour of the Queen, and her advisers already undermined a character which had its weak points, and prepared the way for the disastrous fall of his later years. By degrees Bacon rose. In 1603 he was knighted by James I. In 1607 he became Solicitor-General and one of the chief advisers of the King. In 1613 he was promoted to the Attorney-Generalship, and in 1617 became a privy councillor, in 1618 Lord Chancellor with the title of Baron Verulam

Like most successful men Bacon had enemies. The most bitter of these was the most famous English lawyer of his own and perhaps of all time, Sir Edward Coke. The struggle between the King and his favourites and the Commons of England that ultimately led to the civil war, and the revolution of 1688 was at hand. An enquiry was instituted into the recent increase of monopoly-patents, by which Buckingham, the King's favourite, had enriched his friends. Bacon had argued in favour of their legality and parliament was anxious to bring him to account. The enquiry gradually extend to other matters. Bacon was found guilty of having received gifts from suitors, although very little of direct corruption was proven against him. He was however ordered to pay a fine of £40,000, to be imprisoned during the King's pleasure, and be banished from parliament and the court.

It is generally supposed that democracies are the most corrupt form of Government, and in the face of our present day evils we are not prepared to deny it. It is, however, quite possible to exaggerate the sins of the people in this respect. In the picture of the times of James I., drawn by the skilful pen of Dean Church, the colours are of the darkest. "In the Court of James I. the atmosphere which a man in office breathed was loaded with the taints of gifts and bribes. Presents were as much the rule, as indispensable for those who hoped to get on, as they are now in Turkey." "All my lawyers," said James, "are so bred and nursed in corruption that they cannot leave it." These were the days of unlimited monarchy. Coming down to those of constitutional monarchy, we are told that about the time when Burke wrote his "Thoughts on the Present Discontents (1770)," when two great houses disputed the County of York, the election lasted fourteen days, and the costs, chiefly in bribery, were said to have reached £300,000. Many seats in Parliament were regarded as hereditary possessions which could be let at rental, or to which nominations could be sold."

To return to Bacon, his own judgment of himself comes probaly near the truth, "I acknowledge the sentence just, and for reformation's sake fit," but he added that he was "the justest Chancellor that hath been in the five changes that have been since Sir Nicholas Bacon." Later on he said "I was the justest Judge that was in England these fifty years. But it was the justest censure in Parliament that was these two hundred years."

Gloom

Of ill health, despondency and despair, gives way to the sunshine of hope, happiness and health, upon taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it gives renewed life and vitality to the blood, and through that imparts nerve strength, vigor and energy to the whole body. Read this letter: "Hood's Sarsaparilla helped me wonderfully, changed sickness to health, gloom to sunshine. No pen can describe what I suffered. I was deathly sick, had sick headaches every few days and those terrible tired, despondent feelings, with heart troubles so that I could not go up and down stairs without clasping my hand over my heart and resting. In fact, it would almost take my breath away. I suffered so I did not care to live, yet I had much to live for. There is no pleasure in life if deprived of health, for life becomes a burden. Hood's Sarsaparilla does far more than advertised. After taking one bottle, it is sufficient to recommend itself." MRS. J. E. SMITH, Beloit, Iowa.

WITH WARNER'S SAFE Cure.

HELPLESSNESS AND AGONY!

A Multitude of Sufferers and Martyrs!

Paine's Celery Compound The Prompt Banisher of Rheumatism and Sciatica.

The Only Positive Cure in the World!

Thousands of Convincing Testimonials from Cured People.

The agonizing and terrible troubles known as rheumatism and sciatica, are probably the cause of more helplessness and acute suffering than any half dozen others that could be named.

The original cause of rheumatism is a lack of nerve force. By this weakness of the nervous system, an acid is formed which enters the blood. Soon the joints swell — usually the knees, elbows and wrists—and there is inflammation with intense pain; this disease is veritable rheumatism.

The great medical virtues of Paine's Celery Compound make it the only trustworthy specific in the world for the complete cures of all forms of rheumatism. Paine's Celery Compound is curing hundreds of cases every day. Testimonials without number declare that this great remedy of nature has effected cures after all other medicines failed.

You cannot afford to experiment with the common and worthless preparations of the day, when you can procure a guaranteed medicine like Paine's Celery Compound, so highly recommended by the best physicians. Bear in mind that those cured by Paine's Celery Compound are cured permanently. There is no more return of the terrible disease; no twisted, contracted and stiffened limbs. Paine's Celery Compound gives a new existence, and old sufferers walk with as much elasticity and spryness as any youth.

Do not be persuaded by substituting dealers to take any of the medicines they may recommend for their own benefit and profit; insist upon getting Paine's Celery Compound, the medicine that always cures.

Nervous Prostration.

Cured effectually by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

His heart was affected.

"Overwork as a student at college brought on an attack of nervous prostration," says Mr. Gilbert, a railway missionary. "I was exceedingly nervous and if I exerted myself my heart commenced to flutter violently, and I was warned that even ordinary exercise endangered my life. But thanks to Scott's Sarsaparilla I feel better than I ever expected to feel, for I can now address a meeting without effort, can walk a brisk pace for two hours or more without exhaustion and am free from that distressing palpitation. In my work I have oftentime recommended Scott's Sarsaparilla, and have seen many cases where its effects have been most marked."

Scott's Sarsaparilla acts like magic in restoring shattered nerves because it rebuilds the nerve centres. Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia and all nerve derangements wear on the system. Scott's Sarsaparilla makes new blood and muscles and strong nerves. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle. Dose from half to one teaspoonful.

Ottawa's Crack Regiment Ahead in Efficiency.

THE REPORT ON THIS YEAR'S DRILL

Prof. Wiggins Explains About the Recent Awful Cyclones—The Networks of Wires Responsible—Trent River Works—General News From the Capital

Ottawa, May 29.—(Special.)—The return of the comparative efficiency of the Canadian infantry which drilled at local headquarters, that is, city corps, this year was issued to-day. The total number of marks which any battalion could earn was 150, and on this basis the credit of being the most efficient corps in Canada is due to 43rd Battalion, Ottawa and Carleton Rifles, with the splendid average of 135. The Queen's Own average is 101; the 10th Royals, 88; the 48th Highlanders, 100; the 7th, London, 57; the 25th, 82; the 13th, Hamilton, 116; 38th, 63; 14th, Kingston, 92; 15th, 71; 57th, 100; the Ottawa Guards, 99. Of the Quebec corps the 3rd Vics averaged 109; the 5th Royal Scots, 103; the Prince of Wales, 98; the 65th, 91; and the 6th Fusiliers, 84.

The company averages are as follows:

2nd Battalion Queen's Own Rifles: "A" Co., Capt. Thompson, 107 marks; "B" Co., Capt. Llwyd, 101; "C" Co., Capt. Peuchen, 94; "D" Co., Capt. Mason, 106; "E" Co., Capt. and Batt. Major Mutton, 107; "F" Co., Capt. and Batt. Major M. McGee, 99; "G" Co., Lieut. Levesconte, 91; "H" Co., Capt. Gunther, 103; "I" Co., Capt. and Batt. Major Murray, 103; "K" Co., Capt. Rennie, 99.

10th Batt., Royal Grenadiers: "A" Co., Capt. Cameron, 98; "B" Co., Capt. Boyd, 100; "C" Co., Capt. Caston, 83; "D" Co., Capt. Stinson, 87; "E" Co., Capt. Tassie, 90; "F" Co., Capt. Sweetman, 80; "G" Co., Capt. McKay, 83; "H" Co., Capt. Lehmann, 85; "I" Co., Capt. McLean, 83; "K" Co., Capt. Trotter, 90.

13th Battalion: "A" Co., Capt. and Batt. Major Stoneman, 117; "B" Co., Capt. Labatt, 118; "C" Co., Capt. and Batt. Major Zealand, 113; "D" Co., Capt. Ross, 114; "E" Co., Capt. Osborne, 122; "F" Co., Capt. Tidswell, 114; "G" Co., Capt. Mewburn, 114; "H" Co., Capt. Moore, 110.

48th Highlanders: "A" Co., Capt. Robertson, 100; "B" Co., Capt. Donald, 110; "C" Co., Capt. Currie, 105; "D" Co., Capt. Michie, 94; "E" Co., Capt. Orchard, 92; "F" Co., Capt. Hendrie, 89; "G" Co., Capt. Ramsay, 102; "H" Co., Capt. and Batt. Major Henderson, 105.

Mr. Gobeil, Deputy Minister of Public Works, has just returned from a trip of inspection of the Trent River works. There has been a dispute pending between the lumbermen and the Public Works Department in regard to the tolls for the use of certain improvements on the river made by the Government. Many lumbermen have complained that these improvements were really a disadvantage to them, that indeed they prevented the driving of the logs. Last year the late Minister promised that when the driving season commenced this spring he would send an officer of his department along the Trent to make a special report on the whole matter, and it is in accordance with this promise that Mr. Gobeil made his recent visit along the Trent valley.

Prof. Wiggins has again emerged from his retreat, this time to propound his theory of the St. Louis disaster. He claims that the storm was attracted to that point by the network of telegraphic and electric light wires. "Ten years ago," he said, "I warned the people of the United States and Canada that these cyclones would become more and more destructive by the extension of the deadly wire net, telegraph, telephone wires and wire fencing, and that steps should be taken immediately to force all companies to place their wires underground, where they would be harmless. No action was taken, and the wholesale murder of the thousands of innocent people still goes on. I even went so far as to say that these cyclones would soon appear in Canada, and that the time was not far off when buildings in the Canadian capital would be pitched into the Ottawa River. Instead of acting on my advice the press, more friendly to the companies than philosophy, made light of my warning, and you see the consequence. They are, however, awakening to the fact that what I said was true, and within the next five years so great will be the upheaval of public opinion on the subject that not a wire will be allowed above ground, either in the United States or Canada. Then not only will the cyclones disappear, but with it that more deadly foe of humane life—drought."

An order in council has been passed providing that the privilege of exwarehousing tobacco free of excise duty for use on steamers and vessels engaged in sealing in the high seas, and on steamers and on vessels clearing from a Canadian for a foreign port, shall be extended to the end of the next session of Parliament.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

and all wasting diseases, should write to me for advice.

I have been a close student for many years of the subject of weakness in men, the fact is, I was a sufferer myself. Too bashful to seek the aid of older men or reputable physicians, I investigated the subject deeply and discovered a simple but most remarkably successful Remedy that completely cured me, and fully enlarged me from a shrunken, stunted condition to natural size and strength. I want every young or old man to know about it. I take a personal interest in such cases, and no one need hesitate to write me, as all communications are held strictly confidential. I send the recipe of this remedy absolutely free of cost. Do not put it off, but write me fully at once, you will always bless the day you did so. Address,

BATTALION NOTES.

Col. Bell Receives a Letter From Col. Ponton, of Belleville.

Col. Bell has received the following communication from Colonel Ponton, which will be of interest to the citizens at large:

BELLEVILLE, May 27th, 1896.

Lieutenant-Colonel Bell, 57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers, Peterborough:

DEAR COLONEL BELL,—We arrived safe home and had a very pleasant journey, all thoroughly satisfied with the successful result of our trip, and all full of the most pleasant memories of the hospitality and kindness of the 57th and of the citizens of Peterborough. Kindly again accept for yourselves, and convey to the Mayor, our appreciation of all that was done for us to make our visit most delightful.

Yours very truly,
T. M. PONTON,
Lieut.-Col.

The telegram which Capt. Walmsley, of the 15th, sent to Col. Bell, regretting his absence from the banquet is appended. Capt. Walmsley is Belleville's mayor:

Belleville, Ont., May 28th, 1896.

Lt.-Col. Bell, 57th Peterborough Rangers:

I regret exceedingly that other duties prevented prolonging my stay until return of comrades. Belleville, however, appreciates highly, and thanks heartily your Battalion and Peterborough for royal hospitalities extended her citizens on this joyful occasion. May the love for each thus engendered never cease to characterize the two Midland sisters, the chief beauty spots of Ontario.

J. E. WALMSLEY,
Mayor.

THIS MORNING'S MARKET.

Great Loads of Market Produce Brought in to be Sold.

The large amount of garden produce which was marketed this morning gave the appearance of an agricultural fair to the market square. A great quantity of tomato, cabbage and celery plants were brought in. The tomatoes sold at 3 boxes for 25c, the cabbage at 20 cents a box, and the celery at 15 cents a box. Fresh radishes sold at 3 bunches for 10c, and lettuce and rhubarb brought the same, all being plentiful.

Great quantities of eggs and butter were brought in. The former sold at from 7 to 11c per dozen, and the latter brought 13 to 15c per pound. Chickens are now worth 50c a pair, and turkeys from 75c to $1, and are very scarce.

Some fine little Tamworth pigs attracted a good deal of attention and were easily sold at $5 each. They are reddish in colour and are said to make a splendid cross with the Berkshire for bacon.

Cold in the Head

And Headache cured in 5 minutes. Catarrh cured in a week by using Dr. Hunt's Magic snuff, 25 cents a box. For sale by J. D. Tully and H. S. McDonald and all drug gists.

Business Hints.

The EXAMINER has received from Messrs. Gordon, Mackay & Co., Toronto, a handy little volume, neatly bound, of 65 pages, titled "Business Hints." It should prove of great value to the retail merchant. It contains tables of weights and measures, exchange costing of goods, and also gives valuable hints as to advertising, bookkeeping, collecting and stock-taking and a large amount of hints that must be of value to the retail merchant.

Beef for Thin Men and Women.

The kind that doctors prescribe for fattening and strengthening the body—is the kind that you buy at Kennedy's meat market, next the Arcade. You may be able to live without it, but not so well; you may be content to eat the lean and scrawny kind, but you'll have to eat more of it, tire your stomach out, and then resort to pepsine powders to help your digestion. Some good things you can afford to do without, but Kennedy's prime beef is not one of them. Try a sample cut to-night. We have something elegant for Sunday's dinner. 1d

A Squall at the Narrows.

Robt. and Geo. E. Eeson, with W. Shouldice, had a narrow escape recently. They had put a passenger across the Narrows, and left Lawson's Landing to return, the moon shining and the night clear and bright. They were rounding the point of Jacob's Island, when suddenly a terrific squall came along, and in a moment the punt was swamped. Fortunately they were not more than a hundred yards from shore, and they managed to keep the punt under them till they reached shore. Then they went up to Mr. Pat. Galvin's and stayed during the night with him.

Small P'raties.

At one of the ward schools on Friday, one of the teachers received an answer not in the curriculum. The subject of verbal examination was English history, and the point was the rival claims of King John and Prince Arthur to the throne. The teacher was trying to impress the mean and crafty anxiety of John, and the comparative indifference of Prince Arthur. She asked the class "How would a man of King John's character have felt, if he had missed the crown?" Up went the hand of a bright Irish boy.—"Please mum, like small p'raties." This vernacular paraphrase of the correct answer was accepted by the teacher, with an audible smile, and the titter of the class temporarily relaxed the usual disciplinary decorum of the room

MR. RICHARD HALL'S SEVENTH MEETING.

A ROUSING RALLY AT MIDDLETON'S SCHOOL HOUSE.

The Meeting Greatly in Mr. Hall's Favour—Addresses by Messrs. Roger, Moore, Hall and Stone.

An excellent meeting was held in Mr. Hall's interests at Middleton's School House on Friday night.

Mr. James Middleton, Reeve of Smith and Warden of the County, occupied the chair.

Mr. G. M. Roger led in the speaking. He dealt with the question of the Remedial Bill, showing that while the constitutional aspect might be beyond question, yet the mode of settlement was a matter of policy as to what was best calculated to afford a solution satisfactory to the minority at the same time acceptable to the majority. This policy was one in the interests of peace and harmony between the different religious elements of our citizenship. He favoured a policy of conciliation and investigation and urged the exhausting of all possible means of settlement before resorting to anything like an exercise of the powers the constitution might afforded.

Mr. W. H. Moore spoke on behalf of Mr. Kendry. He glorified the "National" Policy and defended the coercion of Manitoba, indulging in a personal attack on Sir Oliver Mowat and some of the local campaign speakers. He wasted considerable eloquence in an attempt to persuade the farmers that they and the country were enjoying marvellous prosperity under the policy of high taxation.

Mr. Hall, the Liberal candidate, was very cordially received, and spoke briefly, setting forth the platform and policy upon which he appealed for the support of the electors.

Mr. Stone closed the speaking with a vigorous address, in which he paid his respects to Mr. Moore in a manner more pointed than pleasant, and turned the laugh on that gentleman so completely that he doubtless regretted that he had initiated in this campaign the policy of personal attack. Mr. Stone drew a graphic picture of the substantial reasons in the shape of spoils to himself and family that formed the basis of Tupper loyalty. He also dealt generally with the ruinous record of the Government, and with the platform and policy of the Liberal party. Hearty appreciation of his remarks was evidenced by frequent applause.

The meeting, which was a most successful one, closed with cheers for the Queen and the Liberal candidate.

The Potato Crop.

Some people may not feel that a potato patch is a paying thing, because last year's crop had to be fed to stock or sold at a York shilling. This may result in a smaller acreage this year, and we shall in all likelihood have a lighter crop, for it is seldom we have anything to compare with last year's great yield. The money is made out of potatoes usually when they are small and few in a hill. We should not wonder greatly if there came a sort of potato famine this year, after such a plentiful time in 1895. Potatoes do not keep in stock like wheat. Twelve months is their limit. There is plenty of seed this spring, and plenty of land that farmers scarcely know what to do with, and though we do not set up as a prophet, we predict a good return for those who plant potatoes this year, and cultivate the ground well.—Orillia News-Letter.

Salvation Army.

Major Morris, of the Salvation Army, whose recent disappearance from Kingston was the subject of much comment, has again reported at headquarters. His reasons for so sudden a departure, it is said, were purely of a personal character and connected in no way with Army matters. Arrangements have been made for his retirement with his wife from active duty for a time. Major Morris was one of the first officers sent out from England to this country. He has been an officer for fifteen years.

To Ship Cheese Direct.

At the last meeting of the Leeds Dairymen's Protective Association Mr. J. A. Webster, of Lansdowne, ex-warden of the United Counties, was selected from among a number of aspirants to visit England in the interests of the Association. He will investigate and report upon the prospects of the members of the Association shipping cheese direct to the Old Country, instead of allowing it to pass through the hands of the middle men as at present. Mr. Webster is a good man for the task and the Association is to be congratulated upon its choice. It is understood he will leave shortly to perform the duties imposed upon him.

ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE.

A Strange Discovery — How did the Money get There?

The other morning as Mr. Harry Neil was going to the brewery office, his eye fell upon an upturned basket lying at the corner of the brewery ice-house. He walked over to where the unsightly object lay, with the intention of removing it. Upon turning it over, conflicting emotions played tag through his system, for there at his feet reposed a small something carefully enveloped in a linen cloth.

He was evidently upon the eve of making an important discovery. Some secret, he knew not what, lay hidden in the roll of linen at his pedal extremities.

What could it be—some of the town's back taxes, or the Remedial Bill, perhaps?

He hesitated no longer. He resolved to solve the mystery, even at the risk of angina pectoris. A cautious investigation revealed to his astonished gaze a Maltese cat of the male persuasion, cold in death. The deceased had evidently seen brighter days—and nights. His youthful lineaments bore, alas, the tell-tale marks of dissipation, want and trouble. No azure ribbon adorned his neck; boot jacks, stones, broken slumber, broken bottles, broken language and broken victuals had been the life of this prodigal. His lot had been a hard one,—a vacant corner lot, in fact. True to his race, he looked blue, frayed at the edges, and much the worse for wear. He had suffered from many a Maltese cross, could he have unfolded his tail. But he had no strawberry mark, no business card, no nothing, not even an accident policy about his coat to lead to his identity.

Truly a fit theme for the tragic muse. But to return. By a little deft slight-of-hand, Harry had just replaced the husk of the recent cat in the basket when he was again transfixed with astonishment to behold, where the cat had lain, a quarter of a dollar!

What did this inscrutable mystery mean? Was it suicide or murder? It could not have been an attempt at robbery, for there was the quarter! It could not have been murder, because people give cats no quarter! It must have been accidental suicide, aggravated by a dog, accelerated by a boy, with homeopathic doses of No. 6 shot, resulting in appendicitis.

By exercising a prodigious effort of willpower Harry put the quarter in his pocket. Then, with a heavy heart—and pocket—he carried his burden to the river, and placed it gently upon the quiet tide flowing down to the lake.

THE CANAL IN POLITICS.

Messrs. Haggart and Montague addressed the electors of West Hastings at Trenton, the possible lake terminus of the Trent Valley Canal, and the electors naturally expected the Minister of Railways and Canals to endorse the work and give some new assurance of the government's intention to push it. Mr. Morrison, the chairman, said he was glad to know that Mr. Haggart would tell the audience the government's intention in regard to this important work (the canal) and Mr. Corby, the Conservative candidate, said in reference to a rumour that the present move on the Trent Valley Canal "was simply to catch votes," that he was glad to have Mr. Haggart with them who would tell the people "the government's intention on this work." But when Mr. Haggart spoke he did not, according to the Mail and Empire's report, make a single reference to the canal. He did not utter a single word in denial of the rumour which Mr. Corby attached so much importance to, that the present activity on the canal was "simply to catch votes." Why was Mr. Haggart so silent on this question? He knew that the heelers of his party wanted their hands strengthened with some strong renewal of promise of future canal construction, but never a word said Mr. Haggart. It was really unkind of him to fail to deny a rumour and thus strengthen the hands of those who desired honestly to use the canal scheme "simply to catch votes."

And here is the essence of our complaint. We have never opposed the canal as a public work, indeed we have often insisted upon its importance and the necessity of its early completion. But we have time after time exposed the Government's policy of trifling with it and their using it as Mr. Corby said, "simply to catch votes." We have seen it for years galvanized into new life as an election time came on, and in the intervals between elections lying dormant and practically dead. There are hardly a score of men in the county to vote at this present election who were voters at the time the Trent Valley Canal scheme was inaugurated. We have had the present Government in power eighteen years. Fourteen years ago Sir Charles Tupper, then Minister of Railways and Canals, visited the district and went over the route of the canal, and solemnly pledged the Government to its construction. But what has been done since? We defy any one to point out a single period of activity in canal work or canal promises that has not corresponded to the period of an election contest. Is not this sufficient ground for Mr. Corby's rumour that "the canal was simply to catch votes?" Mr. Corby went further, and at Trenton on Thursday night said that "the contract for the canal would be let during the coming fall, and that work on the section between Frankford and Trenton would be begun immediately thereafter and pushed to completion." Yet Mr. Haggart, Minister of Railways and Canals, who was present and heard these words, did not endorse them, and indeed did not say one word in reference to the canal, according to the Mail and Empire's report. He either forgot the question, which which would show that the canal didn't lie very close to his heart, or he did not wish to commit the Government to any more promises. In any event he ignored the Canal as the Government has persistently done, between general elections, for the past 15 years.

The EXAMINER has never opposed the Canal but it has time after time denounced the apathy and trickery of the Government in dealing with the work. If the work is of the importance we in this section think it to be, if the Government means to carry out its pledge, why has it not been carried on in a business-like manner its completion and not only dabbled at by fits and starts, the fits being strangely contemporaneous with an election contest? The Government is pledged to the work; its commission appointed to delay work till the eve of another election pronounced the canal feasable; and then why all the delay? The canal should have been finished long ago. There has been no excuse from lack of funds. The Government has in the last eighteen years allowed enough money to be boodled and wasted on other public works to build the Trent Valley Canal from Midland to Trenton.

Much emphasis is placed on the credit due to the Government for the work that has been done on the canal. The Government deserves no credit. The work is a work in the public interest, and the Government are no more than doing their duty by expending the people's money for the people's benefit. It is no favour to the people of this district to get their rights, and they haven't got them by any means from the present Government, which has timed canal work to the time of a general election, and persistently give colour to the rumour spoken of by Mr. Corby, that "the canal was simply to catch votes." When we see the Government pushing on canal work in the interval between elections, as is done on other canals, we can better believe in their good faith. The government is committed to the canal and should have completed it long ago. And their successors will be committed to the work and will push it on to completion in a business-like way—not one year out of five, just before and during an election. Why did not Hon. John Haggart, at Trenton, give the pledge that Mr. Corby asked him to give and silence the rumours, as he could have done in a word, that "the canal was simply to catch votes."

LET us hear now from Mr. Stevenson something about tariff reduction making Canada a slaughter market for American wheat. We learn by the Mail and Empire's market reports that on May 29th red wheat was quoted in Toronto at 70c.—"buyers were not in the market at that figure." The same report records the price of No. 2 red wheat in Buffalo at 71c. But this doesn't prove anything. Tariff or no tariff has no more effect on the prices of wheat than on the changes of the moon. Supply and demand fix the price, and it is simply absurd to bolster up a claim for the N. P. benefitting the farmers by quoting prices that are regulated by conditions 3,000 miles away.

Good morning, have you read Thos. Slater's advertisement for men on page 3?

REV. MR. KENRICK'S ACCIDENT.

His Bicycle is run Over and Badly Smashed.

Rev. C. B. Kenrick, of Port Hope, was run over by a fish wagon the other day when out wheeling, and made the statement that the driver run him down in an endeavour to keep him from passing—a certain class of drivers always being given to this sort of thing. Mr. Kenrick's wheel was badly smashed and he felt justly indignant over the matter.

The fisherman makes the following statement in an endeavour to clear himself:—He was driving, he says, along that narrow part of the Cobourg road with a railing on either side of it, when the three cyclists, Mr. Renwick, Mr. Tuer and Rev. Mr. Kenrick, caught up to him and rang for him to get out of the way. He hurried his horse that he might reach a wider strip of roadway, but the cyclists were in a hurry and they turned out to pass him, Mr. Kenrick on one side and the two gentlemen on the other. Mr. Kenrick was a little ahead of the others.

Mr. Huyck said he had a new horse. He had got it only on account of its being afraid of bicycles and therefore not considered safe for ladies to drive. When the riders tried to pass the horse shied at Mr. Kenrick's wheel and nearly crowded the other two men into the ditch. Mr. Kenrick got ahead and wheeled into the beaten road; the others passed him and being better riders were soon a long distance ahead." Mr. Huyck said he thought this a good opportunity to accustom his horse to the wheel, and he wished, moreover, to see if there was any speed it. So he whipped it up and was soon within about twenty-five yards of Mr. Kenrick. These relative positions they held for a considerable distance, when Mr. Kenrick lost his pedals and fell off his wheel. The machine fell lengthwise right across the track, and Mr. Huyck says he was unable to stop the horse in time. As it was one wheel of the buggy passed over the handlebars, doing about $12 to $15 damage.

Mr. Huyck thinks he is in no way to blame. The clergyman, he says, was was tuckered out when he first passed the rig, and he got frightened. Mr. Kenrick has placed the matter in Mr. Harry Ward's hands, and it is expected that the Canadian Wheelmen's Association will take it up.

NOT A QUESTION OF CHOICE,
BUT A QUESTION OF MUST!

The public understand our position. To retire from Business we MUST dispose of our stock. We would rather sacrifice every dollar's worth than delay the object we have in view.

We MUST either sell out at cost by retail or close out en bloc to one purchaser. Rain or shine, the goods MUST go.

During the past three weeks of this sale we have cleared out great quantities of beautiful Dry Goods and Millinery, but

Sales Must be Increased

for the next three weeks. It is true we are offering an exceptionally fine class of Goods, in which the styles are the newest in vogue. It is true we are giving higher advantages than those struggling to remain in business by reducing prices on a few lines of "old shop-keepers"—but

Prices Must go Still Lower

And sales loaded down with greater goodness. Nothing will be offered at regular prices—nothing will be offered that we cannot sincerely recommend. There are so many rare values we can't quote prices. Of course, we don't have to meet prices—we make them, and let others do the meeting, if they can.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Lassitude almost overcomes her. Nervousness and sleeplessness and pain harass her and life seems hardly worth the living.

That her sufferings are due solely to her own fault seldom occurs to her, but often it is so. Health, strength and vigorous vitality are hers if she will but ask and reach for them.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for the ills distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favorite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays irritating inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood. Best of all, with these remedies there is no need of detested "examinations" and "local treatment" so abhorrent to every modest woman.

Thousands of grateful women have written letters like this:

Mrs. Samantha M. Cranmer, of Box 36, Le Roy, Bradford Co., Pa., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write these few lines in favor of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription'—the medicines which have done me so much good. I was completely run down so that I could scarcely drag myself around the house, had been getting weaker and worse for several years until I lost all hope of ever getting any better. I took four bottles of each of your medicines and am now perfectly well."

Respectfully yours,

Samantha M Cranmer

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a 1000 page doctor book, profusely illustrated, of which 680,000 have been sold at $1.50 a copy, will be sent FREE on receipt of 31 cents to pay customs and postage only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

ST. LOUIS CALAMITY.

The count of the wounded is a more difficult matter. Taking the police and hospital reports for the calculation, it is estimated that those who sustained injuries which may be called serious number about 400. The slightly wounded cannot be estimated.

In East St. Louis the number of dead reported up to 5 o'clock this morning was 113. While East St. Louis suffers more in proportion to population, the list of dead and buried is smaller than that across the bridge. It is not believed that the dead unreported to the police will number more than 60 or 70, making the total list foot up to 175 at the outside. The seriously injured are estimated at from 200 to 250, probably 600 or 700 persons receiving minor wounds.

Regarding the killed and injured outside of St. Louis, the following figures will be found to be approximately correct when full reports have been received:

Vandalia, Ill., and vicinity, 13 killed; 15 injured.

Centralia, Ill., and vicinity, 40 killed; 35 injured.

Mount Vernon, Ill., and vicinity, 6 killed; 20 injured.

New Madrid, Ill., and vicinity, 7 killed; 30 injured.

Richfield, Ill., 4 killed.

Rushville, Ill., 4 killed; 26 injured.

New Baden, Ill., 3 killed; 13 injured.

Jefferson City, Ill., 4 killed.

Harmony, Ill., 2 killed.

Brinker Station, Ill., 8 killed; 30 injured.

Breckinridge, Ill., 2 killed.

Fallfield, Ill., and Mascoutah, Ill., each, 1 killed.

Gratiot, Mo., 4 killed.

Mexico, Mo., and vicinity, 6 killed; 30 injured.

Warsaw, Ind., 2 killed; 5 injured.

There are besides, reports which may or may not be true, of two killed and eight injured at Boyd, Ill., one killed and five injured at Irvington, Ill., and a general statement of a large number killed and injured in Adrian County, Mo.

In East St. Louis the railroads and the river interests were the heaviest losers by the storm. The former will not get on cheaper than $750,000 and the latter suffered to the extent of perhaps $300,000. The loss to steamboat men was not only in the vessels destroyed, but in wharfage, freight and material. The fire caused a further loss of $500,000 and the individual losses of property owners will swell the total to between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000. In the country and the various small towns that were touched by the storm there is no means of getting at the property loss. There is no basis even for an estimate.

Hallisey's Hotel, situated just south of the bridge, in East St. Louis, was one of the buildings overthrown. It is estimated that of its inmates at the time of the disaster at least a dozen are still under the ruins. It is feared that a large number lie crushed under the wrecks of the Martell House, the Durrat House and the Relay Retreat, which were hurled all together into Cahokia Creek.

The death list in St. Louis is growing. Up to noon 152 bodies had been recovered. Of these 101 had been identified, and 21 remain unrecognised.

In East St. Louis at the same hour 147 bodies had been recovered. Of these 139 had been identified and 8 are without identification.

In St. Louis 21 persons are reported fatally injured, and their deaths are momentarily expected.

In East St. Louis 21 persons are suffering from wounds which will prove fatal in a few hours.

The recovery of bodies is being rapidly carried on through a systematic corps of workers.

Hundreds of homeless persons slept in the open air last night. The public buildings were thrown open for the destitute, and these places were crowded. Food for the hungry was furnished liberally by citizens and keepers of restaurants in the neighborhood of these temporary shelters. All night and this morning thousands surrounded the temporary morgue, and heart-rending scenes were enacted as relatives came to take away the remains of their loved ones.

The Business Men's League to-day issued a statement to the country to the effect that the disaster would in no way interfere with arrangements already made for the Republican convention, or housing or entertaining delegates.

Up to noon to-day Coroner Walt had held 80 inquests. In each a stereotyped verdict setting forth the fact that the deceased had come to his death by injuries received as the result of a tornado was returned.

About the same number of inquests were held in East St. Louis, the verdicts being similar in terms.

Workmen are busily engaged in clearing away the wreckage of the St. Louis Refrigerator and Wooden Gutter Company at the corner of Fourth-street and Park-avenue, in which it is believed over 25 bodies lie beneath the ruins. The mass of debris is so great, however, that it is not believed the basement of the building in which the bodies are, will be reached inside of 12 hours.

While workmen were digging in the ruins of one of the tenements at Seventh and Rutger-streets, where so much havoc was caused, an infant voice cried out, "Please, don't be so rough." An opening was quickly made in the debris about the spot from whence the voice issued and through its depths a 10-year-old boy leading three girls about the same age appeared. All were uninjured, although they were weak from hunger and confinement for nearly 40 hours.

General Manager E. P. Bryan of the Terminal Association, announces that all trains are running as usual over the Eads Bridge, and that the upper or pedestrian roadway will be in shape for travel by Wednesday. He adds that the loss is not as great as at first reported, and that the total damage to buildings, rolling stock and bridge will not exceed $100,000.

East St. Louis is waking from its terror, and things are beginning now to shape themselves to the amelioration of the condition of the afflicted, and the preservation of the property left after the work of the hurricane. A relief committee has been formed with an auxiliary women's corps. Money is being subscribed, the town is thoroughly policed, streets are being cleared and homes are being made habitable.

The townspeople feel that they are in the most urgent need of all assistance they can get. The rich have suffered with the poor, and the resources of those who could ordinarily extend a helping hand to their more unfortunate brothers, will be so strained in recovering their own positions that it will be difficult for them to do much more than help themselves.

There are hundreds of persons here with no homes, no money, and even without a stitch of clothing of their own, to be provided, and assistance from other cities will be required.

There were a number of funerals today, but relatives of the great majority of the victims proposed to take advantage of the fact that to-morrow is Decoration Day, and arranged accordingly for the interments. As a result, the undertaking establishments were "rushed" to an extent unprecedented and the ambulance-shaped black vehicles employed to carry the caskets were at times during the day encountered every few blocks. So heavy was the pressure upon the funeral directors that in many cases it was this evening found absolutely necessary to defer the interments until Sunday. The number of burials to-morrow, however, will exceed 100. The conditions in East St. Louis are similar to those in this city.

At a regular meeting of the Municipal Assembly to-night Mayor Walbridge submitted a special message asking that the Assembly appropriate $106,000 for the relief of the storm sufferers. This proposition was favorably received, but the exigencies of legislation will delay conclusive action for several days. The money is to be immediately available upon the passage of the measure. The disbursement of this fund will be under municipal control and will be independent of other relief measures. Mayor Walbridge took occasion in his message to point out that St. Louis was the only city in the country that had weathered safely the recent financial gale, and it should not be said that any disturbance, physical or financial, could make St. Louis a mendicant asking alms. This independence of feeling seems universal here.

There is one unidentified body in the Morgue that to-morrow will be interred in the Potter's Field. The injuries that resulted in the victim's death are not attributable to the tornado. A couple of hours after the power-house of the South Side Electric line had been levelled with nine employes in the ruins, a trampish-looking individual put in an appearance and volunteered to assist in the search. During the night four bodies were taken from the debris and laid side by side. Then, according to a man who told the story at the Morgue to-day, the volunteer, availing himself of what he thought was a favorable opportunity, proceeded to rifle the clothing of the dead. He was caught in the act by one of the searchers, who, without warning, felled him with a brick. Then, with cries of "Lynch the thief," the entire party of searchers fell upon him, and with kicks and blows from boards and scantlings, the ghoul was killed. A pledge of secrecy was quickly passed around, the ambulance was sent for and the body conveyed to the Morgue under the supposition that it was that of a victim of the power-house wreck.

St. John, N.B., May 23.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely, Dodds Kidney Pills, is obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

To Make a Willow Whistle.

This is the willow whistle season. It begins when the sap is working upward from the roots between the bark and wood of the tree, and it ends when the trees are in full leaf.

Whistles are made the same way everywhere. A smooth limb or sucker is selected and cut off. The mouth end is trimmed right, a notch is cut in the top for the escape of the breath, a ring is cut in the bark at the right distance from the end and then the bark is moistened with saliva and the whistle is laid on the knee and pounded with the knife handle to loosen the bark from the wood. A twist of the bark pulls it off the wood and then a deep notch is cut out of the wood, the bark is put on and the whistle is finished.

HOW THE WHISTLE IS CUT OUT.

Food, when it sours the stomach, becomes innutritive and unwholesome. It poisons the blood and both mind and body suffer in consequence. What is needed to restore perfect digestion is a dose or two of Ayer's Pills. They never fail to relieve.

In all diseases that affect humanity there is some weak link in the chain of health, some spot that is the seat of the trouble. It may be the liver, it may be the stomach; perhaps it is the bowels or the kidneys; most likely it is the blood. Burdock Blood Bitters goes straight to that spot, strengthens the weak link in the chain, removes the cause of the disease, and restores health, because it acts with cleansing force and curative power upon the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. STORY OF "CHERRY RIPE."

And a Picture as She Appears at the Present Time.

A few days ago the marriage of Miss Edie Ramage, the English girl who, as a child, posed for the artist Millais, and who was the original of his famous picture, "Cherry Ripe," was celebrated the other day.

There was a children's fancy ball given by the manager of the Graphic, and the belle of the party was generally considered to be Edie, the tiny daughter of Mrs. Ramage, who has so successfully arranged her costume after the picture of Penelope Boothby, by Sir Joshua Reynolds, and who doubtless inherited her artistic taste from her father, the well-known artist, George H. Thomas. Edie was taken the next morning to Sir Everette's studio, with the result that all the world knows. The original price of the picture was £1000, and the present possessor would, doubtless, require £10,000, or more, even if he would part with it at all. It has been admirably engraved by Cousins, and also reproduced in color as a supplement to the Graphic Christmas number for 1880. It is no exaggeration to say that never has the sweet, simple face of a child met with such world-wide sympathy and admiration. The reproduction of the picture was at that time a feat of color printing, and being executed entirely by British printers, gave an extraordinary impetus to an important industry. Over 600,000 copies were issued, and if by any means it had been possible to produce them in sufficient quantity at the time, the number would have reached a million. The publisher had to return in cash several thousands of pounds for copies he could not deliver, and sustain actions at law for damages for non-delivery. Miss Edie Ramage married a Spanish gentleman named Francisco De Paulo Osorio, of Manilla.

AT THE WOODBINE.

Some Good Sport Yesterday—American Horses Were Decidedly in It.

Toronto, May 29.

A bright afternoon, somewhat windy withal, was vouchsafed the Ontario Jockey Club on the resumption of racing yesterday. The morning was most unpromising, and the heavy rain left the track in a most deplorable condition, to the dismay of trainers, whose charges disliked the mud. The weather mended, however; Old Sol showed his face again, and before the horses went to the post for the first race, the well-harrowed track had dried out into better condition, although around the club house turn the going was heavy all afternoon.

Owing to the heavy condition of the track "scratches" were numerous, but notwithstanding, the fields in three of the races were large, and some capital racing was witnessed. Several of the events furnished close finishes, namely, the Flash Stakes, Waterloo Handicap and Woodstock Plate, and in consequence the sport was equally as good as the preceding days. Starter Fitzpatrick, who evidently has a good control over the jockeys, despatched his fields quickly and without much delay, to the delight of the public. Mr. Fitzpatrick's work so far has been remarkably good, and it is hoped it will continue. Though three favorites were successful, the bookies secured the bulk of the money, as Melcha and Basso were at prohibitive odds.

The opening event, the Flash Stakes, at five furlongs, had eight starters, and resulted in one of the closest finishes of the meeting. Petrolene and Halfling were the two most fancied, but the weight of money that went in on Mr. Seagram's horse sent him to the post an even money favorite, while Petrolene's price went back from even money to 8 to 5. Tarantum and Red Monk were both well played to show, but Gwen, the Owen Sound filly, secured that position easily, and was backed by her stable. Halfling secured a shade the best of the start and made the running to the stretch, where Petrolene came through, and in a driving finish secured the verdict by a head, Gwen being ten lengths back, the same distance in front of Johnny Heckscher.

Distance, ⅝ mile. Time 1.03¼.

The Maple Leaf Stakes, for three-year-old fillies, was looked upon as a sure thing for Mr. Hendrie's Melcha, and in consequence the best price obtainable was 1 to 4. She was opposed by three of the worst fillies in training, which she had little difficulty in disposing of. Galloping in front all the way, she won pulled up by eight lengths from Minorca, who beat Princess May a length for the place.

Distance, 1¼ miles. Time 2.12.

The jumping race proved a capital contest, notwithstanding that Lawyer won easily at the finish. Vicar of Wakefield and Lawyer were selected by the public as the likely ones, and were made equal favorites, the former on account of having such an artist in the saddle as Johnny Grover, and the latter on his victory of Saturday besides having the advantage of a jockey like Gus Hamilton to guide him. Somersault, too, had many admirers, and was well played, especially by the Windsor contingent. Thorncliffe had few friends, as it was his first attempt through the field, though he should have been backed for a place with such a good rider as Marn to pilot him. Hamilton was slow to move off with Lawyer, thinking it was a false start. However, before they had gone far he was in front, closely followed by Somersault, with Thorncliffe next. In this order they ran to the last jump in the field, the bank on the upper turn, where Somersault fell, allowing Lawyer to gallop home an easy winner, by twenty-five lengths from Thorncliffe, who, admirably ridden by Jimmy Mars, finished the same distance in front of The Rat. The Vicar of Wakefield appeared very sore and not able to extend himself, and as he is inclined to be sulky, this is no doubt the reason of his poor showing. Don Pedro, Burr Oak and The Signal fell, but none of the riders were hurt.

Distance, about 2 miles. Time 4.53¼.

The Waterloo Handicap, which promised to be one of the features of the meeting, dwindled down to three starters. Of the fifteen nominations only seven accepted, which doesn't speak well for Mr. Vosburg. Basso was made a red-hot favorite, 3 to 5 being the best price obtainable, and very little at that. Havoc was well thought of by his stable, and Mr. Boyle's friends went down on him, 2 to 1 being his price, while Mr. Jingle was friendless at 5's. The race resulted in a duel between Basso and Havoc. The trio ran well together for a mile, which was run very slow. Basso and Havoc then began to draw away, and fought it out to the end, the favorite winning by a neck. Mr. Jingle was beaten off and pulled up lame.

Distance 1½ miles. Time 2.45.

Eight three-year-olds faced the starter for the Woodstock Plate, which looked a very open race. Maximum was installed favorite at 2 to 1, while Beau Ideal was next in demand at three's and had the support of the talent. Johnny Walker thought that Eulalon had an excellent chance and considerable stable money went on him. Zeal, too, had a fair support, though "Ras" Burgess didn't like his filly's chances in the mud, and advised his friends accordingly. Every horse in the race with the exception of Zeal went back in the betting, Mr. Davies' filly remaining steady at 3 to 1. Mr. Beck thought his colt, Distant Shot, would win, and played him. They were sent away to an excellent start with Maximum in front. Passing the stand they ran bunched and were all going steady with the exception of Beau Ideal, whom Newmeyer had to ride to keep up. Rounding into the back stretch Distant Shot moved out and showed a clear lead of several lengths from the balance of the field, which position he maintained until into the stretch. Here Lewis made play with Eulalon, and Beau Ideal, who had closed up a lot of ground at the upper turn, came through. He, however, couldn't overhaul Eulalon, who won, ridden out, by a length from Beau Ideal, who just managed to squeeze into the place a neck in front of Distant Shot. The winner pulled up very lame, having "bowed."

Distance, 1¼ miles. Time 2.05.

The last race went to Peytonia, who won pulled up by six lengths. The Kapanga colt was made favorite, a report having been circulated that Peytonia couldn't run in the mud. Owing to this, as good as 2 to 1 could be had against the Clyde stables' representative. Laurel was well played, but ran a very disappointing race. Herman made the running to the half, where Peytonia went to the front, and keeping on won easily, the Kapanga colt finishing two lengths in front of Herman.

Distance 1⅛ miles. Time 2.05.

A Legal Tilt.

Some years ago in a suit which turned on the state of mind of a lady who had been a member of a sisterhood, the late chief justice, then Mr. Coleridge, was cross-examining a witness, who gave evidence as to the plaintiff's behavior while an inmate of the sister's home. Among other things it had been deposed that plaintiff had been guilty of a breach of discipline in eating a certain plate of strawberries.

Mr. Coleridge—Eating strawberries, really?

Witness—Yes, sir; she was eating strawberries.

Mr. Coleridge—How shocking!

Witness—It was forbidden, sir.

Mr. Coleridge—And did you madam, really consider there was any harm in that?

Witness—No, sir; not in it itself, any more than there was in eating an apple, but you know, sir, the mischief that came from that.

The court smiled and Mr. Coleridge seemed to lose the thread of his ideas for the moment.

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience, he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline, no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

THE WHEEL.

A. E. Weinig writes from Brussels to the Buffalo Express as follows:

John S. Johnson being challenged to fight a duel in Paris is probably no news to you, but I will endeavour to give a correct explanation as to the cause of this challenge by a cycle agent of Paris, a Mr. Songe by name. It is probably the most exciting incident that will present itself on our trip through the foreign countries.

On the 11th of May the excitement was at fever heat over the meeting of Jaap Eden, Morris Gongoltz and Macdonald, of America, in an international championship race at the Velodrome Le Seine. The day dawned fair, and was everything that one could ask for a race meet, and each of the men mounted his machine with a determined look in his eyes. They won their heats with ease, and when they all lined up at the tape for the final the many thousands of people arose as one, and the roar of their voices had silenced, each eager to see his favourite win. At the shot of the pistol the four started off, not as they do in America, jump for the quad, and the one that jumps the quickest wins the race, but slow and easy they moved around the track, so slow that at the first turn Macdonald's outside pedal struck the high banking, and down he came, bruising his leg frightfully on the rough cement, but he was up in an instant and, his opponents, as one dismounted, waited for him to mount his wheel to give him a show for first honours. To prevent another fall he had to go to the front and do the donkey work. At the ring of the bell, Jaap Eden jumped to the front, with Morin glued to his rear wheel, Macdonald hanging on to Morin's wheel and Gongoltz bringing up the rear. In that manner they flew around the track, Morin never being able to head Eden. So they finished Eden a yard ahead of Morin, and Macdonald six inches back of Morin, Gongoltz never leaving Macdonald's rear wheel.

Macdonald also rode in the handicap of one kilometer, but the handicap was far too great to overcome, Gongoltz being the only man to qualify from scratch. He also won the final very handily, he being the strongest handicap rider in Paris. All this ill-luck of Macdonald helped to irritate Manager Eck, for had he not had that fall he believed he would have won.

In the next heat of the handicap Antone Johnson started. Nearing the finish one of the riders, a negro, deliberately fouled Johnson's brother. After the race, while on his way to the dressing quarters, Mr. Eck walked over to the negro and censured him for fouling Antone. But the negro only laughed and pranced around, doing a great deal of talking in French. At that Mr. Eck shook his finger in his face, and the boy made a French kick at Eck. He promptly knocked him down. He got up and came at Eck, and who again caught him in such a manner as to make him measure his length on the ground, and he did not return for a repeater. But a Mr. Songe, the agent for the machine which the negro rides, was making frantic efforts to induce the crowd to lynch Eck. Johnny Johnson walked up to him and told him to hurry up and get out of the crowd, and with that made a feint at him with his fist. Songe, thinking he was hit, fell back into the crowd, and that ended the excitement for the day.

The next morning found a challenge in the French papers for John S. Johnson, he to choose his weapons, swords or pistols preferred. But Johnnie accepted promptly, offering to meet him on any moonlight night at the hour of 12 with bare fists, boxing-gloves of every day size and baseball bats. The French gentleman flunked on this proposition. As one result, the French riders who are subject to fouling hold T. W. in awe and solemnly remark that still waters run deep.

But for all misfortune, pleasure seems to seek us from all sides, as invitations come for theatre parties and rides on the boulevards, of which Paris has many that lead them all.

The next races held in Paris were at the Veledrome Buffalo, Michel being advertised to ride a match race of 50 kilometres with Clasac, but Michel refused to ride, owing to his not being in condition. He would not go up against sure defeat, and an open race of the same distance with Tom Linton and Clasac and a score of others was billed in its stead. Tinton's pacemakers refused to do any pacing unless Tinton gave them 750 francs of the 800 that were up for the first prize, providing he won it. He refused, and the race started without him, and Clasac, having it all his own way, after going a few miles, lapping his opponents at any time he pleased, the crowd lost all interest in the race. At least the public did not appreciate it in the least and showed it by throwing chairs on the track, and immediately after the race a riot occurred, and in half an hour nothing was left but the cement track, and that was covered with broken chairs and remnants of the judges' stand and fence and grand stand. This seems to be a way they have here. The police were helpless to prevent it, those present making frantic efforts to arrest a boy 12 years old, who did not mingle with the crowd.

Thus the people of Paris show how they appreciate racing that is not up to date. And it is a certainty that short distance paced races would not go in this part of the world.

During the thickest of the disturbance, about fifty of the crowd, spying Eck, set up an awful yell and made for him. He thought his day had come, but their faces turned from scowls to smiles as they neared us, and they shook our hands from all sides. They would probably be shaking them yet had not the gendarmes at that moment appeared and cleared the grounds.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE PICNIC.

The following programme of sports has been arranged to take place on the 11th of June at Jubilee, on the occasion of the Farmer's Institute picnic:

Football match and baseball match for two silver cups, presented by H. Calcutt.
100 yard foot race.
200 yard foot race.
Hop, step and jump.
Running jump.
Standing jump.
Girls' and boys' race under 15.
Three-legged race.
Farmers' 100 yard dash (open to farmers only).

The entries to these races are open to all and are free: The prizes will be valuable ones.

Manager Neil has two entries for the baseball match, viz., the Park Nine of town and the Burnley club, which won the cup presented by H. Calcutt on the 25th inst. No doubt the game will be most interesting. Other clubs wishing to enter should apply at once to Manager Neil, so as to enable him to give them ample time, as the first clubs entering have first chance on the sports list to be run off on that date.

Every man should read the advertisement of Thos. Slater on page 3 of this paper.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it gives rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active business man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it is he the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and don't be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, the President, and C. N. Hays, the General Manager, of the Grand Trunk Railway, held a conference with the Railway Committee of Kingston's City Council yesterday, when the question of removing the G. T. R. shops from Brockville and Belleville to Kingston was discussed, and dismissed for the time being.

The receipts on the Grand Trunk Railway system continue to increase under the new management. The past month has been a very favourable one and shows a decided improvement over previous years.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinching touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM.

The pains of rheumatism are removed and the disease driven from the system by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the conqueror of thousands of the severest cases.

Mrs. J. M. Monkman, Arkwright, Ont., says: I took inflammatory rheumatism in February, 1894, and doctored for it some weeks, but found I was getting worse. All my joints were swollen very much and I was not able to leave my bed, and could neither sleep nor rest. Hearing from a neighbour that she got your Burdock Blood Bitters for her daughter, who had the same disease and it cured her, I purchased a bottle, and after taking about the half of it I found myself recovering, and after continuing it for some time I recovered, but when the cold weather set in this winter I found it returning again. So I commenced to take the B. B. B. again, when I found, after taking it about a week, that all pain and swelling of the joints had disappeared, and I consider that I am entirely cured.

THE GRIM MONSTER

Reaped an Awful Harvest at Moscow.

OVER 1200 TRAMPLED TO DEATH.

Mad Struggle of Half a Million People for Free Food and Beer at the Coronation Feast—Ditches Full of Dead Bodies—A Gruesome Recital.

Moscow, May 30.—The popular fete of the coronation ceremonies, at which between 400,000 and 500,000 people were fed and indulged in all sorts of merry-making, was held to-day on the Hodynsky Plain, opposite the Petroffsky palace, and was the scene of the first fatalities that have marked the coronation festivities. This free feast, which has always been the popular feature of coronations, has hitherto been the occasion of a great deal of crowding and good-natured fighting for places on the part of the hundreds of thousands of guests of the city, but no such gathering was ever witnessed on the Hodynsky plain, which has always been the scene of the popular entertainments that have marked coronations, as that which assembled to-day. The crowds which began coming long before daylight, finally became so dense and so eager to obtain access to the free food and beer and the free amusements, that they could not be controlled. Men, women and children were thrown down and trampled upon, and either badly injured or killed, while others had their lives crushed out of them by the fearful pressure of the vast crowd. The police and military finally succeeded in scattering the multitude, so that there was no further danger, when it was found that a number of persons had been killed. The feast was held in the presence of the Czar and a distinguished company of guests who occupied seats in a large pavilion especially erected for the occasion.

Moscow, May 31.—The disaster has greatly moved the entire city and many groups gather in the streets and in doorways of houses discussing the sad affair and listening to the stories related by eye-witnesses. Some persons declare that the blame for the accident belongs to the police, who failed to arrive upon the ground sufficiently early to obtain control of the assembled crowds. Comparatively few police officers were on the Hodynsky plain at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, at about which time the disaster occurred.

There were then 200,000 persons there, but finding themselves unable to disperse the refreshments and souvenirs rapidly enough by handing them to the applicants, they threw the memorial cups and packets of food into the crowds and thus brought on the scramble which resulted so fatally. A hollow in the ground at the point where the greatest crush occurred, formed a veritable death trap for hundreds of those who had started out in the early morning anticipating a day's enjoyment. Among the bodies a few have been found whose clothing indicates that they were not of the poorest class of the population. In one heap of the dead were found the bodies of two young ladies attired in fine clothes and wearing diamond and turquoise rings.

A majority of the victims were killed in the narrow passages between the booths erected for the distribution of the gifts, into which they were driven by the pressure of the immense masses of people behind them. The struggles and screams of those thus forced into these passages as they were crushed to death against the booths or trampled upon by the surging crowd were appalling. Women and children formed by far the greater part of those who lost their lives.

The full extent of the disaster was not exaggerated in the first reports. The representative of the United Press was an eye-witness of the stampede of the great multitude of people gathered on the plain, estimated to have numbered fully 500,000, and the sight was one never to be forgotton for its horror. After the crowd had been dispersed by the police and militia, the field was strewn with the dead, who had been killed by being crushed, trampled upon or by suffocation. A great number of children were among the victims. In the wild rush of the frenzied crowd they were swept away from their parents or others having them in charge, and their puny strength availed them naught when pitted against the irresistible force of the struggling mob.

The instant they stumbled and fell life was crushed out of them. But this was also the case with many adults.

It was officially announced this morning that the total number of victims was 1138. Most of them were Moujiks, from the provinces, a poor class of people, but among the number were many of the poverty-striken residents of Moscow and villages in the neighborhood of the city. The fete was particularly for the benefit of this class of the population, and the middle classes generally held aloof from the entertainment or else visited the plain in the capacity of spectators.

The scene in the city last night and to-day has been a most painful one.

The representative of the United Press went again to the plain to-day and saw one of the effects of the mad rush. The ditches of the abandoned earthworks on the plain had been filled to the level with the bodies of those who had been driven into them by the awful pressure from behind. Here those who were not crushed to death were suffocated by the dead and dying above them. In the passage between the booths from which free food was distributed there were still lying the bodies of hundreds of the dead men, women and children, women and children predominating. Some of the corpses were frightfully distorted, and on the faces still in death there were looks of fear and horror. The sight was altogether a most gruesome one. The clothing had been torn to shreds and the bodies were in a semi-nude condition.

In some parts of the plain the ground looks as though it had been newly ploughed. This is where it was torn up by the heavy wooden shoes of the peasants in their wild excitement.

So great has been the rush of visitors at the hospitals to-day in search of missing relatives and friends that the work of the doctors and physicians was seriously interrupted. This afternoon, therefore, the authorities gave orders for the transfer of the unclaimed bodies to the Volankoffsky Cemetery, where they will remain for a time to enable them to be identified if possible.

The feeling of the Moujiks was very bitter against the authorities, whom they held had not taken sufficient precautions to guard against an affair such as occurred. As a matter of fact, however, the authorities are nowise to blame. It was impossible for them to foresee that such a great multitude would be present at such an early hour, but at any rate the precautionary measures adopted would have been sufficient had the people not become so frenzied. After the disaster the large force of military and police had the greatest difficulty in restoring even a semblance of order. The Czar's promise to help the bereaved families was coupled with the published expression of his intense grief and deep sympathy has allayed the bitter feeling, and the people are warmly grateful to him for his action.

His Majesty has ordered that the sum of 1,000 roubles be paid to each family that has lost a member through the catastrophe. In addition, the State will pay the expenses of burial of the dead, while the physicians at the hospitals and elsewhere have been instructed to spare nothing to alleviate the sufferings of the injured.

Although the official report places the number at 1138, it is highly probable that the exact number of victims will never be known. The vice-mayor reckons 1336 persons were killed and 286 seriously, perhaps fatally injured. The official accounts, however, do not include many dead and injured who were removed by friends. It would not be surprising if the number of deaths wer largely in excess of the official figures.

Thirty bodies wer found to-day in an old disused well in the middle of the plain. The well had been covered with planks, which had collapsed when the crowd passed over them. Some of the victims had in their hands, clutched with a death clasp, the memorial cups which had been presented to them at the booths before the rush began.

Among the bodies in the well were two living persons, who had been made insane by the horror of their position. Their ravings, when rescued, were terrible to hear.

Great efforts were made throughout the day to clear the plain, but late this afternoon it was still littered with fragments of clothing, boots, victuals and human hair. In some places, where the crush was greatest, the ground was soaked with the blood of those whose life had been trodden out. Large crowds of people, many attracted by morbid curiosity, were hovering about the field all day.

The statement that the disaster would bring the coronation ceremonies to a close has not the slightest basis in truth. The functions have not been stopped. A ball was given at the French Embassy last evening. It was attended by the members of the Imperial family, the foreign princes, diplomats and the highest Russian and visiting aristocracy. The function was one of the most brilliant that have taken place in connection with the coronation ceremonies.

Chief of Police Attempts Suicide.

London, May 31.—The Daily news will to-morrow publish a despatch from Moscow saying that the chief of police is reported to be in utter despair over the terrible catastrophe, and that he has attempted to commit suicide. The despatch adds that many of the attendants at the booths are among the dead.

It further says that the great ball given by the French Ambassador was, owing to political reasons, nit cancelled. It was also determined that it should be held lest the disaster be supposed to have been even greater than it actually was.

Inflammatory Rheumatism.

Mr. S. Ackerman, commercial traveller, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for inflammatory rheumatism and three bottles effected a complete cure. I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now on the road and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since.

"We are, I believe, at one with respect to the tariff. I think, with you, that the introduction of the protective system was a mistake on the part of our people. So, you, like myself, are a Reformer and not a revolutionist, and you recognise the necessity of legislation on the tariff being gradual and cautious. Adopting that policy, I am glad that you see your way meantime to changes which will be a relief to our farmers and at the same time will not injuriously affect but rather benefit manufacturers and their workmen. A Government owes a duty to all classes of the people."—SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

SUCCOR THE LIVING

Rather Than Continue Searching for the Dead.

THE UNDERTAKERS OVERWORKED.

On Saturday 123 of the Cyclone Victims Were Interred at St. Louis—Fifty-One More on Sunday—Alarming Situation at East St. Louis.

St. Louis, May 31.—One hundred and twenty-eight victims of Wednesday's horror were laid to rest yesterday in the cemeteries of this city and East St. Louis. The total of interments would have been larger, but for the fact that the facilities of the undertaking establishments were inadequate to the sudden and pressing requirements of the situation. At the graves the religious services were abbreviated and addresses of eulogy or condolence were dispensed with. The interments in this city were divided between Calvary, Bellefontaine, St. Peter and St. Paul, Pickett and Hebrew cemeteries, the first two named receiving the greatest numbers.

Three of the principal real estate dealers in the city stated to a United Press representative to-night that they figured that the actual real estate loss in St. Louis would not exceed $10,000,000. The damage to household property, etc., will, however, swell this amount nearly $2,000,000 more. Up to 9 o'clock last night the various relief committees report that $151,000 had been subscribed toward the fund for alleviating the distress of the tornado victims in St. Louis.

The condition of affairs in East St. Louis is growing alarming. The residents of that territory located near the river, known locally as the "island," are facing starvation. There is little to eat and no money with which to procure it. There is only one store in that section that was not totally destroyed by the storm. Rye bread and cheese are the only things on sale. Bread is 12 and 15 cents a loaf. No more bodies were taken from the "Island" during the past 24 hours, and the work of searching for the supposed dead in the ruins has been practically suspended on account of much more urgent need of relieving the sufferings of the injured, feeding the hungry and affording shelter to the homeless.

The City Clerk at East St. Louis furnished the United Press with the following estimate of the fatalities in that city: Identified dead 133, unknown dead 36, fatally injured 25.

St. Louis, May 31.—The main thoroughfare of Bellfontaine and Calvary cemeteries were covered to-day with a continuous stream of carriages following the victims of the tornado to their last resting places. The appearance of the hearses in the sad procession alone punctuated the points where one funeral party ended and another began. Fifty-one of the victims were buried to-day in this city and 39 in East St. Louis.

Three patients died in St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis to-day.

All the railroads have placed on sale "tornado rate" tickets at all points within a radius of 250 miles of St. Louis, and to-day there are 50,000 strangers here viewing the ruins.

LONDON'S GREAT POPULATION.

Counting the Suburbs There are Housed Together 6,300,000 Souls.

New York, May 31.—A London special says: London's census, taken last March, turns out to involve a certain amount of disappointment. It seems that the ratio of increase during the decade of 1881 to 1891 has not been quite maintained in the subsequent five years. The discrepancy between estimate and reality for the latter period is 14,500. The truth is, however, that London is now overflowing at a greater rate than ever into the outer ring of suburbs, which are not yet counted as part of the metropolis for County Council purposes. If the whole urban district under the control of the Metropolitan Police Administration were considered, the population of London would be now about 6,300,000.

AGAIN IT IS ST. LOUIS

A Panic in an Electric Car Owing to a Broken Wire Causes Death

St. Louis, May 31.—One person was killed, one fatally injured and two were seriously injured yesterday afternoon in a panic on an electric car on the Carondolet line. The trolley wire broke and fell on the car, frightening the passengers, who rushed out. Miss Veronica Pavelock, 17 years old, came in contact with the wire and was instantly killed; Miss Lillie Cloquette, 17 years old, sustained a compound fracture of the skull and will die. Miss Blanche Cloquette, her sister, received a scalp wound, and Oswald Vatt, a butcher, has his right shoulder dislocated.

Lost His Arm.

Midland, May 30.—John MacVisey, aged 15, a bright office boy in the telegraph office here, jumped on a freight car that was being shunted in the depot yard this morning, intending to ride down near to Playfair's office to deliver a message. He fell off and the wheels passed over his left arm. The arm was amputated this afternoon.

ENOUGH MONEY THREE TIMES OVER.

THE EXAMINER has ventured the opinion on more than one occasion that enough money had been squandered by the Government, or stolen through the indifference or connivance of the Government, to have built the Trent Valley canal from end to end. As this may seem an extravagant statement, a few figures in support of it will disclose whether or not their claim is well founded. Let us first mention the amounts that have been stolen in connection with several public works:—

Then we have had squandered on

Revision of Voters' Lists	$1,000,000
Bringing in immigrants, a large proportion of whom have gone to the United States	2,000,000
The Fredericton Bridge	286,000
	$3,286,000

Here we have nearly ten million dollars, more than half of which was boodled, and the rest wasted; enough to build the Trent Valley Canal twice over. Then if was added to this the sum of $2,046,147, which was used in the eight years from 1888 to 1895 inclusive, to subsidize party newspapers, and also the sum of $937,000 paid out in legal expenses, we have a grand total of over twelve million dollars, the vast majority of which was corruptly diverted from public uses, or flagrantly mis-spent, enough to build the Trent Valley Canal three times, and yet after fifteen years agitation and promises we have only fairly begun the work, and if past precedent is followed the present work under construction will comprise the extent of operations till the date of another general election. But the prospects are that the Trent Valley Canal will not be in the hands of the present Government after June 23rd. It will be in charge of a Liberal Government that will conduct the work on business principles.

GOOD REASON FOR WORRYING.

The Gazette is worrying over the number of constituencies in Ontario in which the Liberals are supporting Patron candidates; and, remarks the Montreal Herald, well it may. This action of the Liberals means that most of those counties represented in the last Parliament by Conservatives will return opponents to the Tupper coercion government. It is one of the most encouraging signs of the campaign in Ontario, that in many constituencies the Liberals and Patrons, whose platforms are almost identical, are combining for the defeat of coercionist and corruptionist candidates. Nor have the Liberals been abandoning any distinctly Liberal counties to the Patrons. In 1891 the Liberals carried 44 seats in Ontario, and as yet, in only one of these have the Liberals retired their candidate in favour of a Patron. Therefore it is the Conservative party that will suffer by these conditions as the Gazette appears to understand. We can inform our contemporary that the probabilities are that the Liberals will carry at least fifty seats in Ontario this time and a good share of the remaining counties will elect opponents to the Tupper Government.

WHY is corn brought free into Canada to make whiskey and taxed when farmers want it for feeding purposes? The time is ripe for a change.

SENATOR SCOTT, the leading Roman Catholic in the senate, says that no coercive measure will ever help the Catholics of Manitoba, or settle the question. Laurier's policy of conciliation will prevail, Senator Scott says, while Tupper's bulldosing failed last session, and would fail every other session it was tried.

THE Ottawa Journal, Independent Conservative, in an article on the tariff question, says very justly:—"Fear of any sudden disturbance of industry on a large scale by Liberal tariff reform may be safely dismissed by voters who desire to weigh impartially and fearlessly the other points of the political situation."

THE Conservatives have the grace to be ashamed of fighting among themselves at their conventions and meetings as shown by their trying to put the blame upon the Liberals. There are enough family ructions in the party itself without any outside assistance. Importing disturbance from outside into the ordinary Conservative gathering is carrying coals to Newcastle.

THE reason why so little is now said about the deficits during the Liberal regime, says the Toronto Globe, may be found in the following list of deficits that have occurred under the Tory auspices:—1879, $1,937,999; 1880, $1,543,227; 1885, $2,340,058; 1886, $5,834,571; 1886, $810,031; 1894, $1,210,332; 1895, $4,000,000; total, $17,676,218.

AT Huntingdon on Wednesday, Mr. Laurier said that it was not surprising that Sir Charles Tupper should assert that Canada was prosperous. According to Sir Charles' argument, said Mr. Laurier, a country in which a man could make a million in the practice of the medical profession was necessarily a prosperous one. The Liberal leader is not only a statesman, but a wit.

WHERE are all of the millions of British capital, which we were assured five or six years ago was to pour into Canada if the country only again endorsed the "N. P.?" The people by the help of the gerrymander and wholesale bribery by public works and otherwise, did endorse the policy of the government, but the British capital is conspicuous by its absence. Another exploded fake and Tupper promise. Sir Charles Tupper's promises are not to be depended upon.

CHEESE A LUXURY.

Commercial Gazette.

It would seem that the future of Canadian cheese is not so glowing as formerly. We are told by cheese men who have studied the complexion of the English market as it stands to-day, that the working classes there are neglecting cheese as a staple food in favour of meat, which arrives in large enough volume from Australia to bring the price down to a point where the workingman can buy. All things equal, it has long been recognized that the English working classes prefer meat to cheese; nowadays it is evident that they prefer meat even at higher prices. This is due, of course, largely to the fact that the English masses for a year past have been fairly prosperous, and able to afford luxuries out of proportion to their condition say three years ago. It is not unlikely, moreover, to continue to be the case in view of such prosperity as we know to be the rule across the water to-day, and which promises continuance anywhere from two to ten years in the future.

We are told that the English consumer is gravitating quickly to regard cheese as a luxury. It will be apparent then that the law of supply and demand must before very long come up for consideration, and cheese manufacture on this side undergo some change to conform with the changing state of its chief outlet up to this time.

For years Canada has enjoyed distinction for the high quality of its cheese, and earnest attention has been given to let quality be the sole guidance of Canadian producers. There can be no fault found with the gospel of quality, but it is plain that high quality cheese requires high expense in the making, and if this be not reflected in paying prices obtainable there looks to be more glory in cheese than money.

With "cheese a luxury" the English market is far harder to retain; for good as Canadian cheese may be, the competition in high class cheese becomes very keen when the admittedly fine product of Denmark and of the shires of England itself takes issue for preference.

There is room for opinion whether Canada as a whole is doing itself the best good in putting costly cheese solely upon the English market to meet the competition of chilled meat as a staple article of food. To us it resolves itself into this:—If cheese is really becoming a luxury in England, and losing its ground as a staple, there is a limit to consumption, and Canadian producers are likely to know this more disastrously than anyone else, since their chief hope, and it may be said their only hope, is in the survival of the English market, not alone to absorb an average yield, but an ever increasing yield yearly.

Up to date there has been little encouragement in cable, as to the healthy position of the English market for new cheese. There has been disappointment in the venture to enter more largely on dairying in the early part of the year and so avoid the manufacture of fodder cheese. It remains to be seen what effect the large shipments of cheese lately made to the United Kingdom will have upon the cheese industry before the summer is through. We are strongly of the opinion, and we regret its pessimism, that the future of Canadian cheese is not so glittering as it used to be, and it would not surprise us if much money was lost this season, and "carry-over" stocks at at the end of 1896 seriously depressing. The remedy is in conservatism of expense of both manufacture and handling, and as economical laying down on the English market as can be managed.

CONSERVATISM DISGRACED.

(Bobcaygeon Independent.)

The Conservative party stands in British history as the party of gentlemen. Whatever may have been the mistakes, the faults, and the failings, and they have been many, of the Conservative party, it has throughout been distinguished for its purity of principle and its deep sense of honour. This journal is not attached by even the slightest tie to either party, and is so far in advance of both that its distance from each is about the same, but whilst its sympathies are with Liberalism it with pleasure admits that it has a strong feeling of respect for Conservatism, the distinguished features of which are honour and high principle. It is therefore, with sincere regret and genuine sorrow that it finds the Conservative party in Canada recreant to its principles, and associated with dishonour. Tupper as a leader of the Conservative party is a terrible blow to its reputation. Tupper is the type of everything that is unprincipled, dishonest, and dishonourable, and for such a man to be selected by the Conservatives as their leader is a disgrace which should not be permitted. This journal earnestly entreats the Conservative party of Ontario to rid itself of Tupper, and preserve its fame for honour insulted by such a disgraceful association. That Conservatism lamentably lags behind in the march of progress, and is deplorably dull in comprehension of the new conditions which prevail, this journal laggard and dull, Conservatism is entitled holds to be obvious truths, but, though to respect as the representative of the chivalry of the past, of the gentlemanly instincts of the present, and of those sacred principles of honour which ever remain the same whether in the past, the present, or the future, for these are eternal. That respect entirely ceases when Conservatism associates himself with such a disgraceful record as Tupper, a man whose disregard for truth is so notorious that he is popularly alluded to as the Great Stretcher, the word stretcher being used to represent another word of the most insulting character expressive of falsehood. Again this journal urges the Conservatives to clear themselves of their disgraceful connections at Ottawa. For Conservatism to be branded with dishonour is cause for regret to every man, no matter what his political opinions, and this journal entreats the respectable Conservatives, and there are many thousands such in Ontario, to purify the party from the shame and disgrace with which it is now associated. The wretched aggregation at Ottawa must be cast out, and new and upright men placed in charge of the party interests. Respectable Conservatives should insist upon their candidates being pledged to oppose the Remedial Legislation. Let there be a sufficient number pledged, and the Tupper gang would be forced to retire before the House meets, and give place to men of clean and honourable record, who will restore the party to its traditional position.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind in some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of vital or nerve force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer and a disordered digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any other preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine posses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power most needed, while just as efficacious does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

HOW

THE SUN LIFE

FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 19.8 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

SOME GRAND RACING

On the Closing Day of the O. J. C. Meeting.

FAVORITES UNDER THE WIRE FIRST.

Seagram Captured Two, While D. A. Boyle's Havoc Won an Easy Victory—Lord Nelson Took the Closing Event in Fast Time—The Winners.

Toronto, June 1.

The Ontario Jockey Club meeting was brought to a close at Woodbine Park on Saturday afternoon under the most favorable auspices. The weather was perfect during the greater part of the afternoon, and one of the largest crowds of the meeting was present to witness the final strides. Though threatening clouds overhung the track towards the close, rain held off until the people were well on their way home, so that the most successful turf gathering in the history of the club ended as it began. The track was in excellent condition and the fastest during the week, while Starter Fitzpatrick's work was, as it has been all through the meeting, most satisfactory, and it is hoped he will be seen here at the post again on future occasions. As four of the favorites won, the public were fairly well pleased and many of the regulars were able to secure a getaway stake.

Mr. Seagram started off by winning the first race in easy fashion with Halifing, against whom the books laid the astonishing good price of 3 to 5. Crimea, Beau Ideal and the Kapanga colt were all well played for the place. The last named was quickest away, but soon gave place to the favorite, who galloped home an easy winner. The brother to Kingston, under McGlone's whip, swerved badly in the stretch and lost what chance he had of securing the place honors, which went to Crimea, who beat Beau Ideal handily at the finish.

Maud Lyles was looked upon as a "good thing" for the two-year-old race, in which she was opposed by Edna D, Muffin and Bird of Freedom. Edna D shot to the front at flag fall and looked all over a winner on entering the stretch, but the favorite came fast and finally won as she pleased, Edna D beating the Higgins pair in the same manner for the place.

But three, Havoc, W. B. and Peytonia, put in an appearance for the Violet Handicap, Mr. Boyle's horse having the most support, though Peytonia had quite a following, W. B. being friendless. W. B. made the running for half the journey, when Havoc took command, finally winning easily by two lengths, W. B. being the same distance in front of Peytonia.

The Steeplechase, which promised to furnish one of the best jumping races at the meeting, was marred by the accident to the favorite, Lawyer. As Lion Heart had to take up the same weight as Red Pat, 162 pounds, giving 20 pounds to Lawyer, his stable companion, Lion Heart was scratched, and Lawyer sent to oppose Mr. Dawes' crack. With the difference of weight and on his previous races Lawyer was made an odds-on favorite, while as good as 3 to 1 could be had against Red Pat. On account of Vicar of Wakefield's poor showing in his last race, his owner decided to withdraw him and start Eppleworth, who was thought by his stable to have a good chance. Bob Neely and Campayne were the outsiders. Lawyer showed the way over all the jumps, closely followed by Red Pat, until the Club House bank was reached, where the favorite came to grief, giving his rider, Gus Hamilton, a nasty fall and breaking his collarbone. For the remainder of the journey the race proved uninteresting, as Red Pat had no opposition, and finally won by an eighth of a mile, Campayne being second. Eppleworth fell at the water jump, but was remounted and finished third. Bob Neely came to grief at the stone wall the second time.

The Dominion Handicap was thought to be a cinch for Mr. Hendrie's filly Melcha on her past victories, but Springal and Long Bend were both well supported, and many who had followed the Seagram stable throughout managed to get even, as 7 to 1 could be had against the Waterloo representatives. Melcha made the running for nearly half the distance, when Long Bend showed in front, closely followed by Springal, the filly having shot her bolt. When well straightened out for home Lewis moved up with Springal and, coming away from Long Bend, won handily by two lengths, Long Bend being three in front of Dictator. Melcha was beaten off.

Mr. Boyle closed the meeting as he opened it, with a victory, Lord Nelson capturing the Consolation race. There were eight starters, and as it was a mile, the start was made in front of the stand, with the barrier, so that every person had a good opportunity of seeing it work. It proved a decided success, as the send-off was a beautiful one, and made without much delay. Lord Nelson was an odds-on favorite, and won handily by a length from Crimea, who made her second appearance during the afternoon. The favorite was heavily backed by the big bettors, so that the books received quite a crimp.

Then follow McGlone with 6.3 and 1; Blake, 6, 2 and 3; Flint, 4, 1 and 4; Hamilton, 3 firsts; Ballard, 1, 6 and 2. Other winners were Mr. Carruthers, Mr. Loudon, Mr. Crean, Mr. Doane, Dunlap, McManus, Newmeyer, Paget and Ross.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Hamilton, May 31.—Manager Richardson will have to do some releasing if he wishes to be up in front in the finish of the Canadian Baseball League, for his team again lost to London by 9 to 8. There was a big turnout and good ball was played till the ninth innings, when London scored five runs after two men were out. Pierce, in left field, muffed a fly, and then the visitors piled up five runs. The teams were:

Hamilton: Pierce, l.f.; Pfenniger, 3b.; Ripley, c.f.; Baker, c.; Dean, p.; Chambers, s.s.; Morrison, 1b.; Stoneman, 2b.; Pfeiffer, r.f.

Josias Moore, of Bancroft, Ont., one of the oldest and best-known residents of Hastings County, can boast of wonderful health and vigor for his age.

"Although I am over 84 years of age," he says, "I feel as young as ever I did."

Mr. Moore, however had a narrow escape from death about a year ago. "I was so bad with indigestion," he writes, "that the doctors gave me up. I tried various alleged remedies but found them no good. One day our popular druggist, F. C. Humphries, sent me a sample of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to try. The result was marvellous. After taking two I was able to get up. Then I sent for a box. I could soon eat anything. In a short time I was able to walk two miles to Bancroft and back, with ease."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will, without fail, cure all kidney, liver, stomach and blood troubles. For sale by all dealers. Price 25 cents. One pill a dose; one cent a dose. Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto.

Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is the latest discovery for coughs asthma and consumption. It is pleasant, quick and certain. 25 cents.

How's This for Hailstones?

Reno, Nev., May 31.—The heaviest rain and hailstorm in years visited Reno yesterday. Hailstones three inches in diameter fell, and hardly a whole skylight in the city remains. The Truckee River is at the highest point known in 15 years, and the Truckee meadows about Glendale are under water. Vegetation has been considerably damaged. Three men were drowned in Prosser Creek.

A Question.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course, by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. NOT A QUESTION OF CHOICE, BUT A QUESTION OF MUST!

The public understand our position. To retire from Business we MUST dispose of our stock. We would rather sacrifice every dollar's worth than delay the object we have in view.

We MUST either sell out at cost by retail or close out en bloc to one purchaser. Rain or shine, the goods MUST go.

During the past three weeks of this sale we have cleared out great quantities of beautiful Dry Goods and Millinery, but

Sales Must be Increased

for the next three weeks. It is true we are offering an exceptionally fine class of Goods, in which the styles are the newest in vogue. It is true we are giving higher advantages than those struggling to remain in business by reducing prices on a few lines of "old shop-keepers"—but

Prices Must go Still Lower

And sales loaded down with greater goodness. Nothing will be offered at regular prices—nothing will be offered that we cannot sincerely recommend. There are so many rare values we can't quote prices. Of course, we don't have to meet prices—we make them, and let others do the meeting, if they can.

BICYCLISTS GO TO LINDSAY.

Fourteen Peterborough Bicyclists Enjoy A Pleasant Run.

Lindsay was flooded with Peterborough bicyclists yesterday, fourteen riders from town wheeling over during the day in three different parties. The first contingent reached Lindsay in time for breakfast at 9.30, while the other two parties partook of that meal with Mr. Jack Cumming, at Omemee. The Falcon brigade was the last to leave Peterborough and just reached Lindsay in time for dinner. One of this party of five, who by the way was not mounted on a Falcon at the start, although he completed the journey on one, met with a serious of mishaps on the road.

The first accident occurred just at Fowler's Corners, being a puncture. Whilst repairs were in progress the farrier's wife brought out a pitcher of foaming new milk, which proved most refreshing, inasmuch as the wheelmen had not as yet broken their fast. When about four miles this side of Omemee, while the same rider was scorching down a hill his rear tire suddenly slipped off, and the inner tube dropping out was wound tightly around the axle, and after swelling up like a baloon, suddenly burst, precipitating the rider into the ditch. An examination showed that the tube was damaged beyond the possibility of repair. Here certainly was a dilemma, but as will be seen, it was not entirely beyond remedying. The machine was taken apart. Two riders took a wheel apiece, a third carried the frame, and on the shoulder of the fourth the luckless victim of the accident perched himself. In this way the party moved on toward Omemee, but relief proved near at hand, and the useless wheel was soon snugly stored away in a wagon and and on its way back to Peterborough. As there was a coffin with an inmate in it also in the wagon, the mountless wheelman decided to stay with the other boys rather than ride into town with the silent passenger.

It is understood that the sight of the well-known wheel being brought back into town in the same rig with a coffin gave some of this young rider's friends quite a "turn" as they feared that their prophecy of his being killed, sooner or later, had been fulfilled.

The party now pushed on rapidly to Omemee and obtained a Falcon from the agent there for the use of the mountless rider and after partaking of breakfast at about 10.30, Lindsay was easily reached by noon, where the entire party of fourteen riders all registered at the Benson.

In the afternoon a portion of the party started for home at about two, but those who were in no hurry to return waited over until evening when a most pleasant trip back to Peterborough was enjoyed. Omemee was reached just at dusk and as the roads between that village and Peterborough are in splendid condition, they were easy to navigate after nightfall.

THE BRIDGENORTH FIRE.

Destruction of Mr. W. B. Kelly's Stables and Storehouse on Saturday.

At the sounding of the fire alarm on Saturday afternoon at about 3.30, the report quickly spread through the town that Kelly's sawmills, on Mud Lake, at Bridgenorth were on fire.

An appeal for aid over the telephone caused the fire engine to be whirled out the Chemong road with as little delay as possible. Drawn by two teams it was soon on the scene of the conflagration, when it was seen that it was not the mills but Mr. Kell's stables and storehouse, near his residence, which were in flames.

Although it was too late to save the buildings already on fire, still the flames were prevented from spreading to another storehouse about forty feet nearer the road.

The buildings mentioned, as having been on fire on the arrival of the firemen were entirely consumed and Mr. Kelly estimates his loss on them to be in the neighbourhood of six or seven hundred dollars. Several sets of harness, which were in the stable, were destroyed.

The whole property is insured through Messrs. Cox & Davis, and, therefore, Mr. Kelly's personal loss will not be very large.

The engine, by Mr. Kelly's request, was left at Bridgenorth, to be returned by his own teams, and before the firemen departed he expressed to them his appreciation of their prompt response to his appeal for aid.

ACCIDENT TO A BICYCLIST.

Mr. John Billington Badly Sprains His Ankle.

Whilst returning from Lakefield on Saturday Mr. John Billington, bookkeeper for the Peter Hamilton Mfg. Co., was thrown from his wheel and severely sprained his ankle. Fortunately Messrs. Victor McWilliams and Sam Adams came driving along a moment after the accident and after Mr. Billington had lain down for a while in Whalen's Hotel, Mr. McWilliams drove him home and Mr. Adams mounted the bike and brought it in to Peterborough.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH NOTES.

Rev. J. C. Davidson preached in St. Luke's church last night and the rector conducted services at St. Mark's, Otonabee, and Allandale.

Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., conducted services at Havelock yesterday in the absence of Rev. Mr. Tarrant.

In referring to the dedication service of the memorial to the late Robert Hamilton yesterday morning the rector said that most members of the congregation would remember the deep interest which he took in St. Luke's church, and as a citizen his memory deserved to be cherished by the congregation of St. Luke's. The service will be on Friday evening next. The choir will render special music and the sermon will be preached by the rector and the Archdeacon of Peterborough will also give a short address. The public generally is cordially invited to be present.

We can guarantee the same satisfaction that our flours have always given, as we are having them made from our own blends of wheat and under our personal supervision. Orders will be taken as usual at our down town office, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. Telephone No. 113. MELDRUM & MCALLISTER, Millers.

To-Night.

Ed. J. Rush's great spectacular production, "The White Crook," will be presented at the opera house to-night. This company comes highly recommended, having received flattering press notices wherever they have appeared. The local manager received a letter from the manager of the Grand Opera House, Chatham, who says this is the best burlesque company that has ever appeared in his house, giving a good satisfactory performance. Prices, 50, 35 and 25c.

UNFAIR REPORTS.

The reports printed in the Review of the speeches made by Liberals in the campaign in West Peterborough are most misleading and unfair. We do not expect fair play in political matters from the Review, but certainly there should be some attempt at approximating the truth. The reports referred to must be a concoction of some person whose bias is to strong to be served by telling something like the truth. An honest man is bound by what he does say and with the average speaker that is responsibility enough, but to put words in his mouth, in a report that he never uttered is shameless beyond expression of words. The report of the Middleton school house meeting is outrageously unfair and mendacious. Mr. Roger did not use any language like the statements attributed him by the Review report.

MR. LANG'S HARVEY MEETINGS.

Large and Enthusiastic Gatherings—Addresses by Mr. Lang, Mr. Stratton, Mr. Dennistoun and Mr. Fairbairn

On Friday and Saturday Mr. John Lang, the Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, addressed meetings in Harvey.

On Friday evening the meeting was held at the Town Hall. There was a good attendance, and the meeting was very strongly in Mr. Lang's favour. At this meeting Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared on behalf of Mr. Burnham.

On Saturday Mr. Lang addressed two meetings—one in the afternoon at Taylor's school house, and in the evening at Ventriss' school house. At this meeting Mr. Charles Fairbairn, ex-M.P., South Victoria, spoke on behalf of Mr. Burnham.

Mr. Lang was accompanied on these occasions by Mr. Stratton, who also gave addresses at all these meetings, at which the public questions of the day were well discussed.

The indications are that Mr. Lang will be very heartily supported in Harvey, and that he will do even better than on the occasion of his previous election.

A HANDSOME JEWEL.

Mr. Robert Weir Receives a Recognition of His Services to the Grand Black Chapter.

Mr. Robert Weir was presented with a most handsome jewel on May 25th at Collingwood on the occasion of the meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge in that town.

The gift is now on exhibition in W. A. Sanderson's window and has been greatly admired. Across the top of the badge is a bar of gold, with the letters P.G.M.B.A. upon it. Beneath is a large gold star and under this is another smaller gold bar bearing the date 1893-5, and suspended from it by a chain is a large gold medal surrounded by a wreath of maple leaves and surmounted by a Canadian beaver. A third bar of gold is attached to the lower part of the medal by two chains with the word "Grand Master" standing out upon it. Suspended from the bar is a gold cross inlaid with crimson enamel.

Around one side of the huge medal runs the inscription "Grand Black Chapter" in black letters. A triangle in the centre is studded with precious stones surrounding the skull and cross bones. On the reverse side of the medal is the inscription:—"Presented to M. W. Sir Robert Weir by the Grand Black Chapter of British America in recognition of the many valuable services rendered the institution."

COUNTY ORANGEMEN IN COUNCIL.

A Hearty Reception to be Tendered Hon. N. Clarke Wallace—A Meeting on Saturday Night to Make Arrangements.

At a meeting of the County Orange Lodge, held on Saturday evening, it was decided by the members, that Hon. Clarke Wallace, M. W. Grand Master of the Orange Order, of British North America, should be accorded a fitting reception on the occasion of his visit to Peterborough, on Thursday. During the consideration of the matter, it is understood that some of the members favoured and some opposed such a reception, but it was finally decided that the distinguished official should be received in his capacity of Grand Master and not as the supporter or advocate of any party.

The Orangeman of the county and town will therefore carry out the decision of the County Lodge, and it is probable that M. W. Grand Master Wallace will receive a reception worthy of the dignity of his office.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 18.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reamy, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

We start off the First Week of our Big Annual June Clearing Sale with the positive announcement of a Sweeping Reduction on the whole of our $30,000 stock of Fashionable Dress Goods, Seasonable Dry Goods, and Elegant Millinery, Jackets and Capes. We intend that

JUNE SHALL BLOOM WITH BARGAINS.

Cost to import and produce will play no part in our Reduced Prices. They are fixed for selling—not because we want to destroy values altogether, but because we always have, always will, and MUST NOW dispose of the great bulk of our Summer Stocks before July.

Wise folks will buy largely now for the future. No scanty or trivial lots only laid out for this occasion—but actually the entire stock. Great lots of seasonable New Goods at Retail below the wholesaler's cost.

R. H. KELLS & Co

365 George Street, Peterborough.

COME EVERY DAY

And you'll find special attractions every time you visit the store, with the verdict unanimously in your favour, without costs. Every day our June Sale will be Red-Letter days for June buyers.

A NEW SYSTEM

Along with this June Sale we inaugurate a new system of Registering Sales. At considerable outlay we have brought into requisition two complete self-adding National Cash Registers, so perfect in mechanism that they systematize into divisions all the transactions which occur between clerk and customer. They register who makes the sale, the date of sale, number of sale, whether for cash or credit, amount of cash received and cash paid out, the amount of sales made by each salesman, adds the amounts together, and keep a complete register of the total sales of the day. In fact, these wonderful machines do everything but talk.

They also print and issue with each sale a small check ticket to be given to each and every purchaser. Customers keep these tickets until they amount to $10, in exchange for which we give free a pair of Ventilated Summer Corsets, or a pair of our best quality Silk Gloves, or any other goods of equal value.

BASEBALL.

The first game of ball of the season took place on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Saturday afternoon when the Park Nine and the Auburns played a match which was replete with brilliant points and which worked up quite an interest amongst the several hundred spectators who were present.

Both sides were retired without making a run the first innings. In the next the Park Nine scored after blanking the Auburns. The Auburns then made a couple of runs, and in their half of the third innings the Park Nine tied the score.

Up to the last half of the seventh innings the game was most evenly contested and the errors were few and far between, but at this point the Auburns went all to pieces for a time and allowed their opponents to score 11 runs. The Park Nine then played a trifle loosely and the Auburns scored five, the game finally winding up with the score standing 19—10, in favour of the Park Nine.

Connors pitched a very strong game and was splendidly supported in the field.

For the Auburns Weatherhead also did well in the box, but his support was not equal to that which the Park Nine gave their pitcher. The score was as follows:

Park Nine.	R.	H.	E.	Auburns.	R	H.	E.
Cassidy, 2 b	3	3	0	McWilliams, rf.	0	1	1
Graham, c	3	2	1	Menzies, 3b	1	0	2

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

A VIGOUROUS REJOINDER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I saw an article in your paper of May 26th, headed "Got Badly Mixed," which must have been written by a non-resident of Ashburnham, as he uses the phrase, "came over town and celebrated the day in such a manner as to return home in a rather befuddled state."

Now, Mr. Editor and readers of your paper, the statements made in that article are false from beginning to end. If the day was spent in revelling and drunkenness, as the writer insinuates, then I must have done the ploughing by night, and I do not own a team, as he states, for I have no need of one. Next, the writer accuses me of returning home in "a rather befuddled state," which I can prove is false. I have resided in Peterborough and Ashburnham for over twenty years and no man has ever seen me in such a state, as the writer well knows. I wonder how a correspondent dare take upon himself to write such false statements as he has done in the article of the 26th. The writer accuses me of going into his potato patch and ploughing up potatoes, which is false. The ploughing referred to was done early in the afternoon, and all done on my own lot, at the time he accuses me of revelling and drinking over town. Now, Mr. Editor and readers of THE EXAMINER, if you had seen the injured party, as he claims he is, and heard the foul oaths and seen the fearful contortions of a human being, you would have put him down for a gorilla or a bear robbed of her whelps. As the injured party, as he claims he is, not being able to write an article to a paper, I will caution your correspondent to be careful and not throw out any more false insinuations in the way he has done in the article of the 26th.

THE GOLD FIELDS OF THE WEST

Are now attracting the attention of the whole world, and the results of placer and quartz mining are fully equal to the finds of nuggets in the early California days.

Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Washington and British Columbia vie with each other as to the extraordinary inducements offered to prospectors, practical miners and inventors.

By spring the gold fever will have taken possession of thousands of people, and the Western roads will have all they can do to transport the fortune hunters.

LANSDOWNE LODGE AT PUBLIC WORSHIP.

SONS OF ENGLAND AT THE GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

A Fine Turn Out—Rev. W. R. Young's Cordial Welcome—His Appropriate Sermon.

Yesterday afternoon the members of Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England, headed by their own band, marched up George street to the George street Methodist church, where the Rev. W. R. Young preached an excellent sermon to them.

They made a most creditable appearance, and the sidewalks were lined with citizens all along the line of march. When they arrived at the church there was a fair congregation awaiting their coming.

Mr. Young said he had been privileged to address nearly all of the societies in town, and to none could he extend a more cordial greeting of welcome than to these Sons and Daughters of England. He took for the text of his discourse, the words:—"And because he loved thy fathers, therefore he chose their seed after them, and brought thee out in his sight, with his mighty power out of Egypt; thou shalt keep therefore his statutes and his commandments which I command thee this day." Deut. iv., 37 and 40.

"Of all the great names in human history," said the speaker, "the name of Moses is the greatest." As an historian he stands in the front rank. He, long centuries since, gave us the history which science ever since has been striving to read in every crevice and nook, the history of creation. As a legislator, he was the Prime Minister by whom God communicated to man that compendium of law which is the true basis of all law to-day—the Ten Commandments. As a conqueror he

of a Pharaoh with his thousands of chariots and thereby released Israel from the house of bondage. As a statesman—not as a politician of the present day—we find he transformed two millions of slaves into the mightiest commonwealth. As a prophet, he was of the type of Christ. His name is dear to all on earth, and enters into the chorus of Heaven, where they sing "The Song of Moses and the Lamb." Our text was delivered by Moses at the close of the journey through the wilderness. Here the twelve tribes are camped; in the distance we see the hills of the "promised land," nearer rises Mount Nebo, up whose gentle slope Moses was soon to pass, and from its summit his spirit was soon to be borne by angel wings into the heavenly rest. The text came to them with all the sadness of a last message. It suggests to thoughtful minds the thoughts of the love and the care of God for His people in the past, and the duty of the people in return therefor. "Permit me, then, to-day," said the speaker, "to weave a few simple thoughts around these centres."

First comes His loving care for His people in the past. Some people say there is no such thing as love or sympathy—that this world has been reduced to a sort of money making monopoly—with the ceaseless pursuit of grasping after wealth and position. The man of to-day is measured by his ability to make dollars and cents.

SUCH A CONCLUSION

hardly squares with the facts. He shows some of this eagerness for wealth and position, but not so much as is ascribed to him. A man who puts the notice on the office door "Gone to dinner; back in five minutes," is a different from the real Englishman, whose tables were to him of more importance than business engagements. Yet the man who reduces his meal hour to the shortest possible space of time, has a h art throbbing with love for his wife and children and public in general. "I have passed through the streets, said the Rev. gentlemen," an hour or two before midnight and find your stores full, and I ask, "Who is to blame? Is it because the merchant is anxious to make money? Why does he stay there? Perhaps he stays to gather some trade which might have been done before, and so he is compelled to do this. There are such things in this world as love, sympathy, kindness and friendship, and they are not meaningless words in this nineteenth century. Love, kindness, friendship and sympathy exhibit themselves in the love of a child for its mother. First, in the obedience of the child to the parent. If there is no obedience to the parent's command, it does not show its love for them. The parent's love for the child, shows itself in the parent's efforts to provide for his physical wants and mental development.

God loves. In Jeremiah he says, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love," also, "God so loved the world that he gave his son for Israel."

GOD'S LOVE SHOWED ITSELF

by its purposes and plans for the improvement of that nation. All through the history of that nation you will find the same loving care.

You are the sons and daughters of England—a country rich with hallowed blessings and the words of my text are applicable to your nation, also the same line of argument. God showed his love for England by the peculiar care with which he has cherished that nation. We believe in the choice of individuals for special purposes. Take the cases of Martin Luther, Calvin, John Knox, Wesley and so forth. So it is with nations. Israel was the custodian of the ten commandments. The nation in which the promised Messiah should come. When England fills her proper position in the world and accomplishes the purpose which she is intended to fulfill, then will she attain her greatest success. You ask what purpose she is to fulfill. Well, if I had an hour and a half I might fully answer you, but as my time is limited I will just briefly outline it.

We look out upon the nations to-day, and what do we find? Look at Russia. What does Russia stand for? Nihilism, cruelty and slavery, I answer.

Look at Germany. What do we expect there? We find a nationalistic, philosophic and military government. She is a nation seeking to answer unasked questions. They have eyes as sharp as a lynx's, which could see things in the deepest darkness which had no existence. What does France stand for? It is the centre of fashion and frivolity.

Italy is the nation of musicians.

Now I ask for what does England stand? She is the custodian of the blessed word—the Bible. God has looked with zealous eyes upon England and it is the CENTRE OF RELIGIOUS TEACHING.

The highest intellectual culture can be accompanied with the deepest degradation and like Lord Byron, a man may be clever and yet a scamp. A man may be a philosopher and know nothing of God—an astronomer and not read God's name in the heavens.

Egypt with all her fine arts was the habitation of wickedness and cruelty. Rome, the centre of refined military power, was full of barbarism. England has made many mistakes, but the nation that welcomes this Bible, as its counsellor, will surely be blessed. So England stands. Long centuries since old King John was compelled, unwillingly, to sign his name to the "Magna Charta," thus giving religious liberty to the individual and citizenship to man. It stands for the free, untrammelled and unfettered use of the franchise. A man may be worth a million and another man very poor, yet the one's vote is just as good as the other's. One may be refined and educated, the other ignorant, yet one vote is as good another—that when a man has attained the full age of citizenship, he has his part in the government of this country. It is possible that the battles that have been fought in the past to secure this freedom may have to be fought over again to perpetuate it. Perish the hand, even an ecclesiastical one, that would raise to take from a son of a British country the free use of his ballot! God has loved the Empire in which we live. The measure of the text is true. He truly has loved our fathers and chosen their seed after them. The secret of success in any life, privately or nationally, is obedience to God's command. Israel prospered as long as the law was observed and the commandments of God obeyed, but when the old law was put away and the worship of Baal introduced, the nation faltered and fell away. And so it is of England, the land we love to call home. When we make this Bible the man of our counsel, then our country shall prosper and God will b ess it. God has chosen you and blessed you, so as to fit you to do some good work—both nationally and individually, therefore as you go forth from this church to day, go forth to keep His commandments and to observe His statues. "If there is is anything in this world I covet for this country it is a future of brilliant success." He remembered once seeing a somewhat curious sight. It was a maple tree growing by the lake shore, one side of which had an oak engrafted, and the other side of which had a piece of maple engrafted on, that was the maple leaf of Canada and the sturdy oak. The sight of seeing the beauty of the maple leaf and the strength of the oak so closely entwined he thought should be the emblem of that society.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P.O. MORE MEAT AND LESS BONE.

Some cattle weighing say 1200 lbs. live weight, will only dress 550 lbs. when killed and hung upon the butchers' hooks. That's the kind we DON'T keep—because the proportion of bone is too great for the amount of beef.

Prime cattle of a similar weight will dress 720 lbs, instead of 550 lbs—the difference being all in good meat—not bone. That's the kind we DO keep, because the proportion of bone is small, compared with the weight of beef. If you order say a 10 lb. Roast, you can easy figure on what you gain.

Which will you buy? Quantity and more bone, or quality and more meat? We only keep the latter.

Many a boy starts out in life with the firm determination of conquering the world. He means to achieve success and wealth and fame. His intentions are good, and his will is strong. If he has the bodily strength to carry him through, his efforts will be crowned with achievement. Bodily strength and health are his greatest capital. Without them he can hope for nothing. How many young men and young women are cut off just when the future seems brightest and fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. Consumption has been considered incurable, and the medical profession has never made a greater mistake than this. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections. There is no reason why the child of consumptive parents need ever have consumption if its blood and lungs are strengthened by the proper use of the "Discovery." All who have any reason to fear consumption, should read the chapters on that disease in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great medical work of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, has reached a sale of over 680,000 copies. It will be sent free of charge on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

AN OLD ORCHARD.

How to Renew and Rejuvenate It Into Profitable Bearing.

This question is confronting many people who are occupying old farms. To arrest old trees from their downward career and restore them to new vigor and fruitfulness would indeed seem impossible. Nevertheless, just this has been done. Many orchards go to decay prematurely. This may result from many or a combination of causes. Trees that have borne large crops of fruit year after year are first to fail if not abundantly supplied with the plant food used in the production of crops, while those trees that have little but leaves continue to grow and appear healthy and vigorous. The first old orchards were not properly appreciated, and received but little care, hence year after year destructive insects have multiplied and fungi and insects affect the entire orchard. The soil, by continued draft upon the particular substances required by the trees, has become exhausted. Thus universal wreck and ruin appears on every hand. If such an orchard should fall into our hands, the first aim and purpose would be to effect an entire revolution by renewing the soil with an abundant supply of stable manure and wood ashes spread over the entire surface of the ground, putting but little in contact with the trees. A full and complete change of the tops by regrafting and putting on new tops, with change of fruit on every tree, should be done, also a thorough cleaning of the trunks of the trees, and the application of a wash composed of lime, crude carbolic acid and strong lye for the destruction of all insect life, and the cleansing and renewing the bark to a smooth, healthy condition. Spray for the destruction of codling moth and scab fungi. This, with frequent and continued cultivation, and a fresh application of fertilizers until the soil is restored to a high state of fertility, will rejuvenate the old trees.—J. Ames to the Missouri State Horticultural Society.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

The Ills of the Cow.

Most of the ills that cows and other domestic animals suffer are due to improper feeding. It is understood, of course, that the product of the cow in quantity, if not in quality, is dependent on the amount of good, nutritious food which can be eaten and thoroughly digested. This creates the temptation to feed too much and too rich food. This clogs the digestive organs, and frequently injures them permanently. It requires skill in feeding to give enough and not too much. There are peculiarities of individual cows that have also to be considered. It is not always the largest cow that will eat and digest the most; butwe think it can be safely said that no cow was ever good for much for either milk or butter if she was a delicate feeder. The best cow is sure to ahve a ravenous appetite, and needs to be stinted sometimes in her feed to prevent her from eating more than is good for her.

Most coughs may be cured in a few hours or at any rate in a few days, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. With such a prompt and sure remedy as this at hand, there is no need of prolonging the agony for weeks and months. Keep this remedy in your house.

VERY CLOSE FINISHES.

Yesterday's Racing at Woodbine the Best of the Meeting.

Toronto, May 30.

The number of spectators at the Woodbine yesterday was not so large as the Jockey Club officials doubtless desired, yet there was a crowd in the eastern enclosure, and the betting ring was a busy scene all afternoon. Threatening weather kept many of the ladies at home, and the members' stand did not present such a gay appearance as usual. The Queen's Own Band was again in attendance, adding considerably to the afternoon's pleasure, while the racing was good, one or two of the finishes proving really exciting. Mr. Hendrie won a race, and the Redcoat Race went to Mr. Phelan, but the other events were won by visitors, the Lilly Mead stable scoring another with Boose.

The racing was productive of some of the best sport of the meeting, notwithstanding that the fields were small, and, as Starter Fitzpatrick sent them away without much delay, the public was allowed to get home in good time. The track, though dry, was dead and very slow.

It was a good day for the favorites, as five out of the six were successful, Silk Gown being the only one that failed to land the money. She was looked upon as a "good thing" for the opening event at six furlongs, in which seven horses went to the post. The Seagram mare, on her previous races, appeared to hold her opponents safe, and in consequence carried the bulk of the money. Sun Up was next in demand, and was fairly well played at twos, while a quiet tip on Sauteur gave him considerable support. Alamo had few friends, and as good as 10 to 1 could be had against him, while any price was obtainable against the others. They were sent away to a good start, but Silk Gown and Sun Up lost a lot of ground early in the race. In the stretch there was a general closing up, and the two choices came very fast, but could never overhaul Alamo, who won handily by two lengths, heads separating the next three—Sun Up, Chiquita and Silk Gown—who finished in the order named.

As they passed the winning post, Sun Up seemed to swerve, and Sauteur, who was just in behind, was thrown down, rolling completely over Ross, his jockey. For a time it was thought that he was killed, but further investigation showed that, with the exception of a bad shaking up, and a broken collar bone, he was not seriously hurt. He was taken to the General Hospital, where last night he was doing nicely.

Distance ⅝ mile. Time 1.17½.

The Woodbine Nursery Stakes, for 2-year-olds, had but three starters, of which Cardinal received the most support, and went to the post a 3 to 5 favorite. The race was never in doubt, as Cardinal galloped home an easy winner by a length and a half from Mafia, who beat Sleepy Belle handily for the place.

Distance ⅝ mile. Time 1.05.

Subito and Laurel were the only starters in the Scarboro' Plate, Halifax and Boose being scratched. Subito, who won as he pleased, was such an overwhelming favorite that there was little speculation, though some of the small betters took a chance that Subito might fall down, and placed a few dollars at 10 to 1.

Distance 1 1-16 miles. Time 1.55.

Five hunters went to the post for the Red Coat Steeplechase, with Ebbs the favorite at 6 to 5. In some books as good as 3 to 1 could be had against Mr. Doane's mount at the opening, while Prince Charlie was quoted at 7 to 5. The amount of money, however, that went in on Ebbs soon drove his price down, while Prince Charlie's went to 2 to 1. The others had little support. It was a pretty race through the field, notwithstanding that Ebbs won easily at the finish, and Prince Charlie beat Melbourne in the same fashion for the place. Mr. Beardmore came to grief at the "double," but was not hurt.

Distance about 2½ miles. Time 6.51.

Booze appeared to outclass the lot opposed to him in the selling race, and was made a warm favorite. Rossmar and Crimea were backed by their stables, while the others had little or no support. Crimea made most of the running to the stretch, where Booze took command, and won easily by a length and a half from Rossmar, who beat Crimea half a length for the place.

Distance 1 1-16 miles. Time 1.53½.

The last race proved the most exciting and closest finish of the day. Distant Shot, on his previous races, was installed favorite at evens, while 2 to 1 could be had against Looram. Mr. Boyd thought well of his gelding, and so told his friends, who drove his price to 7 to 5, while Distant Shot's went to 9 to 5. These were the only two that received any attention from the bettors, and in consequence the prices of the others went back. To a good start Looram showed the way until within the last stride of the wire, where Distant Shot just managed to get his nose in front, Zeal being third a length away.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is Much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 25.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely, Dodds Kidney Pills, is obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

They Claim That Canadians are Taking Their Places in Buffalo.

Buffalo, May 29.—The union carpenters, who are out of work, owing to a disagreement with the contractors over the eight-hour day, have made formal complaint that men are being imported from Canada. Immigrant Inspector O'Brien of Niagara Falls, N.Y., has been instructed to keep a close watch on the trains. It is said that a number of carpenters from Toronto have taken places vacated by the union men.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. A CYCLE GIRL'S HAT.

AIDS IN THE TASK OF SELECTING SUITABLE HEADGEAR.

Of Five Styles, No. 1 Is the Latest Novelty; No. 2, the New Alpine; No. 3, Cloth Crown and Straw Brim; No. 4 in Straw, and No. 5 Cloth Peak and Silk Crown.

The summer girl's experience in selecting her best straw hat is as nothing compared with the trials of the bicycle girl when deciding the momentous question of what she shall wear on the wheel, says the New York Journal.

Now that all girls are wheeling, the hats which they have to choose from are many and varied. There are hats to match their costumes and hats made solely to look picturesque. These and many more are brought forth for the inspection of the bicycle girl, and each and every one is declared to be the best possible hat she can buy.

The most novel cycling hat (No. 1 in the illustration) is made of lightweight felt or straw in the alpine shape. It is trimmed with not only the conventional band of ribbon, but quills and a miniature bicycle wheel, with a rubber tire and most natural looking spokes. In Yale blue felt stitched in white and trimmed with a white ribbon band, a white quill and a bit of a wheel, it is considered quite a thing of beauty. And it's an inexpensive little hat in the bargain, costing but $1.39.

It is quite a fad with the bicycle girl at present to have her hat made of the same material as her suit. With the new crash and duck suits alpine hats are said to match. The best looking are bound with ribbon and trimmed with a ribbon band. Frequently the college colors are used for the band. Other girls who for reasons of their own are not partial to any special college have their hats trimmed with a ribbon which matches the colored rim of their wheel.

When the alpine shape is unbecoming, then the fair cyclist wears a hat with a Tam o' Shanter crown, and have that crown (as in No. 3) to match their new summer costume. There are very jaunty little hats, with dark blue or brown straw rims slightly rolling and Tam crowns, in tan color crash. These hats have a quill or two in front and also a bow by way of decoration.

Young women with a fondness for things Scotch are wearing genuine Highland Tam o' Shanters in the gay Scotch plaids. They are made either of light-weight wool or of silk. A new idea this season is to combine a silk Tam crown with a straw or cloth brim.

CYCLING HATS (SEE HEADING FOR NO.)

WHEN a woman is pale, an anaemic, low-spirited, nervous, sleepless, there is no pleasure in life for her till she has her system put right by

Indian Woman's Balm

It is the unfailing remedy for all debilitated, dyspeptic, despondent women and girls. Makes rich, new blood and improves the complexion. $1. All druggists.

dr to have a Tam silk crown and a cloth peak (as shown in No. 5.)

Cycling caps made entirely of waterproof silk are a novelty recommended for wear during a sudden shower. They are small enough to be easily carried in the pocket.

Perhaps the most stylish bicycle hat in town is a variation of the alpine shape made in two different colored straws. One particularly pretty model (No. 4) has the broad rolling rim in dark blue straw and the crown in cream color. Rosettes of straw in dark blue and cream mixed, with five odd little wings, form the trimming which is arranged effectively at the left side. Bands of straw braid also trim the crown. This hat may be bought in a variety of colors and is as practical as it is pretty. The sailor is another hat high in favor with the bicycle girl.

How Aigrettes Are Got.

"These little feathers," says a circular from a committee of humane women of New York, "were provided by nature as the nuptial adornment of the white heron, or egret. Many kind-hearted women who would not on any account do a cruel act, are by following the fashion causing continuance of a very great cruelty. The aigrette in nearly all cases is made of the slender decomposed feathers that grow at one time of the year on the birds' back and drop gracefully over their sides and tails. Less fine plumes with shorter and stiffer filaments are from the aquacco heron, which is not an egret. The best time to attack them is when the young birds are fully fledged, but not able to fly; for at that time the solicitude of the parent birds is greatest, and, forgetful of their own danger, they are most readily made victims. When the killing is finished and the few handfuls of coveted feathers have been plucked out, the slaughtered birds are left in a white heap to fester in the sun and wind, in sight of their orphaned young that cry for food and are not fed. There is nothing in the whole earth so pitiable as this—so pitiable and shameful—that for such a purpose human cunning should take advantage of that feeling and instinct which we regard as so noble in our own species, and as something sacred—the tender passion of the parent for its offspring, which causes it to neglect its own safety and to perish miserably a sacrifice to its love.

"It is when in this gayer dress that the birds are most valuable for the purposes of fashion, and for other forms of decoration; nor is this all; it is then that they are most easily found and taken. The shyest, most secretive kinds lose all their wild instincts in their overmastering anxiety for the safety of their eggs or young. And when the poor bird, uttering piercing cries, its sensitive frame quivering, its bill gaping, as if the air could no longer sustain it in its intense agitation, and fluttering its lovely wings to make them more conspicuous, and by such means draw the danger away from its treasures and to itself, it is ruthlessly shot for its feathers."

Results Tell the Story.

A vast mass of direct, unimpeachable testimony proves beyond any possibility of doubt that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does perfectly and permanently cure diseases caused by impure blood. Its record of cures is unequalled and these cures have often been accomplished after all other preparations had failed.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache.

CONCLUSIVE PROOF.

From a Well Known Citizen.

"My daughter Polly, has for more than a year been troubled with severe symptoms of kidney disease. She had constant and acute pains in her back. The pain in her head was fearful and almost unendurable. It frequently prevented her from attending school, and she found study at home practically impossible. She had no appetite, and did not sleep well. The pain was very severe around her heart and she was much troubled with fluttering and palpitation. She was completely worn out in body and was tired and drowsy all the time. Her mother and myself became seriously alarmed as she was constantly getting worse.

"Last July my daughter Sarah, a teacher in the Public School at Kingsville, Ont., came home to spend her vacation, and finding her sister in such a distressing and dangerous condition, said, I am taking Doan's Kidney Pills and they are doing me much good, I have a box with me and will divide with Polly, which she did. By the time Polly had finished the half box her improvement in health was so marked, that I procured more from Mr. Fraleigh's drug store.

Her full restoration to health and spirits was rapid and continuous. She has now none of her former dangerous, painful and distressing kidney troubles. She eats and sleeps well, and for more than a month has enjoyed the most vigorous health. She has not lost a day at school since she commenced taking the pills, and has so much faith in them since they restored her to full health that she wants me to keep six boxes in the house all the time, in case they should be needed and not available. Her cure has been so wonderful she thinks they will cure any complaint. If the pills had cost $10.00 a box, I would not have begrudged the money. The restoration of my daughter to full health and strong girlhood, from her former serious sickness, etc., has made her mother, myself and daughter a happy family.

"I make this sworn statement with the full approbation of my wife and daughter, voluntarily and without any urging or inducement whatever, to show the gratitude my daughter, wife and myself feel for the wonderful cure wrought by the Doan Kidney Pills. We have not the least doubt that her trying the pills just at the time she did saved us a large doctor's bill, as she was all but sick abed at the time. I am sixty-two years of age, a carpenter by trade, have been a resident of St. Mary's for forty years, and county constable for thirty years and am well known, and I make this solemn declaration believing the same to be true, and knowing the same to have the same effect as an oath, and according to the Act respecting extra Judicial Oaths 1893.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Ewan Atwood, of Montreal, spent Sunday in the village.

Mr. Walter D. E. Strickland, of Toronto, was in the village on Sunday.

Rev. R. Hyde, of Warsaw, was in the village on Monday.

Mr. T. H. Benson spent his holiday at Orono.

Mr. Sam Ridpath, of Kirkfield, was in village for the Queen's Birthday.

Rev. A. R. McDonald is in Montreal this week attending the Baptist convention.

Mr. Ernest Burgis, of Sparta, was home for the Queen's Birthday.

Miss Lilly Thompson, of Belleville, was in the village over Sunday, the guest of Mrs. W. D. Harper.

Miss Newberry, of Toronto, was in the village this week.

Miss Eva Rutherford, of Peterborough, spent Sunday in the village.

Mrs. J. E. Kelly is visiting friends at Uxbridge.

Mr. Forsyth spent Sunday and Monday at Orono.

At the Convocation of McMaster University, Toronto, held on May 13th, Rev. A. R. McDonald, of the Baptist church, was admitted to the Adeundum degree of B. A., and was also granted the degree of Bachelor of Theology.

The many friends of W. R. Montgomery will be pleased to learn that he successfully passed the examination at the College of Pharmacy, held in Toronto, very creditably, and is now a full fledged druggist.

Mr. James Campbell, Jr., has gone to Millbrook, where he has secured a position in the newspaper office of that place.

On Monday, Rev. D. G. Smith, of Kingston, delivered in the town hall, his celebrated lecture, "The boys I knew at Home," which created considerable merriment and which all enjoyed. It was under the auspices of the W. F. M. S. of the Presbyterian church.

Bicycles are getting quite common here; there are now two or three agencies where they can be purchased at very reasonable figures. Mr. C. M. Graham is agent for the Duke and Duchess wheels, while Mr. T. H. Benson represents the Redbird.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

A great many took advantage of the steamers going up to the lakes to go up and inspect their islands and cottages, and see how they had come through the winter. The train carried quite a number to Peterborough to attend the sports there. The train also brought in a large contingent from Peterborough to attend the picnic of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, which was held in the Agricultural grounds. Although there were quite a number of strangers in the village everything passed off very quietly and peaceably.

R. Graham & Son have received a fine selection of misses' and ladies' shoes in black and in tan at very low prices. You would do well to go there in making your purchases in foot wear.

S. O. E. SERMON.

On Sabbath afternoon the members of Exeter Lodge, Sons of England, marched to the Baptist church, where they attended Divine service and listened to an eloquent and instructive sermon by the pastor, Rev. A. R. McDonald, on "The Advantages of Religion in a Nation's Life," taking for his text Leviticus xxvi., 3 13: "If ye will walk in statutes and keep my commandments and do them . . . I will set my tabernacle among you, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people. I am the Lord your God, which brought ye forth out of Egypt, that ye should not be to them bondmen; and I have broken the bonds from your yoke and made you go upright."

He started out in his discourse by quoting the familar lines:

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own my native land."

This day reminds us of the old land and of our beloved Queen, of whose 77th birthday we are reminded, and 59th of her reign. "Long may she live to reign over us, happy and glorious."

We love Great Britain, the land of the Saxon and the Celt. We love Canada, the land of our birth and adoption, because she keeps the Sabbath and reverences the sanctuary. The society which meets today—its object is to unite Englishmen and their descendants for purposes of mutual benefit and support; for moral, mental and social advancement, for assisting each other in times of sickness, need and death, for rendering pecuniary and beneficial aid to the widows and orphans of deceased members; and for other good, noble and patriotic purposes. It is a good and noble principle in men to try by frugality and prudence to lay up in store for old age.

The following points were then brought out:—

I. Wherein does a nation's religious life consist?

(a) In the sanctuaries consecrated to Divine worship.

(b) In sacred literature, diffusing knowledge among the people.

(c) In benevolent and elevating institutions, diffusing Christianity in its practical form. S. O. E. and other societies are a practical form of Christianity.

(d) In educational agencies for the training of children early in moral and religious truths.

(e) In homes and family life, sweetened by the influence of family life.

(f) In a legislature ruled by the fear of God and observant of Scripture precepts.

(g) In the stores of harvest, and gains of commerce being acknowledged as God's providential gifts.

II. Advantages which result to a nation from religion:

(1) Religion impels to industry, intelligence, self respect and social improvement.

(2) Religion leads to avoidance of agitation and conflict, checks greed and vain glory.

(3) Religion fosters sobriety, energy and courage.

(4) Religion nurtures the wise oversight of homes and families.

(5) Religion corrects the intrigues of self destructive commerce and teaches honesty forethought and justice in business.

(6) Religion enjoys Sabbath observance and sanctuary services.

The service was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem, after which the lodge formed in procession and marched back to their lodge room where they passed a hearty vote of thanks to Rev. Mr. McDonald for his very practical and able discourse.

ITS FAME SPREADING.

A New Remedy in General Use in Manitoba and the Northwest.

WINNIPEG, June 1.—The effects of the regular wave of sickness which sweeps over this portion of the Dominion in the spring, are noticeable in the increasing amount of the druggists' sales. There has been quite a run on the kidney remedy now so well known under the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The recovery from Bright's disease of Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, through their use, an account of which appeared in the papers, gave a considerable impetus to the sale, and the remedy has become indispensable in many Manitoba households, its fame having penetrated into the remotest parts of the province and Northwest Territories.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinching touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

THE HORSES RAN AWAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Donaldson Were Thrown Out and Injured.

Harriston, Ont., May 21.—A serious accident occurred to Mr. Peter Donaldson and family of Drew, while driving to church this morning. The team of young horses took fright at a lumber pile and ran away, throwing the occupants out. Mrs. Donaldson received the more serious injuries, having her thigh broken; Mr. Reading had his leg broken, and all others had a severe shaking up.

BRUTAL MURDER IN NEW YORK.

A Thirteen-Year-Old Girl Found Strangled in Her Home.

New York, May 30.—Mary Cunningham, 13 years old, was found strangled to death in her mother's flat at No. 215 East 37-street this afternoon. Mrs. Cunningham returned home from her day's work at 2.30 this afternoon, and upon entering the back parlor saw her daughter lying on the floor, with her head under the bed. Pulling the child into view, Mrs. Cunningham saw there was a towel tightly knotted about the girl's throat and that her eyes were black and blue, as if she had been fearfully pounded, while her tongue protruded from her mouth. A large carving knife was also found near the body. It is thought that an assault had been attempted. So far there is no clue to the murderer.

New York, May 31.—Mary Cunningham, the 13-year-old girl whose murder was reported last night, has a brother a student at St. Mary's College, Montreal.

Thousands have tested the great building-up power of Hood's Sarsaparilla and have found renewed strength, vigor and vitality in its use.

THE POLITICAL FIGHT

West Toronto McCarthyites Hold a Meeting

AND DECIDE TO PUT UP A CANDIDATE

Mr. Lount's Candidature in Centre Toronto—What Mr. McCarthy Said in Winnipeg—Liberals at Barrie—Will the Premier Visit Toronto?—Campaign Notes.

Toronto, June 1.

The McCarthyites held a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. West End Hall last night. There was an audience limited only by the size of the hall, a number of ladies occupying seats in the galleries. Owing to an unexpected delay while en route from Winnipeg, Mr. McCarthy was not present. The gathering was enthusiastic, and at times displayed antagonism towards the candidature of Messrs. Clarke and Osler.

Mr. M. A. Brown said that there was a request sent to Mr. E. F. Clarke in reference to his vote on the school question; and at the demand of the audience read the letter and the reply thereto, which has already been published, and the reading of which was received with cheers and hisses. He stated that an invitation had been sent to Mr. Clarke to attend and explain his letter. To this invitation no response had been made. (Hisses.)

Rev. E. S. Rowe moved the first resolution, as follows: That the electors here present require to be represented in the House of Commons by members pledged to continuously seek to remove from office any Government that persists in the coercion of Manitoba by the Remedial Bill.

This resolution, the mover said, had no "but" in its phraseology. It set forth their views in simple, plain terms. They objected to coercion, and wanted men sent to Parliament whom they know there is no need to pledge. (Cheers.) Some years ago they had received a bitter pill to swallow, and had been taught a severe lesson on the question of provincial rights—that was on the Jesuits Estate Act—but they had learned their lesson so well that now they wanted to uphold provincial rights. They believed that the people of Manitoba should not be compelled to make laws and live under those laws, contrary to their desire and wishes, and contrary to their belief. What power was there that could say that a law which had been declared ultra vires should be set aside by another law? The claim that the Remedial order was issued to carry out the judgment of the Privy Council was a subterfuge. (Cheers.) It was really issued because Archbishop Langevin demanded it, and not because it was law: For himself, as a British subject, he was prepared to take his law and constitution from the British Empire, but he was not prepared to take them from the palace of any Roman Catholic archbishop. (Loud cheers.)

Ald. J. J. Graham, in seconding the resolution, placed himself on record as being opposed to coercion of Manitoba on the school question.

Mr. A. T. Hunter said it was a little unfortunate that Mr. E. B. Osler had gone abroad after havin obtained permission of the members of the Albany Club, a set of gentlemen who used to be their political leaders and proprietors. It is unfortunate that Mr. Osler cannot be present, and it may be that they have held out to him that West Toronto was a sort of pocket borough in the gift of the Albany Club; he may fall in his expectations. (Cheers.) The case of Mr. E. F. Clarke, who has been before their attention for a number of years, was different. During the past few months, he has, both in The Orange Sentinel and in the Orange lodges, made speeches which have been strongly opposed to Remedial legislation, but when, for the first time a pledge was put before him involving a personal sacrifice, he failed to stand the test. When the Orange Grand Lodge, after passing strong resolutions against Remedial legislation, elected by a good majority Bob Birmingham, they would pardon him, the speaker, if he did not place much reliance upon such speeches and votes. It was not a compliment to the electors of West Toronto for Mr. Clarke and Mr. Osler to appear as anti-Remedialists, because every one knew that they dare not appear in any other garb. He did not place much reliance on these candidates when he said that they were brought out at a convention run by the same gentlemen who brought out Mr. Coatsworth. (Hisses.) On the other hand it may perhaps be unfair to Messrs. Clarke and Osler to judge them by the company they keep, and to insist so much upon the fact that they are not enemies, but have been merely loaned to the electors by the Albany Club. (Laughter.) He had been proud to see that in East Toronto at that magnificent meeting the electors back-ed up their resolutions by the nomination of John Ross Robertson, and had every confidence that this meeting did not mean to let the opportunity slip to do likewise.

Mr. John Shields said when they found the Orange Grand Lodge reclecting as secretary the organizer of the Tupper Remedial party, he thought it was time to elect independent men. He moved that a committee be appointed to select a candidate and report at a subsequent meeting.

Ald. Jolliffe seconded the resolution. The resolution was carried.

Rev. R. N. Burns moved the third resolution, which was received with a great deal of applause, as follows;

"That this meeting of electors of West Toronto most heartily expresses its warm appreciation of the untiring and able efforts of D'Alton McCarthy and those who manfully stood by him in his opposition to the passage of the Remedial Bill in the last session of the Dominion Parliament. We rejoice in his manly independence and unselfish patriotism and commend his example as worthy of imitation by all loyal citizens."

Rev. J. F. Ockley seconded the resolution.

The meeting adjourned with cheers for McCarthy and the Queen.

MR. LOUNT'S CANDIDATURE.

Meeting of His Supporters in the Central Committee Room.

An enthusiastic meeting of the supporters of Mr. Wm. Lount, the Reform candidate for Centre Toronto, was held at the Centre Toronto rooms on Yonge-street last evening. Mr. Peter Small presiding. After a few eulogistic remarks by the chairman concerning the character of the candidate, Mr. Lount addressed the meeting. He said that he had eschewed politics in the past, partly because politics had cut him and partly because he wished to be free to lay up treasure against old age. A chance had now come to bring about a change in government, and it was with this view of aiding the country that he had now come forward. After paying a glowing tribute to the Liberal leaders, the speaker turned to the N.P., which he said was now obsolete in usefulness, and then sailed into the Tupper Government. He separated the Conservatives from the Tupperites, he remarked, as many of the former refused to follow "the Prince of Wrong-doers," who, in his Winnipeg campaign, offered bribes right and left, which, if done by an humble individual, would have landed him in jail. In conclusion, he said that everything pointed to a party victory at the polls.

Trustee Baird spoke of the importance of suavity in dealing with Conservative doubters.

The chairman then called on Dr. Jno. S. King to address the meeting. The doctor spoke of his absence from politics and his recent return. As an augury of coming Liberal success he instanced three life-long Conservatives who were on this occasion to vote on the opposite side, the first because he disbelieved in the N.P., the second because Mr. Cockburn moved the post-office into his own building, and third because he wanted to get even with Mr. Cockburn in a certain personal matter.

Is it Denton in the West?

It is not at all improbable that the nominee of the Reform Convention for West Toronto, to be held to-night, will be Mr. Frank Denton, the well-known barrister.

WHAT MR. M'CARTHY SAYS.

About the Feeling in Manitoba on the School Question—His Plans—John A Macdonnell Still in the Field.

Winnipeg, Man., June 1.—In an interview with D'Alton McCarthy, published this morning, he is asked: "When you return east what will be your statement to the public as to the feeling in Manitoba?" and Mr. McCarthy replied: "I have not the imagination of Sir Charles Tupper, but I shall say what is directly opposite to that part of his speech devoted to the subject. People are aroused on the question of safeguarding their schools. Ontario friends of the Province need have no fear of the result in the west. Manitoba will remain true to her interests."

"In the event of your election to both seats, Brandon and North Simcoe, which will you select to sit for?"

"I shall select the constituency in which I can best serve the country's interest."

"You met with a strong prohibition element in your tour?"

"Yes; I frankly told them I was not in favor of total prohibition; my opponent also said he was not a prohibitionist."

"What are your future plans?"

"I am expected to speak at a public meeting in Toronto Monday night, but as the train is 12 hours late, I may not reach there in time. The balance of the week I shall spend in North Simcoe, and then leave for a ten days' tour through Ontario. I shall not come back to Manitoba before the election day."

John A. Macdonnell, chief engineer of the Provincial Government Public Works Department, two months ago was nominated as the Liberal candidate for Selkirk. Last week he desired to retire as a candidate and John O'Laughlin of Winnipeg was nominated to succeed him, but O'Loughlin declined. Then Ald. McCreary of Winnipeg was suggested, but he, too, declined. So Saturday the Liberals waited on Mr. Macdonnell and urged him to re-enter. Finally he yielded and today resigned his position in the Local Government service.

"We are, I believe, at one with respect to the tariff. I think, with you, that the introduction of the protective system was a mistake on the part of our people. So, you, like myself, are a Reformer and not a revolutionist, and you recognise the necessity of legislation on the tariff being gradual and cautious. Adopting that policy, I am glad that you see your way meantime to changes which will be a relief to our farmers and at the same time will not injuriously affect but rather benefit manufacturers and their workmen. A Government owes a duty to all classes of the people."—SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

THE OTTAWA BUDGET

Col. Lake Has Returned From the Old Country.

THE LEE-ENFIELD RIFLES COMING

Decisions Reached by the Board of Customs—Milford Haven, Wales, Wants to be the Port for the Canadian Fast Line—General Notes.

Ottawa, June 1.—(Special)—The following decisions, which were reached by the Board of Customs at its last sitting, have been approved by the Controller, Mr. Wood.

Figured or blistered walnut, French burl or walnut veneers to be dutiable at the rate of 5 per cent under item 367.

Small peach trees, known as June Buds, to be rated as peach trees, at 3 cents each.

Sheet copper, cut in circles, free, under item 558.

With reference to the duty on June Buds it is contended by importers that buds should be rated as fruit plants, dutiable at 20 per cent., but the board held that they were in all respects peach trees and dutiable at 3 cents each, under item 70.

The Chamber of Commerce of the town of Milford Haven, Wales and Milford Dock Co. have joined in representations to the Dominion Government in favor of the selection of that place as an English terminus of the proposed fast Atlantic steamship service. Other ports are sending in similar representations. The general expectation is that Liverpool will be chosen.

After an absence of five months in England, Col. Lake, quartermaster-general, returned home to-day. The object of his visit to the Old Country was to consult with the Imperial authorities for the purpose of procuring new arms for the Canadian militia.

To your correspondent Col. Lake said he was precluded from saying anything with regard to his mission until such time as he had reported to his superior office, the major-general commanding, who is absent from the city and is not expected home for some days. The authorities of the War Office and Horse Guards received him in a very friendly spirit and did everything in their power to facilitate his mission.

The first consignment of the Lee-Enfield rifles, as well as a quantity of 303 Cordite ammunition, will reach Canada within the next fortnight and the big guns for the field batteries, the 12 pounders, will be here before Christmas. All future issues of magazine rifles to the Imperial troops will be the Lee-Enfields instead of the Lee-Metfords, as it is claimed the former weapon lasts longer and is less liable to get out of order.

Messrs. E. Coatsworth and Dr. Pyne of Toronto were in town to-day and had an interview with the Hon. Mr. Wood. It is said the object of their visit has to do with the filling of a vacancy in the Custom House caused by the death of Mr. T. F. Blackwood. Strong representations have been received by the department in favor of the promotion of Mr. Patterson to the vacant appraisership, but within the past few days equally strong influences have been at work with a view to the promotion of Mr. Westman.

According to reports received at the Fisheries Department Mr. Kemp, oyster expert of the Government, has planted several hundred barrels of oysters on new beds at Tracadie, N.S.

A letter was received at the Department of Trade and Commerce to-day from Scotland stating that there is a good demand around Inverness for Canadian barley. It is questionable, however, whether at ruling prices it would pay Canadian growers to ship to the Inverness market.

Messrs. William Wainwright of the G.T.R. and C. Drinkwater of the C.P.R. had an interview with Controller Wood to-day.

Mr. A. W. Ross, ex-M.P., is in the city. Speaking of the situation in his old riding, Lisgar, Mr. Ross said that things appeared to be straightening out now, leaving only three candidates in the field. The Liberals had, he said, changed their nominee to secure the Protestant vote. As for himself, he was completely out of it now by his own inclination, as he might have secured the support of one of the candidates if he had decided to run. From what he could see, it looked like a very tough fight between Conservatives and Liberals.

Notice has been sent to all the Ministers, stating that Sir Charles Tupper will be in Montreal on Friday, and that a meeting of the Cabinet will be held there on that day.

LIVED 118 YEARS!

The Widow of Peter Sayers Dies at Caughnawaga—She Was a Pure Blood Iroquois and Most Devout.

Montreal, June 1.—The widow of Peter Sayeres died this morning at Caughnawaga and the Indians say that she was born in 1778 in Caughnawaga and was a pure-blood Iroquois. Her great age of 118 gave her great consequence among her people, and she leaves numerous grandchildren, but had only one daughter. Her husband, who was much younger than she, died 18 months ago at the ripe age of 92. The hair of the deceased Indian woman was quite black, every tooth in her head was quite good and she had all her faculties to the last.

TUESDAY, JUNE 2, 1896.

OUR "FREE" BREAKFAST TABLE.

The advocates of high taxation claim that the tariff has given a free breakfast table anyway. Let us see. The Trade and Navigation Returns for 1893 show that the Government collected in taxes nearly three-quarters of a million of taxes on baking powders, yeast, mustard, spices, rice, tapioca and arrowroot, currants, figs, prunes, dates, raisins, tea (indirect importation), coffee, molasses, salt, cocoa, dishes and table cutlery. And this list is not a full one of its class, but it represents about three-quarters of a million in taxes on breakfast table requisites, which our high taxationists say they have left free, and if the table linen and other articles not included above are added it will be found that the National Policy imposes a tax of over two million dollars a year upon the "free breakfast table."

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE FARMER.

We have repeatedly referred to the manner in which the farmer is discriminated against by the Tupper government. The Canadian manufacturer is granted a drawback of 99 per cent of the duty on all material entering into the construction of implments intended for export abroad, but when the same make of goods is sold to the farmers of Canada, no such concession is granted. And the government even goes further than this in its effort to furnish cheap implements to the foreign competitors of our farmers. In 1893 an act was passed granting $125,000 yearly for a monthly line of steamers from British Columbia to Australia to supply cheap rates to Australia for Canadian manufacturers. The farmer has to pay the lion's share of the $125,000 in order that the Australian farmer, one of his strongest competitors, may be furnished with cheap agricultural implements much cheaper than the Canadian farmer can purchase them at home. These bonused ships on their return trip from Australia bring back at a low rate, cheap Australian mutton, meats, butter, wool, tallow, hides, etc., which are thrown on our market to the injury of the Canadian farmer.

The farmers of Canada are already groaning under a load of debt and excessive taxation, but their present condition will not be a comparison to what will follow if Sir Charles Tupper is returned to power at the next election. The country's credit would be pledged for all kinds of wild cat schemes, boodling would run riot, and Canada would receive a shock from which it would take her long years to recover.

In a recent speech Sir Charles Tupper took occasion to say that our trade with Great Britain had greatly increased under the N. P., which was to give us a home market that would absorb all the products of the farm. Sir Charles neglected to say that our debt to Britain has also greatly increased and that a large percentage of our products have to be shipped to the old country annually to pay the interest on mortgages and money borrowed from and held by English capitalists.

HAS IT DONE IT?

Has the N. P. filled up our new Provinces with population, the test of national property and advancement in a young country?

Has it made the conditions of life easier for the settler?

Has it kept up the prices of farm lands or farm produce?

Has it kept up the price of town property?

Has it kept our factories, founded long before its existence, in prosperity?

Has it prevented gluts and shut-downs?

Has it given our labouring men and artizans steady employment at good wages?

Has it protected those who have to live by wages?

Has it kept down public debt and expenditure?

In short, has it done anything but lay heavy taxes on the people to be recklessly squandered and stolen by politicians and benefit a few specially favoured manufacturing industries?

SIR JOHN THOMPSON "read" Mr. Charles Rykert out of the Conservative party and public life—there was no political disinfectant strong enough to meet his case. But Sir Charles Tupper welcomes him back. The "High Priest of Corruption" is too great to be afraid of a promising rival in his peculiar line.

THE Bobcaygeon Independent finds with sorrow "that the Conservative party is recreant to its principles." That's nothing. At one of the Conservative meetings one of Mr. Kendry's speakers said that the Conservatives were free traders by principle but protectionist by policy. The Conservatives of modern days are always ready to sacrifice principle to policy and party. It is as if a robber would say, "I'm honest by principle, but by policy I'm a burglar."

COL. O'BRIEN is one of the old-time protectionists who have come out strongly against the National Policy. He has found, he says, that it has not caused the expected increase in population, but that "manufacturers, by means of combinations, have been able to raise the prices of their wares as high as the tariff would allow them." Mr. Foster, Finance Minister, admitted that a protective tariff raised the price of goods—"If it did not do that what is the good of it." Mr. Foster said this in the House on March 27th, 1894.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor: Please inform your readers that if written to enclosing 1 cent stamp in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address, JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 239, Delray, Mich.

LAKEFIELD.

From our own Correspondent.

Misses Stella and Florence Arnott, of Toronto, are the guests of Mr. J. H. McWilliams.

Mrs. W. Graham and Miss Blanche Graham, spent Sunday at Stony Lake.

Mr. S. A. Fitzgerald, of Toronto, is home for a few days.

Miss Wadell, of Cobourg, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Traill.

Mr. W. M. Graham is in Brantford this week, attending the annual audit of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Mr. Abel Hendren has secured a number of contracts for cottages at Stony Lake this summer. He is now making a large addition to Viamede Cottage, at Mount Julian, which is being enlarged to accommodate summer boarders.

Messrs. J. E. Kelly, R. Q. Dench, A. Jory, C. J. Burgis, A. Wood, William Edwards, John Waldon, George Bickell, W. H. Dunford, Robert Jory and J. W. Ridpath, of Exeter Lodge S.O.E., were in Peterborough on Sunday, attending the church parade of the Sons of England.

The Messrs. Fitzgerald, of the Trent Valley Canal works, spent Sunday in the village.

There was no service in the Baptist church on Sunday, owing to the pastor, Rev. A. R. McDonald, being in Montreal, attending the Baptist convention.

Rev. J. McEwen is in the village.

Mr. J. H. Sherin was in Port Hope last week.

Mr. John Burnham, last Tuesday evening of last week, addressed a small meeting on the political questions of the day.

For a lady's or gent's bicycle at lowest possible price, before purchasing consult Mr. W. M. Graham, as he is prepared to offer you extra inducements.

The semi-annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge will be held at the Orange Hall, Lakefield, on Tuesday evening, June 9th, at 8 o'clock. There will likely be a large attendance.

The semi-annual meeting of Lakefield District L.O.L. will take place on Monday, June 15th, at 2 o'clock p.m., at Wesley Lodge, 16th con. of Smith.

The centre line of the canal is now clear on the Lakefield section. The last two houses, Mr. J. H. Davis' and Mrs. Crowe's, having been moved off during the past week. It is expected that a gang of men will be put on the work here to remove the top soil at once. A car load of iron has arrived and was placed in the blacksmith shop at once.

Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F., will hold their regular meeting on Thursday evening of this week.

An Urgent Request.

Great Interest Still Manifested in Securing Queen Victoria's Photo, "Our Home" Paper and other Premiums.

Hundreds of people have written to us expressing the hope that we will continue the offer made in April and May, which reads as follows:

"An elegant full cabinet photo (from a recent copy taken by royal command) of Her Majesty Queen Victoria; a four-page pamphlet giving dates of births, marriages and deaths, and other items of useful and interesting information relating to the royal family, that but few people have access to; six Diamond Dye Dolls with six extra dresses; and a card of forty-five samples of dyed cloth, showing colours of Diamond Dyes, sent free to every man, woman and child who will send 25 cents in money or stamps for one year's subscription to Our Home, a paper that thousands declare to be worth a dollar."

In order to comply with the wishes of the ladies everywhere, we have extended our arrangements with the publishers of Our Home, and have also ordered another stock of the elegant cabinet photos and other premiums, and will extend our offer until the last day of June.

We trust our friends will send in their orders at once, so as to avoid any delay that may result from a rush of orders at the end of the month.

Twenty-five cents in stamps or money will secure Our Home for one year, and all the other premiums mentioned above. Address Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, P. Q.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ALWAYS CURE

AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 29TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

A Strong and Happy Assurance

Paine's Celery Compound Positively and Permanently Cures.

MEN AND WOMEN MADE STRONG FOR THE HOT WEATHER.

If the Doctors Have Failed to Give You Health, Paine's Celery Compound Will Meet Your Case—Your Blood Will be Thoroughly Cleansed—Your Nervous System Will be Strengthened—You Will Feel Bright and Happy.

There ought to be no necessity of continually reminding people that they should look closely to their condition of health at this season of the year. Notwithstanding constant warnings thousands seem to be quite indifferent to what they term the small ills of life, when neglected, frequently bring on dangerous maladies that end in death.

The trifles of to day—weak and deathly feelings, nervous twitchings, debility, sleeplessness, tired feelings, and heavy, dull pain in the head—may to-morrow result in dread disease, paralysis, insanity, or that awful paresis that ends life so quickly.

This is indeed the time when Paine's Celery Compound should be used by old and young who feel they are not up to the standard of full health, strength and activity.

The hot, enervating weather of summer will soon overtake the weak, languid, nervous and broken-down. The results must be appalling and fatal to thousands, if the system is not fortified by earth's best medicine, Paine's Celery Compound.

The fact that Paine's Celery Compound has met the most sanguine expectations of physicians, and cured so many in the past, should be the strongest and happiest assurance to those who need a life-giving medicine at the present time. That Paine's Celery Compound cures positively and permanently all diseases arising from impure blood, or from decline in vigour of the nerve system, is fully proved by thousands of earnest and happy men and women who have signed letters to that effect.

Let us kindly urge every individual, young and old, who is out of condition, to make trial of one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound. The results will be astonishing, convincing and gladdening. No other medicine in the world like it for pure, rich blood, and for bestowing that robust health that can successfully cope with the dangers that have to be encountered in midsummer.

Beware of imitations and substitutes. See that you get "Paine's" the kind that "makes people well."

AFTER THE ST. LOUIS CYCLONE.

The Coroner Has Held 110 Inquests on the Bodies of the Victims.

St. Louis, June 1.—At noon to-day the gang of 50 workhouse prisoners practically abandoned their search for the dead in the City Hospital ruins. Not a body was taken from the debris, and every part of the wrecked structure was overhauled. The only missing patients from the City Hospital unaccounted for are William Bleicher, Patrick O'Connell and Arthur Slattermus. These may have escaped in safety, and do not care to return.

Coroner Waltz has held 110 inquests over remains of the tornado victims in St. Louis. His verdict was rendered as "Death due to shock; accident." There were eight bodies in the Morgue at noon to-day awaiting an inquest. The only deaths from injuries since Sunday were those of Thomas O'Neill and Julius Nancey. Both were infants.

Much [illegible] of the people, there has been less crime in St. Louis since the tornado than before, notwithstanding that the city has been in darkness, and that it was reported that hundreds of crooks from foreign cities had flocked to St. Louis. Chief of Detectives Desmond, in an interview to-day, said that during Sunday night there was not one report of a theft in the wrecked district.

The river gives up its dead slowly, and the statisticians at work on the list of cyclone fatalities have not yet reached an estimate of the number lost in the great waterway. They know certainly that five were lost on the steamer J. J. Odil, and know that others, whose identity remains a mystery, were positively seen to disappear during the tornado. The river captains and patrolmen along the levee say a conservative estimate of the number of roustabouts, shanty dwellers and flatboat residents who lost their lives in the storm is less than 20. The railroad yards on the east side of the river are being rapidly placed in good condition. On this side the damage to railroads was considerably less, and repairs are going on.

Plans for the construction of round and freight houses that were blown down are being made.

The footway over the Eads Bridge was practically ready for pedestrians this afternoon, and the driveway for wagons will be ready to morrow or next day. The electric line over the bridge will not be ready for traffic for several days yet, but trains will run over the bridge every 20 minutes.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon The Chronicle compiled the following table as the latest list of fatalities: Known dead in St. Louis 196; unknown dead in St. Louis 8; fatally injured in St. Louis 18; missing in St. Louis 118. Known dead in East St. Louis 145; unknown dead in East St. Louis 3; fatally injured in East St. Louis 2; total 496.

Prof. Bauman, the expert insurance adjuster of Chicago, has estimated the property loss at $20,000,000.

Helen M. Gould of New York, daughter of the late Jay Gould, has forwarded a check for $1000 for the relief fund.

Forty-six were killed in Illinois outside of East St. Louis.

Pity aroused by the suffering in St. Louis is deepened into despair when the woes of St. Louis are contemplated. The biting chill of the rain-laden air was a poor comforter to-day to the thousands of homeless ones there who made shift to shelter themselves amid the ruins of their homes, or in empty freight cars. Along the river the mist and fog and malaria are following in the wake of the storm.

Foul odors arise from the decaying carcasses of dead animals. Possibly human beings are buried beneath the ruins, out of the reach of the wrecking crews.

A Sad Find.

Memphis, Tenn., June 1.—The body of a white woman, clasping in her arms the body of an infant, was drawn from the river in front of this city to-day. Both are badly decomposed, and are supposed to be victims of the St. Louis cyclone, or to have been tossed off the ferry boat Katherine, which was capsized at Cairo, Ill., in the tornado of last week.

The "Finest" on Parade

New York, June 1.—The first parade of the New York policemen for two 2200 men in line, headed by Chief Peter years took place this afternoon, with Conlin. The parade started from the Battery at 2 o'clock and the line of march was up Broadway to 23rd-street, to Madison-avenue, to 41st-street, to Fifth-avenue, and to reviewing stand in Madison Square.

Burned in His Father's Barn.

St. Catharines, June 1.—William Wills' youngest son, aged 4, was cremated in the barn attached to Mr. Wills' premises on Saturday. It is reported that the victim and his elder brothers set fire to some straw with the fatal result.

Health and happiness are relative conditions; at any rate, there can be little happiness without health. To give the body its full measure of strength and energy the blood should be kept pure and vigorous, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

TORONTOS IN LOSING FORM.

Bisons Bang Moran's Southpaw Curves All Over the Lot Score 10 to 4.

Buffalo, June 1.—When Moran first appeared at Olympic Park he proved a perfect puzzle to the Bisons. How different the tale reads to-day. Besides being very wild, the Buffalos hit Moran almost at will, making a total of 20. The Torontos made all the trouble possible for Umpire Stearns. He was compelled to fine Padden $5 and send him to the bench. Casey going in. Lutenburg was also assessed $10 for unnecessary music. The score:

Buffalo	0	0	7	0	4	3	2	0	*	—16
Toronto	0	1	1	0	0	0	1	1	0	— 4

Earned runs—Buffalo 10. Left on bases—Buffalo 9, Toronto 11. First base on balls—Off Gannon 4, off Moran 5. Struck out—By Gannon 7, by Moran 4. Two-base hits—Stahl 2, Field, Urquhart, Gannon. Hit by pitcher—By Gannon 2, by Moran 1. Wild pitches—Moran 3.

A Question.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course, by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. RHEUMATISM

Its Cause and Cure.

A poisonous Acid in the Blood, which needs removal.

Only one means for a radical cure.

Rheumatism is a blood disease, due to the presence of uric acid—a poison—in the system, and it is only by the removal of this pain-producing poison, that a radical cure can be effected. Acute rheumatism is hereditary, and thus it is that young children are often victims to this torture. The use of liniments, embrocations and outward applications, may give temporary relief, but can never cure, for the poison is in the blood, and until it is expelled, rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgic pains will continue. Scotts' Sarsaparilla cures rheumatism by removing the cause—by neutralizing and expelling this poisonous acid. In chronic cases, this medicine reaches the source of the disease as no other medicine can. It gives renewed energy to the organs that sustain life, the forces that make the blood. For the nervous troubles of youth, for the debility that precedes old age, for ladies in their severe ordeals, it is without a compeer.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a concentrated compound of the finest medicines known to modern medical science—The dose is from one half to one teaspoonful and during its use the ordinary vocations are not interfered with.

SIR MACKENZIE INTERVIEWED.

The Ex-Premier Enlightens the British People on Canadian Politics

London, June 1.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon publishes a long interview with Sir Mackenzie Bowell, ex-Premier of Canada, on the Pacific Cable Conference and Canadian politics. He is quoted as saying he has no doubt that the Conservatives will be successful in the elections unless the school question takes a stronger hold on the people that the Premier thinks it will. He is also quoted as saying that the Liberals were willing to accept reciprocity with the United States, coupled with discrimination against England, but the Conservatives refused to accept the proposition.

Fired on by the Spaniards.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 1.—An unknown steamer, resembling the Laurada, attempted to enter Port Antonio to-day, but was headed off by a Spanish gunboat. Shots were exchanged by the two vessels. The steamer went seawards, using her guns as she ran from the warship.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinching touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

"As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."

NOT A QUESTION OF CHOICE, BUT A QUESTION OF MUST!

The public understand our position. To retire from Business we MUST dispose of our stock. We would rather sacrifice every dollar's worth than delay the object we have in view.

We MUST either sell out at cost by retail or close out en bloc to one purchaser. Rain or shine, the goods MUST go.

During the past three weeks of this sale we have cleared out great quantities of beautiful Dry Goods and Millinery, but

Sales Must be Increased

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our

The White Crook.

A good house greeted the White Crook Co. last evening. There was some excellent work done by Williams and Edwards on the trapeze, and also by Messrs G. H. Turner and Russell in "Pressing Business." Colby and DeWitte, the organ grinder and his monkey, made lots of amusement, and the play took well from beginning to end. The audience was almost entirely composed of men, bald heads, of course, predominating.

MR. RICHARD HALL'S EIGHTH MEETING.

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING IN NORTH MONAGHAN.

Addresses by Mr. Hall, Mr. Kerr, Mr Edwards, Mr. Garvin and Mr. Moore —Public Questions Elaborately Dealt With.

A meeting was held last night in the interest of Mr. Hall, at Brealey's school house, North Monaghan. There was a good attendance of farmers, who appeared to take a deep interest in the matters dealt with in the various addresses.

Mr. John Fowler occupied the chair.

Mr. F. D. Kerr opened the meeting, and dealt with the Government, under the leadership of Sir Charles Tupper, showing the corruption and unbridled extravagance that had been going on for years, and the hollowness of the pretenses and promises made by them. He showed how these promises had been unfulfilled, and that extravagance, double-dealing and corrupt administration had marked the Government's record and added immensely to the burden of public debt.

Mr. Garvin, of Peterborough, ex-inspector of public schools, appeared on behalf of Mr. Kendry, and posed as an educationist, and claimed that his position and knowledge as such gave him a peculiar insight into the Manitoba school difficulty. Some of his remarks caused a smile, as for instance, when he referred to the fact that Mr. Meredith and Mr. McCarthy had first introduced the cry of race and creed, bringing back as it did to their minds the last provincial election in which the Conservatives, under the leadership of Mr. Meredith were so anxious to abolish Separate Schools in Ontario; while now their main object seemed to be to fasten Separate Schools upon the province of Manitoba. Another point he seemed to attach some importance to was the statement made by him that in England it was the manufacturers who years ago demanded free trade in order that they might grasp and retain possession of the trade of the world.

Mr. Dennistoun followed with his usual array of figures which, as he seemed to think, went to show the extraordinary prosperity of Canada; but he signally failed to convince an audience of farmers that there was any rampant degree of prosperity for them.

Mr. Hall followed and clearly and concisely stated his position in relation to the public questions of the day. On the question of the Remedial Bill, he stated that his position was that which the Reform party had occupied—in favour of provincial rights, and showed that the question of the schools was one which could be best dealt with by the Province of Manitoba, and that there was no necessity for the exercise of force that had been attempted by the government, that the government should, instead of such a course, have resorted to conciliation and investigation and allowed Manitoba a fair chance to settle its own difficulties. On the trade question he pointed out that he too had practical experience and knowledge on a matter of this kind, and that the farmers were bearing the burden of taxation to an extent far beyond any necessity. In answer to a remark made by Mr. Garvin, that even an old Reformer like Mr. Peter Hamilton had changed his views, Mr. Hall completely turned the tables by assuring his hearers that they would find Mr. Hamilton almost every evening at work in Mr. Hall's committee rooms. He also referred to the fact that large numbers of manufacturers all over the country were coming out boldly in favour of the tariff reform policy of the Reform party.

Mr. Edwards, in his address, called attention to some of the absurdities and inconsistencies of Mr. Garvin's remarks. During Mr Garvin's speech, he asked that gentleman for his authority for the statement, that the price of wheat in the United States was lower than the price in Canada, but no information was forthcoming. Mr. Edwards, however, by a clipping from yesterday's Review, showed that there was no fixed price for wheat in Canada or the United States, but that it fluctuated from day to day, and in the same day according to the speculations of the large grain dealers; and that the price of Manitoba wheat (No. 1 hard) was quoted yesterday at 60 cents on board vessels at Fort William and 66 cents at Midland or Owen Sound. The necessary deduction from this was pointed out that the difference was due to the cost of freight. Mr. Edwards arraigned the National Policy as being founded upon a falsehood. In 1878, in order to induce the farmers to vote for protection, Sir John Macdonald assured them that protection would help the farmers and would keep up the price of wheat and other produce.

In 1882 the same falsehood was repeated to the electors. Mr. Hilliard, the Conservative candidate, assured the farmers of West Peterborough that the price of wheat under the N. P. would never be less than $1.00 to $1.25 per bushel. In 1887 similar promises of benefits from the N. P. were made to the farmers, and again in 1891.

Had these promises been carried out? Where was the benefit to the farmer in the so called National Policy? In answer to the taunt of the other side that the policy of the Reform party was unrestricted reciprocity, Mr. Edwards called attention to the manifesto issued in 1891 by Sir John Macdonald, in which it was stated that his object in then appealing to the country was to obtain authority to negotiate a treaty of reciprocity with the United States. Mr. Edwards also showed that Sir John's Government, as far back as 1872, had placed upon the Statute Book a statute providing that whenever the United States would admit Canadian products free of duty, Canada would do the same with regard to the products of the United States Mr. Edwards showed the policy of the Reform party was not, as stated by the the other side, free trade, and that owing to the enormous revenue required to run the affairs of this country, largely in consequence of the extravagance of the Conservative party, it would be impossible for any party in Canada to do away with customs duties. The policy of the Reform party is to raise such a sum by customs and other duties as may be required for the economical management of the country, and to distribute the duties in such a way as to be the least burdensome on manufacturer and consumer, and to relieve as far as possible the farmers, who constituted the bulk of the people in this country.

Dealing with the Remedial Bill, Mr. Edwards pointed out that all the present difficulty was due to the blundering and inconsistencies of the Conservative Government. In 1890 the Manitoba School Bill was reserved along with three other bills for the approval of the Dominion Government. If that Government had then desired to protect the minority and permit the establishing of Separate Schools it could easily have done so by refusing to sanction this bill. The other bills, which were comparatively harmless, were disallowed, but the Manitoba School Bill was allowed to become law, which was tantamount to being passed by the Dominion Government. Then the Government, under pressure brought to bear, entered into a compact, that if the courts decided that the Government had power to interfere a remedial bill would be passed and this was the cause of the whole difficulty. Mr. Edwards denounced the conduct of the government as one of double dealing with regard to this question, pointing out that Parliament was called in January to specially pass the Remedial Bill and the very men who are now figuring as Sir Charles Tupper's chief supporters, and who were Sir Mackenzie Bowell's sworn supporters and members of his cabinet, deserted him in a body even before the answer to the speech from the throne had been made and two months were frittered away before the bill was even introduced; then in great haste an attempt was made to rush it through with all its faults and when the Opposition tried to have it properly considered, coercion was resorted to in parliament itself and the absurd spectacle of a whole week's sitting night and day was presented. Fifteen clauses out of one hundred and twelve were passed and those were so scored and amended, interlined and re-written that the bill was hardly recognizable. This showed the necessity for the course suggested by Mr. Laurier, that the facts should be carefully investigated before an attempt was made to pass such a law. Mr. Edwards also called attention to the strange spectacle witnessed throughout the country of the government of Sir Charles Tupper appealing to the electorate on this Remedial Bill, while at the same time Conservative candidates in many places were pledging themselves to vote against it.

The meeting was concluded by votes of thanks to the chairman and cheers for the Queen, Mr. Hall and Mr. Laurier.

Kells & Co's Clearing Sale.

The experience of the past and the aggressiveness of the present, makes it incumbent on the watchful merchant to dispose of stocks in their season. R. H. Kells & Co., make their annual announcement to-day of the commencement of their yearly June clearance sale of summer stocks. This firm has done a careful business up to date, and don't intend to be caught with over-stocks left in the way of Fall importations. The importance of this sale in the interests of economical buyers can scarcely be overestimated. Just at a time when lady shoppers are revelling in the purchases of summer goods comes Messrs. Kells & Co's clear-cut ultimatum to hold a sweeping sale of their entire stock. So many and such lovely goods to be sacrificed without profit will no doubt serve to stimulate buyers to increase their shopping, even for future use, while such shopping bargains are going. To facilitate business during the sale, this firm has, at considerable outlay, introduced the National Cash Register system. To those who have never seen these registers doing their work, it is scarcely possible to describe their wonderful promptness and accuracy. The National Cash Register makes no mistakes, never breaks its word, tells the truth, and handles the sales and the money so ingeniously that the customer stands and wonders at the wizard-like mechanism of this handsome machine. Messrs. Kells & Co. are the first to introduce this new system in Peterborough, and are quite enthusiastic over the advantages it possesses. See advt.

BATTALION NOTES.

Nothing as yet Done in Regard to the Bicycle Corps.

The Belleville Ontario says,—"Lieut. Col. Ponton and officers are trying to arrange with the Picton cavalry to take part in the demonstration here on July 1st in addition to the Peterborough regiment."

Nothing has as yet been done towards organizing a bicycle corps in connection with the Rangers, although there would be no difficulty in procuring men sufficient to easily fill the ranks.

An effort is being made to bring the bugle band up to its old standard and a number of old men, it is understood, will re-enlist.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received and referred as follows:

From John Balderson, Department of Railways and Canals, as follows:—"I have the honour, by direction, to acknowledge the application of the town of Peterborough asking that a highway bridge be built in connection with the proposed bridge for the G. T. R. at Auburn and am to say that the as bridge in question is on the Company's land and will, when built, be owned by them, the Government therefore have no power in the matter."—Received.

From the Auburn Woollen Company, asking for a reduction in assessment and taxation on account of the recent fire.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From the Hilliard estate, asking for a reduction in tavation on account of the recent fire.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From William Pope, asking for remission of dog tax.—Granted.

From N. T. de Laplante, asking that the council oblige the Water Company, as promised, to place two or three hydrants on Lock street south of Lake street.—Received.

From Wm. Jackson, asking for remission of dog tax.—Granted.

From H. I. Kain, asking for a rebate in taxes.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From W. A. Stratton, George W. Hatton, E. B. Wood and others, asking that St. Joseph street be put in proper repair and a sidewalk constructed upon it.—Referred to the Street and Bridge committee with power to act.

From C. Gunsolus, asking a remission of dog tax. Granted upon the taking of the necessary declaration.

From T. M. McFadden, asking to be reappointed sewer inspector.—Received.

From Little Lake Cemetery Co'y., directing the attention of the Council to the fact, that by the falling away of the crib work on Crescent street, the trees planted by the Company, were being injured.—Received.

From H. Mitchell, mail carrier, asking permission to use his bicycle on the sidewalks.—Referred to the License committee.

From Mrs. Emery, asking for her son to be allowed the privilege of selling candies on the streets without a license.—Referred to the License Committee with power to act.

From the Hilliard Estate, asking for exemption from taxation of farm property occupied at present by John C. Higgins, under sub-sections one, two and three of section seven "A" of the Consolidated Assessment Act of 1892.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From the Town Treasurer, re back taxes on lot 11, north of Simcoe and west of George.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From the Town Treasurer, enclosing a statement showing a balance in the bank to the town's credit of $6,631.10.—Received.

From W. J. Green, asking for the granting of a pedlar's license free to R. W. Thompson.—Granted.

From Chief of Police Roesel, stating that the Steamer North Star had left port on Sunday, May 25th, and thereby violated the provisions of the Lord's Day Act. He asked for instructions in the matter.

Councillors W. White and John Sawers moved that the Chief be instructed to take action in the matter.

In amendment, Councillors Mills and Denne moved that the communication be received. The amendment carried.

From Peter Hamilton, chairman of the Property Committee, Board of Education, as follows: "The Board of Education of the Town of Peterborough at their last meeting instructed the Property Committee to investigate in whom rested the title of the Central Park, with a view of securing it as a site for a Collegiate Institute to be erected in the near future, or as soon as the ratepayers would consent. After investigation by our solicitors, Messrs. Denniston, Peck & Stevenson, we have been advised by them that jointly we will have to receive permission by the town and county councils, also it will be necessary to obtain an act of provincial legislature to confirm the resolutions of the different councils. They also advise us as follows: "As the county council meets in June for the last time as at present constituted it might be well to make application forthwith, especially as the next session will be too close to the session of Legislature."

We would therefore ask your honourable body to join us in the application to the county council for their consent to the use of the Central Park for a site for a Collegiate Institute, and also to confirm by resolution or otherwise your consent to the same.—Received.

A DEPUTATION.

As Mr. Hamilton and Mr. W. H. Hill were present in regard to this last communication, they were invited to address the council.

Mr. Hamilton stated that at the last meeting of the Board it had been brought to the attention of the members that there were fully 300 scholars for whom there was not sufficient accommodation in the public schools. This circumstance coupled with the fact that the present building occupied as a Collegiate Institute belonged to the Public School, and if vacant could be used to relieve the pressure, induced the Board to consider the advisability of building a new Collegiate Institute. Twelve hundred dollars annual rental was paid for the use of the building and this sum represented the interest which would be called for on a sum sufficient to erect a very handsome new building. It was necessary, by statute, for the town to provide school accommodation for all children over five years of age and some provision had to be made to look after the children, as even now parents were complaining of the half day system which had to be adopted in some of the rooms in order to accommodate those who wished to attend school.

In view of this state of affairs the Board had come to the conclusion that the erection of the new Collegiate Institute would be the best means of relieving the schools and upon looking around for another site had settled upon the Central Park as being one just suited to the purpose if it could be secured. It was now held in trust jointly, by the town and county, and Mr. Hamilton urged that a deputation from the town council wait on the county council in connection with the Board in reference to the matter. The Park, he pointed out, would be kept in much better order than at present if a Collegiate Institute was erected on a portion of it.

Mr. W. H. Hill endorsed Mr. Hamilton's suggestions, and stated that the armory could probably be used as a gymnasium in connection with the new Institute. The project of building could not possibly be undertaken for several years, as a special Act of Legislation is needed, and therefore there would be plenty of time for the ratepayers to consider the matter in the interval. The renting of rooms, such as would have to be done after vacation was, he pointed out, a very expensive way of keeping up a school system, and the sooner proper accommodation could be provided the sooner the expense involved in renting would be evaded.

On motion of Councillor Best and Langford the matter was referred to the Committee of the Whole Council.

3. That College street be graded and repaired.
4. That Homewood avenue be repaired.
5. That a culvert be constructed on Park street at the west end of Wescott street.
6. Your committee advertised for tenders for lumber and received a number of tenders. We recommend that the lumber required be purchased according to the following offers:—Cedar scantling from Chas. Wynn at $9.50 per M. Pine planks from the Dickson Co. at $11, $12 and $13, according to size, Chas. Wynn at $12 and W. B. Kelly at $12. Cedar plank from W. B. Kelly at $9. Cedar blocks from the Dickson Co'y. and W. B. Kelly at $4. Large cedar from W. B. Kelly at $9.50. Hemlock planks from A. McDonald at $8.
7. Your committee advertised for and received tenders for street watering and awarded the contracts as follows:—Southern District to George Henry at $300; Northern District to Zimri Blodgett at $300; and the Western District to Michael O'Donnell at $200. Your committee ordered a new watering cart from T. Fitzgerald on approval, and as soon as it arrives and is accepted, the districts will be laid out and the then contractors will begin work. The contractors for the Southern and Northern districts have been at work since May 15th.

Adopted on motion of Councillors Langford and John White.

THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE through its chairman, Councillor Mills, reported

That the committee cannot recommend that the petition for a hydrant and light on Albert street be granted.

The committee recommended that one hydrant be granted on Benson street to be paid for by the town on the condition that the petitioners pay for a second one until such time as the council may decide to release them.

An electric light was recommended to be placed near the corner of Benson street and Manning avenue.

The committee have given orders to have electric lights placed on the band stand, Court House Park.

The committee asked for power to order steel axles for the hook and ladder truck and also to have some necessary repairs attended to.

Adopted.

On motion of Councillor Best and Wm. White the matter of placing electric lights on Albert street will be again considered by the committee.

Councillors Langford and Graham introduced a resolution providing for the watering of the principal thoroughfares on Sundays and holidays, before ten o'clock in the morning and before seven o'clock in the evening.

Councillor Hughes denounced the resolutions as one which would besmirch the fair name of Peterborough and cause it to be handed down as a reproach to future generations. He thought the Lord's Day should be observed in all sanctity.

Councillor Langford pointed out that the watering of the streets was as much a necessity as the use of the electric lights or the providing of milk on Sunday and the matter was carried on the following division:

Yeas—Councillors Denne, Mills, Phelan, Sawers, Langford, Graham and John White.—7.

Nays—Councillors Best, Wm. White, Hughes and the Mayor.

The council then adjourned.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind in some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of vital or nerve force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer and a disordered digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any other preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine posses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power most needed, while just as efficacious does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

MORE MEAT AND LESS BONE.

Some cattle weighing say 1200 lbs. live weight, will only dress 530 lbs. when killed and hung upon the butchers' hooks. That's the kind we DON'T keep—because the proportion of bone is too great for the amount of beef.

Prime cattle of a similar weight will dress 720 lbs, instead of 530 lbs—the difference being all in good meat—not bone. That's the kind we DO keep, because the proportion of bone is small, compared with the weight of beef. If you order say a 10 lb. Roast, you can easy figure on what you gain.

Which will you buy? Quantity and more bone, or quality and more meat? We only keep the latter.

YEARLY JUNE SALE

Progress never pauses here. June 1st is the great date in our business year. June is the month when we obliterate regular selling figures and make prices dance downwards for the benefit of consumers.

We start off the First Week of our Big Annual June Clearing Sale with the positive announcement of a Sweeping Reduction on the whole of our $30,000 stock of Fashionable Dress Goods, Seasonable Dry Goods, and Elegant Millinery, Jackets and Capes.

JUNE SHALL BLOOM WITH BARGAINS.

Cost to import and produce will play no part in our Reduced Prices. They are fixed for selling—not because we want to destroy values altogether, but because we always have, always will, and MUST NOW dispose of the great bulk of our Summer Stocks before July.

Wise folks will buy largely now for the future. No scanty or trivial lots only laid out for this occasion—but actually the entire stock. Great lots of seasonable New Goods at Retail below the wholesaler's cost.

TO-DAY we offer 25 Pattern Dresses, worth $4.50 to $10 each, for just ONE-HALF PRICE.

R. H. KELLS & Co

365 George Street, Peterborough.

COME EVERY DAY

And you'll find special attractions every time you visit the store, with the verdict unanimously in your favour, without costs. Every day our June Sale will be Red-Letter days for June buyers.

A NEW SYSTEM

Along with this June Sale we inaugurate a new system of Registering Sales. At considerable outlay we have brought into requisition two complete self-adding National Cash Registers, so perfect in mechanism that they systematize into divisions all the transactions which occur between clerk and customer. They register who makes the sale, the date of sale, number of sale, whether for cash or credit, amount of cash received and cash paid out, the amount of sales made by each salesman, adds the amounts together, and keep a complete register of the total sales of the day. In fact, these wonderful machines do everything but talk.

They also print and issue with each sale a small check ticket to be given to each and every purchaser. Customers keep these tickets until they amount to $10, in exchange for which we give free a pair of Ventilated Summer Corsets, or a pair of our best quality Silk Gloves, or any other goods of equal value.

Before the finished fruit come bud and blossom. Bud grows into blossom and blossom into fruit. And so girlhood merges into womanhood and the woman into motherhood.

The two most critical times in a woman's life are the times which make the girl a woman, and the woman a mother. At these times, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is of incalculable value. It turns danger into safety and pain into ease. It is a medicine which has but one object. It is good for but one thing. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine, it promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, checks unnatural, exhausting drains, and puts the whole delicate organism into perfect condition. Almost all of the ills of womankind are traceable to some form of what is known as "female complaint." And this generally begins either at the time of puberty or childbirth, or at the "turn of life."

There are not three cases in a hundred of woman's peculiar diseases that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will not cure. Thousands of grateful women have been rendered healthy and happy by its use, and the experience and testimony of many of them has been included in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser.

When Dr. Pierce published the first edition of his work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labor and money expended in producing it, he would give away the next half million free. He is now distributing, absolutely free, 500,000 of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, at Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains over 1000 pages and more than 300 illustrations. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send now before all are given away. They are going off rapidly, therefore, do not delay sending immediately if you want one.

Zephyr, Ont., Aug. 12, 1895.

Dear Sirs,—It gives me much pleasure to testify to the fact that Scott's Sarsaparilla has caused a most remarkable change in my condition. I was so much run down I had to give up work, and felt as if life was not worth living. Mr. Dafoe, our local merchant, induced me to try Scott's Sarsaparilla, I did so and took four bottles. I am now feeling as I did years ago. I want to say for the benefit of those suffering from indigestion and broken down health, don't despair until you have given Scott's Sarsaparilla a trial.

Dear Sirs,—In reply to your enquiry concerning the effect of your Scott's Sarsaparilla on heart disease I may frankly say it has been most beneficial to me. For a long time past I have frequently been severely ill and sometimes thought I was near death. Smothering spells and palpitation of the heart laid me up for days at a time. I am now at this date of writing as well as ever I was in my life, and have not had a return of heart trouble since taking the first dose of Scott's Sarsaparilla. Yours sincerely,

Burying the Victims of the Moscow Calamity.

THE FESTIVITIES GOING RIGHT ON

Later Estimates Place the Number of Dead at 3600—Unidentified Victims Buried in Huge Trenches—Thousands Weeping and Praying in the Cemeteries.

Moscow, June 1.—Every effort is being made to clear the Hodynsky Plain of the dead who lost their lives in the disaster of Saturday. To-day a number of bodies were found on the edges of the plain and in the villages around. The functions in connection with the coronation festivities are being given as though nothing had happened. The pleasure resorts are open as usual.

The police declare that they had no official power on the plain and could not interfere until it was too late.

All the bodies of the victims were interred to-day. About half of the dead were identified. The unclaimed dead filled 11 trenches, 50 yards long. Priests officiated at all the interments. Many pathetic scenes were witnessed as the bodies were consigned to the earth. Thousands of persons were in the cemetery weeping and praying.

The Standard's Moscow correspondent estimates the number of dead at 3600, besides 1200 injured, who were taken to the hospitals. Most of the injured, he says, will die. The lower classes of the populace are intensely exasperated and language can be heard on the streets that at other times would cause the speakers to be severely punished.

The correspondent adds that when the police reinforcements and Cossacks arrived in the plain Saturday morning, the latter, as is customary with them when dealing with the peasantry, applied their whips cruelly and needlessly, lashing the Moujiks, who were on the outskirts of the crowd. Two of the Cossacks were dragged from their horses by the enraged sufferers and killed. Eight gendarmes were caught in the crowd, knocked down and suffocated.

SAYS THE CZAR SOBBED

On Hearing the Extent of the Disaster at His Coronation Feast.

London, June 1.—Special despatches from Moscow to the morning papers describe the horrors of the Hodynsky plain, as being worse than those of a battlefield.

The Daily News despatch says: "The Czar sobbed upon learning of the disaster. It is probable that but for the numerous foreign correspondents here the whole affair would have been hushed up. The newspapers were forbidden to publish a description of the scenes.

"There were 140 booths on the plain and some of them were crushed together like match boxes. Astonishing as it seems, the people returned in the afternoon and enjoyed the amusements as if nothing had happened. Many complained of their failure to get souvenirs."

The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "There were equal numbers of women and children among the victims, though no very young children or babies were killed."

One mounted gendarme near the booths was literally crushed to death, together with his rearing and plunging horse.

The Czar and Czarina, after attending the requiem mass in the chapel of the Kremlin, paid a visit to the injured survivors in the hospitals, passing from cot to cot and addressing words of sympathy and comfort. Both of the Imperial pair were deeply affected by the scenes of suffering they witnessed.

The Czarina sent a bottle of Maderia to each of the injured persons in the hospitals yesterday.

HAMMOND OUT ON PAROLE.

The Johannesburg Reformer Permitted to Go to the Bedside of His Dying Wife.

Pretoria, June 1.—John Hayes Hammond, the American mining engineer, who was sentenced to death as one of the leaders of the Johannesburg Reform Committee in the late conspiracy against the Transvaal Government, but whose sentence was subsequently commuted to 15 years' imprisonment, has been released on parole, in order that he might visit his wife, who is ill at Johannesburg.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is Much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 25.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely, Dodds Kidney Pills, is obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

Cholera Riots in Cairo.

London, June 1.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Cairo says that a serious riot has occurred in that city, growing out of the public alarm over the prevalence of cholera. In the course of the disturbances, the Governor of Cairo was wounded and the police were compelled to fire upon the mob. Several hundred of the rioters were arrested.

Coming Back to Canada.

Salem, Mass., June 1.—Mill No. 5 of the Naumkeag Cotton Co. shut down to-day for an indefinite period, while the remaining departments will run but four days a week. The closing of No. 5 throws 400 spinners and weavers out of work and the early trains north carried a large number of the French employes on the way to Canada, where they will remain until business resumes. Many of the heads of families have invested their savings in Canadian farms and will now go to them for the summer.

THE COLONIAL TRADE CONGRESS.

In Which Canada Will Take a Leading Part—What it is Proposed to Prove at the Meeting.

New York, May 31.—The Tribune's London cable special says: The approaching Congress of Chambers of Commerce, in which Canada will take a leading part, will discuss several schemes for establishing between the various portions of the empire a zollverein based upon mutual interests and necessities. The number of delegates will be large, and Mr. Chamberlain will deliver an important address. The Canadian delegates will attempt to prove that the British Empire can supply the home market with the products of every clime at the lowest possible cost, and with Free Trade inside there might be a customs barrier outside. Mr. Chamberlain may be meditating another onslaught upon academic Free Trade in this jubilee year of the Cobden Club.

Perfect Wisdom

Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly wise, they must take medicines to keep themselves perfectly healthy. Pure, rich blood is the basis of good health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier. It gives good health because it builds upon the true foundation—pure blood.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

OUR MAIL.

Our mail brings us every day dozens of letters about Burdock Blood Bitters. Some from merchants who want to buy it, some from people who want to know about it, and more from people who do know about it because they have tried it and been cured. One of them was from Mr. J. Gillan, B.A., 39 Gould Street, Toronto. Read how he writes:

GENTLEMEN,—During the winter of 1892 my blood became impure on account of the hearty food I ate in the cold weather. Ambition, energy and success forsook me, and all my efforts were in vain. My skin became yellow, my bowels became inactive, my liver was lumpy and hard, my eyes became inflamed, my appetite was gone, and the days and nights passed in unhappiness and restlessness

For some months I tried doctors' and patent medicines of every description, but received no benefit. Being advised by a friend to try B.B.B., I am glad to have the opportunity of testifying to the marvellous result. After using three bottles I felt much better, and when the fifth bottle was finished I enjoyed health in the greatest degree, and have done so from that day up to date. Therefore I have much pleasure in recommending B. B.B. to all poor suffering humanity who suffer from impure blood, which is the beginning and seat of all diseases.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WEITSTEIN, Byron, Ill.

Prevent Potato Scab.

Take 2 oz. corrosive sublimate to each 15 gallons of water. Dissolve the poison in a small amount of hot water, using an earthenware dish. It will dissolve faster if powdered. Add this solution to the remainder of the water in a wooden cask or barrel. If only a few potatoes are treated, a glass or earthenware vessel may be used, but a vessel of iron, tin or copper should be taken. Let the potatoes remain in the solution 1 1-2 hours. Take out the potatoes and put in another lot. The same solution may be used over and over. Corrosive sublimate is a deadly poison and must be used with caution. Cut the potatoes when convenient and plant as usual

Gardening Requires Hard Labor.

Those who succeed with gardening and fruit growing are compelled to expend a large sum for labor and fertilizers, but it pays. The farmer, on the contrary, cultivates more land, expends less proportionately and secures smaller crops, which are not so much in demand as those produced by the gardener. It requires capital to succeed with farming, and unless the farmer is willing to invest largely in labor of cultivation and to procure fertilizers that can be liberally applied he will lessen his profits according to what he may fail to give the land in order to make it produce to its fullest capacity.

THE MARKETS.

Toronto, June 1.

ABOUT THE LIVER.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:—

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Never Fails.

Here is an old astrological prediction of the character of a girl born in each of the months:

January—She will be a prudent housewife, given to melancholy, but good-tempered and fond of fine clothes.

February—An affectionate wife and tender mother, and given to dress.

March—A frivolous chatterbox, somewhat given to quarreling and a connoisseur in gowns and bonnets.

April—Inconsistent, not very intelligent, but likely to be good-looking and studious of fashion plates.

May—Handsome, amiable and given to style in dress.

June—Impetuous; will marry early, be frivolous and like dressy clothes.

July—Possibly handsome, but with a sulky temper and a penchant for gay attire.

August—Amiable and practical, likely to marry rich and dress strikingly.

September—Discreet, affable, much liked and a fashionable dresser.

October—Pretty and coquettish and devoted to attractive garniture.

November—Liberal, kind, of a mild disposition and an admirer of stylish dress.

December—Well proportioned, fond of novelty, extravagant, and a student of dressy effects.

Irresistible Proof That There is a Cure for Diabetes.

The following sworn statement is the best proof that diabetes is not incurable, and that there is a remedy which will cure it.

Ontario, County of Carleton, to wit:

I, Charles Moss, of the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, Blacksmith, do hereby solemnly declare as follows:

1. I reside at 180 Bell Street, in the said City of Ottawa.

2. For the past fifteen years I have been a great sufferer from kidney disease; among the prominent symptoms of which were severe pains in my back, hot flashes extending from the base of the spine up between my shoulders, dizziness, headaches, etc. I was in a bad state generally and suffered great agony at times. The intense pain prevented my sleeping, and I seemed to get worse continually. The doctors who were called in pronounced my disease diabetes, but their treatment did no good, and they held out but slight hope of my recovery. I was then so far gone with the disease that I could not turn in bed without help. My urine was of a dark wine color, and full of sediment.

3. I took all kinds of medicine, but without permanent relief.

4. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at H. P. MacCarthy's drug store, but having been so often disappointed I had no faith in them. However, I started taking them, and they struck the right spot at once, and I commenced to get better. From that time on improvement was continuous until I am now, after five weeks use of Doan's Kidney Pills, entirely free from pain of any kind. The urine is natural, and I am now working right along every day in my shop.

5. It is a great source of pleasure for me to testify to the world of the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act.

Declared before me at the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, this 4th day of April, 1896.

MR. JAMES KENDRY'S ENNISMORE EFFORT.

A GATHERING AT THE TOWN HALL.

Addresses Delivered by Messrs. Stevenson, Kendry, R. R. Hall and G. M. Roger—An Animated Discussion of Public Questions—The Government's Insincerity and Double Dealing Exposed.

A meeting in the interests of Mr. James Kendry was held in the Town Hall, Ennismore, last evening. There was a good attendance of the electors and Mr. C. O'Connor occupied the chair. Mr. Kendry was represented by Mr. Jas. Stevenson, Mr. W. H. Moore, Mr. Geo. Hatton, Mr. Jas. Bogue, Mr. Moses Giroux, Mr. Thos. Pope and others. Mr. Hall was represented by Mr. G. M. Roger and Mr. R. R. Hall. The first speaker was Mr. James Stevenson. After eulogizing Mr. Kendry he spoke of the benefits the N.P. had been to the country, but the coolness with which the remarks were received evinced the fact that the audience felt that Mr. Stevenson was at his old tricks, trying to fool the electors again. When Mr. Stevenson stated that there were 1,000 men working on the T. V. C. the balance of his sentence could not be heard for laughter, some of the audience remarking, "at $2 per day for man and team. Hurrah for the N.P. The old fake that the consumer does not pay the duty was asserted and received with derision.

Mr. G. M. Roger followed, and said it was peculiar that the Government speakers had to labour so hard to prove that the country was prosperous and the people rich. How was it, if this was the case, that the people could not see it for themselves? Electors had an easy and infallible way of testing the truth of all such representations. Let them feel their own pockets, and look into their own bank books. No doubt the policy was enriching Mr. Kendry and such as he, but what was it doing for the farmer, our principal mainstay and the mainspring of our local prosperity. While they were labouring and sweating to make both ends meet, Mr. Kendry could afford to build an eighteen or twenty thousand dollar house. The N. P. was a fraud and a failure in that one class was impoverished to enrich another. The masses were taxed for the benefit of a class. In the case of coal oil, for instance, five million people were taxed and made to pay more than double its cash value for the sake of possibly five hundred people engaged in the industry of preparing it for the market. And so with every other line of manufacture there were probably hundreds taxed and burdened for every one benefitted. They pretended to protect the farmer, but how could they regulate a market which was outside their jurisdiction and beyond their control. They had not been able to do so; the N. P. was a failure in this respect and was a hardship and not a benefit to the farmer upon whose prosperity we were all so much dependent. He charged also that it was unjust and impolitic to tax the people beyond the requirements of just and economical government, and that their doing so had engendered extravagance and corruption so gross as to double and treble the reasonable cost of every public work. All this was the price which the people had to pay if they wished to maintain the present government and its policy. In closing Mr. Roger took occasion to deny the garbled and misleading report which had been published in the Review of his remarks in Middleton's School House upon the Manitoba School question. He had said nothing there that he was not afraid to answer for to an Ennismore or any other audience. He had stood up for justice and tolerance to the minority in the so called Equal Rights campaign of 1890, when Mr. Moore and Mr. Kendry were supporting Mr. Carnegie in his attacks upon that minority, and we now and always had claimed that any injustice done to the minority in Manitoba should be redressed, but in a judicious way, and after careful and thorough consideration of all the interests involved. Such precipitate action as the Government proposed to take was calculated more to promote than to allay dissension. He argued that the whole attitude and action of the Government indicated a desire to profit and to make political capital out of the differences which they had themselves helped to foment, rather than a desire either to do justice or make peace between the disputants.

Mr. R. R. Hall followed Mr. Roger. He said that Mr. Kendry was a strong supporter of Mr. John Carnegie when he ran as an Equal Rights candidate, but the object of the Equal Rights Association was to do away with Separate Schools in this province, or at all events to so hamper and impair them that the Catholics would have to give them up. At a meeting in the Opera House, at which Mr. Kendry was present on the platform with Mr. Carnegie, we found him applauding and approving of Mr. Carnegie's Equal Rights platform and now we find him actually and squarely going back on his principles and yet at the same time pretending to be the friend of the Catholics by trying to force upon the people of Manitoba an unworkable bill which leading members of the minority in Manitoba have condemned. Men who took such glaringly inconsistent courses were not sincere and should not be trusted by either Catholics or Protestants. Men who would go back on their record, as Mr. Kendry had done, were not to be trusted any more than Sir Charles Tupper, who was guilty of making the insulting remark, respecting our Catholic fellow citizens, that he "had no confidence in the breed." Referring to the inconsistent attitude of Conservative candidates supporting the Government's general policy and opposing Remedial Legislation, Mr. Hall quoted the "United Canada" of May 30th, an independent Catholic Journal, published at Ottawa, as follows:—

"Why not denounce the forty or fifty Conservative candidates who are pledged against anything that even resembles remedial legislation? They have declared that they are satisfied with Manitoba's treatment of the minority. Will the "Register" deny that these forty or fifty anti-remedialists are receiving campaign funds, campaign literature, campaign patronage, and above all, campaign promises from the Tuppers and their deputies. The "United Canada" adds "Mr. Laurier says: The Liberals will do justice to the minority, not by affecting to coerce the majority, but by appealing to their sense of fairness and by persuasion."

And of this course 'United Canada' heartily approves.

Mr. Hall concluded by pointing out that the Conservative party was simply using the School Question to cloud the real issue—their corruption and extravagance, and utter contempt and neglect of the interests of the farmers.

Mr. Kendry indignantly repudiated any sympathy with the views of Equal Righters. True, he had supported Mr. Carnegie in 1890, but he had done so on personal grounds. He had been asked what his position was in regard to coercion. He had said that he was prepared and intended to support the government upon this point because he thought it was right. He had never been in Ennismore before and he sympathized with the people of that township upon the condition of their bridge and, taking a leaf out of Sir Charles Tupper's book, he said, if elected, he would endeavour to secure for them the erection by the government of a permanent bridge in its place. He claimed to have done more than any other man for the prosperity of Peterborough and contended that consequently it was to the interests of its citizens that he should be elected.

Mr. Moore followed, spending most of his time in trying to refute the arguments of the opposition speakers, and to account for his change of front on the school question since 1890, and for the party's treatment of Mr. Stevenson in regard to the nomination. He dealt mostly with the trade question, arguing that the people were, or should be, prosperous and contented with existing conditions.

The meeting, which appeared about equally divided in its sympathies, closed with a hearty cheer for the Queen, and with very modified ones for Mr. Kendry and Mr. Stevenson.

BETHANY S. S. CONVENTION.

Annual Sunday School Convention for the Township of Manvers.

The annual Sabbath School convention of the township of Manvers was held in Bethany, May 27th, in the Methodist church. The attendance was good.

The afternoon session was duly opened by the President, Rev. R. Johnston, and after the singing, "Throw Out the Life Line," the scripture lesson (1 Cor. 12 chap.) was read. Rev. Roger Allin led in prayer. The first business was the appointment of a nominating committee. Rev. D. P. Oswald, Janetville, together with the S. S. Superintendent of the township, formed the committee. They reported as follows:

President—Rev. R. Johnston, Bethany.
Vice-President—Mr. Miller, Janetville.
Secretary—Rev. D. P. Oswald, Janetville.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. Burn, Janetville.
Committee of Management—The Superintendents of Sabbath Schools in the township, together with the resident ministers of the township.

The reports of schools gave evidence of much interest that existed among the among the teachers and scholars. All reports were very encouraging; much good has been done, and not a few brought into the church.

The first paper was read by Rev. W. V. Sexsmith, Pontypool—"The Responsibility of Teachers." He held the teacher to be under grave responsibilities, (1st) because of the material he had to work upon; (2nd) because of what he had to teach. The paper was open for discussion, and much benefit was derived therefrom. After singing, R. W. Clark, Esq., of Millbrook, presented a normal lesson on "The Life of Christ," on the black-board; he described a large circle and divided it into five equal parts: 1st, period of preparation; 2nd, year of obscurity; 3rd, year of popularity; 4th, year of opposition; 5, year of death. In these spaces were noted some of the many events of Christ's career. The lesson was very instructive and helpful.

The next was the discussion of the "Hindrances to S. S. work," by Messrs. W. T. Maguire, of Lifford; Wilson, of Pontypool; F. W. Galbraith, of Bethany, and others. While there were many hindrances to the work, all agreed in saying that these could be overcome in a great degree by the concentrated efforts of teachers and parents.

EVENING SESSION.

A very large audience assembled at the evening session. After the opening exercises and prayer by Rev. Mr. Oswald, Mr. A. Skitch, of Port Hope, President of the County Association, presented a paper on the subject "How I prepare my Sunday School lesson." The plan thus laid before the session was heartily approved by all, and much good derived from the after discussion of the paper.

Rev. C. H. Coon, of Janetville, read an excellent paper on "Child Religion," which called forth a lively discussion. R. W. Clarke, Rev. W. Oswald and others taking part therein.

The question drawer was taken charge of by Rev. Mr. Oswald, who answered the questions in a helpful manner.

The choir of the Methodist church rendered good and efficient service throughout the convention. After the customary votes of thanks were made and given, the convention was dismissed by the benediction. All who visited the sessions of the convention are loud in its praise, and bear away pleasing reminiscences of their short visit to Bethany.

ITS FAME SPREADING.

A New Remedy in General Use in Manitoba and the Northwest.

WINNIPEG, June 1.—The effects of the regular wave of sickness which sweeps over this portion of the Dominion in the spring, are noticeable in the increasing amount of the druggists' sales. There has been quite a run on the kidney remedy now so well known under the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The recovery from Bright's disease of Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, through their use, an account of which appeared in the papers, gave a considerable impetus to the sale, and the remedy has become indispensable in many Manitoba households, its fame having penetrated into the remotest parts of the province and Northwest Territories.

SIR OLIVER MOWAT

Enters Actively Into the Political Contest.

GREATLY APPLAUDED AT OAKWOOD

Corruption and Extravagance of the Government Denounced—Mr. W. H. Preston Out in West Toronto—Mr. McCarthy at Barrie—Campaign Notes.

Oakwood, Ont., June 2.—A meeting in the interest of George Aichmgn, the Liberal candidate for South Victoria, was held in the Town Hall here today. The hall was filled to its utmost capacity, many not being able to gain admission. The chair was taken by William Lownsbrough, reeve of Manvers. The Liberal candidate was the first speaker, and gave an address touching on the leading questions of the day, having special reference to the prejudice sought to be raised against him on account of his being a Roman Catholic.

Sir Oliver Mowat was greeted with great applause, and delivered a speech of about an hour and a half, and was presented with a bouquet by little Mona Irwin from Manitoba. Sir Oliver referred to the extravagance and corruption of the present Government as compared with Mackenzie's reign, and expressed his great satisfaction to acknowledge Hon. Wilfrid Laurier as his leader, who he said was sure to be Canada's next Premier. Referring to preferential trade with Great Britain, he said the purpose of the Government was not sincere, as Mr. Chamberlain had declared it impossible under a protective tariff. He scored the N. P. as a failure, it having only enriched a few favored manufacturers. Speaking of the bishops' mandement, he regretted very much its issue, as several prominent members of the Liberal Government, who were Catholics, had been elected by Protestant constituencies, notably the late Hon. C. F. Fraser. He referred to the candidate's three years of zealous service in the interests of the Protestant Liberals, and asked Mariposa electors to support Mr. McHugh. He declared for conciliation and investigation as the proper means of settlement of the Manitoba school question.

MR. PRESTON A CANDIDATE.

He Will be in the West Toronto Fight Against Clarke and Osler.

Toronto, June 3.

J. B. Barron also gave an address. The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, Laurier, Mowat and McHugh.

Mr. W. T. R. Preston was last night nominated by the Liberal Convention for West Toronto to oppose E. F. Clarke and B. H. Osler.

Mr. Preston, after thanking the convention for choosing him as the party standard bearer, expressed his views on a few questions before the public. He condemned the N.P. and advocated a reduction of the duty on raw materials. He blamed the Government for not putting an insolvency bill through the House—an insolvency bill under which debtors, on proper investigation, should be liberated from their obligations and be given a free start in life. He believed also that there should be no alien labor law between the United States and Canada, but that Canada should make every effort to live on the best of terms with her big neighbor.

Regarding the Manitoba school question, he said that had the members of the Government been statesmen they would not have sent a mandamus to Winnipeg, but would have instituted a proper inquiry. Coercion never succeeded in the world's history. No man had greater sympathy with a minority than he, but the grievances in this case could only be remedied by the Manitoba Government. Those who took the rights away should restore them. The question could now be settled only by placing men in power who would deal fairly with Manitoba.

"For the present, at least," he continued, "the coercion policy must cease." An honest effort should first of all be made to settle the question without coercion.

The meeting broke up with cheers for the Queen, Hon. Mr. Laurier, Sir Oliver Mowat and the candidate.

MR. M'CARTHY AT BARRIE.

Freely Says He Desires the Destruction of the Government.

Barrie, June 2.—Mr. D'Alton McCarthy opened his campaign here to-night and the Town Hall was unable to hold the crowd eager to hear the leader of the Third Party. About 100 seats were reserved on the platform for ladies, and these were filled long before the advertised hour for the meeting to commence. Mayor J. M. Bothwell occupied the chair. The members of the County Council filled seats in the front of the hall.

The chairman first introduced Col. O'Brien of Shanty Bay, who, on coming forward, was greeted with great applause. He said it was not his intention to enter into a discussion of the burning questions of the day. He was simply here to fill in time until the arrival of Mr. McCarthy. Mr. O'Brien touched briefly on the school question, and scored the Government for making the objectionable Manitoba bill one of the planks of their platform.

Mr. McCarthy said he came before the electors of North Simcoe to ask their suffrages for the seventh time, and to give an account of his stewardship. He dealt briefly with the alleged Government scandals and the tariff question. He said the people have been clamoring for a readjustment of the tariff for the past three or four years. A tariff of 20 per cent. against England would bring a larger amount to our treasury than the present tariff of 30 per cent. He would like to see a readjustment with England in the near future and not be compelled to wait on the remote days of preferential trade. Mr. McCarthy said he was opposed to the free trade policy of the Liberals.

The speaker then dealt with the school question at length. He quoted from the mandements of the Catholic bishops of Quebec. Their endeavor to stifle the people of the province was a more serious question than that of the Manitoba schools. Sir Charles Tupper had bargained with the clergy of Quebec for the votes of the French Catholics. The Bishops had ordered their people not to support any man that was not in favor of restoring Separate schools to Manitoba.

Mr. McCarthy referred to the articles in the daily press regarding the compact to destroy the present Government. "I am free to say that I desire the destruction of the Government. If the bill is to be killed the Government of Sir Charles Tupper must be killed first. If the Government lives the bill lives. If Laurier comes in he will be a fool to touch the bill. I have never concealed the fact that I desire the downfall of the Government. I will join with Liberal, Patron or anything to kill a Remedial Government. I deny that I have been a party to any compact. Does it seem reasonable that I have joined a compact with the Liberals when I am opposed in this riding by a Liberal who is working hard to defeat me?"

Mr. McCarthy finished his speech with a strong plea for the support of his hearers. The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, the candidate and Col. O'Brien.

North Waterloo Liberals.

Galt, June 2.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held here this evening in the interests of Mr. James Livingston of Baden, the Reform candidate in North Waterloo. Mr. Thomas Bain and Dr. Landerkin were the speakers. Hon. James Young occupied the chair and also gave a short address.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Manufacturers are for Laurier—Good News From East and West.

One of the hopeful signs for the Liberal cause in the campaign is the large number of manufacturers who have declared themselves in sympathy with Mr. Laurier. The Globe recently sent out a circular for the purpose of ascertaining the feeling among manufacturers, and the replies are extremely satisfactory. Many of those who in 1878 cast their influence for the National Policy have found that it is not all that is claimed for it, and are now in favor of tariff reform. Some of the replies enter into details as to the present condition of manufacturing in the country, and they all express the opinion that the Liberal policy is the best for all concerned. The influence of the replies and list published in The Globe must be very great.

The news from British Columbia is of the most reassuring character. That province has hitherto sent a solid contingent to support the Conservative Government, but in this election there is every indication that the position will be reversed. The Government may carry one or two seats, but the chances are that the Pacific Province will go entirely or almost entirely for Mr. Laurier. D'Alton McCarthy, who has just returned from the West, says the Government will do well if it secures five of the seventeen seats west of the lakes.

Even in Nova Scotia, where the Tupper influence is supposed to be strong, the outlook for the Liberals is satisfactory. So uncertain is the Premier of carrying his own province that all sorts of bribes are being held out to the people to induce them to support him. Were the promises of railway subsidies already made to be carried out the public debt would be very largely added to.

Advices from Prince Edward Island state that although the constituencies were rearranged in such a way as to favor the Conservative side, it is likely that all the five members from that province will be found supporting the Liberals.

The bishops of Quebec are out on their annual pastoral tour. Of course they are not supposed to talk politics, but they are working nevertheless against Mr. Laurier. Notwithstanding this fact, many of the members of their church object to their interference, and they will be surprised to find out after all how little influence they have in directing how their people are to vote. A large Liberal contingent will sit in the next Parliament, more especially from the district around the city of Quebec.

H. H. Osler has been asked to re-consider his answer declining to run in Haldimand, and agreed to do so. A deputation waited upon him yesterday and he is to telegraph his answer to-day. Should he accept it will probably be a straight fight between him and Dr. Montague.

"We are, I believe, at one with respect to the tariff. I think, with you, that the introduction of the protective system was a mistake on the part of our people. So, you, like myself, are a Reformer and not a revolutionist, and you recognize the necessity of legislation on the tariff being gradual and cautious. Adopting that policy, I am glad that you are your way meantime to changes which will be a relief to our farmers and at the same time will not injuriously affect but rather benefit manufacturers and their workmen. A Government owes a duty to all classes of the people."—SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

LIMERIDGE FIGHT

Commemorated by Age and Youth in Toronto.

GENERAL CASCOIGNE WAS PRESENT

Veterans of 1866 Joined by the School Soldiery in a Memorial Celebration—Patriotic Speeches Delivered by the Major-General and Others.

Toronto, June 3.

Thirty years have passed since the volunteers of Toronto, suddenly called to arms, advanced to the Niagara frontier to repel the invading Fenians, some to lose their lives in battle with the seasoned veterans of the American War, during that short campaign of 1866. That those who then fell in defence of their country are not forgotten was shown yesterday, when, on the anniversary of the Battle of Limeridge, in which a number of volunteers were killed, seven thousand people gathered in the Queen's Park to witness the decoration of the monument erected to the memory of the fallen heroes.

The celebration was under the auspices of the Veterans of '66 Association, and that organization took a leading part in the ceremonies. The drill companies of the Public schools, a score in number, and including over 1500 boys, assembled in Gerrard-street at 1 o'clock. Headed by the Band of the Royal Grenadiers, the boys marched by Yonge and King-streets to Simcoe, all a-quiver with emulation and pride, for were they not to be reviewed by the General? And the marching of the youngsters was such as would do no discredit to many militia corps. In Simcoe-street Major-General and Mrs. Gascoigne, attended by Lieut-Cols. Otter, Graveley and Gray, and Captain McLean, witnessed the parade. The General expressed the utmost admiration of the steadiness of the boys, who "marched past" with all the spirit of regulars, the neatly uniformed lads of the Victoria Industrial School, with their band, bringing up the rear.

In College-avenue, opposite the Armouries, the procession was formed, bands of little girls and boys, laden with floral tributes, leading the way, and followed by the Veterans of '66, marching to the martial notes of the Queen's Own bugles. The boys' drill companies completed the line. Thousands of people lined the avenue as the procession made its way to the Park, and another throng crowded around the monument.

Arrived at the monument, the Veterans entered the enclosure, and the mound was used as a platform for the speakers. President Fahey, in opening the proceedings, eulogized those in whose memory the monument had been raised. He called upon Major-General Gascoigne, who was greeted with enthusiasm as he began to speak. He paid a graceful tribute to the memory of the fallen volunteers, and said he regarded such occasions as highly important in teaching patriotism to the rising generation. It was possible that on the younger citizens of Canada might devolve the defence of their country, and it was desirable that the boys of to-day should be trained so as to fit them for such an eventuality.

The General placed a large wreath of flowers on the monument, the act being greeted with tremendous cheers, which were renewed as a Union Jack of flowers was hung from the pedestal. The other tributes, consisting of baskets, wreaths, shields, anchors, crosses and pyramids of the choicest flowers, were then tastefully arranged about the monument, and the other speakers proceeded.

An eloquent address was that of the Lieutenant-Governor, who graphically portrayed the events leading up to the fatal 2nd of June, 1866, when Canada's brave sons fell in opposing a band of lawless ruffians. Theirs was a noble death, and their memory should be held dear by the people of to-day. The young men of to-day will be ready, he was assured, to emulate the deeds of these brave men should occasion ever arise.

The municipal authorities were oratorically represented by Ald. Scott, who said it was a most desirable thing that patriotism should be one of the teachings of our schools, that in troublous times to come we may be able to hold our own.

The sentiments voiced by Dr. George R. Parkin, principal of Upper Canada College, were greeted with great applause. The Veterans of 1866, he said, represented that which makes nations great. No people ever became great except through toil and suffering, and such had been Canada's experience. Concluding a thoroughly patriotic address, he said: "It is in the assurance that we know the value of our country and are prepared to defend it that our future safety lies."

Chairman Hodgens of the Public School Board and Mr. Alexander Muir, author of "The Maple Leaf," were the other speakers, and both gave utterance to the most patriotic sentiments.

Among those in the Veterans' column were many prominent citizens who in 1866 shouldered their rifles and marched to the defence of Canada.

The celebration yesterday will rank as one of the most successful the Veterans have held.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 1896.

MR. HAGGART AND THE CANAL.

In Saturday's EXAMINER we founded on a report of a speech of Hon John Haggart, a few remarks in criticism of the Government's neglect in the matter of pushing work on the Trent Valley Canal, a work of too much importance to this district to be made the cat's paw of political exigencies. We took a report, by the Mail and Empire, of a Conservative meeting at which Mr. Haggart, Minister of Railways and Canals, spoke. In this report Mr. Haggart made no reference to the canal, and our remarks were founded upon this omission. After the article was written and printed we discovered that a fuller report appeared in a Belleville paper, printed a day later than the Mail and Empire. In this report Mr. Haggart does devote a few words to the canal, but of such a nature as not to weaken the force of our remarks—"he hoped the Trent Valley Canal would be of such benefit to this section as the Tay Canal had been to the town of Perth."

And it is to be hoped that the Trent Valley Canal won't cost as much in proportion as the Tay Canal, upon which $389,008 was squandered in excess of the actual cost, about four times the original estimate. At this rate the Trent Valley Canal would cost about twenty million dollars. As to the benefit of the Tay Canal to Perth an estimate may be formed from the fact that the canal cost for maintainence last year nearly $3,000 and the total revenue was $126. As to its use, Sir John Macdonald stated in Parliament that the Tay Canal did not even drain the county of Perth, "but it drains the public treasury pretty well." Now we don't share Mr. Haggart's hope that the Trent Canal will be as useful as the Tay Canal—a monstrous "job" on which hundreds of thousands of dollars have been wasted, and for the plans of which ten years revenue would not pay. At the Trenton meeting Mr. Haggart, as reported in the Intelligencer, tried to lay the blame on the Liberals. He stated it was the government's intention "to have a sum voted for the work at the last session, but they could not get it through owing to the obstruction of the Opposition." Exactly. Thus we see a government that fifteen years ago, through the present premier, Sir Charles Tupper, pledged itself to the construction of the canal; which appointed a commission that endorsed the canal, and gave us the promise nearly six years ago that the work would be pushed at once, waiting till the fag end of a session and the dying hours of a parliament which had no legal right to be called into session; delaying dealing with so important a work when they had ten thousand opportunities to have pushed work, and had the canal completed years before. Does that look like business? In truth the canal has been made a cat's paw by the Government. At Ottawa, Mr. Stevenson's Conservative chums jocularly referred to the canal as a "frog pond," and taking their cue from the inaction, delay and neglect of the government, they looked upon it as a huge joke. But it was no joke to this section to have the work, which could have been completed years ago, galvanized into life just at the time of a general election. The people of this district are not quite fools, and they can see that the government has shamefully neglected the Trent Valley Canal which should have been in running order from end to end to-day.

As to the report in the Mail and Empire, though in Mr. Haggart's condensed speech no reference is made to the canal, the more condensed reports of the remarks of two other speakers referred specifically to the canal, and if the canal lay so near Mr. Haggart's heart, if he had spoken heartily and at length on the subject as he was invited and urged to do by two previous speakers, no reporter could in the most condensed report have omitted to take note of what he said. He must have "skated" gingerly round the subject.

We have heard the cry of "wolf!" so often that we are a little cautious in accepting government promises at par. For the past fifteen years or more we have had promises of rushing work on the Trent Valley Canal and it is not finished yet. And we may repeat, judging by the past, that we may have the work on the present sections completed and then another delay looking up to another splurge just on the eve of an election; that is, if the present government is in power. But it will not be and the canal will be in the hands of a Liberal Government, which will carry out the obligations of their predecessors, but not their policy of corrupt delay in reference to the Trent Valley Canal and will carry on the construction on business principles.

TUPPER TACTICS.

Sir Mackenzie's Bowell is in London, England, and has evidently been sleeping in Sir Charles Tupper's old apartment—he has caught his spirit any way. Sir Mackenzie told the St. James' Gazette that the Liberals are willing to give the United States reciprocity with discrimination against Great Britain. This is a stretch of the truth, worthy of the Great Stretcher. The Liberal party, in its platform formulated in 1893, declares in favour of such a reciprocity treaty with the United States as will receive the assent of Her Majesty's government—and that would not involve anti-British discrimination. It is left to the loyal Conservative Government to levy discriminating tariff against the mother country. The average rate of tariff against British goods is 23 per cent., as against 12 per cent. on goods imported from the United States, a discrimination of ten per cent against England. In the House in 1892 Mr. McNeil, Conservative M.P., moved a resolution to make a reduction on the duty on British manufactured goods if the mother country admitted Canadian products on more favoured terms than those from other countries. In amendment to this Hon. L. H. Davies, Liberal M.P., moved the following resolution:

Inasmuch as Great Britain admits the product of Canada into her ports free of duty, this House is of the opinion that the present scale of duties on goods mainly imported from Great Britain should be reduced.

This amendment was voted down and the discrimination against British goods enforced. When the Mail was the Conservative organ, before its first flop, in answer to the objection that the N. P. would imperil British connection, the organ of the party, par excellence, of loyalty said, "so much the worse for British connection." A truly loyal sentiment, but not half so bad nor half so practically disloyal as a distriminating duty against the goods of the Mother Country, which admits all Canadian products free without tax or imposto except, of course, the embargo or live Canadian cattle for which the Dominion Government is responsible.

MR. W. A. PURCELL of Halifax, has been caretaker of the Point Pleasant fort and battery for twenty-five years. Having, as one would think he had a right to do in this free country, expressed his intention of voting for the Liberal candidate, he was summarily dismissed. If he had kept his intention quiet till he had voted, we suppose he would have been hanged and then dismissed. Is Canada a portion of the British Empire, or have we, by some ghostly hocus pocus, been transformed into a part of the Russian Empire? It will be a good idea for Czar Tupper to open up the circum-polar section of Canada as a new Siberia, and exile thither all the Conservatives he has read out of the party, as well as all former Conservatives who are supporting the Liberal policy this time. Sir Charles will, in this event, settle the Canadian Siberia much more quickly than he has settled the Northwest.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind in some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of vital or nerve force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer and a disordered digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any other preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine posses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power most needed, while just as efficacious does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Country looking charming.

Business was brisk on the 25th of May with our hotels and groceries, there being about two thousand people here at the celebration, which passed off very satisfactorily. Owing to want of time, all the prizes were not disposed of, but such event will take place on Saturday, June 6th.

The bicycle rage is intense here. A disputed race on the Queen's Birthday will be run over again on Saturday evening, June 6th. It is rumoured that there is to be a meet here on that evening of some of Peterborough's and Lindsay's most expert flyers. A scratch match is likely to be run under these circumstances between these two towns.

The Cummings' hotel is in full blast. Quite a number of Peterborough citizens were here on Sunday.

The funeral of the late Mr. Orr took place yesterday from his residence to the Peterborough Cemetery. A number of his relatives were present from Peterborough. The school children mustered and accompanied the procession out of the village. The deceased had been a very popular and clever teacher up to the time of his illness. He leaves a widow and four children. The deceased had insurance in a fraternal society.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. O. Box 388, London, Ont.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by John Nugent, 789 George Street.

MORE MEAT AND LESS BONE

Some cattle weighing say 1200 lbs. live weight, will only dress 550 lbs. when killed and hung upon the butchers' hooks. That's the kind we DON'T keep—because the proportion of bone is too great for the amount of beef.

Prime cattle of a similar weight will dress 720 lbs, instead of 550 lbs. The difference being all in good meat—not bone. That's the kind we DO keep because the proportion of bone is small, compared with the weight of beef you order say a 10 lb. Roast, you can easy figure on what you gain.

Which will you buy? Quantity and more bone, or quality and less bone and more meat? We only keep the latter.

LOYAL TRUE BLUES.

Opening of Their Twenty-Second Annual Convention at Cobourg Delegates Present Committees selected.

Cobourg, June 2.—The 22nd annual convention of Loyal True Blues opened in the Grand Opera House, Cobourg, this afternoon, Grand Master William M. Fitzsimmons in the chair. The singing of a hymn, reading of Scripture and prayer by Grand Chaplain Rev. J. Coburn preceded the usual opening exercises.

The lady delegates seem to predominate. They are here from as far east as Montreal and west to the State of Ohio. Altogether the delegates are a representative and enthusiastic body of Protestants.

The question of the day, a special committee to draft resolutions dealing with the burning questions of the day, has been appointed, and is now at work. The committee, which is expected to report before 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, is composed of the following members: Bros. Rutledge, Anderson, Coburn, Lawrence, Purdy, Newman and Worrell.

The following standing committees have been struck, and some of these will be in session all night:

Credentials: George Lawrence, Mrs. Wakeham, W. H. Grant, William J. Saunders, Mrs. Gosney.

Correspondence: J. Coburn, George Sloan, R. Anderson, W. B. Rutledge, Miss L. Flury.

Finance: H. A. Thompson, Dr. Little, Mrs. Hinchliff, Mrs. Blaybrough, George Bevan.

Suspensions and Expulsions: George Worrell, Mrs. Boyer, E. J. Wiley, Miss Hammond, Mrs. Dandy.

Constitution and Laws: N. Ingram, James Worrell, P. D. Mutton, J. Stout, Mrs. Sloan.

Petitions and Appeals: J. W. Stewart, J. A. Minatr, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Thomas Robinson, Miss B. Watson.

Returns: J. H. Thompson, J. Hamilton, Charles Rapp, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Hunter.

Secret Work: Charles L. Rosevear, A. Purdy, Mrs. Atkinson, J. Russell, R. Bunting.

The afternoon was taken up by the various district deputies reading their reports.

Following are the delegates already here: Buffalo, N.Y.: J. Wooley, William Legg, J. Rutledge, A. Ready, W. R. Rutledge. Millbrook: J. Hamilton, John Thorne, William Lang, Arthur Armstrong. Madoc: F. THE "BIG" FOUR.

A Quartette of Remedies that are Effecting Wonderful Cures.

Dr. Chase's four great remedies are: Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, Dr. Chase's Ointment, Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, and Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, his latest and greatest discovery for all throat and lung affections.

"I was sick for three years," says James Simpson, of Newcomb Mills. "I tried various alleged patent cures and several boxes of a certain pill which has been greatly cracked up. I got no relief. Then I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since I have been able to work every day and feel like a new man. Your pills alone cured me at a cost of 25c."

"I have been subject to severe colds every fall and spring," says Miss Hattie Delaney, of 174 Crawford street, Toronto. "I used many cough medicines, but none cured me until at a cost of 25 cents I tried Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine."

"My husband was troubled with the worst kind of piles," writes Mrs. Jane Potts, of Meyersburg. "He was often unable to work. Since using your Chase's Ointment he is completely cured. It is truly worth its weight in gold instead of the price you charge, only 60 cents."

"I bought a box of your Catarrh Cure for 25 cents at Mr. Boyle's drug store here," says Henry R. Nicholls of 176 Rectory street, London, Ont. "I am thankful to say it cured me."

Chase's remedies at all dealers. Edmanson, Bates & Co., manfrs., Toronto.

RAIDED A POLICY SHOP.

Chief Young at Niagara Falls, Ont., Made a Very Clever Capture He Was Right in It

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 2.—Thomas H. Young, Chief of the Ontario Police, raided the Fort Erie Museum building and found a policy drawing shop, fully equipped with the necessary paraphernalia, at 12.30 o'clock yesterday. The institution was run in connection with a Buffalo shop, the drawing taking place at Fort Erie. The chief had difficult work in connecting the place with the Buffalo house, and when he had evidence complete he pounced down on the outfit and secured the manager, William Cole, in the act of drawing. The players would come over from Buffalo with their numbers to see that the drawing was on the square. Two men, disguised as fishermen, worked their way in in the usual way and Chief Young had worked the arrest so successfully he had the drawing timed to commence at a certain minute, there being two drawings daily, to enable him to be there personally when it took place, and the signal worked like a charm. The law reads that the arrest of such lawbreakers must be made by the chief in person, or, in the absence of the chief, his deputy, and the policy men, of course, to guard themselves, kept track of him. A few minutes after the arrest the telephone called to look out for a raid, but the man answering said it was too late, "We are all scooped." The evidence was taken before Police Magistrate Logan to-day. The prisoner elected to be tried by P. M. Logan. The evidence being conclusive connecting the prisoner with the game, also connecting the Fort Erie house with the game played in Buffalo, Mr. Garman, who defended the prisoner, asked for an enlargement to argue the case with Crown Attorney Cooper before P. M. Logan on Thursday next, which was granted, and the prisoner admitted to bail.

A Good Government Job.

Halifax, N.S., June 2.—It is understood here that Frederick J. Tremaine, barrister of this city, is to be appointed Collector of Inland Revenue for this district, in place of P. Bourdalie, who has just been superannuated.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinching touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

PUGS IN A FIGHT.

McAuliffe and Carroll Have a Set-to in Earnest at Coney Island,

New York, June 2.—Jack McAuliffe and Jimmy Carroll, pugilists, had a rough and-tumble fight at Coney Island early this morning. McAuliffe got the worst of the fight. The men were arrested, Carroll being fined for drunkenness, and McAuliffe, who had fought against being locked up, was held for resisting arrest. McAuliffe returned from the west last Thursday night, and has been on a spree at the island since. After being arrested the police found that McAuliffe had a long pocket knife, with the large blade open, in his hand. They had quite a struggle taking the knife away from him. He will be examined Friday.

MANITOBA'S WHEAT CROP.

The Area Sown is Ten Per Cent. Less Than That of Last Year, But a Big Harvest is Expected.

Winnipeg, June 2.—(Special.)—The Canadian Pacific Railway has collected reports from its agents throughout Manitoba and the Northwest which show the area of wheat sown this year to be 10 per cent. less than last, on account of the lateness of the season. As wet seasons have invariably been most bountiful, it is believed the quantity will be quite as great, if not greater, than last year.

Health and happiness are relative conditions; at any rate, there can be little happiness without health. To give the body its full measure of strength and energy the blood should be kept pure and vigorous, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A BODY IN THE WHIRLPOOL.

Who Was the Unknown Man Now Lying in Coroner Morse's Morgue?

Niagara Falls, June 2.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon four boys, named Thos. Cooper, Frank McMillan, John Pursell and John Smith, found the body of an unknown man in the whirlpool. It was taken ashore and brought to Coroner Morse's morgue. It is that of a man about 30 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches, dark hair; had on pair square-toed gaiter boots, brown cotton socks, dark necktie, with white spots; thumb nail on left hand appeared to be loose; had good teeth and the body was badly decomposed.

A Question.

How can we raise more corn to the acher? Why, of course, by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has given universal satisfaction, for it is sure, safe and painless. Like every article of real merit it has a host of imitators and we would specially warn the public to guard against those dangerous substitutes offered for the genuine Putnam's Extractor. N. C. ITS FAME SPREADING.

A New Remedy in General Use in Manitoba and the Northwest.

WINNIPEG, June 1.—The effects of the regular wave of sickness which sweeps over this portion of the Dominion in the spring, are noticeable in the increasing amount of the druggists' sales. There has been quite a run on the kidney remedy now so well known under the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The recovery from Bright's disease of Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, through their use, an account of which appeared in the papers, gave a considerable impetus to the sale, and the remedy has become indispensable in many Manitoba households, its fame having penetrated into the remotest parts of the province and Northwest Territories.

Mr. C. W. Storms, Dresden, Ont., says: "I have been taking Miller's Compound Iron Pills for two months; have increased in weight 12 pounds and feel better than I have been for years." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

NOT A QUESTION OF CHOICE, BUT A QUESTION OF MUST!

The public understand our position. To retire from Business we MUST dispose of our stock. We would rather sacrifice every dollar's worth than delay the object we have in view.

We MUST either sell out at cost by retail or close out en bloc to one purchaser. Rain or shine, the goods MUST go.

During the past three weeks of this sale we have cleared out great quantities of beautiful Dry Goods and Millinery, but

Sales Must be Increased

for the next three weeks. It is true we are offering an exceptionally fine class of Goods, in which the styles are the newest in vogue. It is true we are giving higher advantages than those struggling to remain in business by reducing prices on a few lines of "old shop-keepers"—but

That

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become enervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired

ing is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember that

PUSHING WORK-MEN

On the Trent Valley Canal

A STRIKE AGAINST STARVATION WAGES.

$2 a Day for Man and Team!

THE MEN REFUSE THE MUNIFICENT OFFER.

Hurrah for the Canal.

BOOMED AS A GREAT BOON TO THE WORKING MEN.

The Price of Tupper Taxation—Another Broken Government Promise.

The scene of the Trent Valley Canal operations on the division under contract to Mr. Corry, the Nassau-Peterborough section, presents a deserted appearance this afternoon, as of the forty or fifty teams engaged on the work, but a bare half dozen remain, and they are the property of Mr. Corry.

The reason of the situation is that a strike, including all the teamsters, is in progress, being caused, the teamsters say, by the fact that when the men and teams were engaged it was on the distinct understanding that they were to receive $2.00 per day for man and team until the first of June, when their wages would be raised to $3.00 per day.

On Monday there was a great deal of dissatisfaction expressed on account of the uncertainty in this respect, as no notification of the promised raise was received from the contractor, who did not put in an appearance all day.

On Tuesday morning the men would not put their teams to work except upon the assurance of the foremen that Mr. Corry, the contractor, might be expected back from Toronto during the day. When six o'clock come and there was no sign of the contractor the men lost all patience and separated on the understanding that work would not be resumed until a positive statement was made to the men collectively in regard to the wages which were to be paid.

This morning, as the contractor again failed to materialize, the strike took place and the men waited around until noon in the vain hope of seeing Mr. Cory, who, however, is understood to be still absent in Toronto. At noon the men took their teams and went home, thus throwing all the other labourers out of work.

The teamsters claim that in working with their horses for $2.00 per day it is practically giving the labour of the teams for nothing, as they have to feed their horses well for the hard work of scraping and ploughing.

The labourers who were working last week, after paying their board had just sixty cents left to show for their week's work, so there is a great deal of hard feeling generating amongst the workmen on this section of the canal. The work, they claim, was intended to be a boon to this section of the country in the course of its construction, and they cannot see the force of the argument, when being paid starvation wages for their labour. It is said that a mass meeting will be held in connection with the strike, when the teamsters and labourers will have an opportunity of publicly stating their grievances.

The retiring teamsters state that they were informed by the foreman, Mr. D. Hennessey, that if they quit work they would forfeit all chances of ever being employed on the Canal again. It was not explained how the foreman had authority to make such a threat, while he had no authority to promise the men the wages they claim they were promised and entitled to.

[The above circumstance pretty effectually disposes of the argument, we have heard in season and out of season—about the time of an election for a dozen years, that the mere matter of construction of the Trent Valley Canal would be a great boon to the working men, whom the N. P. has failed to find employment for. Is a dollar a day considered adequate wages for a man to subsist on and support a family in decency,—not to say comfort? Taking the lost time, through bad weather and other causes, such as strikes of $2-a-day teamsters, throwing labourers out of employment, the average wages would not likely amount to more than 60 cents a day. Is this a type of the prosperity the labouring man was to enjoy as a result of the construction of the canal, and in return for consenting to be taxed to the highest point to give manufacturers and infant industries a chance to get on their feet, and by the way, it looks as though they had got on their feet and besides got on to the workingman with both feet. How in the name of starvation can it be expected that $2 a day will keep a team of horses (including breakages and wear and tear of harness) a man and a family? What margin of profit will he have? Mr. Kendry, as a manufacturer, has a margin of profit of between 30 and 40 per cent., in the shape of a protective duty. Where does the margin of profit come in at $2 a day for man and team. Of course it is very nice for the wealthy contractor to get the work done at such low figures, but where does the workingman come in? He is simply nowhere; and the workingman should resent such an insult to his manhood, as the starvation wages referred to, by his ballot, the only weapon with which he can reach the little heart of the heartless capitalist, abetted by a government that protects other interests and leaves the workingman to stand alone and meet competition from every quarter. So long as workingmen submit to such things, so long will an obliging government kindly allow them to do so. How is the Trent Valley Canal work benefitting the workingmen? First, he is told he cannot get work unless he votes for the Government candidate. Then he is offered 50 cents a day for himself and $1.50 for his team, and if he doesn't consent to starve quietly on that, and refuses to work, he will never get work on the canal again. And this is the waking from the long dream of local prosperity we were to enjoy as the result of canal construction—$2 a day for man and team!

DISHONEST TACTICS.

Though discussion of political questions, especially at a time of general election, is eminently proper and extremely desirable. Intelligent electors with minds unpoisoned by party prejudice, are open to arguments which one or the other side may adduce. Public speakers may make strong statements, as it is some times necessary to do, but so long as principles and not personalities are not dealt with neither side can complain if the truth is tersely and sometimes forcibly put. But the policy of direct falsehood, insiduously and secretly circulated, is to be most severely condemned. And there are certain persons who are industriously engaged in circulating malicious and untrue reports for political purposes respecting Mr. Hall. One of these persons is Mr. James Bogue, who is circulating the report that when the latter canvassed Mr. Richard Hall for his vote at the last municipal election, Mr. Hall told Mr. Bogue that "he would not vote for a Catholic." Mr. Hall authorizes the EXAMINER to state that such a statement is utterly and absolutely false and without foundation—made out of whole cloth. Mr. Hall states that he told Mr. Bogue in reply to a request for his vote that "he would not treat him as he (Mr. Bogue) treated Mr. Hall at the last Dominion election, that is constantly attended his committee rooms and then the morning of the election sent a note to say that he would not vote for him. He would not deal doubly with Mr. Bogue—he would not vote for him at all." Mr. Bogue may find that his persisting in circulating such a false and disgraceful report will not be all amusement. Such tactics are to the last degree base and dishonourable, and a party that claims to be the party of gentlemen is greatly lost to shame if it countenances such a plan of campaign. We trust this will set at rest this false report manufactured expredaly for election purposes.

We may expect Dr. Montague to give us something to-night about that dreadful conspiracy of the free and independent electors against the Dominion Government. The genial and eloquent doctor had quite an experience in conspiracy matters last January at Ottawa, and should be an authority.

It would have been real nice if Farmer Montague and Hon. Clarke Wallace had so timed their visit to Peterborough that they could be here the same night. Dr. Montague has been after Mr. Wallace's scalp ever since the latter accused him of writing those anonymous billets-doux about Sir Adolphe Caron. If the two could have met here the doctor might have arranged that libel suit against the Grand Master, which has been hanging fire so long.

CAMPAIGN MEETINGS.

Mr. Hall's Meeting at May's School House — Mr. Kendry's Meeting at Madill's.

Last night a meeting was held at May's School House, North Monaghan, in Mr. Hall's interests. Owing to the position of the place in relation to places where other meetings had been held, there was not a very large attendance, many in the vicinity having attended other meetings not far distant.

Addresses upon the public topics of the day were given by Mr. Hall, Mr. Kerr and Mr. Stone, and by Mr. Dennistoun on behalf of Mr. Kendry.

At Madill's School House, Smith, last night, a well attended meeting was held in Mr. Kendry's interests, at which addresses were given by Messrs. Hattom, Edwards, Meldrum, Kendry and Burnham.
